Big Potato Crop Helps Housewife

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Canada's expected bumper potato crop, a vexatious problem for agricultural economists, today may help the housewife's grocery bill.

A government source says the large surplus of potatoes this year is making for lower prices on the domestic market. "Canadian housewives should be happy," he says. "They might otherwise have been paying a lot more for potatoes than they are today."

But the problem still remains that some part of the 80,000 bushels of potatoes expected this year may go unmarketed unless the government can find a new solution to that age-old problem of supply and demand.

Currently, the United States has allowed imports of 3,500,000 bushels a year of table and seed potatoes from Canada at a reduced tariff rate.

But even at the normal higher tariff rate, it has been found that the Canadian product can undersell American potatoes, supported at $2 a bushel.

Canadian Housing Rate Among Highest

HAMILTON, Oct. 14—(CP).—More houses per capita are being built in Canada than any other country in the world, with the possible exception of Sweden, D. B. Mansur, president of Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, said Wednesday night.

He told the Canadian Association of Real Estate Boards that 37,553 housing units were being built during August in municipalities of more than 5,000 people. At the same time last year 31,628 units were under construction.

There never had been so much building activity in Canadian history but such a large amount of building might interfere with the rate of completion.

Despite the accomplishments of the past few years there was still a great immediate need for new houses. In 1946 and 1947 there were more new families formed than new houses built, he said.

City Dentists Hear Dr. J. Krentzer

Dr. J. Krentzer, of the Faculty of Dentistry, University of Toronto, was the guest speaker at a meeting of Peterborough and District Dental Assocation on Friday night. His subject was entitled "Preventative Dentistry." Dr. Krentzer outlined the various factors in the process of dental caries.

Fosdik's theory of dental caries which is one of the most accepted theories of today, was carefully outlined and emphasis was placed on control of the starch and sugar intake, and the use of thorough oral hygiene after meals.

The use of fluorine as a control in development of dental caries was discussed and Dr. Krentzer pointed out that to date, it was still in the experimental stage, and time alone would tell the benefits derived from the topical use on the teeth, or addition to the water supply.

Those attending from Peterborough were Dr. J. J. Craig, Dr. J. C. Green, Dr. H. J. Long, Dr. R. C. Honey, Dr. B. R. Smyth, Dr. M. G. McCartney, Dr. W. Preston Jr., Dr. S. J. Graham. Dr. A. B. Hall and Dr. R. H. Campbell of Lakefield.

Discuss Increasing German Production

LONDON, Oct. 14 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Bevin today conferred with Paul Hoffman, United States administrator of the European recovery program.

Diplomatic officials said they talked primarily about ways of increasing production in Germany's industry.

Hoffman has advocated a sharp curtailment in the program for dismantling German industries for shipment as reparations — a proposal which encountered objection from Britain and France.

He has suggested that Europe's recovery could be speeded by using some of the factories.

2 small onions, diced
Hot water
1 large carrot, cut in strips
1 cup canned tomatoes, seasoned

Soak lima beans overnight; drain, cover with boiling water, cook 15 minutes, drain. Cut beef in small cubes, roll in flour mixed with seasonings and sauté in fat, adding onions when partially browned. ¼ cup top milk

Crumble the bread into milk; add and mix the meat, salt, minced onion, egg. Pan-fry onions. Remove from the pan; keep warm. Form meat mixture into balls size of a walnut. Drop into the onion-flavoured fat in the pan. When well browned add hot water almost to cover and simmer for 30 minutes. Remove the balls to a platter. Add the top milk to liquid in the pan; stir in a paste of flour and water, allowing 1½ tablespoons flour for each cup of liquid. Stir until the mixture boils; season to taste. Pour the sauce over the balls; garnish with the onions.

8 frankfurters
¼ cup bacon drippings
½ cup flour

Sang Song Poking Fun At Purge Of Reds Government Clerk Finds It's Not So Funny

LONDON Oct. 14 —(CP)—A pretty government clerk's song in an amateur theatrical skit has turned the spotlight on Britain's purge of Communist sympathiers in the Civil Service.

"We'll have a purge," was the prophetic refrain which black-haired Beryl Lund sang for two months in a left-wing revue. The amateur show ribbed the government drive to shake suspected Communists and party-liners out of Civil Service jobs dealing with state security.

Now Beryl herself has been dropped from her job as a confidential clerk at the Ministry of Supply. The girl who sang satirically "Cyrptos and their friends better look out" received a suspension notice charging:

"You are associating with the Communist party in such a way as to raise legitimate doubts as to your reliability."

She refused comment on the charge.

Similar accusations have been made against an Atomic Scientist, a Government Minister's private secretary and at least 30 other Civil Servants in recent months.

Like others who said they had been "purged," Beryl announced she would appeal to the three-man Advisory Board set up by Prime Minister Attlee to deal with appeals.

Farmers Fear Price Drop On Meat In '49

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—(AP)—United States government forecasts of a boost in meat supplies and lower prices, by late 1949 may be over-optimistic.

Made chiefly by the agriculture department, these predictions have been based largely on the fact that, at the moment, the relationship between feed prices and livestock prices is favorable for producing meat animals.

This year's record grain crop has pulled down costs of feed, while livestock prices have remained relatively high.

But reports from the corn belt, where the bulk of the United States meat supply comes from, indicate that farmers are not jumping in to expand livestock production as much as the department had expected.

These reports say many farmers fear that prices may drop sharply the time new meat animals can be produced, fattened and marketed.

This view was expressed by Carl C. Malone, Iowa State College economist, before an agriculture department farm outlook conference here this week. He was supported by several economists for other western states.

Won't Make Goal

Malone, somewhat to the surprise of department officials, said he does not believe farmers will meet the government's goal of a 60,000,000-head 1949 spring pig crop. Such a goal must be met if there is to be a big jump in pork supplies next year. It compares with this year's spring crop of 51,000,000.

The department itself reported skepticism among cattle feeders in a report yesterday. It said the volume of beef cattle to be fed in the corn belt this winter may not be greatly different from a year ago because of a "cautious attitude among farmers and financing agencies."

Sees Bigger Role For Co-Operatives

OTTAWA, Oct. 14 (CP)—Rene Pare, president of the central council of the Quebec Co-operative Movement, said Wednesday that co-operatives "by their very nature strive for a more equitable distribution of the world's wealth."

He spoke at the 17th quadriennial convention of the St. Joseph Union of Canada. Some 60 delegates representing the organization's 48,000 members in Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick are attending.

Mr. Pare said that co-operative must play a role of the first order in re-organization of society.

"If ever their ideal was realized, there would not be a poor class and an opulent class as we now find," he said. Instead, there would be a mass of people living a life of relative ease, because "through co-operatives, society will be organized so that life will become more humane and more Christian."

Woman Vanishes Without Trace

KITCHENER, Oct. 14—(CP)—One month ago, 37-year-old Mrs. Emma Pohl told her husband she was going for a walk, and left her home here—to disappear without a trace.

Wednesday, her husband, William, her father and her brother said they weren't satisfied with police efforts to solve the mystery. The father, E. M. Holtzhauer, and brother, Carman H. Holtzhauer, both of Galt, suggested Galt police be called in to help.

So far one arrest has been made. Two weeks ago William G. Stewart of nearby Waterloo was questioned and subsequently charged with public mischief. Police said he had misled them.

William Pohl said Stewart had borrowed $730 from Mrs. Pohl before her marriage. He still owed her $600.

Beverley Pohl, 13, Mrs. Pohl's daughter by a previous marriage said Stewart visited her mother Sept. 13—the day she disappeared—and told Mrs. Pohl to forget the debt.

Waterloo police said Stewart admitted meeting the missing woman, giving her $600, obtaining a receipt from her. Then he took her back to Kitchener and never saw her since.

Wednesday Waterloo township police issued a picture of the missing woman.

Isotopes May Furnish Key To Longer Life For All

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—(AP)—Atomic energy research workers are building up information which they say may eventually lead to a longer life for all of us.

They're doing it through "isotopes," by-products of atom-bomb development.

Isotopes might roughly be described as "twins' or regular chemical elemtnts. They are identical chemically with their counterpart element, but some isotopes are radio-active — they emit "rays." Others have a different weight. Thus, when one of either type is mixed with its regular element, scientists can "trace" what happens to the regular element in the human or animal body, how the living body works, how it breaks down, how it reacts to everything from bugs to broccoli, from drugs to drowning.

'As tracers," say the Atomic Energy Commission in its latest reports, "they (the isotopes) are proving themselves the most useful new research tool since the invention of the microscope in the 17th century. Until recently man's vision has not penetrated into the details of growth and change in the living cell or the intricate chemistry of the colecule."

The carbohydrates, fats and proteins that help make up the structural parts of our bodies from fingertip to toenail—and also provide "reserves" for the body's use—are formed out of a relatively few source elements in the diet. The elements include carbon, nitrogen, hydrogen, oxygen, phosphorus, sulphur and iodine.

Other elements are needed for special purposes—such as calcium to help build bones and teeth, iron to help make blood.

Study Dynamic Processes

By "tagging' or labelling these nutriments with radio-activity—so they can be "followed" through various intermediate steps—the scientists are building up, bit by bit, a new understanding of the "dynamic" processes of life.

The isotopes are also enabling research workers to observe the action upon the body of "foreign materials'— anaesthettics, artificial vitamins, poisons, medicines.

Although many of the studies are on animals, a number are on humans. In the tiny amounts needed for tracer research, many of the isotopes are safe for human use.

One great field of research is aimed at determining how proteins—the basic constituents of all tissues—are built up in the body. If this mystery is solved, the feeding, in concentrated form of substances immediately responsible for making protein will be a definite possibility.

This would greatly aid countries lacking protein-rich foods, such as meat. It would revolutionize treatment of victims of starvation, wounds or burns, when quick restoration of body protein is the prime factor.

A few advances have been made. For instance, at Cornell University Medical College, researchers have synthesized the amino acid 'methionine" with radio-active sulphur built in as a tracer. A number of diseases, including cirrhosis of the liver, can result when methionine is not doing its stuff—and the research staffs now are studying its activity in animal tests.

ANCIENT TREE—A species of Chinese tree millions of years old is being grown by C. J. Jonker of Vancouver. Shown here being held by Mr. Jonkers, the tree is known as "elasequoia glytostroboides" and may tower 40 feet when full grown. The seed was obtained from Harvard University.

Hasty-Pee's CO Had Training In Peterborough

Lt-Col. Reginald W. Abraham, CBE, ED, recently appointed commanding officer of the Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment, is a former resident of Peterborough.

He enlisted in Peterborough during the first world war and served with the 93rd Battalion. Later he transferred to the RAF where he remained until the war ended.

Then he returned to Peterborough and was employed with customs and excise for a short while, and he later moved to Lindsay where he worked in customs and excise for about eight years. His next step was to Picton where he became collector of customs and he remained in that post until the outbreak of the second world war.

the CGE.

Lt-Col. Abraham was born in Portsmouth, England, in 1900, and he came out with his parents Mr. and Mrs. James Abraham to Peterborough when he was about 14 years of age. At that time he had already proved himself a talented student at the Gosport Technical School, and he found no difficulty in enlisting as an apprentice in the drafting room at the CGE.

In 1933 he was appointed a captain of the Hasty-Pees and was Quartermaster of the advance party of the unit that went to England in September, 1939. He was afterwards promoted to major, in command of headquarters company of the regiment. Later he became staff captain to the First Infantry Brigade and DAQMG, Canadian Reinforcement Group, in August 1942.

He was appointed Lieutentant-colonel, commanding No 1 CIRU in September 1943. Promotion also came in the civil service and when he returned to Canada in October 1945 he took up his new duties as assistant district administrator, Department of Veterans' Affairs. This gave him jurisdiction over all matters pertaining to ex-service personnel for the entire territory between Toronto and Ottawa.

While at Kingston in 1946 he received his OBE from Governor-General Viscount Alexander, awarded for distinguished service during the second world war.

A brother, G. Ernest Abraham, lives on Brown St and is an employee of the De Laval Co.

HOLD OUT—Suckichi Miyagawa, wartime Japanese internee, stands outside his tiny tent in which he and two companions plan to spend the winter in a "sit-down" protest against the federal government. During the war, all Japanese living in the British Columbia coastal area were evacuated inland. When the war ended they were not allowed to return. It was only recently Miyagawa and 39 others were finally evicted from a relocation camp at Moose Jaw. All the others except Miyagawa and his two companions have found jobs elsewhere but the three have announced they will stay in the tent until they are returned to their prewar homes or until they died.

District Holstein Breeders Third In Regional Show Ontario Entries Place First

Ontario county Holstein breeders won the county herd banner for the third year in succession at the Central Ontario regional championship Black and White show here Wednesday.

Each competing herd, selected as county representatives, comprised senior and junior bull, two junior and two senior females.

Simcoe county placed second, Peterborough third, York fourth, Northumberland fifth, Durham sixth, Prince Edward seventh and Hastings eighth.

Victoria and Lennox-Addington were not represented in this final [illegible] abundantly sustained the success of these district championships.

The banner was received by Lynn Fair of Uxbridge, agricultural representative in Ontario county from the Hon. George S. Henry, Todmoden, York county, who was requested to make the presentation.

"This has been the climax of the regional show," Mr. Henry said. "All those who have been present throughout the day appreciate the quality of the cattle that have been shown here. The winning of the banner by Ontario county breeders has been well earned in competition with strong herds from the other counties. I wish to congratulate Ontario, and hope these events will be of increasing interest."

All female classes were judged in the afternoon by Harvey Swartz of Waukesha, Wis.

Senior and grand champion was the eight year old cow, "Forthlyne Dolletta Inka Posch" from the herd of Hugh Ormiston of Brooklin; and the reserve senior, Elmcroft Farms' "Elmcroft Dewdrop M".

The junior champion and reserve grand was "Otonabee Signey Audrey" owned by Joseph T Tully, Otonabee. She was the winner of the junior yearling class.

Second to her in that class, and reserve junior champion, was N. W. McConkey's "Lifloc Signet Rebecca."

Bulls Judged

The male championships were decided in the morning. Senior and grand champion bull was the pride of the show, Montvic Rag Apple Marksman, owned by J. J. E. McCague and C. J. Cerswell of Alliston.

Reserve grand and reserve senior was the two year old bull "Willow Slope Man-O-War Pabst" owned by Herbert Watt of Foxboro.

Junior champion was shown by Orvan Chambers of Brooklin, Waybrook Rag Apple Review; and the reserve junior champion bull was J. T. Tully's calf, "Otonabee Pabst Prospect."

A silver cup for the best uddered cow, given by William J. Murphy of Lindsay, was won for the first time by Elmcroft Farms, Oshawa, on their winner of the four-year-old class, Elmcroft Colantha Rose M, reserve grand champion two years ago.

Peterborough breeders fared well in the awards by Mr. Swartz, Joseph T. Tully won the bull calf class, was first also in the junior heifer yearlings, reserve junior champion bull, junior champion and reserve grand champion female.

Norman McConkey and Coughlin Brothers took first place in the junior yearling bull class.

McConkey Wins

Mr. McConkey was second in the junior yearling heifers, reserve junior champion female, and captured first place in the junior heifer calves, and first for junior get of sire.

Charles E. Moore was third in the aged bull calf, and Earl Doris, a newcomer in the Holstein ring, drew a third in the senior heifer calves.

The first class of the afternoon, cows five years and over, drew many favorable comments from spectator breeders. It was described as one of the best classes of aged cows ever seen at a Central Ontario regional show. The winner was shown by Hugh Ormiston of Brooklin and was later chosen as senior champion. Several predictions expected it to pick up the grand championship female title also, but J. T Tully's junior yearling winner and junior champion upset those opinions. It was said that not many aged cow classes anywhere in the country could surpass the twelve animals that were paraded before Mr. Swartz. His remark at the press table was: "Those aged cows were of exceedingly good quality right down the line. The owners don't have to apologize for any of them."

Another comment, indicating the quality of the cows and keen competition, was that Stewart Nelson's former reserve All-Canadian "Keendale Lodge Pietje Lass' was at the foot of the class. She was not at the best stage of lactation to do herself justice, according to one of the experts.

The junior yearling class of 15 young females in which Mr. Tully and Mr. McConkey finished one-two also pleased the men who know the Black and White breed. George S. Henry of York and Mr. Swartz both used the same phrase in separate comments: "a beautiful class."

"You won't see much better than that anywhere," said the former Premier of Ontario.

"The first three were very close, and the fourth was right behind them," said Mr. Swartz. "In fact, it was a grand class down to the 10th or 11th place."

Mr. Swartz has a remarkable memory of detail, and after a class has been dismissed he apparently retains sharply photographic impressions enabling him to discuss the individual animals.

Social Customs Must Change To Meet Present Day Needs

Dorothy Dix

Undoubtedly the reason why there is such an increase in divorce and in number of delinquent children is because we are going through a domestic revolution. The customs of centuries have been scrapped. Old beliefs have been thrown into the discard. The attitude of parents and children — and husbands and wives— towards each other has been changed and the whole pattern of our lives has been altered.

Although we pride ourselves upon being a forward-looking people we have not been prophets enough to foresee this upsetting of all of our old ways, and it has left us confused and be wildered, not knowing how to meet the situation, or how to adjust ourselves to it.

We still are bound to our idols and pine for the good old days— days when we lived in big houses where we had plenty of elbow room, instead of being crowded into little flats where we can't move without stepping on somebody's toes; when people maried for keeps; children were obedient; home was a place where families foregathered for a pleasant evening together, instead of its being a dressing station into which we pop to change our clothes before starting out for a good time.

Adapt Ourselves

But times have changed. If you will look the situation squarely in the face, you will see that the old orders, for better or worse as it may turn out, has been swept away as many other civilizations have, and that we will have to adapt ourselves to the new regime.

Take marriage, for instance, on which more than any one thing our happiness, or misery, depends. We are sold to the lovedovey theory of marriage and always picture the bride floating around her vinewreathed cottage in pink chiffons that never wear out, and the husband as being the perpetual lover. And we think of the ideal wife as being perfectly happy in her own home and never wanting to step out. We think that every woman's career should be bounded by her kitchen and nursery, and we pity the poor henpecked man who helps his wife wash the dishes.

But haven't modern conditions turned the cold, hard searchlight of reality upon this picture and showed it to be just merely wishful thinking? Don't we need a new conception of marriage as a binding contract that carries with it duties and obligations, instead of being a sentimental orgy?

Shouldn't a husband regard his wife as a partner, instead of an unpaid servant? Why should a woman who has spent years of her life and thousands of dollars acquiring a profession be looked upon askance unless she gives it up when she marries? And why shouldn't a husband feel that it is just as much up to him to help around the house and make a happy home as it is for his wife?

Believe, me, these are questions that many women are mulling over these days and that are causing many a family fight, and will be good for a scrap until men adjust themselves to the idea of giving their wives a square deal.

And the juvenile delinquency problem will be settled at last in the same way, by treating children as if they were intelligent human beings, who have certain rights that should be respected by their parents and certain liberties with which Mon and Dad should not interfere.

Not least of the changes that the war made is this domestic revolution in which we are involved. God grant we make a better world of it than the old one was.

THE ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: For a real new line of writings write without fail to International Nutrition Laboratory Inc. at Mount Vernon for their literature, pamphlets. It is quite interesting.

How did your new recipe for making bread out of mill stone ground wheat turn out? Did you ever print this recipe? Booth—the multi-millionaire lumberman of Ottawa valley lived to be 99—on this kind of flour. There is a mill north of Strathroy—about 15 miles at Hungry Hollow that uses old style mill stones to grind their wheat into real flour, and another one up north of Toronto,—these are the only ones in existence that we know of. Booth also used coddled eggs—2 or 3—for his breakfast and broiled red beef—but small amount....

G. Lindsay.

ANSWER: Thank you for your suggestion regarding International Nutrition Lab. literature.

Yes I did print the recipe for making bread from mill-stone-ground wheat in 1942. Would you like me to repeat it? I am on addict of whole wheat bread—real whole wheat bread too—and feel that the Canadian diet would be immensely benefitted if housewives swung to the habit of buying genuine whole wheat bread, to replace their insidious old habit of buying all-white bread. The bakers stand to lose nothing by this—in fact since whole wheat bread does not keep as well as white they stand to gain.

QUESTION: I find we like candied peel very much but the price is so high. Cannot I make it from the grapefruit and orange rinds I usually discard after breakfast? Please let me know.

Jenny.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Candied Peel

Remove skin in quarters from oranges, or cut halves after they are squeezed in half again and carefully remove the white membrane and stringy pulp. This is method for grapefruit skins too. Cover with cold water, bring to boiling point and boil 2 minutes. Drain and repeat twice, cooking the peel the third time until it is tender. Cut it in narrow strips at this point if this is to be used as a confection. If not, leave in quarters.

For every 2½ cups peel put 2 cups sugar in saucepan with 2-3 cup water, stir until sugar is dissolved, add peel and bring to boiling point and cook gently until peel is transparent and syrup registers 230 deg. Fahr. on candy to prevent burning. Skim from syrup with fork and drain on cake cooler over a sheet of waxed paper, to drain. If to be used as confection roll cooled strips in granulated sugar. Store in layers between sheets of heavy waxed paper. Perfectly delicious when put through coarse knife of food chopped for fruit cookies and Christmas cakes and puddings.

QUESTION: Could you give me a simple recipe for tomato catsup?

Amateur.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER:

Tomato Catsup

Wash, scald in boiling water and peel choice ripe red tomatoes, cut in pieces and cook slowly until tender, then drain them through strong sieve. Boil down fast for 20 minutes, then add 2 teaspoons salt, 1-3 cup sugar, ¼ teaspoon cayenne, ¾ teaspoon celery salt, ½ tablespoon cinnamon (or 1 stick cinnamon), 1 cup vinegar, and ¾ teaspoon ground mace. Stir until thick, cooking about ½ hour longer. If stick cinnamon is used remove it or not as desired. Store in sterile bottles and seal at once with boiling hot paraffin,—adding a second coating.

BEAUTY ON A BUDGET — No wonder the American woman is the best dressed woman in the world, when she can top off her outfit with a fashion-wise high-style hat at low cost. Just take a glance at this white felt toque. See how smartly trimmed it is with its black feathers and lacy black veil, how exactly fashion right and striking without being overdone.

Fall Colors, Warm, Vibrant Keynote Fashion Show 1100 Spectators Applaud

Luscious new colors are on the fall fashion landscape and though "shady" in character they are warm, vibrant and cheery looking on the dullest day. Peterborough Kinettes and professional models in the Kinette Fashion Parade at Club Aragon Wednesday evening wore coats in grape, Victorian plum, Elephant grey, Regent blue, Coachman grey, and wool dresses in rich Burgundy wine, Wheat beige, Victorian green, mixed, of course, with black and grey, while the junior model was eye-catching in Paddy green and Cardinal red. Glossy furs have a new affiliation with the costumes, made up in luxurious stoles, chic muffs and massive arrangements of small skins, or in coats of varying lengths.

Hats are gay and feminine but are particularly wearable. They hug the head, often anchored with a chin bow of velvet or veiling, and almost all of them sport feathers and brims carefully manipulated to show a bit of the hair or profile.

Something new was the "Hat Review" which showed what can be done with just one dress. Four French pattern hats were displayed by models wearing identical basic dresses of rich Forest green crepe, beautifully draped low waistline and draping at the back falling into two panniers to the hemline, beneath a row of self-covered buttons that fastened the moulded bodice. The first hat was green felt in poke style with matching green bird trim, as well as Pheasant feathers; the second, a stunning Victorian white beret, draped with pine green felt and with self shade nose veil; the third a Cherry red velour hood hat, adding brightness, was trimmed with a grouping of colorful coque feathers, and the fourth model wore a brown velour half-hat in bonnet style with pheasant wing trim and a sweeping brown veil. Outstanding ornament with each costume was a long rope of pearls, knotted in the centre, and each model wore matching earrings.

The "cap" style coiffure of Kinette model Mrs. James Elliott is the popular choice for this season and can be considered either formal or informal. A diagonal part gives a nice effect in the close-to-the-head back line and bangs create a slightly "winged" silhouette. Shingled hair is forecast for early winter and the lovely hair styling, so becoming to Mrs. J. K. Hughes, showed a slight shingle cut with sides swept upward into a sculptured roll and the front waved in pompadour style. Mrs. Marion Moore designed the coiffures of all local models. The short bob with ends turned upward worn by professional model Miss Ruth Cowieson, excited many envious comments, and believe it or not she cuts it herself—with a straight razor—so go ahead girls!

Make-up color harmony for fall is the result of lightening lilac with crimson and the cream rouge, lipstick, nail lacquer and eye shade to highlight clothes for any occasion is "crimson lilac." It was used exclusively by the fashion models whose complexion and hair coloring varied to every extreme and was provided by Mr. N. E. Elliott. Hose to compliment each costume were in a new shade, "Dangerous," and were presented to the models by Mr. C. R. Wasson.

It's probable that most of the eleven hundred women who witnessed last night's fashion parade and declared it was the best yet, also spent several wakeful hours deciding which outfit and which gown they would select for themselves. Their husbands, many of whom were in the audience, applauding the models, will have trouble getting to sleep tonight when they realize just how much that small admission ticket has really cost. If they play the cards right they may be able to convince the "little woman" that the costume jewelry which is so necessary to "finish" an outfit, is her Christmas present.

That there is no need to go to Paris, or outside of Peterborough, to buy a glamorous evening gown was evident from the collection shown. The junior model, Miss Brenda Bowen, wore strapless gowns of plaid taffeta with a filmy stole of yellow net, of flattering hyacinth blue taffeta with a wide ruffle dipping low at the side back and caught with pale pink roses, the shade of her organdy capelet and mittens, and a third of pink brocade, edged at the top with black velvet and ruffled taffeta, in which the hooped effect of the skirt was achieved by a new innovation — starched lace wired pantaloons. Mrs. Elliott's strapless black taffeta had a striking band of cerise taffeta and chartreuse cording at the knee-line with huge poppies of the same shades adorning the bodice and placed low on the skirt. Nylon net was set in at the bottom and she wore a glamorous black net stole. Another of her gowns, depicting elegance of design and fabric, was rich American Beauty moire with a cross-over strap at the shoulder and full bustle back, and she also wore a truly portrait gown of irridescent silver brocade with delicate shadings of pink that were highlighted with organdy mitts of the same shade and a pink ostrich tip in her hair. Mrs. E. M. Crough personified sedate sophistication in a dinner gown of rich sapphire blue with silver beading applied in rose design on the long sleeves and at the high round neckline which was slit low in front. She wore a blue feather in her formal coiffure and carried a silver kid bag.

A beautiful period gown of black chiffon velvet was modelled by Mrs. David Wilson. The off-shoulder neckline was enhanced with crisp white lace collar and the skirt romantically hooped. Glamorous touches were her ermine muff, black gloves and black velvet choker. Another stunning gown she displayed was of black silk taffeta and had a shawl collar and peplum of eyelet embroidered taffeta, lined with pink. Professional models in this group wore some gorgeous creations of shimmering coppertoned red shot taffeta, featuring elaborate puffs at the back, black nylon marquisette with vari-colored sequins, black silk eyelet over blue, and drifting, soft and flimsy chiffon in shades blending from pink to American Beauty.

Mrs. J. K. Hughes opened the wedding scene, appearing as the bride's mother in a graceful gown of cafe-au-lait tissue faille, with tiered skirt richly enhanced with bronze bugle beading, complimented with a sailor hat in the same shade which had clipped ostrich plumes for trim, and she had matching mittens looped over her little finger, and wore a brown squirrel stole.

The bridesmaids were in sapphire blue portrait gowns of rustling taffeta, and they wore matching mittens and feathered bonnets, carrying yellow muffs that combined poms, 'mums and roses. All-white was the theme for the bride gowned in brocaded satin and wearing a full-length French net veil attached to the head with ostrich tips.

After-five dresses were elegant, using combinations of handsome fabrics and rich new shades. Cocktail hats of coque feathers and veiling were featured with them, and each model carried gloves and a small bag. With a theatre suit of green taffeta with all-over fretwork of black lace, Mrs. Wilson wore a smart black poke bonnet tam which tied under the chin and was trimmed with green and black feathers. Mrs. Elliott wore grey lace with the only trim a huge cluster of roses, starched lace and taffeta, at her waist, and a satin cloche in matching grey, tied under the chin with gobs of veiling. Mrs. Crough was in silver grey crepe with pearl and silver beading, and wore a handsome silver blue mink stole with extra length and fullness which could be worn in unusual ways.

For daytime wool crepe is the fabric, and it was shown in the variations of fashion with straight skirts giving a trim tailored air, and swinging circular skirts a gay feminine casualness. Most striking was a black sheer dress worn by Mrs. David Wilson, featuring Soutasche silk braid lavishly applied to the hemline of the full skirt and at the loose cuffs in an unusual Persian lamb effect. This outfit was complimented with a head - hugging up-sweep beret of Persian lamb with extreme pheasant feather trim, seven-strand pearl necklace and two-strand circular pearl earrings. The new coats have sweeping skirts, too, beneath nipped-in waistlines, and have deep shawl and sailor collars, but they vie for favor with the very popular loose fitting coat for wear everywhere, over everything. The right spark with a junior's coat of Padd. green wool was the ocelot shoulder bag and matching tam, and she wore a dyed silk scarf in green and organe tones on the outside. Outstanding fur trim was a sailor collar of rich Krimmer fur on a loose grey coat, worn with fine velour hat and bag and gloves in matching grey. Wool suits featured the slender silhouette and used interesting collars on the jackets and featured button trim. A grape velvet half-hat was the extremely lovely topping for the full-back coat and tailored suit, all in this delicious shade.

Sports-minded ladies of the city were not forgotten and Kinette models gave an exclusive preview of colorful new outfits for skiing and curling.

Running commentary throughout the parade called attention to high style points of each outfit, and was given in a delightful manner by Mrs. M. E. Holt. She was wearing a tailored gown of sapphie blue with square neckline accented with rhinestone half-hat was a foil for a new clips and her matching feathered hair style. Peterborough models were Mrs. J. K. Hughes, Mrs. E. M. Crough, Mrs. J. V. Elliott, Mrs. D. A. Wilson and Miss Brenda Bowen, and Toronto models were Miss Rusty Knight, Miss Ruth Cowieson and Miss Gay McCauley.

General convener of the fashion show was Mrs. J. V. Elliott.

How to Extend Pound Of Hamburg to Limit

By MARY MOORE

"...but Mrs. Moore, my husband drives a truck and when he comes home every night he is so hungry that I could feed him hamburg five times a week and he would never complain!"

Lucky Woman.

I admitted I liked the stuff too— and it is a jolly good thing my family and I do, too—for they have had all of the dishes I describe here today, in the past eight days. It helped balance the budget too, that was knocked out of kilter because I canned some butter for overseas parcels.

Chili Con Carne

About 1 cup peeled and finely sliced onions and if possible ½ cup chopped sweet red or green pepper, 3 tablespoon drippings or salad oil, 2 lbs. coarsely ground hamburg or rump or shoulder beef cut in ½ or ¾ inch-dice, a few cubes of suet, 1 cup boiling water, 1 cup canned tomato paste (to be bought at Italian grocery stores and some chain stores), OR 2 cups tomato juice or canned tomatoes, 3 tablespoons chili powder, ¼ cup cold water, ½ to 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon sugar, 3 cloves garlic peeled and minced very finely, 1 lb. dry red kidney beans, soaked overnight and cooked until tender OR 2 cans red kidney beans. Saute the onions and pepper, if used, in the hot fat in frying pan until transparent. Add the prepared beef and suet, and cook uncovered until they are medium brown. Add the boiling water, tomato paste or juice, and chili powder which has been mixed to a smooth paste with the cold water, the salt, sugar and garlic. Cover and simmer gently until tender —about 1½ hours, or until meat is tender. Add beans, heat them through—taste for salt, chili powder. Add water as needed. Nice with rye bread.

Barbara's Meat Balls On Rice

One lb. hamburg or ground shin beef, 1 minced medium onion, 1 minced garlic clove, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 or 2 beaten eggs, ½ to 1 cup grated old cheese, 4 tablespoons finely chopped parsley, 2 slices fresh white bread crumbs, about 2 teaspoons salt, about ⅛ teaspoon pepper. Mix all ingredients very well, adding a little hot milk to the bread to make it break up easily. Form into 2-inch balls. Saute in hot fat for about 5 minutes, then pour over tomato juice—about 2 cups, and sprinkle with chopped celery and bake until sauce is somewhat thickened and meat balls are cooked through.

Meanwhile boil ½ lb. rice in one quart boiling salted water until tender—let it boil rapidly throughout to keep grains separated. Drain. Spread on chop plate. Put meat balls and tomato sauce on top. Pass old grated cheese. This is very popular so make double the amounts if you have a large family. Macaroni or spaghetti or noodles may be used in place of rice,—which is obvious since this is really a topping for them originally.

Danish Goulash

Saute 2 lbs. hamburg or chuck beef cut in ½-inch cubes in ¼ cup drippings or salad oil, in Dutch oven or heavy frying pan. While it is cooking add 4 medium onions cut in halves lengthwise, and sliced so thin they are transparent. Stir until both are medium gold. Add 2½ teaspoons salt, 3 cups cold water, 1 tablespoon brown sugar, and 1 bay leaf. Cover and simmer about 1 hour or until meat is tender. Remove bay leaf, then thicken with 4 tablespoons flour which has been stirred to a smooth paste with 6 tablespoons cold water. Cook a little longer, stirring. Serve on mashed potatoes to which you have added 2 tablespoons chives, and 1 teaspoon chopped garlic which have been sauteed in 1 tablespoon butter. Celery seeds may also be added to the mashed potatoes for this. A hearty, delicious dish.

SUCCESSFUL REVIVAL — The fashion revival has extended to lingerie, and one of the most popular is the good old chemise. It isn't just a whim that has brought back the traditional combination of short slip and pantie. It is because the chemise, when cut on slim lines, is ideal for wear with the narrow skirt, also an important fashion come back. All sorts of clever touches are used on this handmade chemise. A vertical drawstring molds the bodice and there are tiny slashes on the skirt, which like the bodice is embroidered with tiny flowers.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Friday, October 15

It might be just as well to start important activities of the day on a policy of "going it alone" as far as the support of higher-ups may be thought desirable. In fact there may be very concrete and objective opposition from such sources, since these may institute a campaign of misrepresentation, gossip, or organized attack aimed at causing loss and obstruction. Nonetheless determination, energy and initiative, plus the aid of [illegible] could circumvent such malefic inroads.

For The Birthday

Those whose birthday is it, are urged to a determined marshalling of the forces, faculties and well-developed plans, in order to frustrate certain opposing factors bent on pulling the props from under an exceptionally ambitious plan or project. A campaign of misrepresentation, slander, or concerted effort at undermining certain worthwhile propositions is possible. Initiative, sound ideas and good sense, with a modicum of good humor, might have power to break down this onslaught, but take no chances. The end-product of a show of energy, executive ability and good judgment might be a worthwhile promotion.

A child born on this day should possess practical ability, sound ideas and good judgment for overcoming opposition and want of help from influential sources.

ORIGINATED IN SWEDEN

The yule log had its beginning in Sweden, when at Jul or Yule guests originated the custom of bringing a log and carrying it into the house with them when they visited.

CLOCHE WITH WINGS—Double brims which curve up a bit as well as out are made of delicate lobster pink felt, for the designer hat, above, and centered with a flat crown. As in most of the new hats, large or small, the head is for once covered by its hat, practically a revolutionary notion, silly as it may sound. To balance this silhouette which is a cloche variation, the trimming shoots up as a rule. Here it is a butterfly of sea colored quills, poised at the very edge of the brim, from which shoot tall, fragile stripped quill whips.

HALIFAX, Oct. 14 (CP)—Canada has opened its doors to another band of Estonian and Latvian political refugees. A. G. Budget 10 Million

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14 (AP)—The 576 delegates to the 16th biennial convention of the United Lutheran Church in America were asked today to vote a $10,000,000 budget for 1950 and 1951. Saunders Hints Stricter Power Moves

TORONTO, Oct. 114—(CP).—The new, strict power regulations which took effect in Ontario on Wednesday, with fines of from $100 to $500 for violators, may become more strict if enough electricity is not saved.

Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, said the Commission would "carry on for a few days and see where we stand under the new regulations." He declined to elaborate more fully.

H. D. Rothwell, administrator of power regulations, said quotas might not be reduced if municipalities stay within them, but added, "There is no guarantee they will not be reduced."

Sarnia, which failed to get its quota increased, will have its first general cut-off today. Londoners, warned to prepare for cut-offs Wednesday, received uninterrupted power.

From Oshawa came a charge by the city's public utilities commissioner George Shreve that a schedule of cut-offs for rural consumers in the Oshawa area had been changed by request of the Department of National Defence.

Mr. Shreve said the Ottawa request was made because the original schedule did not suit a Canadian army signal station in the area, and the changed schedule was ordered by the Ontario Commission over his complaints.

Acquit Contractor

TORONTO, Oct. 14 (CP)—Charged with criminal negligence in the deaths of three workmen, Modestino Viola, 40, Toronto subcontractor, Wednesday was acquitted by a general sessions court jury here. The victims, Dominic Passery, 47; Henry Rotunda, 21 and Sydney Cornish, 18, suffocated in a cave-in on the Lakeshore Road near here.

Begin Investigation

PEMBROKE, Oct. 13 (CP)—Police began an investigation on Wednesday night in the death of 42-year-old Conrad Thomas found dead with a gunshot wound at Boom Creek, some 45 miles northwest of Pembroke. Reports are that Thomas, a construction worker, had gone into the bush at Boom Creek on a hunting trip with a man identified as P. Believeau of nearby Rapides Des Joachims, Que.

'Feel Well For First Time In Years', Praises Syntona

"Am Free of Gas, Indigestion, Headaches and Nervousness; Rheumatic Pain Gone. Even My Work Seems Easier," He Says.

"It is a real pleasure to tell of my experience with Syntona Herbal Compound and I hope other sufferers will read this and profit as I did," said Mr. William E. Harris, 169 Syndenham street, Aylmer, Ontario, in a recent report.

"Being troubled for several years with stomach disorders my entire system had become rundown. I got so that very little effort seemed to tax all my strength, and sometimes I actually dreaded doing my work. My food would sour giving me gas and indigestion after meals with severe attacks of heartburn and a sick, nauseated feeling. Many a day I did not feel like eating at all. I was subject to backache, headaches and rheumatic pains in my limbs and joints. I became nervous and irritable and I couldn't sleep.

"I was discouraged about myself, because I had tried so many things without getting any relief. Then, one day, I read about Syntona and decided to get some. This medicine has really been a blessing to me and I am just like a different person. Now I can eat all my meals and am free of gas, indigestion, headaches and nervousness. The backache and rheumatic pains are gone, I sleep soundly at night and even my work seems easier.

MR. WILLIAM HARRIS

"I am sure if people knew how much the medicine can do for them they certainly would not wait a day before giving it a trial. I think it is wonderful."

You will find Syntona pleasant to take. It is mild-acting and contains no harmful drugs. Many people, like Mr. Harris, say Syntona is the best medicine they have ever used.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Peterborough at Elliott's Drug Store.—(Advt.)

HONOR LEADS PAY WELL

CONVENTIONS followed by all fine players, in the choice of honor leads from certain combinations against a No Trump contract, are a paying proposition in several respects. They not only enable the leader's partner to read his holding. They help the leader to get his suit established as soon as possible. They prevent the declarer from taking a cheap trick with a dinky little card while preserving his real stoppers for later use.

(Dealer: South. Both sides vulnerable.)

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♠	Pass	3 ♥	Pass
3 NT

That was really an overbid hand, with North willing to "reverse" in bidding his hearts at the three level after showing his clubs before. But West made the 3-No Trumps a good contract by means of a bad lead. He selected his fourth-best diamond, the 7, when he should have chosen the J. By so doing he presented the contract to South.

Getting that first trick with the dummy's 9, South led the spade Q, which East allowed to win, then the 10 to the J and the K to the A. East returned the 8 of his partner's diamonds, the Q forcing the A. When the diamond return was won by the K, South proceeded to make an easy game, totaling four tricks in spades, two each in the red suits and one in clubs.

West had a standard "honor combination" lead available to him in the top of his inside sequence. If he had led the J, he would have eliminated one of South's honors. The latter would then have had to try spades and hope West had the A. When East did instead, he could have returned a diamond through the remaining South honor to give his partner four tricks in the suit..

Move To Purge Reds In Union

LONDON, Oct. 14—(CP)—A move may develop soon to purge, or at least to curb, the power of the Communists in the powerful National Union of Mine Workers.

Friction between Communist and non-Communist union officials has been heightened by Communist efforts to stir up opposition to shipments of British coal to France during the current French strike.

General Secretary Arthur Horner, long an avowed Communist, is in open conflict on the issue with Will Lawther, NUM president. The latter says the French strike does not concern the British miner, who should intensify his efforts to increase coal output and exports to Europe.

Some observers predict that when the NUM executive meets Oct. 28 Communist officials will be told: "You must choose between the union and the Communist Party."

Object To Penalty

BRANTFORD, Ont., Oct. 14—(CP).—The Brantford Ministerial Association declared Tuesday no man should be penalized for refusing Sunday work for conscientious reasons. "We urge the establishment of a procedure by which it be ensured that men involved be not penalized," a resolution said. "We will support . . the cause of a man who is discriminated against, by reason of his objections to work for religious reasons."

Emily Sheep Losses $328 As Dogs Continue Attacks

EMILY, Oct. 14 — (Special) — Losses of sheep and lambs in Emily Township totalled $328 during September, with $18 evaluation fees, the township council was advised at its monthly meeting. Twenty-one sheep and lambs were killed or injured by dogs during the month, continuing the ravages of the past few months in which livestock losses have been heavy from bands of marauding dogs running loose in the area.

The council approved a drive by residents of Cavan township to ask provincial authorities to construct a highway across Cavan and Manvers townships, connecting highways 28 and 35.

The meeting, which was in charge of Reeve Vincent Fee, received a letter from Stanley Northey in which "a dangerous situation" at the corner of Lot 1, Concession 3 was mentioned. Brush growing at the roadside has made the spot a danger to traffic, they were advised.

The council decided to declare Friday, October 15, as a holiday for the public schools of the township to permit attendance at the Lindsay plowing match.

A. H. Bell informed the council that he proposed to construct a ditch across his lot, and that the boundary road between Ops and Emily would be affected by it.

F. L. Weldon submitted a list of lands liable to be sold for taxes at the court house on Dec. 7.

The Department of Municipal Affairs informed council of a school for muncipal officials, and urging all possible to attend.

A tender from the Peterborough District Co-Operative for the construction of a machinery shed was received.

Frank O'Leary wrote declining the offices of pathmaster and poundkeeper.

The following accounts were ordered paid:

The Lindsay Post, advertising cattle running at large, $3.52; David Weir, third quarter, salary, $125; David Weir, account Provincial election names on list, $15.95; T. H. Laidley, stamps $3, folder for statements $1, $4; Patrick Shine, secretary-treasurer, SS No. 12, advance, $300; Jos. Gosselin, secretary-treasurer, SS No. 12, $300; T. H. MOSHER THREATENS TO TOSS OUT U E W

2nd Woman Missing Police Say

Leaves On a Trip But Never Arrives At US Destination

GALT, Oct. 15—(CP)—Mrs. John Stuart, mother of William Stuart, held in Kitchener on a public mischief charge in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Emma Pohl, has also been missing from her home for more than a month, police said today.

Police said they learned that Mrs. Stuart had left here to visit North Adams, Mass., and had never arrived at her destination. A second son, John Jr., telephoned North Adams Thursday night to enquire and said he was told his mother had not arrived.

Mrs. Stuart left here Sept. 15 to go to North Adams via Toronto. She had $300 in her purse.

Stuart was arrested Oct. 1 when police suspected some of the information he gave them about Mrs. Pohl's disappearance was untrue. He told police he met Mrs. Pohl the day she disappeared and repayed her a $600 debt.

Police who said they had obtained a warrant to search Mrs. Stuart's home did not execute it.

MORE THAN 80 ILL and undernourished German children were recently evacuated by air from Berlin to spend the winter in rest homes in the British and American zones. They were the first group of 8,000 children, aged and infirm who are being evacuated from the blockaded city to assure medical care and special diet which will be unavailable there during the winter months. Here, British airmen strap up the safety belts of their young charges inside a Dakota before takeoff.

Says Local Not Afraid Of Mosher

Won't Be Intimidated Chambers Declares; Charge Time Wasting

"Strong words off a weak stomach,' was the terse initial comment made today by Mervin Chambers, president of Local 524 UEW, and vice-president of the district council. He was referring to the threat of A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, made in Toronto, that unless the UE changed its tactics it would be "thrown out" and "damned soon."

Today was the last day of the week-long meeting which has been described by some sources as the "clean-out-the-Communists" convention.

"Mr. Mosher's threats of expulsion from the CCL don't intimidate us in the least," said Mr. Chambers.

"We will still carry forward our policy as laid down for better working conditions, wages and hours and adequate housing as well as the fight to elect a government representative of and representing the people," he said.

In a sharp attack on the trend of the convention, he said: "If more time were taken up with real issues confronting the Congress, instead of this phony red-baiting issue, then much more would be accomplished."

Policy Important

The local president then turned to the subject of UE policy and explained that this is formed at a convention attended by delegates from all the locals in Ontario and Quebec. And he claimed that this policy was consistent with the one put forward at the CCL convention.

"Any threat of expulsion by the top officers of the CCL does not change our policy in the least," he said.

Referring to the controversial amendment which would have altered voting procedure, he said, "All the UE asked for was representative voting at the convention. For example, seven steel locals with from 15 to 100 members each, have the same voting strength as we in local 524 with 35,000 members."

(The amendment referred to was one put forward by the UE, including the Peterborough local. It stated that "the delegates of each local chartered union or affiliated local shall vote on the basis of one vote for each 100 members on any division or roll-call vote before the convention.")

And he said that this amendment, which was later defeated, had been put forward by local 524 at the Toronto convention.

Won't Leave Voluntarily

Phil Knibbs, district organizer also fired right back at the CCL president.

Held Responsible

MONTREAL, Oct. 15 — (CP).—Douglas and Donald Perreault and Noel Cloutier were held criminally responsible by a coroner's jury today for the slaying of two Montreal constables in a bank holdup last Sept. 23. The three are expected to appear before Mr. Justice Wilfrid Lazure in court of King's Bench this afternoon under a preferred indictment, where they will be formally charged.

Warns Jackson-Led Union To Change Tactics Or Be Barred From CCL

Won't Put Up With Red Philosophies In Labor Congress; Voting System Amendment Defeated

TORONTO, Oct. 15—(CP).—A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Congress of Labor, told the Communist-led United Electrical Workers today they'll be "thrown out" of the Congress if they don't change their tactics "damned soon." Speaking after a UEW criticism of the CCL voting procedure, he said:

"Unless you change your tactics — and change them damned soon — whether you leave or not you'll be thrown out.

"We're not going to put up with the kind of tactics and philosophies you're giving us here."

This blunt statement came on the final days of the Congress' weeklong "clean-out-the-Communists" convention.

It was the most straight-forward of three such ultimatums by Mr. Mosher this week and a direct reply to a pronouncement Thursday by Ross Russell of Toronto.

"Will Not Leave"

Mr. Russell, U.E.W. director of organization, said: "The administration will never get this union to leave this Congress. We're staying—to fight Red-baiting and to battle for the things labor wants."

Mr. Mosher tossed his warning back at the U.E.W. after that union's Canadian director, C. S. Jackson of Toronto raked the convention voting system over the coals. He charged it is not representative.

Some groups of 40 and 50 members had three and four voting delegates simply because they were classed as national unions.

Mr. Mosher defended the system as "precisely the same as used in the House of Commons and the provincial legislatures and in every democratic parliament throughout the world."

Change In Voting

Thomas MacLean of Windsor, United Automobile Workers delegate, said he is "happily in favor" of a proposed constitutional change in the voting procedure.

"I think you picked the wrong subject, Mr. Mosher, to talk about throwing anyone out of the Congress," he said. There should be no politics dragged into the ques-

Mediator Says Palestine Ready For Peace

PARIS, Oct. 15—(CP)—The interim Palestine mediator told the United Nations today that the "time is ripe for a settlement" in the Holy Land and he believes both sides would accept a reasonable UN proposal for peace.

"On both sides there is a desire and a need for peace," Dr. Ralph Bunche told the 58-member political committee.

Bunche declared the state of Israel was "a going concern from the day of its birth, and could not be destroyed by any means other than force of sufficient strength to completely crush the Jews in Palestine."

The interim mediator asked the assembly to take a firm stand on the political aspects of the Palestine problem.

"Settlement by force has been tried and been checked." Bunche said, "settlement by force of arms has not been a profitable expedient."

Both Arabs and Jews, he said, maintain lines "alerted for battle," and the strain is a great one which cannot long be maintained. He called the present truce in the Holy Land precarious, but added it was unthinkable that the bitter conflict should be allowed to flare again.

Bonche said both sides realized the war was a costly interruption of the normal development of Arab-Jewish relations.

Canada Alters Defence Tactics

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP)—Canada's peacetime air defence plans are mainly concentrated on interceptor units, it was stated here today.

Officials offered no direct Canadian comparison with a Washington dispatch which said the United States air defence in Alaska this winter would consist only of five bombers and one group of about 75 fighters.

However, it was recalled that Defence Minister Claxton, in discussing air defence estimates earlier this year, said that although Canada was not neglecting bombing, it was felt the Dominion's greatest contribution in the event of a war on this continent would be in the interceptor field.

Canada has purchased 85 Vampire jet fighters from the United Kingdom and these are believed to form the basis for her interceptor units. Bombers available to the RCAF would consist mainly of Canadian-built Lancasters.

Reds Take Chinhsien Chiang At Peiping

NANKING, Oct. 15 — (AP). — The Chinese defence ministry announced late today that the Communists had captured Chinhsien at noon Thursday.

The city in southwestern Manchuria had been the key supply point for isolated Mukden, 125 miles to the northeast.

Shortly before the announcement of its fall after a prolonged Communist siege, reliable sources said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had flown to Peiping because of Chinhsien's critical situation.

Earlier unofficial reports of Chinhsien's fall had been denied.

Press acounts said the city was aflame from more than 1,000 artillery shells poured in from the encircling Reds.

The dispatches reported the Communists had smashed into the city and there was fighting in the streets. This is a bad sign. Such reports usually precede the announcement of a city's fall.

Gang Of Thieves Get $2,000 Loot

LINDSAY, Oct. 15 (Special). — Thieves in this area have made off with more than $2,000 in two break-ins within the past 48 hours, Latest theft, reported today and under investigation by Lindsay police, was at the Olympic Tea Room on Kent St. West. It is believed that it may have been the work of the same crew of thieves who smashed open and robbed the safe of the Peterborough Co-Operative Store at Sunderland, 25 miles west of here, on Wednesday night or early Thursday morning.

Entrance to the tea room was gained through a washroom window about a foot square. The restaurant had been ransacked and the office desk robbed of $900 cash. The window had been replaced after the thief or thieves left.

Earlier, in Sunderland, provincial police revealed that a gang of safecrackers, believed to be from Toronto, had jimmied open the safe of the Co-op Store and escaped with $1,231—about half in cash and half in cheques.

Police said the intruders, after forcing the door of the office, used a railway crow-bar to pry open the safe door. The safe had been locked Wednesday night by Albert Aylsworth, the branch manager.

Police believe the responsible parties may be the same gang responsible for the Port Perry post office robbery in which $1,200 worth of stamps and $341 was stolen, and last week's East Whitby municipal offices robbery in which $1,200 cash, $3,000 in cheques and four guns were stolen.

$100,000 Fire Sweeps Belleville Block

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 15.—Fire of undetermined origin Thursday night caused damage estimated at upward to $100,000 to one of Belleville's oldest and largest business blocks. The entire city fire department was called out to fight the blaze in the east Robertson block on Front St., just north of the city's main intersection.

The fire is believed to have started shortly after 7 o'clock in the basement of one of the stores. Smoke was noticed coming up through a grate in the sidewalk. When Fire Chief Gerald Vance arrived, he immediately summoned every member of the department. The three-story building, renovated about eight years ago, contains several stores and offices as well as a dance hall and the Knights of Columbus club rooms.

Most of the damage was done by smoke and water with four stores suffering most. Proprietors of nearby stores hurried to remove stock from shelves in case the fire spread. However, by 9.30, firemen had the blaze completely under control.

One fireman, Barney Smith, was overcome by fumes and taken to Belleville General Hospell after he fell through a grating.

The entire police department was called to the scene of the fire and lights were switched off all along Front St. to avoid danger of short circuits which might spread the fire.

Insurance adjusters first estimated damage in the neighborhood of $800,000, but later revised their estimates to near the $100,000 mark.

Judge Levels Criticism As Jury Acquits Motorist

COBOURG, Oct. 15—(ENS).—George Watson of Toronto was freed of both manslaughter and dangerous driving charges by an Assize Court jury which deliberated for less than an hour Thursday afternoon. The charges were laid after a fatal accident which took place near Colborne on May 9 last. Mrs. Isabelle Poisson, wife of the Deputy-Minister of Welfare for Quebec, died of injuries which were said to have resulted from the accident. She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, and Crown evidence was that Watson had swung out of a line of three cars and met head-on with the Poisson car as it broke over the crest of a grade.

Watson testified he had no idea there was a grade when he started to pass the car ahead of him.

Mr. Justice Chevrier censured the verdict of the jury.

"Gentlemen of the jury, I have to accept your verdict and do so but frankly I must say that in all my years I have never accepted a verdict so reluctantly. I hope this will not facilitate placing yourselves in the same place as the deceased was at some time. I frankly cannot understand you," His Lordship commented to the jury.

"The jury has found you not guilty," he told the accused. "It was their decision, not mine. I am happy about that. They mean that they have approved of your conduct and that what you did was as a reasonable, prudent man would have done. If you do, you are at liberty to do the same thing again, any day in the week. They did you no good service or the community. I doubt if you think that what you did was a safe thing to do. Your wife is ill as a result of this accident and may be so for some time. A life has been snuffed out. I hope that some fellow is not guided by this jury and you are in the other car," he declared.

Minister Soon May Be Baronet

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — (CP) — A bespectacled, 66-year-old Quaker minister from nearby West Hill Village to-day was unruffled by the news that he may soon become a baronet.

Sir William Henry Hay, eighth Baronet of Alderston, has been missing since 1916. For 32 years the British Home Office and Debrett's Peerage have been fruitlessly searching for his three brothers.

Debrett's announced Thursday that unless the brothers are found briar-smoking Conran Ker Hay of West Hill is probably heir-apparent to the 509-year-old baronetcy. Mr. Hay is a cousin of the missing English nobleman.

Baronetcy or no baronetcy, Mr. Hay said he is content with life in West Hill. He isn't going back to his native Isle of Man.

Mayhew Says Soviet Using Slave System

PARIS, Oct. 15 — (Reuters). — Christopher Mayhew of Britain today charged Russia with maintaining a "slave system."

Evidence led one to support, he told the United Nations Social committee, that "a slave system without parallel in history" exists in the Soviet Union.

He was answering Soviet accusations that British subjects suffered from exhaustion and death in the colonies.

"No representative of the Soviet Union has the moral right to make these charges," he said. "Hunger and exhaustion are imposed on armies of forced workers in the Soviet Union as a result of deliberate state policy."

Evidence, he said, both from official documents and from sources outside the Soviet Union showed that many millions of Soviet workers lived in "wretchedness and undernoulshment" under the cloak of having committed crimes against the regime.

Refuse To Yield To Reds Have Lasting Peace—Clay

BERLIN, Oct. 15.—(AP).—Gen. Lucius D. Clay feels "Soviet expansion will not only be halted, it will recede," if the western powers continue their firm stand in Berlin.

The remarks of the United States commander in Germany were in a speech made public Thursday night by a responsible source close to Clay. This speech was made privately Sept. 8 to delegates of the British parliamentary conference who visited Berlin.

Clay said lasting peace in Europe could be attained if the western powers refused to yield to the Russians. He said the rise of democratic forces and economic recovery in western Europe could create pressure against Soviet domination in the satellite countries.

Discussing the Soviet blockade of Berlin, Clay said the western powers tried to buy food from Poland and Czechoslovakia for the besieged former German capital, but were blocked by Russia.

"This was a definite indication the blockade was placed into effect as a starvation measure . . to drive the Allies out of Berlin," he said.

Clay will fly to Frankfurt today to confer with John Foster Dulles, foreign affairs advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and member of the American delegation to the United Nations. Clay and Ambassador Robert Murphy, his political advisor, also will meet with German officials.

Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador to the Soviet Union, left Berlin today for Moscow. He had stopped over here two days on his return trip from Paris for conferences with Clay.

Reject Disarmament

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(Reuters).—The United States today rejected as "wholly unacceptable" the Russian proposal for one-third disarmament by the Big Five for prohibition of the atom bomb Frederic H. Osborn, United States delegate, told the special 11-member United Nations sub-committee, set up to draft an agreed resolution on disarmament, that it was "absurd that such a proposal should come from a country which is so closed that nobody could possibly know how much they reduce their armaments."

Blames West For Violations

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(CP).— Andrei Vishinsky broke his Kremlin-imposed silence in the Security Council today and renewed his charge that the Berlin question arose because the western powers violated agreements with Russia.

Earlier Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton of Canada acted as first spokesman for the six lesser powers—the "neutrals"—on the Council in appealing to the Big Four to settle the blockade by direct negotiation.

Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia of Argentina, acting Council chairman, asked the four Big Powers today for details on the Aug. 30 agreement between Prime Minister Stalin and western diplomats and for the instructions given the four military governors of Germany to implement the accord.

The British, American and French delegates said they were willing to answer Bramuglia's questions at the next Council meeting on Berlin.

Vishinsky then rose and declared the Argentine's questions were a "very skilled" manoeuvre to drag the Soviet delegation into the Berlin debate.

Berlin Food Ration Boosted By Allies

BERLIN, Oct. 15 —(AP)—The Western powers told blockaded Germans of western Berlin today that, beginning Nov. 1, the average food ration will be boosted to 2,000 calories a day. The increases will average 270 calories.

The added food will help sustain the population in "their clearly expressed intention not to submit to the inhumane Soviet blockade," an official statement said.

The average daily ration for Berliners in the three Western sectors now is 1,730 calories a day. The average Canadian gets about 3,000 calories daily.

5 Bombers and 75 Fighters Alaska's Only Air Defence

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15. (AP) —The United States' air defence in Alaska this winter apparently will consist only of five bombers and one group of about 75 fighters.

Down at the other side of the American defence perimeter—the Panama Canal Zone—there apparently is no organized air combat unit.

This came to light today in connection with an air force announcement that three five-plane flights of the new B-50 bombers will rotate on training missions in Alaska between Nov. 1 and March 15. Under this program, only five of the bombers will be in the area at any one time.

The only other combat unit in the Polar frontier sector is the fighter group regularly stationed there.

However, air defence planning is based on the idea that both fighters and bombers could be flown to Alaska quickly if a sudden military menace develops.

The forthcoming missions of the B-50's will be the first such bombers have made in organized units to any point outside the United States.

The B-50 is a radically-changed version of the wartime B-29. It has a top speed of 400 miles an hour, a 10-ton bomb capacity and, the air force says, can reach targets "over 2,300 miles" from the take-off point.

Air force officials told a reporter they are unable to discuss future plans for air defence of the Panama Canal. But available information shows that no fighter, bomber or troop-carrier units now are based in the canal zone.

RCAF Not In Airlift Till After UN Debate

TORONTO, Oct. 15.—(CP) — Defense Minister Claxton indicated today that Canada probably would not participate in the Berlin airlift until the issue had been debated by the United Nations Security Council.

He spoke at a meeting of the University of Toronto Liberal Association.

During the question period he said he could not make a definite statement on the government's policy for Berlin.

"But I would like to point out that neither France, Belgium nor the Netherlands is taking part in the airlift as yet, and the matter is now before the Security Council.

Canada's Trading Balance With United States Shows Big Improvement

Government's Austerity Program On Imports Bringing Good Results; Deficit Lowest Since Dollar-Saving

OTTAWA, Oct. 15—(CP). — Progressive improvement in Canada's trading balance with the United States emerged today from the Government's austerity program of cutting imports from the US and stimulating exports to that market. Latest figures released by the Bureau of Statistics Thursday showed that this country's deficit in trade with the US in August came to only $20,300,000, lowest since the dollar-conservation program began operating last November.

The total compared with $28,600,000 in July and $71,600,000 in August, 1947. It brought the adverse balance for the first eight months of this year to $277,100,000 against $644,500,000 for the corresponding period of 1947 and $918,100,000 for the whole of that year.

The deficit represents the excess of Canadian purchases in the US over American purchases in Canada. The dominion has to make up the difference out of her reserve of gold and US dollars.

Cuts Imports

In reaching the low August total, Canada cut her imports from the US to $136,100,000 from $155,300,000 last August and increased her exports to $114,000,000 from $81,400,000 a year ago.

In the first eight months of this year Canada bought $1,170,000,000 worth of goods from the US against $1,305,200,000 in the corresponding period of 1947. At the same time, she sold the US goods valued at $878,900,000 against $646,500,000.

Imports from Britain continued to rise during August, totalling $24,700,000 against $15,100,000 last year. Exports totalled $52,500,000 compared with $66,000,000. Canada's favorable balance of trade with Britain to date this year totals $276,000,000.

Trade with all countries in August totalled $433,000,000 against $429,400,000 in August, 1947. For the eight months, total trade rose moderately to $3,600,500,000, compared with $3,497,800,000, while the over-all balance of trade increased to $197,200,000 against $121,600,000.

Won't Leave Factory

PARIS, Oct. 15.—(AP).—One thousand Bordeaux auto workers barricaded themselves inside the Georges Irat factory today and refused to leave.

The workers kept the plant manager as a hostage and welded the factory doors shut.

The Communist-led Confederation General Du Trvail asked other metal workers in the region to begin sympathy strikes and ordered the men inside the auto plant to resist arrest.

Deny Jones' Report

LONDON, Oct. 15—(Reuters). —The Treasury Thursday denied a report, attributed to Sir Andrew Jones, head of the British Food Mission in Canada, that Britain was planning to make "drastic cuts" in food imports. A Treasury spokesman said he could find nothing to bear out the report. It seemed to contradict everything the Chancellor of the Exchequer, Sir Stafford Cripps, had said during his recent visit to Canada.

Say Pressure Halted Deportations

Bypass Officials Who Turned Down Appeals To Remain

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Resources Minister MacKinnon said today he was "certain" that there was "nothing" to the charge that four French citizens allowed to remain in Canada by cabinet action had been wartime Nazi collaborators.

"I don't believe that they were," he told The Canadian Press. "I'm certain there's nothing to that charge."

The charge to which he referred was an allegation in some government quarters here that the men had collaborated with the Nazis in France during the war. These sources expressed belief the men, now living in Quebec province, had been convicted by the French government in absentia on collaboration charges.

Mr. MacKinnon said he had examined the appeals of the men for permission to stay in Canada and, in his judgment, had found them to be "fit and proper persons to stay in this country." He could not recall whether all of them had entered Canada illegally.

Meantime, the four men were reported to be residing in Quebec province by cabinet approval.

This was disclosed Thursday night by a government source who said the men would have been deported, along with two others who fell under the same class, but strong Quebec intercession resulted in a special cabinet order-in-council granting them permission to remain.

He named these men as: Dr. Georges Benoit Montel, Dr. Andre Charles Emanuel Boussat, Julien Gaudens Labedan and Jean Louis Hue. One of them is reported to be teaching in a Roman Catholic university.

They are reported to be four of six alleged Nazi collaborators who entered the country while the French government apparently convicted them in absentia for wartime collaboration with the Nazi hordes.

One of the six, it was learned was deported. The other is Count Jacques de Bernonville, fighting deportation in a Montreal court.

Had it not been for their wartime record, the source said, the four might have been acceptable under immigration laws. They were in good health and otherwise suitable for residence in Canada.

However, department officials who turned down appeals against deportation, were bypassed. Influence, it was reported, was exerted on the cabinet to approve the residence even though immigration officials were preparing to deport them.

Industrials Tighten In Light Trading

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — (CP) — Industrials tightened in light trading on the Stock Exchange here today. Golds showed a slightly weaker tone and base metals held steady as key issues advanced on small gains.

Changes were few in the industrials and generally confined to fractions as interest lagged. Papers weakened and foods strengthened in the groupings. Bell Telephone eased in a mixed utilities list. BA Oil, Canadian Celanese, Canadian Oil, and Consumers Gas were among the gainers.

Wright-Hargreaves eased two cents in senior golds and juniors mixed gains and losses. Discovery, East Malartic, Eldona, Malartic and San Antonio were down 1 to 5 cents. Lake Shore advanced ⅛.

Smelters, Noranda and Hudson Bay added fractions in a stronger base metals list. International Nickel dipped ¼. Steep Rock touched a new low for the year at $1.60 and Sherritt, Labrador and Falconbridge also eased.

On the other hand, our delegates came directly to the congress from our UE district convention, pledged to fight for the policies decided upon by the elected delegates from every UE shop in Canada."

He said that the UE delegates would continue to state the position of their union on wages, prices, labor political action and other matters affecting the membership. And he stated they would continue to do so "despite the most reckless name calling and threats which we read in the press reports."

2nd Navy Flier Is Killed In Plane Crash

HALIFAX, Oct. 15 —(CP)— Lieut J. S. Berge of Vancouver was killed Thursday when his navy Sea Fury fighter crashed 2½ miles from nearby eastern passage air base.

It was the second Canadian naval fatality in two days. Wednesday, Lieut. J. T. Murphy of Dartmouth, N.S., was killed when his plane crashed near Cadillac, Mich.

Lieut. Berge was on training exercises when he radioed that he intended to attempt a crash landing and it is believed his engine failed. The plane was found in a heavily wooded area. Apparently Berge discovered he could not make a forced landing and tried to return to his field.

Combined army, navy and R.C.A.F. search parties combed the area in the hunt for the missing aircraft. A Lancaster bomber dropped flares to aid ground searchers and the army used walkie-talkies to direct them. Naval personnel formed the main body of searchers.

G. McCombes of nearby Woodside reported he had seen the plane go down near Lake Bissette, providing searchers with information that led to discovery of the body.

The Sea Fury ripped through power lines before hitting the ground. The plane, which did not burn, was smashed to bits. Body of the pilot was found nearby.

The amendment, defeated amid noisy, table-thumping uproar, would have deleted a provision barring proxy voting. It would have added this provision: "The delegates of each local chartered union or affiliated local shall vote on the basis of one vote for each 100 members of any division or roll-call vote before the convention."

The change was suggested by U.E. W. Local 523, Welland. Mr. Mosher's interpretation of the show of hands was that 85 per cent of the delegates were against it.

scheduled to address the closing banquet at the Lindsay Armories.

An estimated 40,000 people saw Thursday's competitions and toured the mile-long tent city of agricultural machinery and displays. A still larger crowd was expected today for the windup.

8 Classes

Four horse and four tractor classes in sod plowing were listed for today together with contests for teams and equipment and the junior inter-county competition in tractor plowing.

Crowds at the matches have grown steadily. A fleet of chartered buses Thursday brought visitors from Hamilton, Guelph, Bowmanville and a dozen other communities. Hundreds more came in their own cars.

Groups of up to 200 spectators followed the progress of each contestant Thursday. Lists of entrants were available, together with the number of fields where the contests were staged.

Scoring is as follows: Crown, 20 points; straightness of furrow, 10; covering of grass or stubble, 15; firmness, evenness and uniformity of furrows, including ins and outs, 20; shape of land, 10; finish, 20. Total 100.

But as one match official put it: "It's like a winning golf game: To win, it must be good plowing in every respect all the way through."

Police Obtain Search Warrant

KITCHENER, Oct. 15—(CP).— Police Thursday night obtained a warrant to search the Waterloo home of Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart for information concerning Mrs. Emma Pohl. She has been missing from her nearby Sunnyside home since Sept. 13.

William G. Stewart, a son of the Waterloo couple, faces a charge of public mischief in connection with the disappearance.

Relatives of Mrs. Pohl said on Thursday they believed the woman had met with foul play.

Stewart told police he had picked up Mrs. Pohl the afternoon she disappeared and drove her downtown from the outskirts of Kitchener after giving back $600 he had borrowed from her. Police arrested him and said they believed some of the information he gave them was untrue.

He told police he had been gambling in a local hotel and that he had been threatened by two armed gangsters, identified only as "Sam" and "Harry."

Two Minor Cases

There were only two charges decided in court today. Joseph Kayaczongai, no given address, was fined $10 and $2.50 costs or 10 days in jail when he pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy.

Roy Morrison, Cobden, Ont., was fined $4 and $2.50 costs for failing to obey the signal of a traffic officer.

Tell Ontario New Power Cuts Coming

Unless More Saving New Reductions In Force Next Week

TORONTO, Oct. 15. (CP)—Ontario faces new power cuts.

Robert Saunders, chairman of the Provincial Power Commission, said Thursday night the province still was using too much electric current and, at the present rate of consumption, new cuts might be necessary next week.

But the commission would not take any further steps until next Tuesday.

Speaking in Windsor, Mr. Saunders said: "We are hopeful that the regulations we now have in effect will produce this saving, but we won't know until about next Tuesday."

As the power shortage, second in two years, dragged on, the Canadian Congress of Labor called for a special session of the Ontario Legislature to deal with the Hydro crisis.

One delegate, H. J. Fenwick, of Oshawa, said the scarcity was caused by "political meddling."

Must Cut Down

Mr. Saunders said the province would have to save 3,000,000 kilowatt hours next week. Only the Thanksgiving holiday had saved an equivalent amount of power this week.

Ontario's second power shortage in two years has been blamed on light rainfall which lowered water levels in rivers serving Hydro projects and on increased consumption by the province's booming industries.

Mr. Saunders said Ontario was "wasting power . . . at a rate, which if saved, would supply all our needs."

Thursday in London, Hydro officials announced a new schedule of compulsory cut-offs for rural Middlesex county. The staggered shutdowns of one hour will continue until late afternoon.

At St. Catharines, public Utilities Commission officials called an emergency meeting of industrialists and asked for a further 15 per cent saving in city consumption.

PARENTS!

These facts must be faced!

27 out of every 100 of our school children are undernourished!

A survey recently made by the Department of National Health and Welfare uncovered this shocking condition. The same survey revealed that an additional 23 out of every 100 children showed signs of probable malnutrition.

Such facts should place all parents on the alert!

Everywhere, mothers—and fathers—are concerned with the present high prices of food. The situation demands clear-headed thinking and prompt action.

If you would help your family to gain the greatest possible benefit . . . WATCH THEIR DAILY DIET! Correct nutrition is more than an abundance of bulky foods—it calls for right foods in the proper amounts—daily.

Today, many women, of necessity, are inclined to change their food-buying habits because of spiralling prices. Many have had to reduce their purchases of valuable protein food like meat. But they keep up protein values by combining reduced quantities of such foods with milk. For a few pennies, milk can add extra protein to many dishes to help make meals more nourishing.

An internationally recognized Professor of Nutrition makes this statement: "Milk contains the greatest assortment of nutritive substances of all single food materials, and constitutes the foundation upon which an adequate diet can most safely and most easily be constructed."

Remember! . . . for glowing health, every growing child should have 4 to 5 glasses of milk daily. This is true, even when your children enjoy all other nourishing foods.

New Rebellion Rumored By TLC Members

VICTORIA, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Conflicting reports of a new rebellion over the Communist issue in the Trades and Labor Congress were abroad today at the TLC's annual convention.

Sources close to the anti-Red faction led by Frank Hall said high Canadian officers of some TLC international unions were considering breaking from the Congress unless it stiffened its attitude towards Communism in unions.

But Congress president Percy Bengough—who was re-elected unanimously Thursday — called this a "ridiculous" hoax.

It was, he said to reporters, "just a hope of St. James Street" —the centre of Montreal's financial district.

Officers backing Hall were members of unions having a strength of some 150,000 to 175,000 out of the Congress membership of 400,000. It was not known how many of these officers were taking part in the secession discussions, in hotel rooms away from the convention floor.

Most informants agreed there would be no breakaway and that the Hall forces would go no further than lining things up for a blitz on Communism at next year's Congress convention in Calgary.

Strong Resolution

Their final attitude, it was expected, would be influenced by the handling of a strongly worded anti-Communist resolution due to come before the convention later.

It will not go down the line with Hall's contention that the Congress should throw out all Communists and bar from office everyone who so much as "plays ball" with the Reds.

The anti-Communist resolution, drafted carefully under the eye of the executive, has been for two days in the hands of the TLC resolutions committee, which has been looking for the right spot to drop it into the convention. It may come in today, but may be deferred once more.

When it is thrown at the delegates, it is expected to precipitate one of the most uproarious debates of a convention that has hit high spots of turbulence for a TLC meeting.

WA Plans To Buy Kitchen Utensils

SELWYN, Oct. 15—(ENS)—The Thanksgiving theme prevailed throughout the meeting of the Women's Association of the United Church held in the church hall. A very inspiring topic, "Thanksgiving" was given by Miss Opal Preston. The accompanying scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Clifford McIlmoyl. There were 20 members and two visitors present when one of the vistiors, Mrs. D. P. Morris became a member. A letter of thanks was read from Mrs. Arthur Northcott, for the decorating of the church for her wedding, and Mrs. Harold McIlmoyl and Mrs. Chalmer Sweeting also thanked the WA for flowers received while in hospital. The secretary was instructed to order two dozen new hymn books for the church.

The main item of business was discussion of plans concerning the supper to be served in the hall on Wednesday, Oct. 27, when the Sunday School Institute is in convention here.

This is a new undertaking for the Sunday schools in this district when they have planned this "Institute" as a way of meeting and discussing various things pertaining to Sunday School work. Members of the WA also decided to buy some much-needed supplies for the kitchen in the hall such as dishpans, water-pails, etc.

Can't Tell Irish Plowman's Work From Canadian's

LINDSAY, Oct. 15.— (CP). — Willis Beilhartz, of Bruce Station, Ont., plowed Thursday on a strip next to that of James Morrow, champion plowman from Northern Ireland. And many of the spectators at the international plowing match said they couldn't tell which of the two plowed the better.

One of the three Algoma district representatives at the time, Beilhartz turned his furrows in the horse plowing competition at his third international contest. His bright red plaid shirt and blue overalls and cap made him easy to spot as he guided his borrowed team, a black and a grey, up and down the sod field of sandy loam.

"I've a good team here and the soil's moist," said he, when he paused for a breather at the end of the field. "I'm hoping to finish among the winners but, with 41 competing, it's pretty hard to tell how I'll make out."

The other Algoma plowmen were Beilhartz' brother, Lorn, also from Bruce Station, and Orville Carter from Portlock. They entered tractor classes.

The results of the match are expected to be announced tody.

Also on hand and busy with the details of the international match was the Beilhartz boys' father, Russell Beilhartz of Bruce Station, a director of the Ontario Plowmen's Association.

Willis finished ninth in his horse plowing class. His brother Lorn came third in the tractor plowing event. Results are not yet available for the tractor class in which Orville Carter of Portlock competed.

The Battle Of Ideas

In the present battle of ideas between the Eastern and Western worlds we must be careful not to build the Russians up in our own minds as fiendishly clever fellows whose schemes are beyond our understanding. They make plenty of mistakes, and sometimes very foolish ones. Only a week ago Mr. Vishinsky asserted that a map showing the strategy of the Third World War had been published in the U.S.A. In actual fact a map showing the strategy in the Pacific in the last war had been published by an oil company in three versions; it was this "Third War Map" which had excited the Russian ire. Of course, Russia's mistakes are better concealed than are those of the democracies, for ours are discussed and raked fore and aft in the press, whereas theirs are hidden whenever possible. But Russia has made mistakes, and some of them are grave ones.

• • •

The Russians have assumed that communism can be sold to the ruined nations of Europe by promises of future material gain. In this they were mistaken, for so far no country which has had a chance to examine communism at first hand has embraced that system. Russia has only been able to impose communism upon those countries in which the Russian army is in occupation. Even in its German zone, where its police are supreme, Russia has not dared to risk free elections. In Berlin, where the German plight is desperate, communism has not attracted a large following, and not because the Germans love the Western powers, but because they fear and mistrust the Russians.

• • •

The Russians are anxious to wreck the Marshall Plan, and they are doing all that they can to force the U.S.A. to abandon it. Their efforts have succeeded in making the plan much more expensive than it was originally intended to be, but there is no hint yet that it will be dropped. It is a fundamental Russian idea that capitalism is a weak system, likely to crumble under any unusual strain; how they hold this opinion after the demonstration which the capitalist nations gave during the war, we do not know, but the Russians have given plenty of evidence that they expect internal collapse in the U.S.A.—just as some fanciful people expect collapse or revolution in Russia.

• • •

Because the Russians think that we are weak, they think that we will not fight, or that we will arm ourselves only at the last moment. That is perhaps their greatest single mistake. They thoroughly understand the weakness of capitalism, but they do not understand its peculiar, loose-jointed strength. They have threatened us, and we have undertaken defense preparations. Apparently that was not foreseen by the wise men of Moscow. No wonder they are so indignant about our re-armament! But they brought it about themselves.

Twenty Provinces For Canada?

An interesting and, in our opinion, valuable suggestion has been made by the eminent historian, Professor A. R. M. Lower of Queen's University. In his view, Canada would benefit greatly from division into twenty provinces.

Ontario would be cut into five. Two sections would be in the north, to be called, perhaps, Temiskaming and Superior; in the south there would be Huron-Erie, with its capital at London, Hurontario with its capital at Toronto, and St. Lawrence, with its capital at Kingston.

Quebec would be cut into four. British Columbia would be cut into three. A new prairie province of Athabaska would be formed. The Maritimes would stay as they are and Newfoundland would remain in one piece.

What reason is given for all this Balkanizing? Canada, in Professor Lower's opinion, "will never become a nation in the most intense and fruitful sense until the provinces revert to what national subdivisions naturally should be—local authorities guarding local rights". The villains of modern Canada, he thinks, are the wealthy older provinces, and he compares Ontario with the Kingdom of Prussia, which dominated and bamboozled the German Empire, destroying its inner unity.

We do not expect that anything will be done to put this plan into effect quickly—not before 1950, perhaps. But as a commentary on the sort of deadlock which has grown up between jealous provinces and the Dominion Government we thing that it has great merit.

Something New In Peterborough's Music

We should like to call the attention of our readers to the series of programs of music for two pianos which is being broadcast from CHEX on Sunday afternoons at 5.30 by Gwen Craw and Charles Allen. The first of this series was heard last Sunday, and if we may judge by the very complimentary references made to it by listeners, both in letters and telephone calls, its listening audience will be considerably greater during the remainder of the programs.

The playing of two pianos is a comparatively recent development in musical performance, but it has already achieved a high degree of popularity. It permits a more elaborate sort of writing than is possible in a piano duet, and as it is a form of ensemble playing it requires qualities of discretion and precision not inferior to those possessed by players in a string quartet. The appearance of a good two-piano team in Peterborough is an event of the first musical importance to this city, and The Examiner is proud to sponsor the first public performance given by Mrs. Craw and Mr. Allen.

The excitement of the broader scope afforded by two-piano works should not, however, make us forgetful of the piano duet—a musical form which has given pleasure to countless people for two hundred years. On each of their programs the local team play one duet, for the particular enjoyment of listeners who have experimented with duets themselves.

No Mystery About Butter

There is really no mystery about the butter shortage. Butter must be made from milk, and in this brief table we give the approximate figure which a farmer may expect for a hundred pounds of milk, according to the use for which he sells it:

Fluid milk	$4.02
Ice cream	3.17
Condensories, etc.	2.97
Fluid cream	2.95
Cheese	2.70
Butter	2.55

Why should a farmer sell his milk at a low figure to make butter, when he can sell it for so much more to be used as a drink and a cooking ingredient?

Canada has made arrangements to import 15,000,000 pounds of butter, and this will tide us over for a time. But importation does not really solve the problem. For some reason we are using more milk, simply as a drinkable fluid, in this country than ever before, and so long as fluid milk brings the highest price we must expect butter to be short.

The real solution, of course, is margarine. At last, after some years of struggle, it seems that the forces which have opposed the manufacture of margarine in Canada are being beaten. The lie that margarine is unhealthy and unpalatable has been beaten. The lie that margarine would rob the farmers of money has been beaten. The anti-margarine people no longer have a leg to stand on, and are relying solely on their political influence to maintain the ban on the butter substitute. But even their political influence is weakening and the day may not be too far off when the butter shortage will be settled in the only sensible way.

NOTE AND COMMENT

"Let's Battle Arthritis", cries the Vancouver Sun. Thanks, we don't think we will. We have seen too many people who tried it and ended up in a knot.

A nudist reports "Taking off my clothes is just like taking off my worries". A fine thing to tell us, just as we are preparing to put on the extra ten or twelve pounds of clothing demanded by winter weather.

Southern Democrats, we read, have referred to President Truman as "a chuckle-headed little fellow who ought to be roasting peanuts on the corner". Did they say this after they had heard him roasting Tom Dewey on the radio?

Two men in Toronto have been given fourteen years apiece for armed robbery. Amateurs, obviously; there is nothing the professional burglar hates so much as a gun.

Notes And Queries

By ALPHA

Questions are solicited for this column, particularly those relating to local lore and tradition.

DEAR ALPHA: Have you ever heard about a grave on the Port Hope highway in which a man is buried standing up? A lawyer told me about it, but you can't believe everything those fellows say. Any truth in the tale?

ANSWER: Sorry for the delay in answering, but it has taken me a bit of time to get any information. Colonel Charles Ackerman has given me a careful account of the matter, but he has it second hand from the late R. M. Waddell. Where Mr. Roland Waddell picked up the story I do not know.

There is an escarpment about half a mile north of Rossmount on the Peterborough-Port Hope highway. (Rossmount is south of Bewdley.) Along the ridge of the escarpment there is a short tumbled-down fence which apparently surrounds an old grave. The spot gives excellent view on the surrounding territory and on the road and the trail of pioneer days which the road replaced.

The grave is reported to contain the body of a settler who worked hard but who also, in those lonely days, did not miss an opportunity to gossip with wayfarers along the trail and learn the news of the outer world from them. He became a familiar figure to travellers passing between Rice Lake and Port Hope. The legend is that before he died he asked to be buried in a vertical position—head up so that if he didn't go to heaven he would at least see what was happening on earth. It is a legend whose truth Colonel Ackerman ventures neither to confirm nor deny. I shall likewise stay on the fence (not the fence of the solitary grave). You could dig at Rossmount and find out for yourself.

QUESTION: I have a bet on with a friend who says that the maple leaf is our national emblem. I say the beaver. Who gets the money?

ANSWER: Your friend, since you have not bribed me to suppress the answer. The beaver was Canada's first national emblem, not because a beaver works hard, but because its pelt was valuable. From 1673 to 1821 it was the national emblem, but in the latter year the amalgamation of the Hudson's Bay and North West Companies caused a diversion of the fur trade from the St. Lawrence to Hudson Bay. As a result the maple leaf came into favour, especially after the St. John the Baptist Society of Quebec accepted it in 1834. The emblem was formally adopted by federal authorities during Confederation in 1867. No beaver appears on the armorial bearing of Canada, though maple leaves do. The crest is a lion holding in its right paw a red maple leaf, the symbol of sacrifice. On the lower third of the shield is a sprig of maple on a silver shield.

SIR: How old must I be before I can get married without my parent's consent?

ANSWER: Eighteen. If you are younger, you must have the consent of your parents. If you are under 14 you cannot marry except (and now I quote from the Marriage Act of Ontario) "except where a marriage is shown to be necessary to prevent the illegitimacy of offspring". If you live or marry in Quebec the Revised Statutes of Quebec would apply. One clause of these says: "A man (note the word 'man') cannot contract marriage before the full age of fourteen years, nor a woman (again, note the 'woman') before the full age of twelve years. There is another clause which says: "Children who have not reached the age of twenty-one years (note now the use of the word 'children') must obtain the consent of their father and mother before contracting marriage; in case of disagreement, the consent of the father suffices".

The youngest bride in Canadian records was Marguerite Sedilot who, when eleven years and five months old, married Jean Aubuchon of Three Rivers, Quebec. This was in 1654. The ceremony was declared null and void, but was subsequently re-enacted when the child reached her twelfth birthday.

QUESTION: Was St. Paul's the first Presbyterian church in Peterborough?

ANSWER: No. In 1835 a grant of Clergy Reserve land was made to the Church of Scotland which included the site of the present St. Andrew's church. The original building was erected in 1836. The Reverend J. M. Roger was the first minister and stayed with St. Andrew's congregation until he became addicted to the Free Church movement. He could not move his congregation similarly, and in 1857 he removed himself with some of his flock. This Free Church of Scotland group worshipped in the town hall and the Wesleyan Methodist church school room until 1859, when St. Paul's church was built. Mr. Roger became St. Paul's first minister. Keene had a resident Presbyterian minister before Peterborough. Theirs, the Reverend Archibald Colquhoun, arrived in Keene in 1834, stayed for five years, and then had a row with his parishioners and moved to Dummer. Presbyterians have never been remarkable for their docility. Too often drunk on John Knox?

ALPHA: I think that you are underestimating the barbers and their trade. It was a profession, is a profession and ever shall be a profession as long as hair grows long.

RESPONSE: Not if long curly locks for men come into fashion again and everybody lets his beard grow fuzzy-wuzzy. That is an over-statement, for Charles the First had long hair and a beard, and also a barber. His locks were trimmed and his beard was a Vandyke (so called now because of the contemporary portraits by Van Dyke who painted Charles and other courtly folk with beards of that pattern).

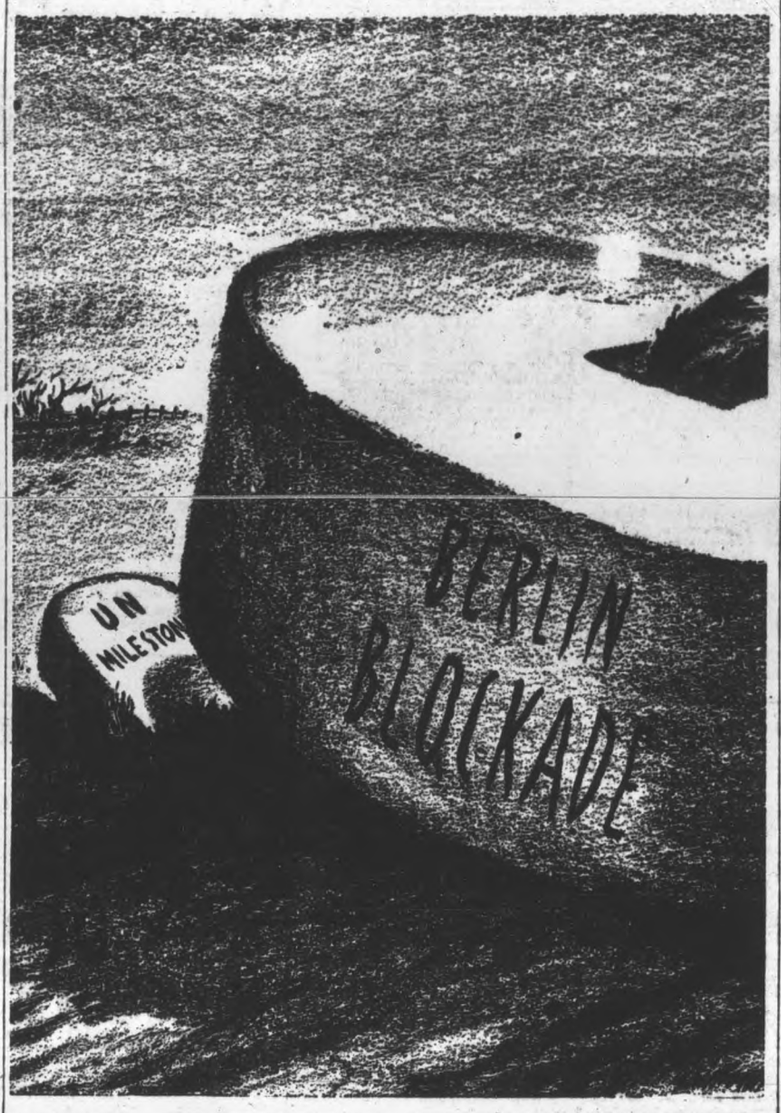
An Ottawa reader of this column has called my attention to an account in the London Times about a celebration in Oxford of the 600th anniversary of barbering as a profession. More exactly, of the 600th anniversary of Oxford's granting a charter to barbers. As I said in this column a couple of weeks ago, barbers were then surgeons and physicians as well as beard-shavers.

The Times gives this information: "The barbers had a guild from 1348 until the Civil War. It then lapsed, but the charter was renewed in 1675. This new charter is among the documents continuing down to 1859 in the Bodleian exhibition. In Oxford, as in London, the barber-surgeons had the right to cut down bodies from the gallows and use them for anatomy demonstrations. Rules about working hours were strict, and a barber who was seen coming away from a college late at night was banished from the city".

The modern barbers were entertained at dinner in New College, Oxford, on September the 10th by the Vice-Chancellor of the university, the Junior Proctor, the Dean of Christ Church, the Mayor, the chairman of the Oxford division of the British Medical Association and other men of eminence. Where Oxford gives honour, who am I to withhold it? The barbers presented the Junior Proctor (a very important university official) with a pair of white gloves as a token of the revival of an annual presentation made by the barbers to the proctors in the Middle Ages.

FOR THE RECORD: Peterborough's first sidewalk was built 101 years ago, in 1847. It was about a block long and was, of course, made of wood. It ran from the "Albert House" to Mr. Cluxton's store on George Street.

MILLSTONE FOR MILESTONE



Letter To The Editor

PETERBOROUGH AS A MEDICAL CENTRE

Sir: At the risk of becoming tiresome, I believe that there need not be anxiety regarding the cost of the Civic Hospital. According to Dr. Faludi's report on City Planning, he states in paragraph two on page 11 as follows:

"Future Population of Peterborough

Peterborough has grown steadily from its early settlement although the rate of growth has fluctuated considerably in various periods. The population growth from 1871 to 1941 follows::

Year	Population	% Increase
1871	5,808	...
1881	8,078	39.1
1891	11,391	41.0
1901	12,886	13.1
1911	18,360	42.6
1921	20,994	14.4
1931	22,327	6.4
1941	25,350	13.6

By 1946 the population had grown to 33,-311, an increase in 5 years of 31.4%.

The years of greatest growth have been: (a) 1868 to 1875, the period of the thriving lumber industry; (b) 1902 to 1913, the period of the influx of manufacturing capital; (c) 1937 to 1945, the period of industrial recovery and national war production.

There is an exceptionally low percentage of foreign born population, only 2.86%, while Canadian born are 85.15% and British born are 11.99%.

Peterborough has a young population, 59.3% are under 35 years of age; 7.6% are of the ages 0-4 years; the school age population (5-19) is 23.7%; the population of working age (20-64) is 60.0%; and the population of child bearing age is 40.1%. The proportion of males to females in the city is 100 to 102.5. The average yearly birth rate over the last 10 years has been 19.86 per cen 1,000; the marriage rate has been 11 per 1,000; and the rate of natural increase has been 8.32 per 1,000".

Although the cost is far in excess of $600,-000.00 authorized by the City's act of the Legislature, the real fact is that with the promised growth of Peterborough, the hospital will be adequate for the needs of this district.

Peterborough is a distributing area for a radius of about 35 miles and industry is developing very rapidly. The industries are internationally known and are rapidly increasing in development.

If the City Council would obtain legislation extending the payment of the debentures for the cost of the hospital over, say, 50 years, this would not be much of a burden as this would fall upon many future ratepayers and the governing body will no doubt fix adequate rates to provide for the hospital to be self-sustaining.

Apprehension, I feel, is not warranted and with the growth of this City and district, we shall be able to have a hospital that is open to all without any discrimination but will attract business from this whole district. With over fifty high-class doctors and outstanding dentists, tourists come to Peterborough for medical and dental service.

Extension is taking place of St. Joseph's Hospital and those who have visited our Canadian hospitals report them as well-staffed and well-managed.

The Americans have found our medical, dental and nursing service very efficient and it means that Americans will come to Canada for these services, particularly because the cost is much less than in the United States. The Americans have spoken in very high terms of the care they got in the hospitals in this part of the province and I am satisfied that if the Civic Hospital is completed as now planned, Peterborough, like Kingston and Ottawa, will become a prominent medical centre.

Yours truly,
G. N. GORDON.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

And Jesus answered them, saying, The hour is come, that the Son of man should be glorified. Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone: but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit....And I, if I be lifted up from the earth, will draw all men unto me. (John 12: 23, 24, 32.)

❖ ❖ ❖

When the morning was come, all the chief priests and elders of the people took counsel against Jesus to put him to death....And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet. They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

And sitting down they watched him there; and set up over his head his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS. (Matt. 27: 1, 35-37.)

Ye men of Israel, hear these words; Jesus of Nazareth, a man approved of God among you by miracles and wonders and signs, which God did by him in the midst of you, as ye yourselves also know: him, being delivered by the determinate counsel and foreknowledge of God, ye have taken, and by wicked hands have crucified and slain: whom God hath raised up, having loosed the pains of death: because it was not possible that he should be holden of it....

Therefore let all the house of Israel know assuredly, that God hath made that same Jesus, whom ye have crucified, both Lord and Christ. (Acts 2: 22-24, 36.)

Playoff Chase Continues In Football

By The Canadian Press

Canadian football teams turn into the stretch drive for the playoff wire and the Grey Cup this week-end and the scores should just about tell the story.

It's a week-end packed with games that every club has to win

It's now or never for Toronto Beaches Indians of the senior Ontario Rugby Football Union, Montreal Alouettes of the Interprovincial Football Union and Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Conference.

In the Eastern Intercollegiate Union, Queen's and Varsity, losers in the season openers last week, meet at Toronto while Western and McGill battle in Montreal. Western will be shooting for their 24th consecutive victory.

Must Win

Toronto Beaches Indians, who meet Windsor Rockets in Toronto tonight, must win its three remaining games to make the playoffs. But if the surprising second-place Sarnia Imperials pull off a victory at Hamilton over the Tigers, Toronto hasn't much hope.

Ottawa Rough Riders, ahead of the pack in the Big Four, play hosts to the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts. Argonauts, in second place, need the victory to bolster their playoff chances. But even their most ardent backers give them little hope. Touchdown twins Joe Krol and Royal Copeland still are far from top form after injuries.

Montreal must beat Hamilton Wildcats in Montreal Sunday to stay in the race.

Saskatchewan Roughriders are at home to the rampaging Calgary Stampeders, seeking their tenth straight win in the Western Conference. If Saskatchewan pull an upset out of their hats they will tie Winnipeg Blue Bombers for second place in the league.

Curling News

By Herb Martin

Now that the world series is all over and tucked away along with other summer sports, for another season, let's direct attention and thoughts to sports that would be more appropriate at this time of the year.

Those who listened to the radio on Wednesday night, or read any of Thursday's newspapers, know that the winter sports have begun. We refer to the opening of the National Hockey League in Detroit, and that reminds us that before long we in Peterborough will be enjoying our favorite winter pastime, and as far as we are concerned, it is curling.

Now, about this curling. Some time ago circulars were sent out to all of last year's members, advising them to send in their applications to the secretary by a certain date. True, the great majority did so, but there are still many who have not, and it is to those we are addressing this.

The committee is aiming for 70 rinks. That means 280 players, but if they are short of players on the night of the meeting (Monday, Oct. 18) it is obvious that their object will not be attained. Now, you boys, old or new members, who wish to curl and have not sent in your application, please attend to this matter at once. Send your money and application to R. Downey or H. Bradburn or Ira Moore or any other curler. The committee will appreciate your co-operation.

We had a nice long letter today from our good friend Ev. (Tankard) Thomas, now residing in Brockville. He tells us that by Dec. 1 they will have a new curling rink with four sheets of artificial ice. He says it has been a tough pull, but they are now looking for the grand opening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas were former members here and we join with other members of the club in wishing their club every success.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Windsor and the Petes clash at 8.30 tonight in Miller Bowl, first of their best-of-three all-Ontario lacrosse championship series for the Levack Trophy. The visitors' lineup includes some noted senior "A" grid names, like: Mike Hedgewick, Henry Chaplinski, Fiero Ghetti, Red Shepley, Joe Seislowski and Julius Gall. A big, fast team and they think they can knock off the OLA senior "B" champs in two straight. They definitely don't want to spend the long week-end here, the games being Friday, Saturday, and Monday (if necessary) nights in Miller Bowl. Tonight's opener should draw a huge crowd.

Undisputed possession of second place in their ORFU intermediate group standing is at stake for the locals tomorrow aft at three in the Oval when Panthers play Oakville. Just last week-end, the husky Panthers really got rolling after a slow start and swept two games to tie Oshawa for second slot. They're hoping to knock off the Oakville outfit on the morrow and can do it if they play their best football. Gord Young has a powerful squad this semester, some smart, experienced backfielders working behind a big, strong front wall. This gridiron fixture will be well worth seeing and should pull in a flock of football fans.

Sponsors Track Meet

Kiwanis Club is sponsoring a "Little Olympics" track meet Saturday afternoon in Morrow Park, starting at one p.m. A number of events open to anyone in the city, while Collegiate boys and girls, and grade school lasses and lads, take part in other competitions. Also, some topnotch Toronto pole vaulters and jumpers will attend and strut their stuff as part of the show. Public is invited to view this city-wide athletic meet.

An item from Belleville: "Congratulations are in order to Ald. Claude Tice on his appointment to the directorate of the Ontario Arenas Association, and also public relations' officer of the organization. There are 52 rinks, most of them municipally-owned, in the association, and applications have been received from many more for memberships. The organization was promoted so that members of rink commissions could get together to talk over problems, view other rinks, so that innovations could be incorporated into the local setup at little expense, and set a code of ethics. George Patterson of Brantford is president, Wes Allsop of Barrie vice-president, and Jim McCormick of Waterloo secretary-treasurer. Directors are Ross Workman of Toronto Varsity, Barney Barnett of Welland and Claude Tice of Belleville."

Monty Getting Along

Some of the better prospects out with Oshawa's junior "A" Generals include: Stew Hendry of Calgary and Bob Shropshire, ex-Young Rangers for goal; Gord Hudson of Ottawa, Frank Sullivan, Bob Thompson of Hamilton, Don Hall of Toronto, Gord Jamison of Kingston and Bernie Hill, last year in the Scottish League, for defence; and Jerry Scott, Dick Gamble, Keith Montgomery (junior here last year), Dusty Blair, Louie Jankowski of Hamilton, Bob Palmer—formerly in the Scottish Loop — Doug Chapman and Red Stephen of Young Rangers, and Ted O'Connor of Oshawa as forwards. A few other out-of-towners are still in the running. It's nice to know there is at least one Oshawa boy on the Oshawa team. Montgomery is said to be "showing up well on right wing."

In soccer tomorrow, O'Halloran's and the Petes play the Mayor Ovens Cup tie at 2.30 in King Edward Park, while CGE travels to Lindsay for a league match. And Legion players are advised to be at the bus terminal no later than 9.30 a.m. Saturday for their game against Chatham at Guelph, rain or shine. This is for the Legion inter-branch championship and will be staged there in Lyons Park. In public school soccer yesterday, King George took a 3-0 junior victory over Queen Alex, while King Edward won 3-0 against the Grove boys.

Boys Will Leave Home

A note from the Bowmanville paper: "A Bowmanville boy, Boyd Slemon, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Slemon, has been a star for Niagara Falls Houcks for several seasons. Usually playing first base and the team's heavy hitter, Boyd is often called upon for relief pitching. He was called to the mound Saturday after Staffords got their six-run lead. Along with Bill Edger, Artie Clemence and Ed Hooper, Boyd completes the quartet of baseball stars playing on important outside teams this season. The home town simply does not offer the spark necessary to keep its leading athletes from going elsewhere." And there's Dadson, too. Yeah, this plaint is heard frequently from the smaller centres, but it hits towns of all sizes. We lose some star athletes each season, also, to other places.

Canadiens, Rangers Split 1-1 In Second Game Of NHL Season

By The Canadian Press

The railbirds were full of dire predictions when an automobile accident left a trail of injuries across the New York Rangers camp.

But the railbirds got a big surprise Wednesday night when Rangers battled from behind to a 1-1 tie with Montreal Canadiens in the Montreal National Hockey League curtain-raiser.

It was a big night for rookie George Robertson. The 21-year-old Winnipegger, playing his firs. N.H.L. game, got his first N.H.L score—Canadiens' only goal.

The infant N.H.L. season cuts another tooth Saturday nigh: when Boston Bruins invade Toronto and Canadiens play host to Chicago Black Hawks. In the first game of the season Wednesday, Detroit Red Wings beat Chicago 3-1.

It was a big night, too, for Chuck Rayner as he handled. 31 shots on the New York nets, Bill Durnan had 14 fired at him.

Robertson scored at 3:01 of th first period by back-handing a pass from Elmer Lach past Rayner. Ed Kullman tied the score at 13:57 of the third when he scored after Nick Mickoski got the draw at a face-off near the Canadiens' net.

2 Men Short

Canadiens were left two men short briefly during the second period when Harmon and Chamberlain went off on penalties, but they were back at full strength before any harm was done.

Frank Eddolls, Edgar Laprade and Buddy O'Connor all were out of action as a result of the car accident. But the rest of the club was on the hustle all night.

League president Clarence Campbell hinted Wednesday night the loop's 60-game schedule might be boosted to 70 next winter—if New York and Boston could handle the extra bookings.

"I believe we can arrange it," he said in Detroit. "The odds are that the league will play a 70-game schedule in 1949-50."

Houston And St. Paul Win Opening Games

By The Associated Press

More than 12,000 United States Hockey League fans are well satisfied today after seeing their 1948 clubs win their opening games. Houston Thursday night won from Fort Worth 5-2, St. Paul from Dallas 5-2, and Tulsa from Omaha 5-3.

Fort Worth scored twice in the first period at Houston, while holding the Huskies scoreless, but couldn't find the net after that.

St. Paul and Dallas played a scoreless first period before the Saints scored twice in the second. St. Paul's five goals were scattered among as many players.

Veteran Captain Nick Knott poked in Tulsa's opening goal and Johnny Ubriaco pushed in another to give the Oilers a 2-0 first period lead. Ubriaco's second goal made it 4-0 in the second period, and Moe Young's final period tally ended the Tulsa scoring.

SOME 300,000 RABID CLEVELAND supporters lined the streets of Cleveland, Ohio, to welcome their idols who became world champs by defeating Boston 4 games to 2. Left to right in the front car are Manager and Mrs. Lou Boudreau and Bill Veeck, president of the club. A rumor has it that Veeck has been nudged from the Tribe's wigwam by "Chief" Hank Greenberg, who owns controlling stock in the club.

Urge Canada's Athletes Use Metric System

By JACK SULLIVAN

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Seasonal sob stories poured out by National Hockey League coaches receive scant sympathy from Canada's track and field and swimming fraternity. They, too, have a problem.

It is: should Canada ditch the yard distances and adopt the metric system, used in all countries of Europe except Britain and in the Olympic games. There's discussion about it from Montreal to Vancouver.

Informal talk started after Canada's poor showing in the games and a ballot was conducted by The Canadian Press to find what Olympic officials and athletes think about it for Canada. They are split on the issue.

Archie McKinnon, Olympic swim coach from Victoria, would like to see the AAU adopt the metric system immediately, but Winnipeg's Ken Yost, games track coach, says Canada should stick to yards distances. Olympic track manager Fred Rowell of Vancouver proposes a two-year cycle—the metric system in preparation for the Olympics and yards for the British Empire Games.

McKinnon says Canadian records do not give a true comparison of an athlete's worth compared to metric times and that the metric scale should be used to condition athletes to the added distance required (9.4 yards in the 100) in the Olympics.

No Salary Cut For Bob Feller

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(AP).—Rumors to the contrary, Bob Feller will not be asked to take a cut from his $80,000 salary of last season.

Rapid Robert is the guy who says so and the one who should know. And if anyone is worried about the condition of his right arm, Feller says "my arm feels strong and I aim to keep it that way by not going barnstorming this winter. I honestly feel I'm in for a fine season in 1949.

"I'm not at liberty to give any details," Feller said at the end of the world series, "but you'll not be wrong in writing that I won't receive any kind of a salary slash whatsoever. In fact some people might be surprised when and if my 1949 salary is made public."

He said he had not yet signed his '49 contract.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

A change in referees for the third game of the Canadian senior lacrosse championships between defending champions New Westminster Adanacs and Hamilton Tigers was announced in Toronto Thursday.

The switch was announced by Lyle Barr of Vancouver, president of the Canadian Amateur Lacrosse Association who said both clubs protested the officiating in the first two games of the series.

"Officials said the referees allowed too much rough play," Barr said in an interview after the four-day annual meeting of the CALA.

The newly-appointed officials—Gus Madsen, and Roy Morton, both of St. Catharines—replace George Murphy of Toronto and Max Peart of Port Colborne, Ont.

Cleveland Indians won't need much overhauling for defence of their world championship, president Bill Veeck said Thursday. "Of course, that doesn't mean we'll repeat but we'll be up there with the best of them," Bill hastened to add.

Veeck conceded that "we can't stand pat completely. No team should adopt that attitude. But I don't think many changes will be necessary."

University of Western Ontario Colts Thursday night swarmed to a 36-6 victory over McMaster University Rams in an intermediate intercollegiate football game at Hamilton. McMaster got few chances to score as Colts ran in three unconverted touchdowns in each of the first three quarters, then pushed home three singles in the last one.

Lloyd Mangrum of Chicago knocked six strokes off par for a 66 to take the lead at the end of the first 18 holes Thursday in the inaugural $15,000 Glendale, Calif., open golf tournament. With the favored Ben Hogan three strokes back, Mangrum put together rounds of 36-30—66 for the Oakmont Country Club's par of 36-36—72.

New York Giants Thursday announced the outright release of two veteran infielders — Lonnie Frey and Johnny McCarthy. Frey, who came to the National League club in August, is a second baseman and McCarthy, who was acquired from Minneapolis, understudied Johnny Mize at first base.

At Kingston, Harold Butler of Toronto's Thornhill Golf Club Thursday won the east-west Canadian finals in the assistant professional Golf Association tournament. He put together morning and afternoon rounds of 77 and 74 for a 151 total at the Cataraqui Golf and Country Club. Following him at the finish was Gordon Keith of Montreal Hampstead Club who shot 74 and 78 for 152. Butler won the $125 first prize money while Keith won $75.

See Small Field For Gold Cup

NEW YORK, Oct. 15.—(AP).—Entries close today for the Empire City Gold Cup, and, thanks to Citation, it looks like a small field of six horses for the $10,000 international gallop.

The second running of the 1¼-mile classic is set for to-morrow at Belmont Park. Two European horses and three from the United States probably will oppose the great Calumet farm triple-crown champion.

Nathoo, a grey English three-year-old owned by the Aga Khan, is a definite starter among the foreign contenders, and final word is expected during the day on the Belgian champion, Bayeux.

Other American horses besides Citation are Phalanax, Miss Grillo, and Drumbeat, with a remote chance Conniver might get another chance.

Final verdict on Bayeux, which suffered bruised hocks during his plane ride from Brussels earlier this week, will be given after another light workout. The four-year-colt is one of the finest distance runners in Europe.

King Edward Wins

King Edward defeated Grove 3-0 yetserday at Grove in a public school soccer game. It was a good, lively tussle with Dan Sutherland scoring two for King Edward and Glen Pagett getting the other. The teams:

King Edward—Goal, R. Halcrow; full backs, Tarkington, Hunt; half-backs, Pagett, Dugan, Smyth; forwards, D. Sutherland, J. Sutherland, Curtis, McArthur, Johnston; subs., Smith, Roode, Phillips, Laughlin.

Grove—Goal, Perry; full backs, Linsey, Druery; half-backs, Chesney, Hotston, Gardner; forwards, Hamilton, Heard, Little, Rowe, Asling; subs., Perry, Simmons, Wood, Little.

King George Takes Junior Soccer Tilt

King George gained a 3-0 decision over the Queen Alexandra junior soccer eleven Thursday afternoon at the King George grounds. This puts the East City boys near the playoffs. Play was erratic in the early stages, with King George later settling down to a systematic attack that brought them success when D. Ash converted a penalty kick, and a little later on an individual effort he made it 2-0. In the second half the Northenders hemmed the King George boys inside their own goal area but Pollard and McIlmoyle were unbeatable. On a raid led by Wyllie and Ash they forced a corner kick that resulted in a Queen Alex boy heading through his own goal.

Queen Alexandra—J. Pearson, goal; D. Lang and D. Stewart, full backs; D. Cooke, B. McKinney and P. Stewart, half-backs; T. McKinney, B. Whitton, George Dach, W. Whitton and D. Ham, forwards.

King George—M. Innes, goal; H. Pollard and P. McIlmoyle, full backs; G. Barclay, H. Ellis and D. Hale, half-backs; D. Root, R. Wyllie, D. Ash, D. Baptie and R. Fairs, forwards. Subs: J. Harding, R. Bell.

Referee: Mr. Scrutton.

Screen Actress Delighted To Be In Canada

By FRED KERNER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 15 — (CP)— Making her North American debut on the legitimate stage at London, Ont., next week "is almost like returning home," British-born Madeleine Carroll said in an interview to-day.

"For a long period during the early war years Canada was something of a second home to me," the tall, slender star of the stage and screen admitted. "You see, I commuted between New York and Toronto weekly to a series of war-bond broadcasts for the Canadian Government."

During a rehearsal of "Good-bye, My Fancy," the blonde Miss Carroll confided she was "very, very happy" that the new play in which she is returning to the stage after almost 10 years is to have its world premiere in the Ontario city.

"I am told London is a very theatre-wise city. That bodes well for the play and is encouraging to everyone connected with the production."

A native of Birmingham, she majored in French at that city's university and taught the language for several years before returning to the stage. After long months of job-seeking, she attracted the attention of the late Sir Seymour Hicks.

Success Rapid

Her success was rapid and she appeared in such triumphs as "The Constant Nymph" with Noel Coward and "Mr. Pickwick" with Charles Laughton as well as more than a dozen other major productions. Then the movies called and Miss Carroll went to Hollywood after several films made in Britain.

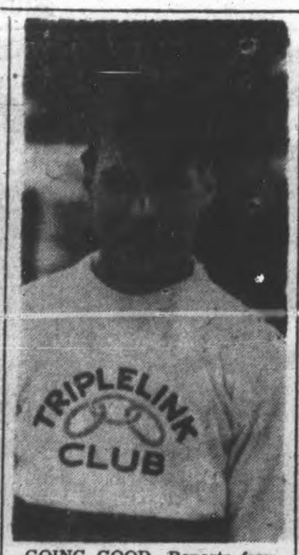
In "Good-bye, My Fancy," which opens at the Grand Theatre in London, Ont., October 21 and moves to Toronto for a week's run before being booked into New York, Miss Carroll plays the part of a woman member of the United States Congress. The plot revolves about her return to her alma mater to receive an honorary degree.

The play boasts yet another first. It is the initial stage effort from the pen of screen writer and actress Fay Kanin. Directing and playing opposite the British star is Sam Wanamaker who performed a similar dual assignment opposite Ingrid Bergman in "Joan of Lorraine" two years ago.

Hold Farewell Party

NORWOOD, Oct. 15—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shaw were pleasantly surprised on Friday evening, when their neighbors called at their home for a social get-together, prior to their departure for Brighton, where they will make their home. Card games and dances were enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw were presented with a gift.

JIM HENRY who has been traded to the Chicago Black Hawks by the New York Rangers for wingman Alex Kaleta and goaltender Emile (The Cat) Francis. With "Sugar" Jim in goal, the Chicago Black Hawks should be strong contenders for championship honors in the NHL this season.



GOING GOOD—Reports from Oshawa, where he is working out with the junior "A" Generals, are that Keith Montgomery, former Lakefield and local junior puck ace, is showing up well at right wing.

Plan Lefty Seamon Buried At Cambridge

OTTAWA, Oct. 15. — (CP).—Body of Leonard (Lefty) Seamon, 22-year-old star pitcher for Ottawa Nationals of the Border Baseball League, will be removed early today for funeral service in Boston, Mass.

Although it was expected that burial would be made in Seamon's home town of Wiscasset, Mass., it was especially requested by the young athlete's mother that he buried in Mount Auburn cemetery, Cambridge, beside his father's grave.

Seamon died in hospital Thursday after convalescing for about a month from an operation for removal of a chest tumor. His death was unexpected.

T. P. (Tommy) Gorman, Nationals manager, said Seamon "was a great player and a great boy. Only recently we received offers for him from four major league clubs — Brooklyn, New York Giants, Cleveland and Chicago."

Says Long-Term Town Planning To Save Money

TORONTO, Oct. 15, — Long-term town planning is one of the cheapest investments available to any community, Planning Minister Dana Porter told the Community Planning Association of Canada, Ontario Division, Thursday. It was the opening day of the organization's three-day convention.

"Such planning will save taxpayers' money, leave more money for other things, and make a better community," Mr. Porter said. He warned, however, against over-refinement of zoning bylaws and getting involved in too much intricate detail.

Mr. Porter pointed out that since his department was formed four years ago it has approved more than 2,000 plans of sub-divisions, representing approximately 80,000 building lots, throughout the province. "Our aim is the sound layout of every sub-division planned in Ontario," he said. "Under thet planning act there is control of every section of land opened up for for residential development."

His department feels that the more local the planning boards become, the better, Mr Porter said. Already 125 municipalities in the province have planning boards.

"'Instead of adapting the people to the plan, we must adapt the plan to the people,'" Mr. Porter said, quoting another planning authority.

During a series of round-table discussions which featured the afternoon session, Prof. John Murray of the University of Toronto School of Architecture, branded as "asinine" the conventional grid pattern of street layout. "By this pattern, lots are long and narrow," he said "The sides of houses are very close to each other and there is very little sunlight, fresh air and view available."

James Dutton of Peterborough is chairman of the association.

Caps Down Bisons Reid Hero Of Game

By The Canadian Press

Indianapolis Capitals took the margin of Buffalo Bisons Thursday night, 5-1, while Providence Reds, flashing a better attack and a stouter defence than their opponents, downed the Ramblers 5-2 at New Haven.

Hero of the Caps opener was 20-year-old Jerry Reid of Owen Sound, playing his first American League hockey game, who scored three goals, one in each stanza.

He shared honors with another youngster, goalie Terry Sawchuck, up from Omaha of the United States league. Sawchuck turned in a fancy job, stopping 25 Bison shots.

White House Got Its Name After Burned By British

By CLYDE BLACKBURN.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15 (CP). —The most famous and talked of residence in this shortage-ridden country is rent-free and has had 31 different tenants since 1800.

It is the White House in Washington, home of the President. And if Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York has his way with the electorate it will have a new tenant come next January 20.

The idea of building a special mansion in Washington for the Chief Executive is attributed to George Washington, the father of his country. But he never slept there.

Washington picked the site and the corner-stone was laid in 1792. But the mansion was not ready for occupancy until 1800 when the second President, John Adams moved in.

The building was said to be copied in some degree from the Duke of Leinster's palace in Dublin. A muddy canal ran by its front door (now the rear) and beyond was the swamp and the river marsh from which odorous mists usually arose each morning and evening.

During the War of 1812 a small British force captured Washington and burned the inflammable part of the mansion.

How It Was Named

After repairs the fire-blackened walls were painted white and ever since then it has been "The White House."

Thomas Jefferson, the third President and a great amateur architect and gadgeteer, added terraces at the east and west ends of the mansion and greatly improved it.

A spacious Southern type, pillared portico was placed over the front entrance in 1824 when James Monroe was President. In 1829, under Andrew Jackson, the north portico was added and became the front entrance facing on the new extension of Pennsylvania Avenue.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, some of whose early predecessors did their swimming in the river before Park Works removed it nearly a mile from the door, installed a swimming pool.

President Truman installed a bowling alley and, after a great deal of ruckus from the artistic authorities of the Capitol, hung a private balcony from the second floor under the south portico.

The great East Room, the Blue Room, the Green Room, and Red Room and the state dining-room, all on the first floor, are the public entertainment quarters. The dining-room seats 104.

The President and his family live on the two upper floors and there are smoking and work rooms on the basement floor, one used by President Roosevelt, and later by Truman, for broadcasting.

Canada's Prime Minister Mackenzie King was one of the most frequent overnight visitors during the long Roosevelt regime. He was always put to bed in the main guest room — the Lincoln Room where the emancipator slept.

Ingratitude Theme For Thanksgiving

SELWYN, Oct. 15—(ENS)—A special harvest Thanksgiving service was held in the United Church on Sunday morning when Rev. D. P. Morris delivered an inspiring address. He took as his topic "Were there not ten, cleansed, where are the nine." Gratitude is one of the things that is needed so badly by this generation, said Rev. Morris and ingratitude is one of mankind's greatest sins.

Just as the story of the ten lepers who were healed by Jesus Christ and when it came time to come and give thanks for the great blessing they had received, only one man came, and Jesus reproached him saying, "Were there not ten, where are the nine." But the other nine, said the speaker, were just like so many of our present-day people, ungrateful for the many blessings they receive.

The choir was under the direction of Mrs. Garnet Northey, organist, and special thanksgiving hymns were sung. The church was decorated with autumn flowers and ferns.

May Crack Case

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—(AP). —The State Department said Thursday that information from Greek officials on the murder of radio correspondent George Polk last May indicates that a major break in the case is near. Polk's body was found in Salonika bay after he had disappeared while bent upon interviewing the Greek rebel leader, General Markos Vafiadis. He was correspondent for CBS.

HIS MISSION to the displaced persons camps in Europe completed, Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, is shown on his arrival in Montreal with Mrs. Mitchell.

Schools Unable To Prepare Pupils For Occupations

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 15 — (ENS).—"Schools do not prepare pupils for occupations. There are over 12,000 different occupations in Canada, therefore it is impossible for the school to meet the needs of all," said H. R. Hendershot, addressing the public school [illegible] Wednesday night under the auspices of the Home and School Association.

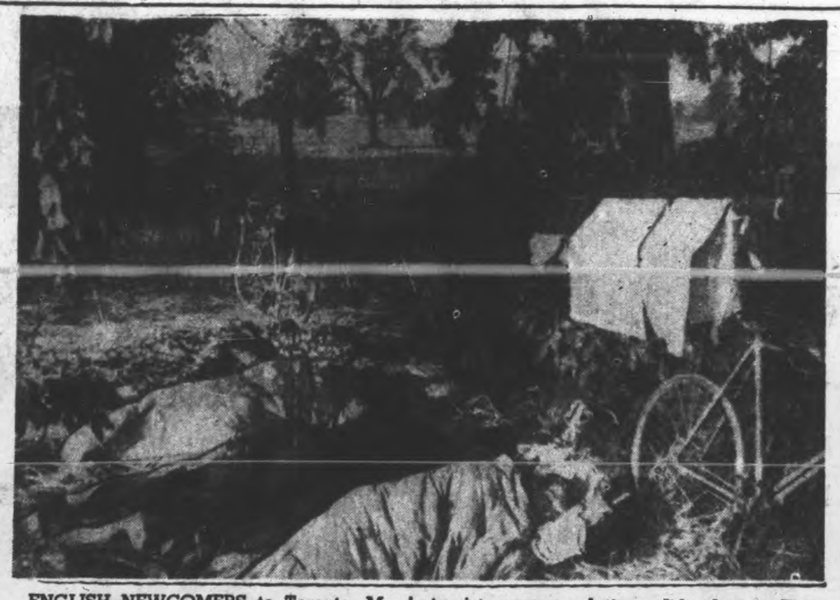
Mr. Hendershot is the principal of the Campbellford High school.

"The completion of public school is the first step in the educational program. It should be the aim of every boy and girl to complete the full high school course," he said. "Education develops confidence in meeting new situations. The educated man has a better understanding of the needs of others and a greater degree of ability to act wisely and clearly."

He continued: "Most students leave school at the beginning of examinations. They want to earn money or find the work too hard for them. Some students drop out because they feel the school is not training them for the particular job they want to do. This is a mistaken idea, because practically every worth while job calls for at least junior matriculation."

Prior to Mr. Hendershot's address, Principal Haig, after a short introductory speech, presented certificates to the 1948 entrance class. Marilyn Hopping won the IODE scholarship.

Gale Myers and Shirley Boyce gave a fine display of tap dancing, with Donna Sharp at the piano. A mixed choir of Grade 8 pupils sang two numbers, under the direction of Mrs. Clark. Gerald Young played a violin solo, with his brother at the piano.



ENGLISH NEWCOMERS to Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Lane recently bicycled 1,120 miles in 12 days, and carried their tourist accommodation with them. They slept in blanket bags, did most of their own cooking. The Lanes are members of the Queen City Cycle Club.

Dummer Angler Claims Bass Weighed 15 Lbs.

Len Noonan of Dummer township, on the east shore of Clear lake, caught this summer a green bass so big that when he mentions its size and weight eyebrows are lifted, doubts expressed, and generally people indicate question of his veracity. One man called him a liar, and Noonan let him have a bang on the nose.

He had the fish mounted as a trophy. On the board it measures 28 inches from the tip of nose to the "V" of its tail, two feet, four inches. Noonan says it weighed more than 15 pounds, really a leviathan bass even for the big-mouthed green species. Measurement from back to belly is 11 inches; double that and allow for width and the total girth was around 30 inches.

No wonder he has been doubted when he tells about it, but the taxidermist's mounting shows the length and suggests the other proportions. Even a five or six pounder is quite a bass,—but 15 pounds, in the words of the old song "They wouldn't believe me".

Radio Pals To Meet In Toronto

LIVERPOOL, Eng., Oct. 15 — (CP). — Thomas Moore, a radio engineer of Clevedon, Somerset, sailed Wednesday aboard the Empress of France to keep an appointment next week under the clock in Toronto's Union Station.

He has never spoken except in Morse code to the man he is going to meet—Al Sass of (35 Church Road) Paris, Ont.

Moore, a radio "ham," told his Canadian colleague he planned to emigrate to Canada and Sass tapped back: "Where are you going to stay?"

"I don't know—I just hope for the best," Moore Morsed.

"You are welcome to bunk with us until you get fixed up," said Sass.

"All I know is that Al is thin and fair and will be wearing a light grey suit," Moore told dockside reporters.

Groups Seeking Relief From Taxation

Relief of property from some of the taxation which it has been increasingly bearing for the last 15 or 20 years will be discussed by members of the cabinet of the Ontario government and representatives of various municipal associations in Toronto next Monday and Tuesday.

City Clerk Outram will attend as a representative of the Ontario Municipal Association. There are also specially appointed members of other groups such as the Ontario Mayors and Reeves Association, Rural Municipalities, mining municipalities and others.

Appeals from those sources to the government from time to time for resurvey of the structure of municipal taxation, particularly with respect to various new costs which have gradually received public approval, but with a large part of the assessment devolving to private property.

Social services, old age pensions, hospitalization of indigents and others, comprise one group of new costs which should not be charged to property, according to municipal authorities. Locally it will be remembered that from his experience as mayor, Mr. James Hamilton became one of the advocates of re-examination of the municipal expenditures and revenues or taxes. He had absorbed a great deal of information, but just when he was becoming vocal on this subject his mayoral term ended, and with it opportunities of expressing his views and communicating them to others.

Sessions next week will be spread over two days, and it is expected the taxation question will be thoroughly considered.

Peterborough Man Music Supervisor

Irwin J. Luther, a former resident of this city, has recently been appointed supervisor of music in the schools at Ingersoll. Mr. Luther was for quite a number of years a member of St. John's Choir and received most of his musical education in this city.

He was organist at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Stratford for more than four years. About one year ago he accepted the position as organist and choir-leader at College Avenue Church in Woodstock, where he now resides with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Luther, who was a former caretaker at the Custom office here. Mr. Luther will also conduct the school chorus of 60 voices.

Mr. Percy Luther, 503 Park St. North is a brother.

A parking meter on George St. was damaged to the extent of $15 Thursday when it was struck by a truck. The accident was reported to police by the driver, Keith Cowes, 465 Stewart St.

Firemen answered what proved to be a false alarm yesterday, but it wasn't a deliberate one. A lady reported that she saw smoke coming from a car parked on Brock St., but upon investigation it was found that the alarm was baseless.

FRIENDSHIP CLUB MEETS

A program of films and a quiz is planned for tonight at the first meeting of the season for the Fun and Friendship Club, organized for boys between eight years and 12 at the YMCA. One of the films which deals with the training of bird dogs, is said to be particularly interesting.

ENDS THE SEASON

William Martin, 475 Park St. N., and employee of the Armature Dept. in the CGE, hooked and landed a 9-pound pickerel Thursday night. He was fishing from the pier at the lower lock using live minnows as bait. The fish was 28 inches long, and 15 inches in girth.

ALDERMAN OPTIMISTIC

Ald. Dick Raine, chairman of the council's hospital committee, said today the Peterborough deputation Thursday had been agreeably received by the Minister of Health, Hon. Russell T. Kelley. "We should have some definite information by next Monday afternoon," Ald. Raine said. "A committee of the department is considering our petition. Personally, I feel rather hopeful, but we had better wait until we hear what is done."

Freight Rates Tossed Back To Commission

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP).—Canada's controversial freight-rate issue is back in the lap of the Board of the Transport Commissioners from where it emerged last March in the form of a 21-per-cent. increase.

In a decision which appeared partially to meet provincial objections to the March boost, but to fall short of being a clear-cut victory, the Cabinet Thursday instructed the six Transport Commissioners to:

1. Review the 21-per-cent. increase.
2. Consider provincial complaints and increased railway revenue from higher international and competitive freight rates.
3. Relate any revision of the March order to its decision on a subsequent application by the railways for an interim increase in rates of 15 per cent. to be considered in January.

Commenting on the Cabinet decision, Premier Manning of Alberta described the Order-in-Council as "wholly unsatisfactory." Attorney-General Gordon Wismer of British Columbia said the provinces have won a "partial victory" in their fight against increased freight rates. Premier McNair of New Brunswick said the Order-in-Council confirmed in substantial measure the position of seven provinces opposing freight rate increases.

The Cabinet's instruction that "any revision" of the last increase should be made in conjunction with the subsequent application appeared to mean that the 21-per cent. jump would, in effect, stand. Scaling it downward would apparently take the form of disallowing or reducing the application for another 15 per cent.

RSM Joseph Mackness Gets Coveted Service Medal

Regimental Sgt. Major Joseph Mackness of the Royal Canadian Regiment was awarded the Meritorious Service Medal by the 50th Heavy Anti Aircraft Regiment, forebearers of the original 57th Non Permanent Active Militia in which Sergeant Mackness enlisted in 1892 for two years.

In 1896 he enlisted in the permanent force of the Queen's South African Regiment, where he served 18 years, in which he was awarded the long service and good conduct medals. In 1915 he had a short service with the RCP's in Bermuda, after which he was transferred to the 85th and 185th Canadian Expeditionary forces in both Great Britain and France. Here his name was brought before the Secretary of State for War for valuable service, and was also awarded the British War Service medal.

By this time he had reached the rank of Regimental Sergeant Major WO 1. He was wounded in 1918 and discharged from the service medically unfit, after serving a total of 24 years.

The medal to which Sergeant Joseph Mackness was awarded, is one that is only given to 100 men throughout Canada at one time. A holder must die to make a vacancy in the select society and his place is filled by careful investigation of those eligible.

October Rain Almost 2 Inches

Fall rains have come at last starting on the first of the month up until the 13th the official recorder at the Filtration Plant register a fraction less than two inches, actually 1.98. Rain fell on six days to that time and to the delight of farmers and stockmen.

The situation has done much to refill dry wells and make sod and stubble fit for necessary fall plowing. The good that this moisture has done overbalances some of the drawbacks, for instance, performances at the International Plowing Match now being held at Lindsay. Partridge hunters have been getting thoroughly soaked as they beat for birds in the wet underbrush. Then again duck hunters welcome cold rainy winds that bring northern ducks over their blinds.

Dried-up wells are beginning to fill and a fair amount of run-off water has run into home cisterns. Many city people who have delayed outing plans have done so quiet cheerfully realizing that their food production for next year depends on the farmer being able to tend his fields. City lawns, both private and public, have shown fresh growths of green grass, a sight that has been lacking in some parks for months.

A GRIN OF TRIUMPH wreaths the face of Frank Laurie, American partner at Camp Cleveland, a lodge on Pigeon Lake. He is holding a small-mouth black bass weighing six pounds one ounce, caught Thursday afternoon. The pickerel were taken the same day.

American Gets 6-Pounder Largest Bass of Season

One day before the open season bass fishing ended, Frank Laurie, proprietor of Camp Cleveland on Pigeon Lake, hit the jackpot with a catch that should win him first prize. Mr. Laurie caught a small-mouth black bass weighing six pounds one ounce, while casting from his dock, trying out a new plug. It is the largest of this variety reported during the season in the entire Kawartha district.

His partner George Christiansen the small-mouth hit the plug, they was also on the dock, and when they thought it was a large-mouth species, and that it had missed on the first rush. It wasn't long before they changed their minds, for the line tightened and the pole bent almost double as the frisky bronzeback cut figure eights in the shallow water. The fish was played carefully and Christiansen raced to the lodge and came back with a landing net.

Last year a guest at this same lodge caught a 32-pound maskinonge to take first prize, but the best effort in the muskie division this year by either owners or guests was a 28-pounder caught by Christiansen. Incidentally that catch made him the fisherman of the month in an American magazine survey.

The small-mouth is 22 inches long and 19 inches in girth, not a perfectly shaped fish as it is too broad for its length.

Bicycle Parade Creates Problem

City police found a traffic problem in their own back yard Thursday afternoon as bicycles by the hundreds jammed all entrances to the garage behind the police station. Boys and girls from city schools flocked to the scene to take advantage of the bicycle safety service offered by the Peterborough Optimist Club. The service is headed by the chairman of the boys' and girls' work of the Club, Gordon Hopcroft. It started Wednesday and ends today.

The police offered the use of their garage bordering the Market Square for the project, which has been announced in all the city's school and is from 4 to 6 p.m.

A special sticky tape, dipped in water to give off light reflection, is one of the "treatments" given the bicycles by the Optimists.

Final Canvass For $20,000 Starts Monday

Civic Arena committee members cleared the decks this week for the final drive that they are certain will produce the $20,000 required to finish paying for the new rink.

They were stimulated and encouraged by a donation of $1,000 from the Quaker Oats Co. of Canada Ltd., through the president, R. R. Faryon. This is the first sizeable donation from any industry in recent months, and it is confidently expected that others will either match or exceed this gift.

John Black, chairman of the reorganized finance committee said this morning that the committee already has $19,800 in cash promises and pledges, and this added to the $20,000 they are seeking is enough to finance the project.

The drive starts next Monday, but already a group of volunteers have been working on the special names, and they report fine progress. Heads of industries are also being canvassed and in this sphere too, the results are most encouraging.

"There is not an industrial head in this city who isn't backing this civic arena," Alderman Hurrell Dodds, chairman of the building committee said today. He added every one of the executives he had talked with had shown a keen interest, and were especially anxious to provide a covered rink for the young hockey players and skaters of the city.

The general canvass of all homes in the city starts next Monday, and every pupil in the public and separate schools will be given a folder outlining the plans and problems, and seeking their support. Scouts in their regular Apple Day appeal will give a folder to everyone who purchases an apple.

Dick Ouimet, chairman of the general committee, reported that the roof is on and the sides sheeted, and workmen are busy building the seats inside the arena. It will accommodate more than 2,000 people.

British Liberals Plan Campaign

LONDON, Oct. 15 (Reuters)—Britain's once-powerful Liberal party, which now has only 12 members of parliament out of a total of 640, Thursday announced spirited plans for fighting the 1950 general election.

In an atmosphere of revival, the party, whose decline since the great days of the premierships of Lloyd George and H. H. Asquith has saddened even some of its political opponents, launched an appeal for £100,000 ($400,000) to finance its attempted comeback. The party announced that it will put 300 candidates into the field to contest the 1950 election.

Main points in the party's program are:

1. "Both Socialists and Conservatives represent privilege and class interest. The Liberal party equally fights both."

2. On world affairs the ultimate Liberal goal is world government.

3. Liberals want fewer colonies and more dominions in the commonwealth—"the greatest institution in the world for maintaining democracy, defending freedom, providing mutual aid and furthering peace."

JUST OFF A TURKISH freighter which arrived in Baltimore a few days ago, Dimitri Karagheuzov, former Bulgarian consel-general in Istanbul, Turkey, who fled the Communist regime in his country, admits that his flight makes him a man without a country. Upon arrival on U.S. shores, the former diplomat was taken to Washington by U.S. army intelligence agents. "I am not a Communist and so I resigned," he explained. He scoffed at reports that he carried secret files and codes.

OTTAWA, Oct. 15 (CP) — Finance Minister Abbott is expected to announce a new issue of government bonds, probably reaching $500,000,000 and running three years at an interest rate of 1¾ per cent. These would be bought by the Bank of Canada and chartered banks and not issued to the general public because the interest rate would be too low to attract private investors.

Watch 'Brain Trust' Drew Tells Canadians

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Premier Drew of Ontario said on Thursday night the participation of every Canadian is needed to limit the authority of what he termed an "all-powerful brain trust" which now exercises authority "above government, above parliament."

Making his first radio address since his election as National Progressive Conservative leader, Mr. Drew said efficient administration and the preservation of democratic freedoms could best be assured "by a decentralized federal system of government under which the provincial and municipal authorities are financially independent and free to carry out and expand all the vitally important personal services for which they are responsible."

"Your help is needed to protect our federal constitution against the efforts of the Centralists, Socialists and Communists to bring the direction of all our affairs under the absolute power of one central authority," he said in an address prepared for delivery over a CBC National Network.

Political action was the only way people could bring about the changes they desired and every Canadian "should take an increasing interest in political education and in those issues which will call for their decision in the not too distant future."

MRS. V. VERONICA KEANE, mother of Veronica Lake, screen actress, is shown as she insisted that her famous daughter had signed an agreement in 1943 guaranteeing her and her husband (Veronica's stepfather) $300 a week "in consideration of their filial love and affection." Mrs. Keane produced a photostatic copy of the purported agreement. Veronica says that no such paper ever existed.

Asks Game Law Enforcement Be Improved

QUEBEC, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Education of Canadians is one of the major necessities for the preservation of the Dominion's wildlife resources, delegates to the annual convention of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity Bureaus were told here Thursday.

This was contained in a report read by Col. H. S. Robinson of Ottawa, chairman of a nine-member special committee appointed last year at Charlottetown to look into the economic value of hunting and fishing activities that effect the development of Canada's travel industry.

"Canadians generally are not yet well informed as to the importance of our wildlife in the economic structure of this country," said Col. Robinson, superintendent of parks and resources information.

"This education should be carried out primarily by provincial authorities through all possible channels," he said. It also was desirable hat greater attention be paid to the subject throughout all schools.

Better Enforcement

While recognizing as satisfactory the laws and regulations for the protection of fish and game throughout Canada, the Yukon and the Northwest, the committee felt an improvement in their enforcement was essential.

"Illegal fishing and hunting by residents of Canada is an activity which must be stopped, and more of the right type of enforcement officer is needed to effect this result." An increase in the rate of pay for game protection officers might attract more men of the proper type to such duties.

The committee suggested as a means of improving the situation that professional guides be trained, registered and licensed; greater efforts be made to remove from waters easily assessible, enough coarse fish to increase the balance of game fish in such waters; more intensive and sustained stocking operations in waters heavily fished, and more effective measures to prevent pollution of fishing waters.

IGNORING the tomato splashes on his suit, Governor Thomas E. Dewey is shown addressing a gathering at Mount Vernon, Ill., after some irresponsible boys had made him the target of a tomato barrage. One of the missiles struck the rail of the observation car and burst, spattering Dewey's jacket. Other members of the governor's campaign party were also splashed. Most of the governor's audience were unaware of the incident.

Toronto Alderman Champions Dan Cupid Wants Secluded Courting Nooks In Park

TORONTO, Oct. 15 (CP). — A champion of Dan Cupid and his doings, Alderman Fishleigh today declared he was for secluded nooks for courting and they should figure in the planning of every park.

He was commenting on the views of Lewis Mumford, author and lecturer, who told a meeting of the American Society of Planning Officials in New York Wednesday that parks should have quiet corners for courting. Alderman Fishleigh said he was in full accord with Mr. Mumford's ideas.

"The subject is right down my alley, but it's too cold to be talking spooning in Toronto's parks at this time of year," he said. "Lovers are better off these days at home on a chesterfield."

"Though there are lots of lovers in the city," the alderman said, "old-fashioned ideas still predominate. I doubt whether you could convince city officials or the older citizens that nooks and crannies are an essential part of park planning for the benefit of the younger generation."

City parks officials maintained a discreet silence on the subject.

Berlin Divided Into Two Camps As East-West Struggle Continues

By RICHARD KASISCHKE.

BERLIN, Oct. 15 — (AP). — The political battle for Berlin has divided this city into belligerent Communist and anti-Communist camps.

It is a city with two rival currencies, two rival police forces, two rival trade union federations, two city assembly chambers, and a sharply divided press.

The German population of 3,250,000 recognizes that it all boils down to East vs. West. Most of them have been bold enough on these months of blockade crisis to choose for the West.

The Western two-thirds of Berlin—occupied by Britain, United States, and France—is the stronghold of the anti-Communist front of three political parties.

Its Eastern sector, occupied by the Russians, is under the political control of the minority Socialist Unity Party (Communist).

Sure They Can Win

The anti-Communists won 80 per cent of the votes in Berlin's first and only post-war election in October, 1946, and control the legally recognized German municipal government.

They are eager to face the electorate for a renewed mandate at any time, confident they can deal the Communists an even more smashing defeat in a fair ballot.

The Russian-backed Communists, however, are opposing new elections. All their efforts in the past months of crisis have been directed toward overthrowing the elected governmnt by pressure and seizing full political and economic control for themselves.

Force tactics came to a head this summer, while the elected government was trying to administer a city two-thirds of which was crippled under the Russian blockade of land transport.

Big Demonstrations

The Communists launched their assault with riotous demonstrations by "protecting workers" who stormed into the city hall, located in the Soviet sector of the city, and took over the city parliament's chambers. The Russian-controlled police refused to stop them.

The legal parliament, after pleading in vain for Russian guarantees of protection for its meetings, fled to the British sector of the city. Since then Communist members have boycotted all meetings.

Against these Communist force tactics the anti-Communists have publicly staged protests. The greatest of these was a mass meeting September 9 which attracted aproximately 250,000 people—the greatest gathering in post-war Germany. It was followed by rioting in which Russian soldiers and Soviet-controlled German police were attacked and stoned.

Miners Freeze Earth To Depth Of 412 Feet

CALVERTON, Notts, England, Oct. 15.—(CP).— A mile from this village mining engineers are freezing the earth to a depth of 12 feet in preparation for a shaft that will open up a virgin coal field with an estimated capacity of 1,000,000 tons a year for the next century.

Refrigeration is necessary because the shaft will pass through a layer of porous sandstone from which is drawn the water for Nottingham and surrounding towns. Freezing seals the water that would otherwise pour into the shaft during excavation at 1,000 gallons an hour.

The first step was to sink 25 pipes in a circle around the proposed shaft. A brine solution, cooled to 37 degrees below freezing point, is being circulated through the pipes and a collar of ice is slowly being formed.

Betty Grable Says Dancing Keeps Her Slim

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 15 (AP)—The gal with the most famous figure in the world tells how to save yours: Dance.

"I've found the best way to take off weight is to dance," said Betty Grable, "the beautiful blonde from bashful bend." No catch phrase that, but the name of her current film; Preston Sturgess ran it up.

"About 10 years ago, I started putting on a little weigh in places because I had not been dancing. So I took a few acrobatic lessons and the poundage came off in no time."

Betty assured that any kind of dancing will help.

"It's important to start dancing when you are young," she added. "I began taking four lessons a week when I was five. It helps you in more ways than just your figure. Dancing gives you grace. Because I started early, I never went through the awkward age."

Little Dieting

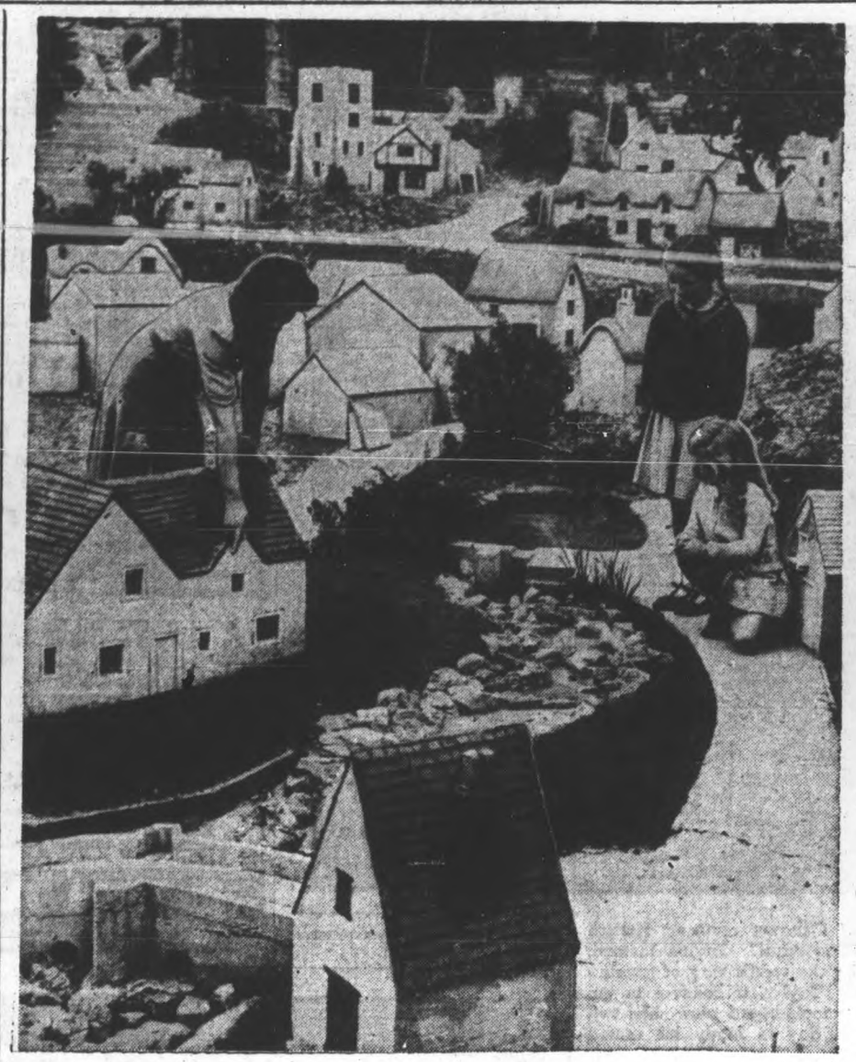
As for dieting, Betty said she does not do much.

"If I get a bit heavy, I can stop eating for two days and the weight goes down immediately."

The girl who puts on Betty's body makeup had an interesting commentary on the famed frame. "Everyone talks about Betty's figure," she said, "but no one mentions her feet. She has got perfect feet."

Now I'll bet that is something you have never noticed.

Capsule Review: "Night Has 1,000 Eyes" (Par) gets off some good hocus-pocus, but bogs down with a sloppy finish. An arresting tale of a reluctant soothsayer (Edward G. Robinson) who foretells dire events, it came close to being a topnotch thriller. John Lund and Gail Russell supply the romance.



WITH THEIR MOTHER, Janice and Averil Palmer play in the complete miniature village which their father built in the garden of his home in Southampton, England. There are 85 buildings thus far, including a church, blacksmith shop and tavern, and there are more to come. Mr. Palmer, a truck driver, plans a village lighting system and a loud-speaker in the church to relay the services.

Indian Weeps During Murder Trial Evidence

BRANTFORD, Oct. 15 (CP). — Edward T. Hill, 50-year-old Mohawk Indian charged with the murder of his common-law-wife, may take the witness stand today to testify in his own defence.

He is being tried by a fall assize court for fatally beating May Elizabeth Maracle Aug. 6 at the Six Nations Indian reserve near here.

Crown evidence against Hill was completed Thursday night and defence counsel Norman E. Lickers was slated to begin his case today—third day of the trial.

Highlight of Thursday's proceedings came when Mr. Justice D. C. Wells admitted as evidence a statement Hill gave to police the morning after May Maracle died. The prisoner wept in the dock as the statement—in which he admitted slapping the woman because she "vexed" him—was read.

In the statement, Hill said he and his common-law-wife quarrelled while they drank wine.

Slapped Her

"My wife got pretty hot-headed and she said she was going to leave," the statement said. "She took her winter coat and some other clothing out to the road and set fire to it. When she came back in, it kind of vexed me, and I slapped her up."

Just before sundown, May Maracle went outside, came back later and told Hill she had been "under the house." As they were preparing for bed, she stumbled and broke the hinges off the bedroom door.

Hill said in his statement the woman breathed "kind of funny." He tried "to hear her breath, but could not." Then he told his son Johnny:

"I believe your mother is dead."

Hill added to his statement: "I think my wife died of heart trouble."

Thursday night, Dr. W. J. Deadman testified that May Maracle died from shock caused by numerous bruises all over her body. Additional cause of death was concussion and brain haemorrhage.

TLC Asks Return Price Controls

VICTORIA, Oct. 15 — (CP). — Return of price controls on 'essential' articles was advocated on Thursday by the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada convention. The convention commended its executive for trying to have these controls re-established and to have a 100-per-cent. tax levied on excess profits — "with cartels, monopolies and speculators prosecuted if found guilty of profiteering."

The Congress also asked that the executive work against any re-axation of rent controls, after some delegates declared removal of these controls would be a "catastrophe."

Bruce Magnusson of Sudbury, head of the Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union, declared Canada's taxation structure discriminated against low income workers. He criticized removal of the excess profits tax.

The Congress expressed regret that no reduction had been made in the income tax in the lower wage brackets.

In another resolution, the convention gave qualified endorsation to the new federal labor code as a "step in the right direction."

Grandmothers Guests Of WI

MARMORA, Oct. 15. (ENS)—The home of Mrs. F. Grant was the scene of the October meeting of Marmora Women's Institute on Wednesday evening. It was the annual "Grandmothers Night".

Fifteen grandmothers attended and prizes went to the following: Great grandmother with largest number of great grandchildren: Mrs. Wesley Grant; youngest grandmother, Mrs. Harold P. Nayler; oldest grandmother, Mrs. Robert Phillips.

The president, Mrs. E. C. Prentice, was chairman. Mrs. W. G. Chrysler gave the treasurer's report. Regret was expressed at the illnesses of two members, Mrs. J. Gordenier and Mr. E. Belanger.

The report on the Girls' Club meeting recently in Madoc, was presented by Mrs. Chrysler.

Plans were furthered for serving the banquet to the Marmora District Chamber of Commerce in St. Andrew's Hall on Oct. 21.

Enthusiasism regarding the town hall redecoration scheme was evidenced in the matter under discussion. The Institute is handling the monies received and prospective in a special fund to be designated as such. The acting treasurer, Mrs. W. G. Chrysler, was appointed treasurer of this fund and the committee chosen to carry on the venture are Mrs. W. D. Lavender, Mrs. R. E. Neal and Mrs. P. Gray.

The president then drew attention to the exhibit of articles of grandmothers' day which with the gowns and other articles of apparel worn by the members, brought back many reminiscences of the "long, long ago."

Mrs. L. R. Green was appointed to act with Miss Grace Warren on Historical Research. The branch appointed Mrs. Ed. Poste as its delegate to the area convention which is being held in Belleville. Marmora Public Library Board was voted the donation of $75. It was decided to hold a Tag Day for the Children's Aid Society on Oct. 23.

The program of the evening was under the direction of Mrs. L. R. Green. It began with a reading by Mrs. T. Hannah.

Mrs. Green contributed another reading. A flower garden contest was staged by Mrs. Poste. The guest speaker of the evening, Dr. G. Hammond of the Entomological Department of Agriculture, delivered an address on "Planning and Planting of the Farm Home Grounds," illustrated with slides.

The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. H. P. Nayler.

Taylor, a believer in the one-way disc, as opposed to the mold-board plow, has two tractor crews working night and day to ready his rented land for spring planting.

YOUR GARDEN . . .

Winter Rhubarb Grown In Cellar

By DEAN HALLIDAY

One of the Freedom garden vegetables which can be grown in the cellar during the winter is rhubarb. This is because it is easy to force.

Lift crowns of rhubarb from the outside garden. Then place them in large pots or boxes, as illustrated in the accompanying Garden-Graph. A sandy soil should be filled in between the crowns, taking special care that all air spaces are filled.

After planting in pot or box, give the crowns a good watering. Later if they appear to be drying off too much give them additional light sprayings of water. You can expect good stalks of rhubarb in four to six weeks, although the leafblades are not apt to develop to full size.

The growing clumps should be kept in the dark or nearly so, if possible. When that is done, the stems are of a most delicate and attractive pink or red.

Rhubarb roots used for forcing in the cellar should be at least two years old. They should be left outdoors until they have experienced a light freezing. After this they can be forced in any room or cellar having a temperature of 50-60 degrees.

An outdoor planting of a frozen clumps probably could spare three for forcing each year and still provide plenty of rhubarb for the average family.

As with rhubarb grown outdoors it is better to pull the stalks off when harvesting, as illustrated, instead of cutting them.

Sherbrooke Through Street New Planning Proposal

"I'm not directly concerned myself, but I know there will be opposition from property owners along Sherbrooke St," said Ald. Dick Raine at the finance committee meeting Tuesday in a reference to local reaction to a report of a planning proposal to make Sherbrooke St. a through street.

Planning committee and the council have both been concerned about the heavy traffic on Charlotte St. Hence, another cross-town artery was pondered, and Sherbrooke St. recommended itself. That idea has been simmering for months, but Sherbrooke St. may not, after all, draw the penalty of providing traffic relief from Charlotte St.

Discussion Tuesday night dropped down to Albert St. Actually the council appears to be fumbling around with a problem which at one time was believed to have been solved to a large extent by efforts to transfer a larger volume of traffic from the Charlotte St. entrance to Lansdowne St., No. 7-A, with northerly stems along High St., Monaghan Road, Park St. Aylmer St. and George St.

Sherbrooke St. actually crosses the city from the old Monaghan Road boundary to George and Water Streets. Albert St. is comparatively a short blind-street, ending at Park St.

The Park-Albert corner is already just about the narrowest strait in the city. Some councils have talked about the widening of Park St. to relieve the traffic jams in that bottle-neck of the city's industrial section. Latest thinking of the council is to pour more traffic into the Alparka corner by some means of diverting traffic from the west into a maize of streets winding up at Albert. This street is already as wide as it can be made and CGE workers park all day and most of the night along its north sidewalk.

That was actually the drift of council talk the other night, suggesting a plan of shooting more traffic at the Alparka corner which, in its congested periods, is hardly second to George and Charlotte Sts.

Successive councils have toyed with the idea of widening Park St. in its several narrowest blocks, and beyond to the south. They have also been asking the Department of Highways to lower the surface of the road of the Peterborough-Port Hope Highway, just west of the junction with 7-A, the extreme west end of Lansdowne St.

That short stretch has been described as a botched or unfinished job. Westbound cars off 7-A cannot see approaching traffic from the west along No. 28, and the Department is withholding certain approval of increased diversion of traffic into 7-A. Department officials are themselves dissatisfied with the hazard at the junction where two minor accidents have occurred in the last 10 days.

While correction marks time there, the council appears to be forced to consider traffic expedients within the southwest end of the city, including the proposed switch to Sherbrooke or Albert St. If that is to be a partial solution, involving municipal expense, it might be avoidable by the department's compliance with the requests of councils to lower the grade of the hill on No. 28, at the western boundary of the Kawartha Golf Club.

Local Council 'Talent Tea' Successful Social Event

Talents of the women of the Local Council netted a substantial sum for the treasury at the executive's very successful "Talent Tea" Thursday afternoon. Tables arranged in the Green Room of the YWCA displayed a wide variety of needlework, pastries fresh from the ovens of members' homes and large and small pots with slips of favorite plants. Ornaments made from small cones and shell jewelry were noticed among the pretty aprons and nicely finished woollen socks. A shopping bag with floral design appliqued in colored felt was outstanding.

Tear-drop candlesticks and an antique cut glass bowl gave an air of distinction to the lace-covered tea table. An oval reflector in the centre was edged with a frill of light blue and candles in deep blue carried the colors of the organization. Luscious blue grapes along with other fresh fruits were a reminder of the fall season.

Beautiful silver tea services complimented the table decoration and were presided over by Mrs. W. G. Ovens, Mrs. H. R. Scott, Mrs. E. Wand and Mrs. J. Low. Serving the guests were Mrs. W. T. Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Fortune Hunter Squanders Property of Wife Aged 71

DEAR MISS DIX: Several years ago my mother, who was then 71, married a man 40. She turned over to him all of her property, which he has spent or lost. Now I have to support both of them as he sits tight and says: "Your mother agreed to support me as long as I live and I am still very much alive."

Dorothy Dix

I simply cannot understand my mother. Half the time she is begging me to rescue her from this man, and the other half she is lambasting me for trying to separate husband and wife. Is it possible for a woman to contract a normal marriage with a man thirty-one years younger than she?

JOHN H. T.

✧ ✧ ✧

ANWER: I think any woman who marries a man thirty-one years younger that herself is suffering from senile dementia, for nothing but having lost her reason could make her delude herself into thinking that he was marrying-her for anything but her money.

Love Impossible

Certainly any woman of 71 who marries a young man must be crazed with vanity if she thinks he loves her for herself alone. She has only to look into the mirror to see that her beauty is gone and that there is nothing to fire a young man's fancy. She has only to consider her own stiff and rheumatic joints to know how little she can jump around and dance and be a playfellow to a young husband. She has only to consider how different are the taste and the ideals and opinions that she holds from those of the youth of today to realize how little companionship there would be between her and a young man.

The marriage of the young and old is always a mistake, and it is a double tragedy where the woman is the elder by many years because her young husband is sure to forsake her and be unfaithful to her, and he robs her not only of her money, but of the peace and happiness that should be hers at end of life.

As a general rule, to be happy at the betweeng wnw-np i cmff though married a couple should be very nearly of the same age, so that they may hold the same viewpoints and be interested in the same things.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am the wife of a traveling man and I am sick of this half-time wife business. When my husband travels I stay at home with my people. When he is off the road we stay with his. I want him to give up the road. I feel very sure that he could go into some other business that would not require that he be away from home.

He doesn't like my home town and my friends and I don't like his home town and his friends. We love each other, but it seems as though we are on the road to the divorce court the way things are. What shall we do?

AN UNHAPPY WIFE

ANSWER: If your husband has a job in these days, he had better stick to it. You have got to eat, you know, and this is no time to part one's self from a payroll.

But when you come to settle where to live, the man has the say-so. The law lets him determine the place of domicile and in most of the States he is entitled to a divorce if the wife refuses to go with him.

You must be a good sport about this. If your husband has a better chance of getting along among the people he knows and where he has friends and a family connection, it is your duty to go there cheerfully and make his friends your friends and his people your people.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Saturday, October 16

While a disruptive force still threatens the desired determination to put over major objectives and possible innovations or techniques for improving old and established foundations, yet the mentality is pitched to new flashes of genius, fresh skills or possibly some sort of unique approach. These very vital annoyances and situations handled unemotionally may break down enmity. Daring originality, invention, or spark of dynamic eccentricity, might bring about exciting and spectacular denouements.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to keep persistent and determined adherence to their original ideas on wild invention, of a seeming "flash in the pan" in which little encouragement is to be expected from influential or other sources. Audacity, belief in one's own ingenuity and unique talents, are bound to win in the long run, and probably culminate on a novel or sensational mark of approval or reward. Dare to be original, in untried fields of discovery, invention, science or absolutely strange avenues for exploration. So-called "eccentricities of genius" may find ultimate recognition and perhaps singular honor.

A child born on this day should be bounteously blessed with ideas, with originality, rare skills and inventive genius, which it may have to fight for their solidity and constructive worth.

Phyllis Traynor Bride Of D. M. McFadden

Lakefield United Church was the scene of a lovely wedding Saturday when Phyllis Alberta eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Traynor of Cavan was united in marriage to Donald Milford, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Mc Fadden of Lakefield. The Rev. W. R. Archer performed the ceremony.

The church was decorated with cut flowers and banked with ferns. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Geo. Kelly and during the signing of the register, she played "I Love You Truly".

The bride, given in mariage by her father, was wearing a gown of white slipper satin fashioned on princess lines trimmed with a front panel of inserted lace, sweetheart neckline, and long tight sleeves coming to points over the hands with tiny covered buttons at the back, and the skirt fell into a flowing veil of embroidered net was caught to a star-shaped headdress. She carried a white Bible with Bettertime roses and long white streamers with rose buds and bouvardia.

Her bridesmaid was Miss Edith Traynor in forget-me-not blue taffeta gown fashioned with bustle back and sweetheart neckline. She wore a band of matching material trimmed with flowers, and carried a white Bible with Sweetheart roses, and bouvardia on long pink streamers.

Flower girls were Miss Betty Traynor and Miss Ruth McFadden wearing similar frocks of blue and wine velvet, and white bows in their hair. They were carrying matching nosegays of sweetheart roses and white mums and long pink streamers.

The groom was attended by his brother Mr. Merrell McFadden of Lakefield. Ushers were William Traynor of Cavan brother of the bride and Ed. Woods of Peterborough cousin of the groom.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the groom's home. The bride's mother received wearing a dress of blue crepe and black accessories and the groom's mother received in a dress of black crepe and matching accessories.

Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip to Huntsville and North Bay. The bride was wearing a wine wool suit and matching accessories, and carried a blue wool topcoat. On return they will live on the groom's farm at Lakefield.

Radar Balloons Locate Path Of Hurricanes

MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 15 (AP)—United States meterologists now look high in the air to map the probable route of a hurricane.

A simple rule developed by Chief Forecaster Grady Norton of the Miami Weather Bureau which involves the use of radar, permits storm forecasting to be done on a 24-hour basis.

As late as 1945, six-hour notice of an approaching hurricane was considered "perfect" warning.

Through long study of tropical air, Norton has found that the disturbances are carried along by the main air stream, sometimes far above the earth.

His rule, which is so simple that some meteorologists still refuse to believe it, has worked every time it has been applied.

Longer than 24-hour forecasts might be made, but Norton says that is ample time, "and there's always a chance of some freak of nature upsetting the apple cart."

Explains Rule

The rule calls for an exploration of the upper air with a pilot balloon until the "steering" level is found, "then we can tell which way the storm is heading and the path it will follow."

When the recent October storm was in the Florida straits, Norton said the storm would "continue to head north for awhile and then turn to a northeastward direction." It did just that.

Radar plays a vital role. Before the war, pilot ballons used for probing the winds were good only as far as they could be seen with the aid of a telescope. Once they passed through a cloudbank, the meteorlogist was through.

Today, a small metallic box attached to the bottom of a balloon records on radar just about as high as the balloon will go before bursting.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WHICH IS MORE EXACT?

WITH MANY players, a raise of the partner's major suit bid, if not made at the first chance to raise it, shows that the raiser does not possess four cards of the suit and warns the first bidder to be prepared for only three-card support if he has just four cards of it himself. These bidders, when possessing four cards of the major suit, will show the fit at once, with either a single raise in a hand of ordinary strength, or a double raise to show game strength opposite a minimum and possible slam chances, or a raise all the way to game when having splendid distributional support but a holding weak in high card values.

Under the suit-support plan followed by the North and South players in this rubber game, the fact that South did not bid spades on his first chance to raise them showed he did not have four. And the fact that North did not raise hearts on his first opportunity to showed he did not have four.

When North raised the hearts on his second chance, he showed his partner exactly three of them, letting South know his suit was only dangerously supported unless he happened to have five cards of it. He did.

South's own second bid of 2-No Trumps, instead of a 3-Heart rebid, did not in any sense deny possession of five. Its message was positive, not negative. It showed North a bit more general strength than would a heart rebid. It indicated probably a couple of cards in spades. It proclaimed some degree of stoppage in both minor suits. It enabled North, with three hearts, to show his intermediate support. It gave North a chance, if he lacked three hearts but was a bit stronger than he had shown, to bid 3-No Trumps. Lacking any of these, North received a chance to rebid spades with six of them.

Of course the 4-Hearts contract worked, one trick each being lost in spades, hearts and diamonds.

Tomorrow's Problem

After East bids 1-Club, South 1-Diamond, West 1-Spade, East 2-Clubs, West 2-Hearts and North passes, what should East do?

Private Detective Remanded On Perjury

TORONTO, Oct. 15 — (CP). — James Craig, Toronto private detective, was remanded Thursday until Oct. 27 on eight charges of perjury, fabricating evidence and attempting to obstruct justice, arising from divorce cases.

Mrs. Audrey Watts testified on Thursday that she had allowed herself to be "surprised" in tourist cabins with Craig's male clients in order to provide "evidence" of adultery to be used in divorce cases. Mrs. Watts testified she had never actually committed adultery with any of Craig's clients.

She had first met Craig in 1947 when she had discussed possibility of obtaining a divorce from Lynn R. Watts whom she married in England in 1945. Craig had paid her $10 and $15 at various times for her part in fabricating evidence. She said she had had sexual relations with Craig.

FORGIVEN—When it was reported in Chicoutimi, Que., that Fernadel, France's Bob Hope, had called the Lake St. John city "the most uncivilized in Canada," there was great indignation among the townsfolk. Then the French comedian visited the city, flashed a toothy smile and said it was all a mistake. He had meant the country surrounding Chicoutimi not the city. With that explanation, all was forgiven.

Elect Mosher CCL Head, Blow To Reds

Communist-Backed Men Lose Out On All But 2 Jobs

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(CP). — Communist-liners in the Canadian Congress of Labor are a badly-mauled minority today after five days of stinging defeat.

Laced thoroughly on every big issue, they took a final drubbing Friday in the elections which wound up the eighth annual Congress convention.

President A. R. Mosher of Ottawa, who made three blunt "get out" suggestions to the defiant United Electrical Workers, was swept back into office. So was his anti-Communist running-mate, secretary-treasurer, Pat Conroy of Ottawa. So were vice-presidents Alex McAuslane of Vancouver and Sol Spivak of Toronto.

Another red-hater, C. H. Millard of Toronto, Canadian director of the United Steelworkers of America, was picked for the newly-established job of third vice-president.

Lost Out

Two leaders of the Communist-tinged U.E.W. lost out to Mr. Mosher and Mr. Conroy. C. S. Jackson of Toronto, Canadian director, dropped a 564-to-154 decision to the president; George Harris of Toronto, secretary-treasurer, took a 597-to-129 beating from Mr. Conroy.

Red-supported men were licked all down the line—with two exceptions: George Burt of Windsor and Freeman Jenkins of Glace Bay, N.S., both backed by the U.E.W. headed the list of seven elected to the executive committee.

But they were also on the anti-Communist slate and both indicated during the convention that they had veered from the Leftist line they used to follow.

Mr. Burt, Canadian director of United Uutomobile Workers, is returning to the executive. He was ousted last year—presumably because of open support of Leftist elements—in favor of Thomas Brannagan, another UAW man from Windsor. Mr. Brannagan was not nominated Friday. Mr. Jenkins is Canadian director of the United Mine Workers.

MINISTER OF FINANCE calls second batch of First War Loan 3¼ % Bonds for payment on February 1st, 1949 by drawing letter "A". Bonds bearing this letter will not bear interest after this date. Bonds bearing letter "E" have already been called for payment last February. Witnesses to the drawing are Dr. W. C. Clark, Deputy Minister of Finance, Graham Towers, Governor of the Bank of Canada, and G. E. Lowe, Department of Finance.

Main Saving On Payment To Provinces

Defence Expenditures Higher This Year; Total 93 Million

OTTAWA, Oct. 16 — (CP). — The Federal Government piled up a near-record surplus of $469,683,476 during the first six months of the current fiscal year, it was disclosed to-day.

The Comptroller of the Treasury—B. G. McIntyre— said in his report for the six-month period that receipts totalled $1,314,766,787, while the expenditures amounted to $845,083,311.

A year ago at this time the surplus was $479,804,639, with revenues running at $1,381,667,433 and expenditures at $901,862,794. At the end of the 1947-1948 year, Finance Minister Abbott wound up with a cash surplus of $670,000,000.

On the revenue side, customs import duties were $100,846,998 for the first six months of the current fiscal year compared with $146,191,650 for the corresponding period of last year. Excise duties were $102,749,840 against $95,495,380. Income and excess profits tax yielded $669,809,396 against $721,300,860.

Provincial Savings

On the expenditure side, the main savings appeared to be on the payments to the provinces under Dominion-Provincial tax agreements and on such things as the Prices Board.

Compensation on the Dominion-Provincial taxation agreements dropped from $80,324,826 in the first six months of the 1947-1948 fiscal year to $42,284,525. While no reason was given for the sharp decrease it possibly could be traced to lump payments made last year when wartime agreements expired.

Demobilizations and reconversion expenditures showed little decrease.

For example, expenditures for national defence were higher than they were a year ago. They were $93,909,676 against $73,895,761. The increase was nullified, however, by a decrease in expenditures of the Veterans Affairs Department. That department spent $36,257,912 this year compared with $113,895,800 in the corresponding six months of last year.

MRS. W. POHL (above) of Kitchener has been missing from her home since Sept. 13. Now a second disappearance, that of Mrs. John Stuart, Galt, has been solved. Mrs. Stuart is the mother of the man who told police that he paid Mrs. Pohl $600. An investigation is being carried on.

One Still Missing As Woman Found In Britain

GALT, Oct. 16 (CP)—Mrs. John Stuart, missing from her home here for more than a month, cabled her son today from England: "All is well. What's the trouble?"

Mrs. James Rushworth of Lakeview, told police Friday that Mrs. Stuart called on her Sept. 14 and said she was leaving for England. A son, John Stuart, said he plans to cable friends in London to discover if she is there. The Rushworths and Stuarts are old friends, police said.

Meanwhile, police are still puzzled about the disappearance of Mrs. Emma Pohl, 37-year-old Kitchener housewife whose absence since Sept. 13 has been linked with Mrs. Stuart's son.

William Stuart, last person to see Mrs. Pohl, was arrested Oct. 1 in Kitchener and charged with public mischief. He will appear in court next Wednesday.

Police said he told them of repaying Mrs. Pohl a $600 debt the day she disappeared. Police have the receipt signed by her.

Police arrested Stuart when they suspected his story of gambling and being threatened by "gangsters" was untrue. He was also questioned about a sum of money in his possession.

Woman In Custody

Police Friday took another person into custody on a vagrancy charge. She is Mrs. Margaret Misener of Galt, a 30-year-old dicorcee who reportedly was living with Stuart and claims him as father of her month-old child.

According to Mrs. Misener's parents, Stuart had promised to marry her but told her to leave him when Mrs. Pohl pressed for repayment of the $600 debt.

William Pohl, who married Mrs. Pohl in February following her divorce, told police his wife had kept company with Stuart before she met him.

Kennedy Delivers Challenge To Ontario Farm Youth At Plowing Match Dinner

Youth Told To Keep Abreast Of New Ideas In Implements, Methods; Every Age Takes Big Strides Forward

LINDSAY, Oct. 16—(Staff).—To the farm youth of Ontario, typified by the plowing aces of the province, prize-winners at the International Plowing Match this week, Hon. T. L. Kennedy delivered a challenge of action and ambition at the concluding dinner and presentation of trophies in Lindsay Friday night.

The occasion was the first public appearance of the Minister of Agriculture since his designation as Premier this week. And the dinner assembly of 11,200 men and women conveyed to him their congratulations in an ovation of prolonged applause and cheering.

Farmer Kennedy of Dixie, Peel county, was among his own folk, and his message in warm rural sentiment was directed chiefly to the large company of juniors of the farms who were numerically conspicuous in the audience, and whose successful companions were especially conspicuous in the receiving line of gleaming silver tea sets, salvers, flatware, and other shining prizes.

Not once did the Premier resort to the cliche of the straight furrow, but he did emphasize the necessity of enterprise and intelligence and a disposition among the younger generation to keep abreast of the ceaseless production line of new farm implements and new agricultural ideas.

Col. Kennedy briefly recalled the satisfaction of every age with its own methods, except the few questing, inventive spirits who sought and found improvements. His topic in that phase of his address was: there is no last word in agriculture. Long ago men did not think that they could reap except by the sickle, but it was improved into the cradle, and then men thought it was the last word. All at once, and nearer our own time, some one thought of the reaper, and that was surely the last word. People did not think that grain could be tied by any other means than by hand. It did not occur to them that some day farmers would be tying the sheaves by machine.

Always Advancing

"At length the reaper went out. I can well remember a farmer, an Englishman who had three sons. He did not believe that anyone could beat himself and his three sons and their reaper. But the binder came, and now we have the combine, and from the past we know it is not the last word. Intelligence and ingenuity will beat a new path to better ways of farming. That has been the history of our industry."

Premier Kennedy was introduced to the large audience by Hon. Leslie Frost of Lindsay, Provincial Treasurer, as "the first Minister of Agriculture to become Premier and still be Minister of Agriculture."

"I want to congratulate the Ontario Plowmen's Association on the grand job they have done in the plowing match this week," Col. Kennedy said. "It is one of our best organizations in Ontario, and one of the most successful. I

Cameron Farmer Alvin Mark Wins Trip To Britain

LINDSAY, Oct. 16—(CP)—Perseverance and determination paid off for four young Ontario plowmen who today eagerly look forward to overseas trips won in the 1948 International Plowing Match.

All are veterans of from four to nine international competitions and had their hearts set on winning the trips to Britain ever since they were old enough to turn a furrow.

The winners are Alvin Mark, Cameron; and Wilber McFadden, Millbank, whose prizes including the gold and silver medals they won respectively, were donated by a tea company (Salada) and Rhys Bacher, Hagersville, and Robert Timbers, Stouffville, whose trips and medals were awarded by an oil company (Imperial).

Mark and McFaddin were winner and runner-up in horse-plowing special classes. Bacher and Timbers were top men in special tractor classes.

For all four, the six-week British Isles tour starting next January will be their first overseas trip. Mark, 35, whose family farm is eight miles north of Lindsay, gave part of the credit for his success to his father, John Mark, a director of the Provincial Association and chairman of the local committee. The trip winner is married, has four children, and said he had taken part in "eight or nine" International plowing matches.

Started At Peterborough

The other horse-plowing winner, Wilber McFaddin, 34, and single, works on a farm with his father, Henry McFaddin, in Waterloo County 22 miles west of Kitchener. His first International match was the one at Peterborough in 1931 and since then he had plowed in every International except the one last year.

Dark-haired Rhys Bacher, 28, married, said he had been plowing since he was 15.

At 22, Robert Timbers swept to

Russia Alienates Neutrals By Challenging Motives

PARIS, Oct. 16—(AP).—Western-power officials said today Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky had alienated the Security Council "neutrals" by challenging their motives in attempting to mediate the Berlin problem. A French delegate said Vishinsky had pulled a "boner." Other Western spokesmen said he had pushed the "neutrals," which include Canada, over to their side by charging a trap was being baited for Russia.

Vishinsky refused to answer questions on the Berlin blockade and the four-power Moscow negotiations, repeating the Russian argument that the Security Council had no business discussing Berlin.

The questions were put to all four parties to the Berlin dispute by the Argentine foreign minister, Juan Bramuglia, acting chairman of the Security Council during the Berlin debate. Britain, the United States and France promised their answers at next Tuesday's council session.

Breaks Silence

Vishinsky broke his silence at the meeting only to accuse the would-be mediators of trying to trap Russia into taking part in the debate. "It is naive to believe the Soviet Union will swallow this bait," he said.

In a strongly-worded reply, Bramuglia said "I therefore most firmly and categorically deny that in any of our minds was there any question of double-dealing.

At a morning meeting today, a plenary session of the Assembly turned down Soviet-bloc efforts to discharge Dr. Jan Papanek, anti-Communist former Czechoslovak delegate to the UN, from two UN committees.

A Polish motion to get rid of Papanek was voted down, with only the six Slav states recorded in favor of it.

Papanek's term on the committee on contributions expires at the end of the next year. His term on the advisory committee on administrative and burgetary questions lasts until the end of 1950.

Take No Action Against TLC Reds

VICTORIA, Oct. 16 — (CP). — A long and involved battle over Communism in Canadian labor left the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada to-day on record as "deploring" the actions of Reds but taking no action against them

A mildly-worded resolution adopted late Friday night was the TLC convention's answer to the drive of a right-wing Congress faction aimed at throwing all the Reds out of the Congress.

In three hours of hot debate, it was denounced by both fellow-travellers and anti-Reds before it was adopted by a vote of 308 to 264.

While the vote was secret, the resolution appeared to have been carried by middle-of-road delegates anxious not to widen furthe the deep cleavage between the two factions in th TLC.

As finally presented and adopted, the resolution contained a general statement against Communism and a clause "deploring" the actions of "some Communists" in the Canadian labor movement.

"Many unions have suffered through the actions of individual Communists who placed their philosophies ahead of the welfare of the Trade Union movement," the resolution said.

Million Dollar Damage In Naval Station Fire

QOUNSAT POINT, R.I., Oct. 16 —(AP)—As the ruins cooled, the United States Navy today sought cause of a roaring grease-fed fire which Friday caused loss estimated at "well over $1,000,000" to Quonset Point naval air station.

Twenty-one persons were injured, two severely, as the fire raced through the engine shop in the station's huge overhaul and repair hangar.

A score of fire companies assisted in fighting the blaze, which finally was halted at a fire wall.

A board of inquriy was named immediately.

Order Reserve Units Organized In U.S.

CLARKSBURG, W.Va., Oct. 16 —(AP). — Prsident Truman announced to-day he has directed the Defence Department to "organize all military reserve units required for the national scurity."

Th Presidential orders, requiring atcion "without delay" called for establishment of "vigorous and progressive reserve training programs."

It was directed to Defence Secretary Forrestal and the heads of the armed service dpartments under him.

Jews And Arabs Battered In New Attacks

TEL AVIV, Oct. 16 (AP)—Jews and Egyptians hammered each other in southern Palestine today with land and air atacks that threatened to shatter the Holy Land truce.

Casualties from Friday's fighting are reported to be heavy.

The clashes came as the United Nations met in Paris to ponder means of bringing peace to Palestine.

Whether the new violence—gravest in three months—constitutes a mere truce fracture or resumption of full-scale war, may be decided on the outcome of military action in the next 12 hours.

Fighting broke out in the Negev area where Jews and Egyptians have been scowling at each other since the the truce began.

The trouble apparently started when the Jews chose the opening of the U.N. Palestine debate to try to rush a daylight convoy to 23 Jewish settlements in the southern desert, 80 miles south of Tel Aviv.

The Egyptians, who overlook the road along the entire route, pounced on the convoy and turned it back. Two trucks in the 16-vehicle group were burned and several persons killed.

Five On Barge Send Out SOS

SEATTLE, Oct. 16—(AP)—The United States Coast Guard headquarters reported early today that a 105-foot self-propelled barge with five crew members aboard had sent an SOS that it was sinking in heavy seas 85 miles east of Cape St. Elias, Alaska.

Contact with the barge, the Starstone, was lost within minutes of the times its distress call was received.

The Starstone's crew list, home port and destination have not been learned but it was believed headed for Cordova.

Says Attlee Trying To Oust Communists

LONDON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Arthur Horner, Communist general secretary of the powerful Miners Union has accused the government of trying to remove all Communists from key union posts in preparation for war.

Horner demanded a showdown with Will Lawther, anti-Communist president of the miners who repudiated Horner's claim the British miners were supporting the current French coal strike.

Horner said the attack on him had been launched "quite deliberately" by the Labor government and right-wing union leaders.

Horner said last Thursday that State Secretary Marshall of the United States had asked Lawther to take a stand against the French coal strike. Lawther indignantly denied the charge.

Quebec Legion Quite Worried

MONTREAL, Oct. 16 —(CP)— The Canadian Legion's Quebec command said in a statement today that reports of four Frenchmen being admitted to Canada despite charges of collaboration in wartime France are "disturbing."

"The Legion has been watching the immigration question very closely and we find reports published yesterday in the papers very disturbing," said the statement, signed by Keith L. Wooley, managing secretary.

"Whatever mandate the government believes it has from the electorate, it ought to know that veterans will not stand for the settlement in our country of persons sough on charges of treasonable activities in France during the war; especially when they are here under false papers."

Hamilton Man Goes To Pen Had Drugs

GUELPH, Oct. 16 (CP(—Kenneth Hollywood, 33, of Hamilton, was sentenced to three years in Kingston penitentiary by Judge R. S. Clark Friday on three charges of illegal possession of narcotics. A fine of $200 was also imposed.

Hollywood was convicted following his arrest in nearby Harriston Sept. 1. He was found asleep in a locked car, allegedly stolen, in which police found a large quantity of narcotics valued at more than $1,000.

Records produced during the trial showed that Hollywood had previously served terms in Kingston penitentiary and in two reformatories.

Senator Helps 4 Frenchmen Gain Admittance To Canada

QUEBEC, Oct. 16—(CP)—Senator J. M. Dessureault said here Friday night he had assisted in having four Frenchmen, reported to have collaborated with the wartime Vichy government, admitted into Canada.

"I am convinced they are excellent citizens" Senator Dessureault said, "and I am convinced they are desirable citizens of Canada."

A Federal Government source disclosed Thursday that the four had been granted special permission by order-in-council to remain in Canada.

Mr. Dessureault said he had talked about the case of the four men "incidentally, once or twice" to Hon. Louis St. Laurent, who was acting prime minister at that time.

He added that Mr. St. Laurent "was sympathetic."

"If Mr. St. Laurent had raised any objection," Senator Dessureault said, "the four men would never have been admitted to Canada."

The senator added that the four men had been "highly recommended to me by civil and religious authorities."

He said the "greatest care" was exercised in the matter and "there were two or three investigations" into the men's past records.

"These men have no criminal record in their private life," Senator Dessureault said, "and their only crime is that they had to collaborate with the Petain Vichy Government, then the legal government of France."

FLANKED AND SURROUNDED by constables and detectives, this is how the long-sought Perreaults looked at the inquest in Montreal in Recorder's Court as they made their first official appearance since the fatal September 23 shooting of two Montreal constables during a bank holdup. After three weeks and several thousand miles which brought them back Douglas Perreault, left, and Donald Perreault, second from right, face Coroner Richard L. Duckett as he confirms a jury verdict, holding them and Noel Cloutier, criminally responsible for the constables' deaths. Cloutier, having turned Crown evidence, did not stand in the prisoner's box but at the opposite side of the court.

Norwood Lady Marks 92nd Birthday

Every city, town and village in the Dominion is rightfully proud of its oldest citizen and Norwood is no exception for today it will pay its respects to Mrs. Mary Ackerman who is celebrating her 92nd birthday. She received the press on Friday afternoon in her neat home on the corner of Ridge and Pine Sts., dressed in her best for afternoon callers and looking forward to today's great event with much enthusiasm.

Mrs. Ackerman is a small woman, a little hard of hearing of late years and not able to see as clearly as she would like to but little escapes her, for her mind is very alert indeed.

She was born in Peterborough in 1856, eldest daughter of the late John and Mary Ann Finlay, and at one year of age her parents moved to Norwood where her father operated a wheel factory which came to be known as John Finlay and Sons. Her father was Member of Parliament for East Peterborough for many years.

When she was a few days short of her 19th birthday she was married at her parents home to Isaac Newton Ackerman who owned a harness and hardware business. He was later a house building contractor and many homes in Norwood and Havelock and fine summer cottages at Stony Lake are to be seen to this day. There were no children and Mr. Ackerman was a brother of the late B. F. Ackerman of this city and Mrs. Ackerman's brother, John Alfred Finlay, still lives a few blocks away from his sister. Mr. Ackerman died more than 20 years ago.

She has always been a staunch member of the Norwood Presbyterian Church and before her marriage played the organ in the original small church that was replaced many years ago by a larger structure. Music has always meant a lot to Mrs. Ackerman and she obliged the afternoon callers by playing a hymn on her drawing room piano with a firm and true touch and said that she occasionally plays on Sunday afternoons.

The Ackermans knew more of their country than the close environs of the village and travelled to the West coast several times and spent one winter in California. They were also ardent cottagers and lived at Stony Lake from break-up to freeze-up for many seasons. Mr. Ackerman's love of good building materials is apparent in the home where all the rooms are finished in handsome cherry, bird's eye maple and white ash. The dining room fireplace is finished in fine straight-grained Stony Lake red cedar.

Mrs. Ackerman is not alone for her brother-in-law, M. R. Callander, has stayed with her for 20 years. She still does a great deal of her own house work and much of the cooking and she enjoys good food and has a fine appetite and is a sound sleeper.

The inevitable question of her opinion of the younger generation was brief and to the point, "They do not attend Church regularly enough these days for their own good," she said.

Circumstances of her disappearance seemed to indicate she had no intention of going away. Her family say she had no luggage and told them she was going downtown and would return in a couple of hours. She has two children—Beverley, 13, and Dennis, 9, from a previous marriage. They are staying with relatives.

Stuart has told police he met Mrs. Pohl in Rockway, a Kitchener suburb, paid her the $600, drove her into Kitchener in a rented car and dropped her downtown.

WINNIPEG GRAIN

WINNIPEG, Oct. 16 (CP)—Rye led an upturn in grain futures in trading on Winnipeg Grain Exchange Friday. There was local demand supplemented by occasional shipper support which found offerings light. There was some increase of offerings at top levels and extreme gains were not held. Oats and barley showed a steady trend, with shipper buying in oats and processor and shipper demand in barley.

Plan To Finish Second Runway

Plans for the raising of sufficient funds to complete a second runway at Skyboro were outlined by Eldon Purvis at a meeting of officers and directors of Skyboro on Friday.

The north-south runway will extend 3000 feet north of the highway and will open the front buildings for operations. It will complement the east-west runway already constructed and will give Skyboro the facilities and the two necessary runways for the 1949 season.

The financing program will consist of three drives for $20,000 each. The first of these is expected to be sufficient to prepare the field for licensing and operation. And the two later drives will be required to put the field in full operation.

W. S. Jones, treasurer, reviewed the financial improvement showing assets of $75,000 and a liability reduction of $61,500.

Bob McClellan asked what effect the newly announced government grant to aid flying clubs, schools and student pilots, would have on Skyboro's development and operation. Eldon Purvis said that the Department of Transport has not made known the extent of aid but he felt Skyboro would have to be completed first before any such subsidy would be considered.

Five company officers were selected to act as sales representatives to raise capital funds and two new directors, Mr. Hugh Stewart and John Currelly are to be welcomed to the board of directors at the next meeting.

Harvey Strub stated that several aircraft from Florida, Pennsylvania, Windsor, Toronto, and other centres have used the east-west runway which was graded last August. He also said some gasoline services will be ready for next spring.

Adam Sands said he was glad that the company withheld a money raising campaign until the secondary rink was a near reality and felt that with continued energy and perseverance Peterborough will accept aviation and the airport as a recognized industry in Canada and the community.

Resort Chairman Lauds Inspections

Resort owners were urged to do all in their power to maintain a high standard of service and accommodation by R. J. Curry, president of the Haliburton Highlands Tourist Association at the annual meeting this week.

Mr. Curry who has piloted the organization for the past 10 years lauded the work of the Dept. of Travel and Publicity in inspecting resorts, and trying to raise the standards. He sought the wholehearted cooperation of the resort owners in support of this campaign.

Sixty-eight of the 125 resort and cabin camp owners attended the dinner meeting which was held at Wig-A-Mog lodge.

An executive committee of 16 was elected and these men and women will meet Oct. 20 at Silver Eagles Lodge to name their own officers. The executive includes R. J. Curry, J. Lorne Dawson, R. Graham, Miss Eileen Hart, H. Black, R. Bishop, A. Kaye, C. Irwin, L. M. Priddle, R. Harvey, F. Jones, J. Hill, H. Brown, C. Rogers, and M. Robertson. Roy Hanna, editor of the Highland News was named an honorary officer.

Lights At Park Must Be Off

Earl Doughty, caretaker of Exhibition Park, is getting instructions from the Utilities Commission that next week all lights must be cut off. Presumably that means the "community centre" at the southwest corner.

Holstein breeders from central Ontario spent a night or two here this week, and for their accommodation lights were turned on, but some how the illumination also ringed the race track. The place was lit up like George St. and people cutting off lights in their homes!

"I had many complaints about it," George A. Macdonald told the Commission Friday.

A few lights were used for football practice two or three nights, but from here on the park switches are to be pulled.

Frankford Han Hurt In Crash

Damage to three cars resulted in two accidents Friday night on highways near the city. One man was taken to hospital.

Bill Bleecker, R.R. 2, Frankford, a passenger, received rib fractures and slight concussion in a collision about 7 p.m. on No. 7 Highway just east of the city. Drivers of the cars were Harold S. Dier, R.R. 1, Corbyville, with whom Bleecker was a passenger and Louis Horning, Aylmer St. Damage to the Dier car is about $150, and an estimated $75 to the Horning vehicle. Provincial Constable Emmett Crough investigated.

There were no injuries in an accident two miles east of Havelock on No. 7 Highway about 9 o'clock when the car of Herbert Metcalfe, Streetsville, Ont., took to a four-foot ditch beside the highway and ended on its side. Cars parked on the shoulder with a blowout had caused a car in front of Metcalfe to turn out at the same time he was attempting to pass it. The car was forced off the road as a result. Morris Goget, Clarkson, Ont., a passenger, also escaped injury. Provincial Constable Archibald Grayling investigated.

Damage to Metcalfe's car is about $150.

Saunders To Build New Steam Plant

TORONTO, Oct. 16 — (CP). — A new steam generating plant with a capacity of between 400,000 and 500,000 kilowatts will be built in either Toronto or Hamilton by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission, Hydro chairman Robert Saunders announced Friday night.

Mr. Saunders said a report on the new plant would be completed by commission engineers within the next 10 days. The estimated cost would be $50,000,000.

He said plans have been made to construct a steam generating plant at Windsor which will produce 240,000 kilowatts. The two generating plants would serve all of southern Ontario, Mr. Saunders said.

RESUME PIPE LINE

Utilities Commission may have to dip into their stock of bonds to pay for the 34-in. iron pipe that has been arriving at the rate of two car loads a day, $2,800 a car. This is for the competition of the big new Bethune St. main that was begun early in the war, was suspended for years and is now being revived. It leads from the north end of the city across the Hilliard Farm to the water works.

PC's To Meet, Name Leader

HALIFAX, Oct. 16 — (CP). — Nova Scotia's Progressive Conservatives—down-and-out in provincial politics and without a leader — will meet here next month to map plans for an expected election which they see as a do-or-die battle.

Tossed completely out of the 30-seat provincial legislature in the 1945 election, the party also lost its leader when Leonard Fraser resigned after a personal defeat. It was the first time in 23 years the party disappeared entirely from the Legislature.

Only opposition to Premier Angus L. Macdonald's Liberal government is supplied by two CCF members.

Oil Tanker Blast Injures Two Men

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(CP). — Two crew members were injured and the safety of 20 more was threatened Friday night when a flash fire and explosion rocked the fully-loaded oil tanker Pine Branch at a Toronto dock.

Taken to hospital were Chief Engineer Camille Mondor, 50, and Second Engineer Paul Hins, 26, both of Montreal. They had face, arm and leg burns.

Ship officers said disaster was averted only by the action of a "well-trained and well-disciplined crew."

The fire broke out in the pump room when an extension lamp being used by the two injured crewmen, broke.

Tch, Tch, Tough Calf

It took two cars to kill a calf at Bailieboro Friday night. The calf was first struck on No. 28 Highway in the village by the car of John Allan, Weller St. It was stunned by the collision, and stumbled into the headlights of another car driven by Emery Smith, Toronto. The second collision did it. The calf was killed. Both cars received damage to fenders. Provincial Constables George Stevens and Gordon Langton investigated the double-demise. —R.B.

Shipping Laws 'Antique' TLC Censure

VICTORIA, Oct. 16 — (CP) — Canada's shipping legislation was denounced as "monstrous" and "iniquitous" Thursday before the annual convention of the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada.

TLC President Percy Bengough and members of the CSU charged the Canada Shipping Act was outmoded and badly in need of immediate overhaul.

The convention itself expressed criticism of this year's parliamentary amendments to the Act, declaring they were "not satisfactory" to the Congress and not in conformity with the Federal Labor Code.

Government handling of the lake shipping dispute also was criticized. The Congress adopted a committee report saying the Federal Labor Department had "failed completely" in that struggle between the Canadian Seamen's Union (TLC) and lake shipping companies.

CSU President Harry Davis of Montreal called the Canada Shipping Act a "smelly antique" and one of "the most anti-democratic Acts we have on the statute books."

For many years, Davis said, shipowners had used the Act to block the organization of seamen and to break strikes.

"It's a monstrous law and needs changing," declared President Bengough.

He added seamen convicted of violating it in the Great Lakes dispute had been given "the limit" in jail terms.

Dewar Ferguson of Toronto, CSU vice-president, charged "some magistrates are out playing golf with shipowners one day, and trying seamen the next."

57 Nations Laud Canada Senator Robertson Touched

PARIS, Oct. 16 — ((CP) — Senator Wishart Robertson said Thursday night he left the United Nations' chamber with "a lump in my throat" after 57 countries tacitly agreed Canada is second only to the United States as the most prosperous country in the world.

Reporting by radio on the "dollars and cents" side of United Nations activities, the government leader in the Canadian Senate said the United Nations Committee on Contributions had agreed in effect: "You Canadians have a higher per capita income than any country in the world except the United States and possibly Sweden and you should contribute accordingly."

Robertson was speaking in a speech for broadcast in Canada over the CBC national network. Under the United Nations' budget, he said, Canada with 13 million people is assessed 3.20 per cent compared with 6.34 per cent for Russia's 185,000,000 population.

"This means the committee believes, and Russia agrees, that the Canadian income per capita is seven times greater than that of Russia."

From the standpoint of geographical resources, Canada and Russia are similar. Russia boasted great progress, but yet admitted Canadians enjoy a per-capita income seven times greater.

"Perhaps," he said, "some people in Canada who want to change our way of life for that of the Soviet might profit by considering some of the lessons learned by our budgetary committee."

Robertson is the Canadian delegate on the budgetary committee. The chairman is L. Dana Wilgress, Canadian ambassador to Switzerland.

YOUR GARDEN . . .

How To Prune A Grapevine

By DEAN HALLIDAY

The freedom gardener who happens to have a grapevine or two or three on his home grounds may be uninformed regarding the proper way to prune them.

Pruning is especially important to the production of a crop of grapes. The fruit is borne on new wood and its growth must be encouraged by proper pruning. Most of last year's growth therefore should be cut away during the winter months. Pruning should be done during the dormant period, never in the summer time, to avoid danger of having the vines "bleed."

The accompanying Garden-Graph shows a grapevine after it has been properly winterpruned and trained to a two-wire trellis.

When the single-stem four-cane Kniffin method of pruning is followed, one trunk is carried to the lower wire the second or third year after planting and tied. The following year a cane from just below the lower wire is extended to the top wire, completing the trunk. In addition, one cane to the right and another to the left are extended along and tied to the lower wire.

If the stem reaches the upper wire the third year, prune ou many of the developing shoot and allow only the strongest t grow. The stem should be tie tightly to the top wire and some what loosely to the lower. Wher the shoots are sufficiently hardened, those growing close to the wires should be loosely tied.

At the beginning of the fourth year the vine should consist of a stem extending from the ground to a point below the top wire. For this all but two canes and two spurs of two buds each should be cut away below each wire level. Four to six more buds are left on the upper than on the lower canes.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1948

Mr. Drew's Successor

It is generally felt that the right thing has been done in choosing the Hon. T. L. Kennedy as Ontario Conservative leader, and as premier until such time as a provincial Conservative convention can choose a man to succeed him. Mr. Kennedy has had nine years of experience in the Ministry of Agriculture, and he has often served as acting premier. His record of service is a fine one, and it is fitting that he should have a spell in the premier's chair before he retires. He has made it plain that he will not seek the provincial leadership at the convention.

• • •

We do not agree with the opinion, which seems to be widespread, that Mr. Kennedy is too old to be Conservative leader. He is 70—younger than either Mr. King or Mr. Churchill. But he has seen twenty-six years of public life, and it is understandable that he should wish to retire. After his brief tenure of the premiership, he will retire with a degree of honour which would not otherwise have been his.

• • •

Mr. Drew's withdrawal from the Ontario political scene will leave the province with no single figure of distinction. Mr. Oliver and Mr. Blackwell may prove to be men of unexpected sagacity and vigour; Mr. Joliffe, who made a promising start in political life, seems to have lost heart. As things stand at present, the Ontario political stage is only half-lit, as though for a rehearsal, and the figures whom we see moving about on it are so vague that we cannot tell whether they are actors or merely scene-shifters.

Dickens On The Screen

During the past three years admirable versions of three of Dickens' most popular novels have been brought to the screen by British film artists; they were Great Expectations, Nicholas Nickleby and Oliver Twist. Films which follow the novel to the letter are impossible when dealing with Dickens; some compression and some cutting is necessary. But in these three films the compression and the cutting have been handled with such skill that the essence of the books is admirably preserved, and the Dickens lover leaves the movie house with the comfortable feeling that the makers of the film were fully conscious of all that they were forced to leave out, and regretted its loss as keenly as he did himself. We will not say that the books have been handled reverently, for that word implies something of timidity; let us say rather that they are handled with fine artistic intelligence.

These films dispose of a few bogies, and one of these is the notion that a classic cannot be made into a movie without elaborate alteration. Hollywood sins frequently in this matter of wholesale alteration. The makers of the Dickens films have been content to trust to the genius of Dickens, and their trust has been magnificently justified. They have, moreover, recognized the essential fact that the exaggeration which Dickens employs to get a heightened effect of comedy or terror is not completely disposed of when it is called "caricature". The people in Dickens' books are not caricatures in the sense that they are divorced from ordinary life; they are merely a little larger than life, and they live with an intensity which will not be denied. People who protest that they have never met a Mr. Sowerberry, or a Vincent Crummles, or an Uncle Pumblechook do not by their denial dismiss these characters as unreal; they merely make it clear that their experience of life has been slighter, and their perceptions less acute, than was the case with Charles Dickens. In these films the truth which makes Dickens great is allowed to shine with its fullest refulgence, and a host of actors from the British stage bring his great creations before our eyes as completely as possible.

How Dickens would have gloried in these films! His first love was the stage, and at one time he sought employment in the theatre. His books are cast in a form which reflects the violent melodrama which was the principal stage fare of England in his day. Much of the rant in Dickens is credible only when placed in the perspective of the mid-Victorian theatre. He was ambitious at several periods of his career for stage success and now, seventy-eight years after his death, some of his creations have been admirably translated into a dramatic form.

Modesty Can Be Carried Too Far

There is much to be said for professional reticence and modesty, Nevertheless, we think that the medical profession in Canada carries modesty too far. Consider this item, which appeared recently in the New York Times:

"Frank Mihlan, 32 years old, an Erie Railway employee, was admitted to a hospital with possibly fatal burns on July 15 and discharged six weeks later, well on the way to complete recovery after having been treated with aluminum foil—the first such treatment in this country. About fifty Canadian successes with aluminum foil have been reported".

But unless we are greatly mistaken this interesting and significant development in medical science—the work of Canadian experimenters—was first made known to the Canadian public when Canadian Press picked up the item in the Times. Recently, also, Canadian papers carried a story of an extremely delicate heart operation which had been performed in Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore; it was not known to Canadian newspapers that the same operation had been successfully performed two months earlier in Winnipeg General Hospital by a Canadian surgeon.

We know that the Canadian medical profession does not like to blow its own horn. We know how much it hates premature news stories about medical techniques and discoveries which are still in the experimental stage. We know how much it dreads inadequate or ill-informed accounts of medical work. Nevertheless, we feel that the Canadian medical profession could be a little more communicative about its work without losing dignity or running the risk of misrepresentation. It seems a pity that fine Canadian work should receive its first public recognition in U.S. papers. If Canadian doctors would be a little more communicative toward Canadian newspapermen they might not find us such blundering and stupid fellows after all.

A Philosopher Put To The Test

Unphilosophical people like to make fun of philosophers, pretending that all their knowledge is nonsense, incapable of sustaining them in a worldly crisis. Even Shakespeare, who usually avoided saying foolish things, wrote—

There was never yet philosopher
That could endure the toothache patiently.

As we have a sneaking admiration for philosophers, we are glad to draw attention to a recent example of the practical wisdom of these men, as shown by Lord Russell (Bertrand Russell). It may be a bitter pill for some people to swallow that a man who is not merely a philosopher but also a British peer should show himself superior to his companions, but facts are facts.

On October 2 Russell was a passenger on a Norwegian flying-boat; he was going to Trondheim to address the students of the university there on "Ideologies and Common Sense". The trip was a rough one, and the philosopher was preparing to be sick into one of the paper bags provided for the purpose when he thought "Oh dear, there is going to be a disaster". In a few moments the plane struck the water, and began to sink. Seizing his briefcase Russell climbed out of a window into the water and swam about, fully clothed and wearing a heavy overcoat, until he was picked up by a rescue launch. He reported afterward: "I always wondered what I would say in such a situation; I imagined I would say "Damnation" but, you know, I only said 'Well, well'". He lost his attache case, but was proud of the fact that his watch, which is over 100 years old, did not even stop.

We think that this would be a very good show for any gentleman who had reached the age of 76, but for a philosopher---! Bertrand Russell displayed equanimity, resource and physical and moral stamina, the very qualities, in fact, which philosophers are supposed to develop and which popular opinion denies them.

NOTE AND COMMENT

Napoleon's pet turtle is still alive on St. Helena, we learn. Some pets expire of grief when their master dies, but this is a conspicuous proof that turtles don't care.

Says the Cornwall Standard-Freeholder: "No longer is the man with a strong back and a weak mind wanted for farm work". What is he to turn to now? It sounds as though radio quiz programs provided the only lucrative opening.

Diary Of October Meditations

By SAMUEL MARCHBANKS

SUNDAY: Was cornered this evening by a man who told me that he had heard that I was a Great Reader, and would I, in that capacity, tell him what I considered the greatest book ever written? When attacked with such questions as this I am overcome with a profound weariness and a desire for escape, because whatever I say is bound to be disappointing. How could I tell him that I had read very few of what are called "the world's classics", that I have never got past the first chapter of "War and Peace" and that I have never read a novel by Dostoievsky, or Thomas Mann, that I cannot abide "Pilgrim's Progress," that Henry James makes me snore, that I have never read "Don Quixote" without skipping, that I have never read any but the dirty bits of Rabelais, and that I hate all poetry written after the death of Tennyson? In my mind the words "classic" and "bore" merge all too readily. I am an ignoramus, and hypocritically ashamed of it.

✧ ✧ ✧

MONDAY: "What colour would you say this was?" said a woman I know today, holding out a piece of light brown material toward me. "Isabella-coloured", I replied, after a moment's consideration. She demanded an explanation. "Well", I said, "though I don't expect you will believe it, there was once an archduchess called Isabella who was very much provoked about the siege of Ostend which (as you very likely do not know) lasted from 1601 to 1604; her annoyance was so great that she vowed that she would not change her underlinen (which, as it was in the Pre-Pantie Era, consisted solely of a linen shift, or shirt) until the siege was raised; the siege lasted nearly four years and the garment, when removed, was an interesting shade between beige and taupe, which has since borne the name of the archduchess". "Trust you to know a disgusting thing like that", said she—ungratefully, I thought. I wish people would not ask me tiresome questions and then find fault with the answers. Is it my fault that Isabella made an insanitary vow? And I may say that I have known tramps who beat Isabella's record by many years.

✧ ✧ ✧

TUESDAY: By a complex system of my own I cushion myself against the shocks of daily life, but today I was forced to face the fact that I must have a new winter overcoat, and a few discreet enquiries made it clear to me that prices have been going up, and that clothes cost more now than they did. I grudge money spent on clothes. I like to give away any spare money I have to worthy charities, such as the Fund for Brewery Executives in Reduced Circumstances, and the like. But from time to time it is absolutely necessary for me to replenish my wardrobe, and then there is always a disquieting struggle between my need and my ingrained penuriousness. I cannot bear to spend money on anything except pleasure, and I do not consider the buying of new clothes as a pleasure. If I could have a red overcoat with a fur collar, that might be fun, but to face the dreary choice between gray and blue again at my time of life, and to have to fork out several month's income in payment is more than I can bear. Still, I suppose that by a painful process of screwing up my resolution I shall come to it.

✧ ✧ ✧

WEDNESDAY: Watched a very small child playing with a Mama-doll this afternoon; when the doll emitted its painful, cat-like cry (as much like the squeal of an overloaded stomach as the voice of a child) the face of the tot would be filled with concern, and it would stare deeply into the eyes of its toy, obviously wondering what ailed it. I take a mild interest in dolls and I am always a little irked when I hear the Mama-doll referred to as a triumph of American ingenuity. As a matter of fact it was invented by Johann Nepomuk Maelzel, who died in 1838 and was a German; he is best known for his invention of the Maelzel Metronome, to the nagging tick-tock of which millions of music students have practiced their pieces. He was an inventor and handyman of unusual ability, and among other things he invented an ear-trumpet which his friend Beethoven wore for many years; it was an awesome crumpled horn which was affixed to the head with a clamp. Maelzel's Mama-doll may have had a better voice than the modern product, for it contained a more elaborate works, and it could also say "Papa".

✧ ✧ ✧

THURSDAY: The papers tell me that Princess Elizabeth's baby, if a boy, will receive the name Andrew among others "in compliment to the people of Scotland". Why not Baptiste, in compliment to Canada, or Owen in compliment to Wales? My theory is that the Scots have put the Indian sign on the rest of the Anglo-Saxon world by that look of grim disapproval which they customarily wear. It looks like moral grandeur, but it is probably just indigestion.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIDAY: As my alarm clock beat feverishly with its tiny fist upon its bell this morning I stretched slothfully beneath the covers and mused on the flight of time. The people of the Balkans, I read somewhere yesterday, live to great ages—their average life expectancy is 87. Some doctors think that this is because they eat a mysterious goo called Yoghoort, which resembles sour milk, and is said to keep senility at bay. I do not believe a word of it. My own theory is that the Balkan people live to great ages because they never trouble to keep their tempers, because they never take baths, and because they never repress a nasty remark when they think of one. Our civilization is one which demands an unconscionable amount of holding-in; in the Balkans you never hold in anything. Holding-in creates horrid poisons which wear us out before our time. There are more deaths caused by ingrowing, suppurating self-control than the medical profession wots of.

✧ ✧ ✧

SATURDAY: Had some photograhs taken today, an experience which always leaves me limp, with my ego quivering and bounding like an uncoiled spring. "Take a natural, easy pose", says the photographer, and when I do so he winces and says, "Oh, no, not all slumped, like the leavings of a torso-murder". So then I strike a pose which seems to me to suggest dignity and vast stores of reserve power, and the photographer laughs merrily and says that I am not to make faces. The fact of the matter is that I cannot be at ease when a man is pointing a machine at me, and jumping and ducking about the room, pulling curtains, flashing lights and looking at my face as though it were something on a butcher's bargain counter. "I am trying for a characteristic likeness", says he. But that is just what I do not want. I want a picture which looks the way I should like to be, not the way I am. I can face facts in the mirror whenever I choose. I do not see why I should pay good money to have my nose rubbed in the bitter realities. "You don't mean to say you want to be flattered?" he asks, and as I nod my head wildly he clicks the shutter. In the picture I shall probably appear to have a broken neck, like the body just before the police cut it down.

"COULD WE SEE YOU A MOMENT, UNCLE?"

The Vanishing Rocking Chair

LEO SHIPPEY IN THE LOS ANGELES TIMES

BEFORE it is too late, I would like to inspire a movement to rescue that vanishing American institution, the rocking chair.

When I was a boy not only every American home but every room that was furnished for comfort had at least one rocking chair. So had the front porch. And in those days people knew how to take their ease.

They didn't get nervous sitting around the house and have to go somewhere in vain quest of some physical and mental relaxation.

But the other day our daughter, who has one baby and is looking forward to another, remarked:

"I've got my eye on that rocking chair of yours. That's one thing I really want."

That opened my eyes to the shocking fact that now we have only one rocking chair in the house and it probably wouldn't be there if it weren't almost an antique.

✧ ✧ ✧

WE got it secondhand when we had our first baby, and it was an old thing then. It is dear to us because my helpspend sat in it while rocking all of our five babies. Many of the happiest memories of our life are associated with it, so it has been reupholstered several times and is a treasured piece.

But when I stopped to think about it, I couldn't recall seeing any other rocking chairs lately in any of the homes we visit.

I think the rocking chair is peculiarly an American institution. I've gone through a hundred palaces in Europe, furnished with antiques, and never seen a rocking chair.

But in the sturdy, self reliant America which didn't have to run to psychiatrists and career advisers to settle all its problems the rocking chair bloomed and spread throughout the land. In it mother nursed the babies and grandma rocked gently as she darned the socks.

In it father relaxed for his after supper pipe and grandpa sat while he rode junior on his foot. But now, it seems, the interior decorator has robbed us of this stand-by of comfort and pleasure, and a slavish and unthinking populace has not even paused to realize what it was losing.

I will grant that the creaky or squeaky rocking chair put a certain tension on the nerves. In careless households, too, there were times when the fingers or toes of crawling children got caught under the rockers. But rocking chairs never offered half the possibilities for injury that some of our modern electrical household devices do—including the cocktail shaker.

AND the rocking chair offered so many comforting uses that it is hard to understand how it could have been cast into outer junk yards without a fierce and determined protests from the American people.

Up to a quarter century ago the rocking chair was the birthright of every American, but today there are many teen agers who never saw one. And are these youngsters as happy as the youngster of 40 years ago? Do they tilt on the hind legs of their chairs so that they bore holes in the rug? Do they act like contortionists when sitting in even the most comfortable of the big chairs in the living room?

Use your eyes and then answer truthfully you serfs of the new look within the home. Have we traded our birthright for a mess of straitjackets?

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

That which we have seen and heard declare we unto you, that ye also may have fellowship with us: and truly our fellowship is with the Father, and with his Son Jesus Christ. (I John 1: 3.)

✧ ✧ ✧

For Christ is not entered into the holy places made with hands, which are the figures of the true; but into heaven itself, now to appear in the presence of God for us. (Heb. 9: 24.)

✧ ✧ ✧

As ye have therefore received Christ Jesus the Lord, so walk ye in him: rooted and built up in him, and stablished in the faith, as ye have been taught, abounding therein with thanksgiving (Col. 2: 6, 7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Let the word of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in your hearts to the Lord. And whatsoever ye do in word or deed, do all in the name of the Lord Jesus, giving thanks to God and the Father by him.

With PETE McGILLEN

A STRANGE STORY of a mammoth large-mouth bass has come out of the Clear lake section, 20 miles north-east of this city. A Dummer township resident claims he caught, and has mounted a bass which weighed 15 pounds. That, mister is some fish, and local anglers will take a lot of convincing. An 8 lb. large-mouth in Canadian waters is a record, and the world record is a 22 lb. 4 oz. fish caught in Montgomery lake, Georgia. Down in those warm waters the fish are also called Bayou bass, Oswego bass, Straw bass and Green bass. As this local yarn came to me, the bass is 28 inches long, and almost 30 inches in girth. The only taxidermist, known to me in Peterborough, is Miss Elcome, and she did not mount this fish, so perhaps it was done by an amateur. I won't do any scoffing at this point because the only way to solve the riddle, if it is one, is to visit the fisherman and examine the trophy. It seems a bit strange that I didn't have any news about this record fish until a month or more after it was supposed to have been taken.

FAINT RUMBLINGS are being heard indicating there are still some people who would like to see the Crown Game Preserve thrown open to hunters. This is understandable, because the world has a liberal sprinkling of short-sighted people. I doubt very much if the officials of the Dept. of Lands and Forests will pay too much attention to them. This Preserve was established in 1934, as a sanctuary where deer could live and increase in numbers safe from the hunters' guns. The plan was so successful, that now, Peterborough county has more deer than any other county in the province. I say that because at the Ontario Federation meeting last February, delegates claimed the deer population had been dangerously reduced. Every year more than 1,000 deer are killed in the northern part of this county, showing how substantial is the overflow from the Preserve. For the past two winters there have been reports that deer were starving in the Preserve because of deep snow, over-population and too little available browse.

THERE IS ALWAYS some loss among the late-born fawns in areas where deer are numerous. That has been going on for centuries. Wolves, too, take a heavy toll, and in an area where a large number of deer have yarded for the winter, the wolves can decimate the herd. However, that is an almost uncontrollable factor. It is negligible, too, because the deer multiply rapidly. Supplementary feeding of deer has been a failure in several of the States. The game overseers discovered that browse from cedar, birch and popular was the essential food for the animals, and they did not thrive on hay or other feed which was left for them. During winters when the snow conditions are severe, cutting of cedar browse by hunters and sportsmen has been found effective, but this is difficult work. Locally last winter was the worst in years, and two officials who made a winter survey of the deer in the preserve claimed the loss was 30 per cent greater than the previous year. Actually, so far as I can learn, there was no survey made the previous year, so how the comparison was reached is a question.

MOST HUNTERS agree that if the Preserve was thrown open for even one year, then its usefullness would be lost, and the slaughter would far exceed expectations. Non-resident hunters would come here in droves making business good for a few weeks, then poor for several years. The sportsmen would know how to get in and out of the Preserve—with a gun, and even if the area was closed again next year, poaching would be terrific. There is some poaching now, but offenders are severely dealt with when caught. There is a feeling too among hunters that some men have made the deer starving story sound a lot worse than it is, in the hopes of making money out of the panic, by selling hay, etc. I feel that nature will maintain its own balance, provided man does not interfere too much, and that the Preserve should be left as it is in perpetuity. Hounds and farm dogs run deer out of the Preserve during the hunt, and this might be encouraged under the control of game overseers. This we know, that with the Preserve, local residents have the best hunting in the province. Without the Preserve, we would have crumbs.

WHEN DOES INDIAN SUMMER COME? That is a poser, because most people will say Indian summer has been here already. It all depends on how you look at it. If there is balmy autumn weather with warm sunshine following on the heels of a cool period, most people hail Indian summer, and they are right in a way too. The encyclopedia gives as a definition "A season of several weeks duration in late autumn, characterized by mellow sunshine in sharp contrast to climatic conditions which precede or follow it. Indian summer is preceded by squaw winter, a cold spell when the thermometer dips below freezing point". There it is, but a host of people will say, "Indian summer never comes until we have had the first fall of snow". I think of Indian summer any time after Oct. 1, when I climb a hill and see a haze on the horizon, with warm sun beaming down, and the air with a balmy quality that smacks of June.

PARTRIDGES ARE PLENTIFUL, and even though the daily bag limit of five is generous, there are a few chisellers exceeding the daily legal limit. One man who already had five knocked off a sixth. When I questioned him about it he said: "Oh, I just saw a chance to get another one, so I took it". What was said after that is scarcely fit to be recorded here. That is human nature all over again. Greed and selfishness the dominant qualities, with no thought of good sportsmanship or of tomorrow. Perhaps the only way to get Utopia is to create a great private game area, and only admit those hunters who on their proven record are sportsmen. Even if this were done, we'd probably find some fellow tossing partridges over the fence to a friend. Apsley, Mt. Julian, and the Paudash lake areas appear to have a large ruffed grouse population.

HERE AND THERE: Bass and pickerel fishing ended last night Oct. 15 at midnight....Lake trout fishing ended Oct. 5, so the anglers can put their tackle away until the speckled trout season opens next May 1...In the counties of Peterborough, Victoria, Northumberland and Durham no fishing by any means is permitted from Oct. 15 to May 1....This does not apply to all of Ontario, as lake trout fishing opens again in most counties on Nov. 5. Also pickerel fishing does not close in several other areas until late in December....There is no closed season on lake trout in the Great Lakes....Partridge season is from Oct. 9 to Oct. 18, then it opens again on Nov. 13 and runs to Nov. 23.... For the hunter who would like a squirrel pie, there is a two day open season on Nov. 12 and 13. Bag limit on black, grey and fox squirrels is five per day—North of No. 7 the duck season ends Nov. 8, and south of No. 7 the season winds up Nov. 15.

✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦ ✦

HAIL THE CHAMPION. Frank Laurie has not only brought in the prize catch of the month, but the largest small-mouth black bass reported in district waters for the entire season. The fish weighed one ounce over six pounds, and was caught on a jointed plug. It was 22 inches long and 19 inches in girth. This bronzeback struck viciously as Laurie was trying out the plug for action, while standing on the dock at Camp Cleveland. His partner, George Christiansen, was close by and when he saw the bass hit, he whistled, figuring it had missed the plug in the shallow water. In a few seconds, he knew different and the battle was on. The bass has been entered in the Examiner Lucky Strike Fishing Contest. This contest ended Oct. 15, and anglers have until Nov. 22 to get their entries in. Last year, top honors in the contest for the large maskinonge went to a guest from Camp Cleveland who landed a 32 pounder.

Upper Canada Postmasters Asked to Serve As Secret Agents of Family Compact

By RALPH GREENHILL

In 1837, the year of the Makenzie Rebellion, Charles Albert Berczy was appointed postmaster of Toronto in place of James Scott Howard, who had been dismissed. At the same time Berczy was confidential agent to Sir Francis Bond Head, Governor of Upper Canada, and in a letter written in 1838 to the postmaster of Lindsay he outlines the information wanted by the Government after the failure of the rebellion.

Confidential

Toronto 10th Nov.—1838

Dear Sir,

In consequence of the various reports which are in circulation regarding the state of the Province, which in many instances are contradictory His Excellency the Lieutenant Governor has directed me to establish a correspondence with several confidential persons and endeavour to obtain information that he can depend upon—may I therefore request that you will assist me in obtaining this most desirable object, comunicating to me from time to time such information as you may obtain which you think might be of importance to Government.

In the first place will you have the goodness to state whether you think the disaffected have introduced Arms into your neighborhood, if so, can you point out a mode of discovering where they are concealed—and pray state what you think would be the best mode to dispossess them of the home.

In the second place pray state as near as you can the men capable of bearing Arms in the Townships and villages in your neighborhood, mentioning the number that you consider loyal, neutral or disaffected.

Will you have the goodness to watch the motion of strangers in your neighborhood and as far as in your power give me a description of them, that they may be traced wither they go—The letter information is of importance, as it is said there are now certain of the disaffected travelling through the country to endeavour to mature plans against Government.

I am sure it is not required to apologize for asking you to assist me in furnishing Government with correct information to be acted upon and beg to say that as I request strict secrecy with the exception of to such persons as I may hereafter point out to you, that I shall in like manner consider your letters to me strictly confidential, only communicating the name to the Govt.

I am

—Murphy Esq Dear Sir
Post Master Yours truly
Lindsay Chas. A. Berczy

The confidential work was apparently not all voluntary, for the following entry occurs in the Appendix to the Journal of the House of Assembly of Upper Canada 1839-40: "Charles Berczy, Esq. to reimburse his so much paid for secret services ..... £17 14 8."

Berczy's father, William von Moll Berczy, was one of the first artists to make a living in Canada by painting. He was born in Saxony in 1784, but in 1790 he went to England and became agent of an English association owning land in the Genesee valley, New York. In 1792, he brought out 60 families, and two years later, after a disagreement with his employers, he moved his settlers to Upper Canada. The colony in the township of Markham, north of York, was a failure and in 1805, Berczy settled in Montreal, where he made his living as an artist. He died in February, 1813, while in New York on a business trip.

Charles Berczy was born on August 22, 1794, at Newark (Niagara), Upper Canada. During the war of 1812 he served in the commissariat. He died in Toronto in June, 1858.

Tom Dewey Quit Music, Law for Public Life

By CLYDE BLACKBURN
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9. (CP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey, of New York, Republican candidate for the second time in November's Presidential election, might have made a million dollars in law.

Instead he chose public service which paid little but brought him fame as a politician. He was New York's racket-busting district attorney and has served two terms as Governor of New York.

Dewey, suave and polished, is nearly five feet, eight inches tall but looks shorter. He dresses immaculately but quietly. His moustache now is known wherever pictures are printed. He is dark with arresting brown eyes, an engaging smile and wide spaced teeth which he does not like to have photographed.

He wanted the Republican nomination in 1940 but retired in the face of the Wendell Willkie landslide, and worked in Willkie's futile fight against Franklin D. Roosevelt. In 1944 there were plenty of old-guard candidates available at the Chicago convention but Dewey won and went on to defeat by still-unbeatable Roosevelt.

Now he is again the Republican candidate, as a result of careful planning and organization on his part and his own personal determination to reach the White House.

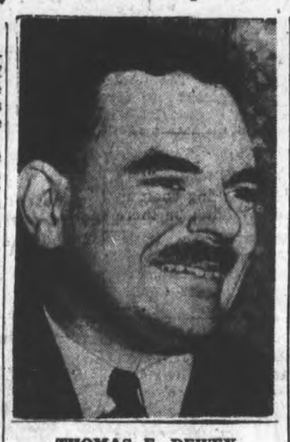
Fortune In Farm

His personal fortune probably is almost entirely wrapped up in his $30,000 farm near Pawling, New York, which he bought 11 years ago with a down payment of $3,000.

In spite of the fact that Dewey has been in the big-salary class ($35,000) only since he became Governor and in spite of the terrific demands such an office-holder must face in addition to high income taxes, he is proud of the fact that he paid off all the mortgage. "Dapplemore," his 300-acre Pawling farm, now is his. His predecessors as governor were millionaries.

Dewey was born March 24, 1902, in Owosso, Mich. His father was a small-town newspaper publisher. His mother was Ann Thomas of English and Canadian descent.

He recalls with interest and pleasure the summers he spent as a small boy with his Aunt Eleanor Thomas in London, Ont.



THOMAS E. DEWEY

At the University of Michigan, where Dewey got his arts degree he was leader of the college glee club. He went to Columbia Law School in New York with ambitions divided between law and the concert stage.

In White's "Scandals"

He studied both, taking singing lessons at the Percy Rector Stevens music studio. There he met Frances Eileen Hutt of Sapulpa, Okla., who was well started on a musical career with engagements in a number of stage successes, including George White's "Scandals."

He was admitted to the Bar in 1926 and two years later he and Frances were married. They have two sons, Thomas, 15, and John, 12.

With family responsibilities, Dewey decided to restrict his singing to home duets with his pretty wife. He plunged into law as a career, but his private practice soon ended when he entered public legal service in New York City.

Dewey, like his chief opponent, President Truman, drinks very little, goes to church with fair regularity, and leads a happy family life.

He is more reserved than Truman, nothing of a back-slapper or wise-cracker, but he is eloquent and precise in his public utterances.

Snowed For Five Days In History's Worst Storm

Perhaps some of our old-timers will remember the big snow storm that struck Lindsay in 1870. It is generally admitted to have been the heaviest fall of snow ever to have taken place there.

It started to snow on March 14th and snowed steadily till March 19th. The depth of snow on the level was estimated at from five to seven feet. By the 15th people were bragging about how much snow they had in their back yards but by the next day it ceased to be a joke and it was impossible to move around. The merchants tried to keep the sidewalks clear in front of their stores but they had to shovel continuously and the banks of snow were said to be so high that you couldn't see across the street below the second story windows.

Business was practically suspended as it was impossible to move around without great exertion. Several concerts and gatherings had been arranged to celebrate the 17th of March. St. Patrick's Day, but all had to be cancelled as people had to stay in their homes or wade waist deep through the snow.

People were unable to get to work, children had to stay home from school and at least one funeral had to be postponed. There was an efficient police force there at that time consisting of one man and he didn't make a single arrest for over three weeks. It was too much trouble to get the culprit to the lockup unless he pulled him there on a toboggan. The first man to arrive in town after the storm was a man from Cambray and he came in on snowshoes. When the storm was over the people demanded that the streets be opened and the council made an attempt at it by making a snowplow out of two inch planks and hitching three teams of oxen to it. It was tried out on Kent St. and was a dismal failure. There was no place for the snow to be pushed as the snow was level with the backs of the oxen, they floundered around so much that they had to unhitched. It was then decided to draw the snow away. A canal was dug down Kent Street, the snow shovelled into sleighs and taken down and dumped in the river. This canal was twelve feet wide and made traffic possible.

Gradually the other streets were opened and business was resumed after some people had been shut in their home for over two weeks.

There were no radios and no telephones in those days and all people knew was what went on in their own homes. There were no trains running between Toronto and Lindsay for four days and the only communication with the outside world was by telegraph.

There were no casualties in town on account of the storm but when the snow was being cleared away, a pair of boots were found sticking out of a snowbank at the corner of William and Kent Sts. On feeling around it was found that there were feet in decided that some poor fellow the boots and legs above. It was had become exhausted struggling through the snow and had laid down and passed away. The policeman, John Douglas, was sent for and he summoned the coroner. When the coroner arrived they started to dig out the body. As they proceeded with the digging, it was discovered that the "body" was made up of an old suit of clothes, a pair of boots, a false face and a cap. It was thrown up on the bank, the straw with which it was stuffed was set on fire and it was burned on top of the snow bank at what is now the Bank of Commerce corner.

There was another heavy fall of snow in March, 1888 and still another in March 1896. The heaviest snowfall of recent years, and one which we all remember, was that which came on the 10th of December, 1944, when practically all traffic and business was tied up for several days.

MANY WIVES are not fitted for such a responsibility. Neither are a great many of the individuals entrusted with the care of estates. Rare indeed is the man who can be counted on to welcome the responsibility, to live long enough to fulfil it, to have the time, integrity, experience and specialized ability so necessary in these complex and busy times.

But for all these qualifications, you can have complete confidence in The Grey & Bruce Trust & Savings Company.

Making a Will and appointing a trustee are relatively simple matters. Today is not too soon to come in and talk it over.

Petes Beat Windsor 16 To 10 In First of Lacrosse Finals

Beating Windsor Sterlings 16-10 here last night, the Petes' lacrossers went one up in their two-of-three all-Ontario playoff series for the Levack Trophy. They tangle again tonight at Miller Bowl and here Monday, also, if necessary. A good-sized crowd last night saw a speedy and fairly clean fray.

Hustling from the start and playing good lacrosse, the Creighton crew had a 3-1 edge in the first quarter. They shaded Windsor again 3-1 in the second, but both heats were close enough and the visitors weren't clicking perfectly. The Petes really won it in the third with a terrific drive for a 9-2 scoring margin on the period and it looked to be all over. However, the visitors finally got going in the fourth for a 6-1 edge as they whittled the count down fast and finished stronger than the winners.

Fairly Clean

Only seven penalties were passed out in a well-handled tussle, four of them to the homesters. Twice fights threatened but they were quelled right away with a pair being hustled off each time for roughing. The visitors had several husky players who could bodycheck and the forwards were fast, but the Petes held their own nicely most of the way to earn the victory.

Terry Gordon and Mick Magee led the local scorers, each being in on five. Mick and Chute did a good job on defence, too, and Hill stopped some hot ones in goal. Lou Vitarelli was in on four goals, while Warren, Dootch Vitarelli, Chute and Emmett Creighton were in on three. Dundas, Foote and Horton figured in a couple apiece. Best for the visitors on the night's play were Muchesna, Cato, Ladouceur and Ross, though several others showed plenty in spots, too.

The teams:

Windsor—Goal, Harris; defence, J. Scislowski and Ghetti; centre, Hedgewick; wings, Muchesna and L. Scislowski; rover, Cato; alternates, Chaplinski, Long, Playford, Ladouceur, S. Gaul, J. Gaul and Ross

Petes—Goal, Hill; defence, Magee and Chute; centre, E. Creighton; wings, R. Breakspear and Horton; rover, Foote; alternates, Warren, J. Breakspear, L. Vitarelli, D. Vitarelli, Dundas, Gordon, Smith and R. Creighton.

Referees—J. Murphy and L. Vipond.

IN ON FIVE—Terry Gordon was in on five goals to lead, along with Mick Magee, the Petes' snipers as they took the Windsor lacrossers 16-10 in the first of their all-Ontario playoff series.

Tigers Prolong Mann Cup Play Down Adanacs

TORONTO, Oct. 16. (CP)—A surprising reversal of form kept Hamilton Tigers in the hunt today for their second Canadian Senior Lacrosse Championship in 15 years.

Facing elimination in three straight at the hands of new Westminster Adanacs, Mann Cup holders and Western Canada Champions, Tigers bounded back last night to win 12-7 and send the series into a fourth game Monday night. Adanacs opened the series with an 11-6 victory and followed it with a close 13-11 verdict.

It was the way Tigers won that surprised critics who made Adanacs pre-series favorites.

They gave way in the final quarter in the first two games, allowing the fast and tricky Adanacs to pull out with victories, but last night they held them in check and even outplayed the Westerners—in the last 15 minutes.

Behind the sparkling play of playing-coach Joe Cheevers, 33-year-old veteran, Tigers kept pace with the Adanac front-line youngsters and held them to one last-quarter goal by Archie Browning, 17-year-old scoring ace.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Since Oakville and our Panthers are in grid action here this aft, it is the least we can do to rally the big-shouldered home boys with a battle song. Like this:

* * * * * *

Now Oakville has battlers like Ivan Skavar,
Who show absolutely no fear,
But the Panthers are tough and often quite rough
Just like Abul the Bulbul Ameer.

In the back div. are Freddy with Russ, Doug and Spike,
Up front huskies like Beatty and Lech,
With Curtin and Coughlin, McGillis and Fitz,
Trimm, Conlin, Smith and Ouimet.

When Saturday's shadows creep over the field
And the fumbles and fights are forgot,
Here let it be said (hope our face isn't red):
The Panthers have clinched second spot.

Marines Get Ready

Outboard Marines' male cagers have re-organized for the hoop season with these officers in: Hon. President, Hugh Campbell; president, Pete McArthur; first vice-prexy, Walter Ward; second vice—H. Correll; secretary-treasurer, Errol Hanbidge; manager, Bill Kemp; coach, Al Clark; assistant coach, Joe Stewart. Later two team representatives will be named to sit in at executive meetings. Open practices for the intermediate "A" team are being held henceforth Tuesday nights in the "Y" and Thursday evenings at the Collegiate gym.

* * * * * *

Ever since Don Hendren came out with his criticism of use of a water bottle by athletes, we've noticed more and more of the important clubs here going in for use of paper cups. Senior ball club chaps began doing it on their own—drinking water from the paper cups after dipping it out of a pail. Petes' lacrossers also went in for this more sanitary method. And we note a nifty portable water tank and tap used by the Panthers with a supply of paper cups attached. Other clubs may be doing likewise but, in any case, some good has been accomplished locally by Hendren's action.

Right Back At 'Em

And it comes about that the second game of the all-Ontario lacrosse finals for the Levack Trophy will be staged at 8.30 tonight in Miller Bowl, weather being right. On account of it is a best-in-three series, all games being played in Peter's borough. Third one, if necessary, here Monday. Should be a large turnout this p.m. as the hours of the gutted-stick game locally for this year of inflation are numbered—and the number is not high. The Petes hope to wind it up in two straight.

* * * * * *

It could be that the Windsorites, having found their legs after that 300-mile hike, might be exceedingly tough in tonight's tilt. They finished stronger than the Creighton crew last night, though losing 16-10. By quarters it was 3-1, 3-1 and 9-2 for the Petes — that big drive in the third spelling the difference—and then 6-1 for Windsor in the fourth. While the Petes always, except near the end, looked a bit better, we didn't see any big margin in play. The locals clicked better, while the losers were in there all the time but not scoring. They're plenty fast and rugged enough, and they've played lacrosse before.

* * * * * *

Petes Clicked Okay

Mick Magee turned in a fine game on the attack and defensively, as did Rowan Chute. Terry Gordon was another high scorer, while the Vitarelli brothers, Curly Warren and Em Creighton did their share. Whole team worked well and the good-sized crowd (despite the chill air) enjoyed the go. It was speedy and pretty clean. Joe Murphy and Lew Vipond handled it well and didn't let any grudges build up into fights. Ladouceur, Ross, Muchesna and Cato caught our eye for the visiting squad. They have a good outfit but we think the senior "B" champs can take 'em two in a row. We hope.

Sullivan Gets 3 of 4 Goals For St. Kitts

By The Canadian Press

The Ontario Hockey Association got away in a cloud of penalties Friday night, with two senior and two junior A games scheduled.

In the senior series, Hamilton Tigers beat Owen Sound Mercurys 9-5 and Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen edged Stratford Indians 3-1. In junior games St. Catharines Teepees beat Galt Rockets 4-3 in overtime and Barrie Flyers shaded Oshawa Generals 7-6.

Despite gaps in their ranks, Tigers showed the form that won them the championship last year. Their front line of Clare Shillington, Johnny Conick and Tommy Smelle got six of their nine goals—Shillington a goal and fiveassists, Conick four goals and an assist and Smelle a goal and four assists.

Miocinovich, Liscombe and A. Smelle each added a goal while Favero, with two, Burlington, White and Gillespie scored for Owen Sound.

13 Penalties

Thirteen penalties were handed out in the first period of the Kitchener-Stratford battle. Hurst notched one for the Dutchmen in the first and Dziura made it 2-0 early in the second before Roth got Indians only score. Don Bauer scored in the final half of the period to put the game away.

It was practically a one-man victory for young George Sullivan as St. Catharines beat Galt. He got three of the four goals—including the winning overtime marker after eight minutes of extra time—and assisted Jack McIntyre on the fourth.

Ron Bell, Bill Hartsburg and Jack Needham got the Galt counters.

Trailing Barrie the first half of the game, Oshawa tied it 5-5 at the end of the second and moved ahead on Montgomery's goal early in the final period. But Gord Pennell got his second goal of the night and Sid McNabney got another to win.

Gary Gordon with two, and Don Ashbee and Paul Meger got the other Barrie goals while Dusty Blair, Jake Jankowski, Dick Gamble, Ted O'Connor, and Frank Sullivan also scored for Oshawa.

THE KING HAD two winners at Ascot track recently, "Young Entry" easily held off "Reine des Etoiles," while "Berrylands," who is likely to be the King's chief classic representative next season, fluently captured the Duke of Edinburgh's Stakes. Have 3 New Series In Juvenile Hockey

TORONTO, Oct. 16.—(CP). — Jack L. Christie, secretary of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association, Friday announced that the Association will operate three new series—Juvenile D, Midget D and Bantam D—during the 1948-49 season.

Teams in the new series will be restricted to municipalities with a population of approximately 1,000 or less, using hometown players only. A team formed by the amalgamation of two centres will not be eligible.

As a result of the new series the C series will be the lowest group for teams made up of players from more than one municipality. The new D series is expected to meet with popular approval.

Two Thousand Attend Ceremony As Marmora District Rink Opens

MARMORA, Oct. 16.—(ENS).—It was a gala occasion Friday night for more than 2,000 residents of Marmora and district who turned out for the dedication and official opening of the Dr. Hamilton Crawford Arena.

Many visitors who have watched the progress of the big venture with marked interest were former residents whose family physician was for years the retired doctor whose life and labors are now strikingly commemorated.

The spacious arena was fitted for the occasion with a gaily decorated stage.

Bernard W. Hughes, chairman of the general committee was MC. In his remarks, he mentioned that 10 members of Dr. Crawford's family were present and expressed regret that Mrs. Crawford could not attend. He mentioned that the rink committee was organized on April 22 and in less than six months the project had practically been completed. He paid a tribute to the contractors who had undertaken the work and reminded the gathering that the arena was owned by the people of the district.

His closing words were: "Look after this arena as you would your personal property and see that it is not abused.

Tribute to Committee

William Shannon, vice-chairman of the general committee, paid tribute to Bernard Hughes for his work as chairman.

A. F. Fraser, treasurer, testified to the splendid co-operation. He said that there had been 532 subscribers with a total subscription of $30,958.88. Unpaid instalments amounted to $2,966.50.

R. E. Neal, secretary, referred to the effort which had been put forth. He ended with a message to the boys and girls: "The building and effort has taken a lot of hard work and money. Use it as your own home. Preserve it to hand down to others as a fine heritage."

Warden G. West of Hastings county, on behalf of his village Madoc, and on behalf of the county, extended congratulations. He considered such a recreation centre was needed in every community. He hoped the committee would be encouraged and helped in furthering the venture.

Reeve C. H. Buskard of Deloro, paid tribute to the work done by the committee.

Reeve John A. Bell of Marmora and Lake township, brought good wishes from his municipality.

Reeve John Morrison of Rawdon township, in his greetings, declared it was "a wonderful thing for Marmora and district to have such a rinnk.

Plaque Unveiled

The dedication of the arena and unveiling of the plaque was by Reeve Vincent M. Lynch of Marmora village. He extended a welcome to the gathering. He expressed thanks to the committee, those who assisted, the contributors and the contractors. He said that the dedication of the arena was one of the most outstanding events in the history of the district. A recreational centre as a symbol of respect for Dr. Crawford's work was a fitting one indeed, he said. He then presented his hearers with a graphic picture of the years of Dr. Crawford's professional life.

"Let us always look upon this building," he urged, "with the memory in our hearts of the faithful service of Dr. Crawford."

Addressing the honored guest, he said: "May God bless you for your long and faithful service and grant you and Mrs. Crawford many years of happ life in your retirement."

He unveiled the plaque and read its inscription: "The Dr. Hamilton Crawford Arena. This structure built as a community effort by the citizens of the Marmora district is dedicated to the 35 years of faithful and outstanding service given them by Dr. Hamilton Crawford. October, 1948."

Ovation For the Doctor

Dr. Crawford, speaking after the great ovation accorded him, said briefly that he did not know whether he ever lived up to the good name that the Reeve had given him. After his 35 years, the event of that evening was his greatest thrill. His concluding words were: "Thanks to you all and may God bless every one of you."

His daughter, Miss Grace Crawford, then declared the arena to be officially opened, following which she was presented with a bouquet of roses by little Anne Mae Archer. The other members of Dr. Crawford's family who were present were then introduced by the chairman, namely Dr. W. J. Bryant and Mrs. W. J. Bryant, Kirkland Lake; Thomas Crawford and Miss Pheobe Lee, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. James Denike, Brighton; Mrs. Dorothy Bridges, Boston.

Further greetings were heard from J. A. Paquet for Alan Scott, managing director of the Deloro Smelting and Refining Company. He conveyed the sincere congratulations of the company to the community for what had been accomplished.

Rev. Father H. J. Farrell paid a tribute to all who were responsible for the realization of hopes for such a centre. It had been a work of pure philanthrophy and it was the duty of the citizens to thank the workers whole-heartedly. Father Farrell testified to the wonderful spirit existing in Marmora among all classes and after adding his tribute to others paid Dr. Crawford, called upon the young people to show themselves worthy of what had been done for them. You are the children of our choosing. This is our heritage to you."

Rev. J. M. Brownlie mentioned that Dr. Crawford and others of his profession had devoted their lives to a good cause. The arena was not only a place to see a hockey game. The young folk should enter into the purposes for which it was erected and make themselves athletes and not mere spectators on the sidelines.

Rev. G. D. Young said the dedication of the arena was symbolic of a thoughtful community. It was theirs to enjoy. The utmost should be done towards making the arena a place where physique and character were developed.

Cheque For $2,500

George White, MP, touched upon the work done by the churches, homes and schools for the betterment of youth and said it was the duty of every community to fill in any gaps that might be left open by any of these institutions. He hoped the arena would have a successful financial season.

Elmer Sandercock, MPP, said he realized the courage it had taken to undertake such a project and finished his speech by handing the chairman a cheque for $2,500 half of the grant given by the Department of Agriculture for the project.

George Brooks presented crests to the players of winning hockey teams, junior and senior, of Marmora Kinsmen's Hockey League 1948.

Entertainment was provided by Toronto artists.

Here And There In Sports . . .

BY CANADIAN PRESS

Professional hockey would make a fine career for any youngster, Conn Smythe, managing director of the Toronto Maple Leafs claimed Friday.

He said there were lots of kids who wouldn't go pro because of rumors that there was no future in it.

"Professional players can take every cent they get and parlay it on whatever they want. They have no expenses—they don't have to pay a nickel for anything.

"There are hundreds of jobs in pro hockey today and we can't fill them."

One person he couldn't tempt was his former star centre, Syl Apps. Smythe said he told Apps to "write his own ticket" as far as salary went this year, but Apps decided to stay in retirement.

"He could have continued on his own terms," Smythe said.

Citation and eight other horses take off today for the $100,000 Empire City gold cup, but the chief interest in the race is whether the great Calumet Farm champion can handle two European invaders. He's beaten everything sent against him in the States. The invaders are: the Agha Khan's Irish-bred Nathoo and Jean Nys' Bayeux, twice winner of the Vase D'Or—the Belgian gold cup.

Eddie Arcaro, top U.S. jock will be aboard Citation who has beaten all his American opponents at one time or another.

St. Louis police were told Friday to arrest Mort Cooper, 34-year-old former St. Louis Cardinals right-hander, on a charge of passing worthless cheques. A hotel said Cooper had cashed two worthless cheques for $50 each and efforts to have him make good had been unsuccessful.

Cooper retired last year after 10 years in the National league In 1942 he was named the most valuable player in the league.

The New York Yankees Friday unconditionally released George McQuinn, 37-year-old first baseman. He was picked up as a free agent in 1947 and helped the Yanks to the pennant last year.

Last year's Memorial Cup winners, Port Arthur Bruins, Friday night beat Montreal Nationales 5-4 in an exhibition junior game. It was the third straight win for Bruins and the first defeat in three starts for Montreal.

New York Daily News says Bucky Harris will manage Detroit Tigers in 1949 if owner Walter O. Briggs "gives his okay."

Staff writer Joe Trimble said Walter (Spike) Briggs, Jr., son of the Detroit owner, "has convinced his dad that a change in field leadership is necessary."

Jerry owned and driven by Eddie Cobb of Washington Court House, Ohio, Friday won both ends of the feature Aurora Downs pacing derby and the major portion of a $10,000 divided purse The pacer did the mile heat in 2:07 1-5.

Desperate Beaches-Indians Get 7 Touchdowns To Win

By The Canadian Press

Their back to the wall, Toronto Beaches Indians Friday night won the game they had to win.

They rolled up a seven-touchdown 42-3 victory over the weakened Windsor Rockets and took the inside track in the playoff race from Sarnia Imperials.

Sarnia faces two clashes with the leading Hamilton Tigers while Toronto has one more game with Windsor. The final Oct. 29 game between Sarnia and Beaches Indians should decide the second playoff spot in the Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union.

Beaches playoff hopes would be dulled, however, if Sarnia upsets the Tigers in Hamilton today.

Beaches Indians were one of three Canadian senior teams facing possible elimination this week-end. The others—Montreal Alouettes of the Interprovincial Union and Saskatchewan Roughriders of the Western Conference—need wins today to keep even fighting chances of the finals.

Windsor— weakened by injuries and a flock of players who missed the game for a lacrosse playoff—were no match for the desperate Toronto club.

Seven Touchdowns

The Beaches went for seven touchdowns, three of them converted, and four single points. Tommy Ford, Doug Pyzer and Johnny Dunlop each went over twice and Garry Smith got the seventh. Bill Douglas kicked three singles; Ford, Pyzer and Sam Hollingsworth scored converts and Smith kicked a fourth single.

They struck right from the first kick and never relaxed their attack. Windsor's only score was a 27-yard last-quarter field goal by Del Willick.

But the Toronto triumph could be marred today by a Sarnia victory. Sarnia, in second place one point ahead of Toronto, will be trying to hand Tigers their first loss after six straight wins.

The crippled Toronto Argonauts invade Ottawa today to meet the Rough Riders, top club in the Big Four. Montreal Alouettes need a win over Hamilton Wildcats in Montreal Sunday to help them catch the second-place Argos.

In the Senior Intercollegiate circuit, Queen's plays at Varsity with both teams seeking their first win of the year. University of Western Ontario Mustangs will be after their 24th straight victory when they play McGill Redmen at Montreal.

Success on your new venture, "Ted"

Ted Moore Buys Service Station

New owner of the Sunoco Service Station at Monaghan Road and Chamberlain St. is Ted Moore, a native of Peterborough and an experienced garageman. The station will be know as Ted Moore's Tire and Battery Exchange and will give specialist services along those lines. General garage service will also be given.

Ted Moore, a young married man with a two-year-old son, has had wide experience in the type of service available to the public at his new establishment. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ayden Moore, he was born in Peterborough where he went to school.

He worked for a year as a machinist in the Peterborough plant of Johnson Motors.

During the recent war, he served overseas for four years with the Princess Pats Light Infantry. He was wounded in Italy in 1944 and was in hospital in Italy and England for more than a year before his discharge in May, 1945.

For two years he was associated as service manager with a garage operated by a brother in Delhi, Ont.

The station which he will operate was bought from Les Cowling, who had operated it since 1943. Previous owners had been Bernie Rogers and Roy Byers.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH, WITH Prince Philip at her side, happily waves to the crowds upon her arrival at London, after an extensive holiday in Scotland. She is now at Buckingham Palace, where she awaits the arrival of her baby sometime in November. A "security guard" shrouds in secrecy the details of the layette that Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip have chosen for their child.

Likes Audiences In Canada, Very Receptive

By PAT USSHER.

NEW YORK, Oct. 16 — (CP)— Richard Aldrich, producer of "Good-bye My Fancy," says he is opening the comedy next week in London, Ont., because he likes Canadian audiences.

"They are very receptive, eager and enthusiastic; not as worn and weary as audiences in Boston and other cities in the United States," he said. And he predicted many more shows in future will have their initial try-outs in Canadian cities.

Aldrich added that he chose London's Grand Theatre for the Fay Kanin play's world premiere October 21 "because London is a very theatre-conscious town and the London Little Theatre is one of the best-operated Little Theatres in Canada."

Charley With Music

That old trouper, "Charley's Aunt,'" came back to town this week, in the guise of a musical, aided by the antics of Ray Bolger and retitled "Where's Charley?" One of the best things about it is the presence of Allyn McLerie, playing opposite Bolger, who comes rfom Grand 'Mere, Que. Miss McLerie dances delightfully, has a pleasant singing voice, and a generally pleasing stage personality.

Miss McLerie caught the eye of the critics with her performance. John Lardner in the Star described her as "a poker-faced ingenue, a good light comedy singer and a warm and graceful dancer." Robert Coleman of the Mirror hailed her as "delightful and versatile.'" John Chapman of the News commended her for "the ability of a good straight comedienne"; and columnist Leonard Lyons in the New York Post called her "Broadway's newest sensation."

Vaudeville De Luxe

"Love Life," Cheryl Crawford's new musical at the Forty-sixth Street Theatre, is good entertainment and seems certain to be among the season's stayers.

There is not much story, for "Love Life" is a series of self-contained incidents supposed to trace the course of marriage in the United States since colonial times. But the Kurt Weill-Alan Jay Lerner songs are pleasant, even if they are not best-seller calibre, and the between-act skits are fun.

Mlissa Hayden, Toronto dancer formerly with the Ballet Theatre, is in the chorus and appears to advantage in several scenes.

Use Washing Machine For Flash Floods

LINDSAY, Oct. 16.—(CP). — Prof. John D. Detweiler of the University of Western Ontario finally overcame the water shortage at the international plowing match with an assist from a washing machine company and an electrician.

The Lonodon professor set up a miniature river valley but at first found it impossible to demonstrate flood control and soil conservation principles after the plowing match waterworks broke down.

The washing machine firm and the electrician came to his rescue. The company set up a large tank capable of producing flash floods and imitating the effect of heavy rainfall on bare soil or on sodded covered land. The electrician set up a pressure pump to drive the water through jets above the model river valley.

With the floods and the rain equipment going full blast, Prof. Detweiler was able to finish his demonstration at the match in fine style.

Teachers Meet At Bancroft

BANCROFT, Oct. 16—(ENS)—The North Hastings teachers' convention which was held in Bancroft on Oct. 7 and 8 featured three guests speakers, W. E. Edwards, zone forester, Quinte division, Department of Lands and Forests of Napanee; H. K. Hutton, extension director of Queen's University of Kingston, and Ronald C. Ward, Eastern Ontario supervisor for the National Film Board of Peterborough. Besides the speakers the program included group conferences, general discussions, book displays and brief talks by the local teachers.

On display were the Hotel Bancroft trophy for soccer and Wiggins brothers trophy for hockey. Although all elementary schools are eligible for these awards, last year there was competition only from a number of units from the village of Bancroft. Although no definite plans were made there was a general discussion re enlarging the extra-curricular sports program so that it would include all schools.

Donald W. Simpson, BA, who succeeded Mr. H. H. Loucks as public school inspector for North Hastings and formerly of Brampton was officially welcomed.

Mr. H. A. Fentie of Maynooth was elected president for the 1948-49 session replacing Mr. J W. C. Hutton of Bancroft.

Law in the Bible

ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

Scripture—Leviticus 19:1-18; Deuteronomy 5-6; Matthew 22:34-40.

One of the laws God gave to His people through Moses was that when they reaped they should not gather the gleanings; and when they gathered their grapes they should leave some for the poor and strangers.

Moses called the people of Israel together and read them the law given by God for their guidance as He talked to them out of the fire on Mt. Sinai, while Moses stood between them and the Lord, as they were afraid.

The people were to remember that it was God who brought them out of bondage in Egypt, and that they should worship Him only, and not bow down before graven images or likenesses of anything on earth or in the sea.

Jesus was asked by a lawyer, "What is the great commandment of the law" To love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, Jesus answered, and to love thy neighbour as thyself.

MEMORY VERSE—Matt. 22:39.

All People Live According To Some Set of Rules

Deuteronomy 5-6; Matthem 22: 34-40.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

We all live according to law—the child in the schoolroom; the adult in the city, town, or in whatever part of the country he resides; the worker or business man or woman the laws of the organization for which they work.

There also are state laws, federal laws and international laws. International laws are not set down in books, but there is a world-wide understanding of what they are, and nations usually obey them.

When a child disobeys the laws of home and school, he is punished. When adults ignore the law of city, state or federal government, they are called criminals and retribution follows. When nations disregard the international laws, they are called barbarians and are censured by other nations.

In the Bible we are told that God spoke directly to man and laid down the laws that were to govern his conduct. The Lord gave to Moses the Ten Commandments and most minute instructions concerning the duties of His people in every walk of life and association with others of their kind.

MEMORY VERSE

"Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself." —Matthew 22:39.

These laws may be divided into two groups—civil and ceremonial laws. The civil laws related to all matters concerning social relations, property, etc., while the ceremonial laws set the rules for temple observations, feast and fast days, etc.

The laws the Lord gave Moses were all concluded with the statement, "I am the Lord you God." In Leviticus 19:9, we read, "And when ye reap the harvest of your land, thou shalt not wholly reap the corners of thy field, neither shall thou gather the gleaning of thy harvest. And thou shalt not glean thy vineyard, neither shalt thou gather the fallen fruit of thy vineyard; thou shalt leave them for the poor and for the sojourned (or stranger). I am Jehovah your God."

In our modern world the poor and strangers (who, according to the law could have no legal claim to land in Israel) are taken care of by the authorities in the part of the country in which they live or visit, or by organizations, such as the various community funds and other institutions to which we all contribute.

This law given to the Israelites covered the three chief products of their labors, the grain, the grapes from their vines and friut from their trees—largely the olive trees which often were planted in the vineyards.

"Thou shalt not oppress thy neighbor, nor rob him; the wages of a hired servant shall not abide with thee all right until the morning." In those days, according to the law, a worker was to be paid at the end of each day, as he probably would need the money to buy necessities. We do not follow this law today, but the principle stays, so that a man may demand his wages when they are due.

A most interesting law that God gave Moses was the one where we read, "Thou shalt not curse the deaf, nor put a stumbling block before the blind; but thou shalt fear they God." To most of us—even those who are not regarded as model citizens—to curse or berate the deaf or to mistreat the blind would be unthinkable.

"Thou shalt not go up and down as a talebearer among thy people," was another law given by God which more or less hits at all of us. Slander, it has been said, kills three persons in one act, the person who slanders, the person slandered, and the one who listens to it. How many thousands of innocent people's lives and characters have been destroyed by tale-bearing!

This writer would specially emphasize this fault—or sin—in which we all indulge, we fear, from childhood to old age, although we may mean no harm. Gossip—unless it is "golden gossip," which means saying good about everyone instead of evil—is a pernicious habit.

"Thou shalt not hate thy brother in thy heart; thou shalt surely rebuke they neighbor, and not bear sin because of him. Thou shalt not take vengeance, nor bear any grudge against the children of thy people; but thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself."

Summing up the laws God gave the Hebrew people, we refer to Matthew 22, where it is related that whenthe Pharisees found that the Lord had silenced the Sadducees in their attacks on Him they egged a lawyer on to ask Him directly, "Which is the great commandment in the law?"

Jesus' answer was immediate and final: 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart . . .thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets."

VOL. XCVII, No. 87 — SATURDAY, OCTOBER 16, 1948

M. B. Chenhall Retires From St. Paul's

Martin B. Chenhall, ARCO, for the past 27 years organist and choir master of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, completes on Sunday his services. Early this year Mr. Chenhall submitted his resignation due to ill health but promised to carry on until his successor was named.

Through those 27 years Mr. Chenhall has given unstintly of his talents. Besides his services to the congregation he was for years pianist for the Kiwanis Club, organist for several lodges, directed operas for the student body of the Collegiate Institute and conducted the productions of several light operas sponsored by the Men's Asociation and choir of St. Paul's. Twenty years ago he won outstanding success as director of the Peterborough Male Voice Choir whose series of concerts were climaxed with a trip to New York and competition in the music festival. His choir won third place only a few points behind the winning Baltimore organization.

Christopher Gledhill, MA, Mus. Bac. Oxon has arrived in Peterborough and will assume his new duties on Sunday, Oct. 24. Mr. Gledhill at the time of his appointment to St. Paul's was a musical director at the Royal Naval College, Dartmouth, England. He is considered an outstanding organist and pianist and has given concerts in both Europe and South Africa.

Owing to the death of Mrs. Mildred Elizabeth Kearns the office of the Superior Letter Service will be closed until Wednesday, October 20th.

Start Power Cuts In Rural Areas MondayMorning

Peterborough's rural area faces itsf irst power cuts during the current shortage starting on Monday and continuing throughout weekdays "until further notice." The announcement by Hydro authorities said that the cuts are necessary because the quota in the rural area is not being met by voluntary savings of the consumers.

The cuts will come from 9 to 10 o'clock in the mornings and from 5 to 5.30 in the afternoons.

Among those affected will be the recently annexed part of North Monaghan, now nominally a part of the city, but still connected to the Hydro's rural setup.

Radio Station CHEX, whose transmitter is outside the city, will be hit.

Stores Re-open Wed. Mornings

Peterborough's electric power peak for September was 25,000 horse power as compared with 23,300 horse power last year, R. L. Dobbin, manager, reported to the Utilities Commission Friday.

Howard Clegg, accountant, remarked that "there is a big increase in new business". Much of it is domestic, as new houses are occupied.

"The increase of 1700 hp is not so much as other months of this year have shown," Mr. Dobbin continued.

The Commission expressed hope that the people of Peterborough would continue their co-operation in saving power. This present week had not created any sense of self-satisfaction. The average power total for the week, Monday to Friday inclusive, does not invite excess confidence about the future, for the reason that Monday was a holiday, all the retail stores but one closed all day Wednesday, and Western Clock Co. and Nashua Paper Co. were shut down Tuesday.

Next week will impose a closer average of consumption for the approaching period. There is no holiday, and all the retail stores will be open Wednesday morning.

Woolworth store, it was reported, remained open last Wednesday morning, and since then other stores, one by one, have informed the Commission that unless this action was adopted by every store, without exception, they were abandoning their voluntary closing.

Gordon S. Matthews, chairman, said he understood the Business Men's Association were announcing that they would be open for business next Wednesday morning.

UNDER POWER QUOTA

Electric power use here Friday was 232,000 kwh, or 8,000 under the Hydro quota. According to Utilities Commission figures the average for this week, Monday to Friday, has been 225,600-kwh, or 15,000 under the quota.

Two Piano Team Acclaimed In First Radio Broadcast

Peterborough's first Two-Piano team, Gwen Craw and Charles Allen, will be heard in their second radio program over radio station CHEX at 5:30 p.m. Sunday. The first of this series was presented last Sunday and has received much favorable comment. Sponsored by The Examiner in the interests of music appreciation and better music in Peterborough, Mrs. Craw and Mr. Allen will lead off their Sunday's program with the Bourree, Air and Hornpipe from Handel's "Water Music." The suite was composed for a royal entertainment to be held in barges on the Thames River, London, England. The music was performed as a surprise for King George I and his guests. It is in the form of a serenade and scarcely requires analysis. It is sometimes solemn, sometimes naive and always lovely.

Other numbers on the program will be Boccherini's "Minuet" Boccherini, an 18th century composer, wrote a great deal of excellent music but is best known through his well loved and stately "Minuet"; Carl Parrish's "Valse Viennoise"; Vincent Youman's "Tea for Two" and "The Keel Row" an 18th century Northumbrian folk tune by Thomas Austen.

The duet or four-hand number will be Mozart's 'Sonata in B Flat Major". Mozart was a most prolific writer of four-hand music for one piano and he wrote some of his greatest works for this medium.

CGE Cuts Demand Using Steam Turbine

"We are very glad to be able to report that our power saving is more than twice what your commission asked for. We shall continue to hold our load to a minimum."

That paragraph is quoted from a letter received by the Utilities Commission Friday afternoon from Mr. Ian McRae, works manager of Canadian General Electric Company. The Commission asked for a 20% cut in kilowatt-hours consumption.

"For the period Sept. 22 to Sept. 30, inclusive (Mon. to Fri.) we averaged a reduction of 22% and for the period Oct. 1 to Oct. 12, inclusive, we have averaged a reduction of 45½%, or 221,976 kwh, for October to date.

We have achieved these results by (a) the utilization of our steam turbine to its full capacity. So far in October we have produced 180,000 kwh; (b)—shutting off lights and idle motors; (3) shifting of furnace and oven loads from day to midnight shift.

We feel that the substantial reductions obtained have been of material benefit to the Peterborough Utilities Commission in their endeavor to keep within the allowed quota, and we shall continue to aid your Commission to the limit of our ability. It is realized that other industries are not so fortunately situated, in that they must obtain their total power requirements from your lines, whereas we are able to produce more than half our total requirements in our own power-houses."

This letter tells its own story of assisting the community in the general effort to avoid Hydro cutoffs, and will presumably be an encouragement to housewives and commercial interests to sharpen their vigilance of power consumption and particularly to prevent waste.

STILL BLOOMING

Salvias were still blooming today after that fairly heavy frost Friday night. They have grown to unusual height this year and are laden with bloom. An attractive bed is right in the centre of the city, on the south side of Simcoe St., opposite Peterborough Lock Company's plant. Another is at the corner of Townsend and Stewart Sts.

MAIN ST. TOPICS

DEER AT WARKWORTH

Two full grown deer were seen this week by Ewart Huycke and his son Robert near a field of their home at Warkworth. The two were digging potatoes when they spotted the animals about 25 yards away.

FLOWERING ISLAND

The island of Dr. V. Onorotas at Jack's Lake is still a spot of floral beauty, this week. Charles Smith, who has the cultivation of the flower beds, distributed beautiful bouquets from the beds on Friday in Apsley.

JUNIOR JAM

It looked like juvenile traffic jam day Friday afternoon on Charlotte St. Lined in front of two stores on the south side were no less than 38 baby carriages. At least half the occupants were lustily proclaiming their dissatisfaction with the autumn air while mothers shopped.

LEG BROKEN

William Bishop, Marmora truck driver, suffered a broken left leg Friday while working at Malone on the property of William Long. Assisting with skidding a log, he was struck by it. Brought to Marmora, he was later taken to hospital at Belleville where the leg was set.

FISHING SEASON OVER

Open season bass and pickerel ended Friday night at midnight. Lake trout fishing ended Oct. 5, and Maskinonge fishing on Oct. 1. No angling is allowed in the counties of Northumberland, Durham, Peterborough or Victoria until next May 1.

PICKED RASPBERRIES

Mrs. J. H. Lalonde, Campbellford was visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Armstrong, Indian River recently. She noticed berries in the garden and had no trouble getting a bowl full of the red raspberries.

WINDSTORM DAMAGE

A heavy windstorm this week, with heavy rain, played havoc with the kitchen roof of R. M. Potter, Warkworth. It was ripped off and a deluge of rain entered the room. Fences were thrown over, the wagon rack lifted and set down some feet away. The wagon was turned around by the force of the wind.

BUY PUMP SET

An Ingersoll-Rand pumping set for the city waterworks, costing $9,418, has been ordered by the Utilities Commission. Many months may pass before delivery. The unit was found necessary to supply the increasing consumption of water. The bid was the lowest of four.

JACKSON PARK GOLD

There may be more beautiful woodland scenery Sunday afternoon than Jackson Park, but you might head that way to scuff among the leaves if the day is inviting A high bank of white birch and poplar gives the appearance of a house of gold, wonderful light and also lightness of atmosphere.

NOVEL SPEAKING DEVICE

Ian McRae, works manager of the CGE, hit upon a novel way of leaving a parting message with the group of more than 100 apprentices who attended the annual banquet on Friday night. He stopped his prepared speech and circulated envelopes to each guest, and then he gave the word to open them. The envelopes contained two cards. On one was printed "Think," and on the other "I Am A Canadian." "Put them in your breast pocket for future use," he said.

I. McRae Tells Apprentices To Aim High

More than 100 CGE apprentices and recent graduate attended the fifth annual apprentice banquet on Friday night at the Kawartha Club. A special award to the top first year men went to Bob Soles, from switchgear Maurice Harris and Douglas Baker, first and second year men, respectively, also were prize winners, having best marks inn drafting and night school work.

In a brief address, Ian McRae, works manager, referred to the young men as "the business leaders and industrial leaders of tomorrow." He called on them to aim at his position and stated that "the ambition to progress is one of the things you should have at all times."

"Your future is what you make it," he said. And he contended that there is no lack of opportunity in the world today; more than 17,000 different ways of earning a living have been counted on this continent.

"Opportunities today are many times more plentiful than in the days of our grandfathers," he said. "This is particularly true in the case of good leaders. Today in the Peterborough plant we are looking for new leaders, and we are looking for you to supply this demand."

"I ask you to aim high," he continued. "In the long run you only hit what you aim at. Aim for may job. It took me 16 years and some of you are well on your way now."

"Today is the time for sound and clear thinking—in our homes, our city, our country and the world. It is time we thought and believed in ourselves," said Mr. McRae.

While conceding that everyone is disturbed by the condition of the world today he cautioned against pessimism. And he quoted from a 90-year-old editorial that spoke of "the dark cloud" of Russia and the precarious state of the peace in Europe generally.

Urges Loyalty

Strongly emphasizing the value of loyalty in these unsettled times he said "the world today is changing. Queer plans are being expounded and it is time we did our own thinking. We hear queer ideologies; a chicken in every pot and no work five days in the week. It is time we thought and acted. It is time for loyalty to our family, our city and our country."

"Each social group—producer, distributor and consumer— must have its full contribution, he said

"You prosper by giving a little more than you get," he advised "You can be paid in this world only for what you produce for the world, and you will go as far and as fast as your ability will let you."

Mr. McRae was introduced by the chairman, L. J. Sparrow, supervisor of apprentices, and he was thanked on behalf of the apprentices by Bruce Butler.

The speaker said that this year there were 113 apprentices in the Peterborough plant which he described their course as the largest of its kind in Canada today Of this number 35 have completed their apprenticeship and will now go on to become experts in their particular field.

Five recent graduate apprentices were presented with framed certificates by Mr. McRae. They were Joseph Dundas, machine fitter; Kenneth George Dormer, machinist; Richard Mercer, machine fitter, and Edward Foster, machine fitter.

William Barnacal, general superintendent, presented Bob Soles with a tool box as a special award for first year apprentices. And Gordon R. Langley, works manager, gave drafting sets to Maurice Harris and Douglas Baker for highest marks in their respective years.

After the banquet an evening of entertainment followed. Two colored pictures were shown

NEW WATER MAIN installation being installed by the Public Utilities Commission started this week. It will take one year to lay and hook up 9,000 feet of 24-inch line from the pump house of the Filtration Plant to the corner of Bennett and Bethune Sts. New 9,000 Ft. Water Main Underway In North End

Public Utilities Commission started their large project this week as materials arrived for their new water main installation that was financed earlier in the year by a $100,000 debenture issue. Before the 9,000-foot line is completed, about a year from now another financial arrangement in the like amount will have to be made.

Large sections of piping 24 inches in diameter are being delivered from the manufacturing plants in large trailer trucks that dump the pipe along the site of the proposed line which starts at the Filtration Plant pump house and worms along the high ridge west of Water St., to a junction in the city system at Bennett and Bethune Sts.

Except for a hoe digging shovel that drives the deep trenches across the fields and hills, the Utilities is using its own equipment. On Friday about 100 feet of trenching had been dug, pipe lengths laid in position and a crew of workmen were filling the pipe joints with a sand-graphite-sulpher compound called leadite that will seal the seams permanently against either extreme heat or cold conditions of the ground. It is not likely that such good progress will be made when the line starts crossing streets the engineers thought, but in the main, the new 24-inch line will be delivering additional water to the existing system in twelve months and the bill for it all will have to be borne by city water users.

CBC To Present Davies' Play

The CBC's "Stage 49" production at 10 o'clock on Sunday night over radio station CBL will be "Fortune, My Foe" adapted from a three-act play by Robertson Davies, editor of The Examiner. The adaptation for radio has been made by Lister Sinclair and the broadcast will be directed by Andrew Allan. "Fortune, My Foe" was first seen at Kingston in August, when it was presented for two weeks by Arthur Sutherland's International Players. It will be produced in December by the Ottawa Drama League and the Kitchener-Waterloo Little Theatre, and in January by the London Little Theatre.

The theme of the play is the attraction which the United States possesses for the young people of Canada. The conclusion which is reached is that only through considerable sacrifice of money and prestige by its young people can this country become great.

Water Heaters To Cost Less After November 1

Compensation for the cut-off of flat-rate Water heaters in the power emergency will be a reduction of 25% in the bills, the Utilities Commission decided Friday.

Hydro-Electric Commission had suggested a proportional allowance, the number of hours cut off during the month against the total number of hours' service. Their estimate of that percentage for a recent week was 22%, but the Commission adopted the round number of 25% for its convenience in bookkeeping, and in a wish to be considerate of the users of these heaters.

Commercial consumers receive immediate advantage, as from this date, and the domestic consumers will notice the reductions in the billing beginning Nov. 1.

On September 14 restrictions on the use of power were ordered by the HEPC, and we were given a maximum quota of 260,000 kwh. per day. On September 21 this was reduced to 240,000 kwh. per day.

With the co-operation of all classes of consumers, up to the end of the month we were able to reduce our consumption to an average of 262,400 kwh. for the five week days, and have made further reductions since.

We completed building circuits to supply the Brookdale and Cadverley Sub-divisions. There are 96 houses in these sections.

Rebuilding of lines on Aylmer Street from Brock to Dublin and other places was completed. 31 3-wire services were erected, and 8 2-wire, all for new houses. 33 additional flat rate water heaters were connected, making a total of 4,000 in the city, with a total load of 2,800 horsepower.

Waterworks Department

The pumpage for September was 139,167,000 gallons as compared with 127,706,000 last year. The increase was 400,000 gallons per day, reflecting the low precipitation during the month. There was ¼ inch of rainfall as compared with 2 inches in 1947.

The new siding was completed and has been in use frequently.

During the month 1,633 feet of 6" main and 52 services were constructed, completing the work to be done on Caddy and Beverley Streets. 399 feet of 6" main and 29 services were laid on Montgomery and Morphet Streets. On Rose Avenue 496 feet of 6" main was laid. This main, and a similar main on Wilson Avenue, will be used for 200 houses to be constructed this fall.

There were also 25 services constructed to serve individual houses in various locations.

Gas Department

Total gas made at the plant amounted to 5,942,000 cubic feet. All gas consumers have been visited once, and there are very few complaints now about the new gas."

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Ceiling Is Being Neglected In Building of Many Homes

What about ceilings this is a most significant question because at the present time it would appear that home owners are doing nothing with the ceiling at all. Floors get a lot of attention, not only in respect to the materials of which they are constructed, (such as wood, terrazo, tile, linoleum, etc.), but also in the matter of the materials that shall be used upon them—that is, floor coverings. But ceilings are neglected. Walls are treated in a score of interesting ways, with wood panelling, with painted murals, with glass blocks, with wallpaper, with plaster—even with the new synthetic materials! But none of these ever reaches the ceiling; the ceiling is left severely plain. Even the panels of doors are decorated to bring them into harmony with the design of the rest of the room.

Why is it that we neglect the ceiling? Is it that it shouldn't be decorated, or that it can't be decorated successfully? Or is it because the ceiling is so unimportant today that we hesitate to spend anything upon it ornamentation?

It wasn't always thus: In former days the ceiling was given even more attention than the four walls which support it. It was architecturally treated to have size and shape, and was cut into, or raised, or treated with surface embellishments, to give it perspective and the feeling of a third dimension. It was painted with scenes, it was covered with wonderful plaster work, it was beamed, it was grained, was arched at the corners, it was domed in the centre to give it outstanding decorative interest. But it was hardly ever left plain. Fine ceilings of this kind are still to be found in our big hotels, and in public buildings decorated in the traditional manner.

But in spite of this fine heritage of beauty and treatment, the ceiling today is neglected and left stark naked without a single motif of design anywhere on its generally white surface.

Not Expensive Job

It can't be that we neglect the ceiling solely because of expense. There are too many ways in which the ceiling can be treated inexpensively that this reason for neglecting the ceiling—if it were ever a reason—becomes ridiculous before it is advanced. Wallpaper is not expensive and there are hundreds of good wallpaper, designs that may be used for ceiling decorations. Water paints are not expensive, and there are scores of beautiful tints which may be used on the ceilings instead of the plain "whitewash" that is generally put upon it.

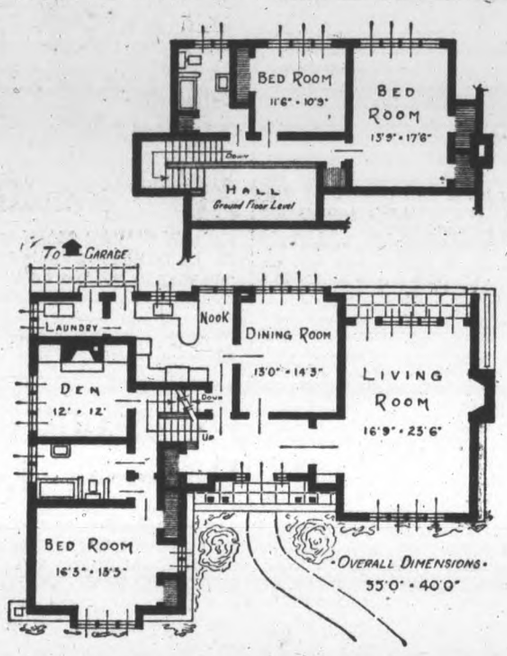
No, it is not only because of the expense that we continue to neglect the ceiling. There is some other reason. And so far as we can determine from interviewing many decorators it is more a matter of fashion than anything else.

A few years ago plain walls were all the vogue and nobody even attempted to decorate them. But walls today are being decorated with all kinds of colour and designs. Itis quite possible ceilings will now take a new lease on life.

We say that design on furniture, when it is excessive "gets in the way" and interfers with the function of the piece, is out of place. And perhaps it is. But design on the ceiling interferes with no function of a room; if it is bad design, it doesn't belong anywhere, least of all upon the ceiling.

Before the end of the century, innumerable fine ceiling papers were made. They were used by the old time "painters and decorators" to produce results that were both interesting and ornamental. They consisted of squares, circles, ovals, and architectural motifs in different colorings, and were carefully mitred to conform to the outline or shape of the ceiling. We have recently brought back into popular use a number of old Colonial papers, and have created fine rooms with them. It is high time that we also began reproducing some of the splendid old-time ceiling papers and start ushering in a new vogue for ceiling decoration.

The trouble with us today, in the decorative field, is that we are attempting to "streamline" everything and make it so plain and simple that it becomes cold and monotonous. We have reached a point where what we want is not less design but more design. And a good place to begin with design is on the ceiling.



HOUSE NO. 112—The architect here produces a pleasing modern effect using time-worn materials in a manner that stamps it as thoroughly Canadian. This design is completely in the spirit of today, yet in keeping with its more prosaic neighbors. Don't miss the entrance detail, with its appealing modern treatment. The low-sweeping roof is red, as is the brick work, while the vertical boards with beaded joints are painted white. A study of the floor plan reveals a huge living room with French doors to the terrace at the rear. Beside the usual rooms on the first floor we find a den with fireplace, bedroom and bath, and a laundry room. There are two bedrooms and a bath on the second floor. Raps Appalling Worldliness In Talk To Young People

Indifference to God and an "appalling worldliness" is the enemy facing the church today, an enemy "more deadly than downright atheism." This was the message of the Rev. Dr. E. Crossley Hunter of Trinity United Church, Toronto. Theme speaker at the 20th annual convention of the Bay of Quinte Young People's Union, he delivered his first of three theme addresses to a crowded St. James' United church Friday night.

"This is a time of unprecedented crisis in our world," he said, "and, as in politics, young people realize that it is no time for platitudes about God and His church. Young people by the thousands are determined in their course. There are many young people who think as you do, and the hope of the world lies in groups like this."

Mr. Hunter said that "the basic issue today" is "how to achieve spiritual unity." If this cannot be done, civilization is doomed, he warned. He pointed out that, by technilogical advances, we have now attained physical unity in the world—"this shrinking world" is now so small and closely-knit among its units that it often comes as a shock to us to realize just how interdependent we are on others who share it with us.

"It is not for us to say if we want to live in this kind of a world—science has decided that for us. It is here and we must accept it."

Thus, the speaker continued, we must have a union of spiritual values to match this physical unity.

Theme of the conference is from Hosea: "Break up your fallow ground . . . it is time to seek the Lord."

In his first address, Mr. Hunter dealt with the first part, "Break up your fallow ground. . . ."

As in the time when the prophet wrote, he said, this is a time when the world is forsaking its trust in God and placing it in alliances with military forces and balances of power.

Uselessness, he said, was a sin which Jesus sternly condemned many times in His teachings. Fallow ground is simply unused, idle ground, soil which could be producing.

"Today, we face something more deadly than downright atheism—indifference, an appalling worldliness. There is something which is more soul-destroying, subtle than actual disbelief—it is simply disinterest." This, he said, must be fought and overcome by youth.

"God is becoming unreal to so many people today—and if we lose that sense of God, we lose everything."

He told the young people that "our latent spiritual faculties" must be cultivated to the full.

"It is an inexorable law of life which Jesus taught in the parable of the hidden talent—use or lose," he emphasized.

3,447 Families Receive Ontario Boxes

The Personal Parcel Service to Great Britain reported to-day that 3,447 families have been taken over and are now being looked after monthly by individuals or organizations in Ontario. A check shows that 1,113 of those who have taken these families are not availing themselves of the method of shipping through the service's warehouse, that there are 640 families on the lists who have never received a parcel and 640 who have received only one. This was made possible by parcels coming into the warehouse not designated to any name. An effort is being made to have these families adopted by citizens or organizations and every family on the list receive a Christmas parcel.

Names may be secured at the Toronto Art Gallery, Dundas and Beverley Streets. The cost of shipping through this service is now 30 cents for a 10-pound package and 45 cents for a 15-pound one. There are 4,500 parcels needed by October 31.

Begin Campaign For Better Beer In Britain

By NORMAN CRIBBENS.

LONDON, Oct. 16 — (CP). — "Better beer for a better Britain" is the battle cry of the Pub Users' Protection Society, a lusty organization of 50,000 members now campaigning for more and for stronger beer in British taverns.

The society, founded in London 18 months ago, claims that "recurrent crises are closely linked with the decline in quality of the national drink" and says it is determined to "stop Britain going off the beer standard altogether."

These and many other pronouncements have roused the ire of temperance workers everywhre.

But Townley Searle, actor and writer, who is founder and president of the PUPS, treats such resistance with contempt. His belief in beer is such that he declares it "essential to the future of Britain as a world power."

"We keep a sharp watchout for any cheating by publicans in the way of raising prices or watering drinks," Searle said, "and where we have evidence that a publican is cheating we oppose renewal of his licence before the local magistrates."

To aid their research members carry a "beerometer," a setsquare which when laid across a tankard measures the collar of froth on top of the beer. For detecting if whisky or gin has been adulterated they use a tiny hydrometer of the kind employed in distilleries.

Mayor Says Town Council Not Going To Hell Regardless Of What Irate Clergyman Thinks

PORT HOPE, Oct. 16.—(ENS).—The burning question here these days is: Where is the town council going?

Apparently, at least one member of the clergy is under the impression that the august body of town fathers is heading straight to hell.

In council's meeting this week Mayor W. R. Jex rather disputed the alleged statement about the destination.

"A Gospel statement recently said the council was going to hell, or something like that," said His Worship. He was presumably referring to Rev. W. S. Winger, who was recently fined for creating a disturbance in the town by preaching in a loud voice in a gospel tent set up for the purpose of revival meetings. Mr. Winger returned to preach again last Sunday.

Defending the council against the accusation, the mayor pointed out that it had not been the council which had laid the complaint, but that the conviction had been obtained by police following vigorous complaints from residents near the tent.

"After all, we rent them the use of our town hall for their meetings. I don't think it's a good policy on their part to advertise us like they have," added Mr. Jex.

Movie Mother Finds It's 24-Hour Job

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 16 (AP)—Gladys O'Brien is a handsome, greying brunette with flashing eyes. Her daughter is a precocious million-dollar package named Margaret, not yet a dozen years old.

"The biggest problem for a screen mother," Mrs. O'Brien remarked, "is to keep the child from being spoiled. People think, 'Poor little girl, she works so hard,' and they tend to spoil her.

"However, the studio work itself is discipline, and that helps. Like all children, Margaret may argue, but she has never said 'I won't' to me yet. I don't know what I would do if she did."

Mrs. O'Brien was keeping a vigil outside her daughter's school room on "The Secret Garden" set. She is always nearby her famous charge.

"A movie mother does not get any time to herself or have much of a life outside her child," she said. "A few times I have left Margaret with someone else over night and I can tell the difference in her the next day.

Lists Limitations

"I have never been on vacation by myself since she was born. I won't be able to until she grows up."

Mrs. O'Brien has another limitation. Recently she was mentioned in the columns as having a suitor. She had to make a choice of marriage or her daughter's career. Margaret won out.

"Being a movie mother is a 24-hour job," she concluded.

A mountain of fan mail comes to Mrs. O'Brien as well as the talented tot. Most frequent questions: Does Margaret get to play with other girls? What about her school? Answers:

She plays with her stand-in on the set, and has other children in her home. However, she sometimes bcomes impatient with playing because she would like to be rehearsing a movie scene with her dolls.

Margaret did not start school until she was eight, because her mother thought she should do one thing at a time. She made the work up rapidly and now is in the Seventh Grade.

Que. Tourist Industry Has 12 P.C. Increase

QUEBEC, Oct. 16—(CP)—The tourist industry in the province of Quebec has been increasing at the rate of $25,000,000 a year since 1945, Georges Leveille, director of the Quebec Tourist and Publicity Bureau said Friday at a dinner of the Canadian Association of Tourist and Publicity bureaus.

A 12-per cent increase over last year's $90,000,000 revenues from tourists was computed by Mr. Leveille for the present year, bringing this year's estimated tourist revenue to $100,800,900.

The Mutual Life Assurance Company of Canada
ESTABLISHED 1869
HOME OFFICE
WATERLOO, ONT.

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

October 1, 1948.

To our Policyholders:

On September 28, the volume of insurance in force in our Company passed the billion dollar mark. This outstanding achievement is highly significant in that 98% of this insurance is on the lives of people in Canada and Newfoundland - for this is a Canadian company operated for Canadians.

It is a notable milestone in the progress of our Company - a long stride forward since those days over 78 years ago, when the founders had to sell five hundred policies before they could secure Government permission to operate a mutual life insurance company.

But, it means more than this.

It is proof of the public's ever-growing consciousness of the advantages of mutual life insurance.

It is proof that Mutual Life of Canada policies fit the needs of Canadians in all walks of life.

It is proof of intelligent and sympathetic service by the Company's representatives.

It is proof that this Company has won a leading place in the confidence of the Canadian public.

The policyholders are to be congratulated on this achievement which has been due largely to the confidence they have shown in the Company by recommending it to their friends and by keeping their own insurance in force through the years.

President.

Station Agent Pulls Man from Tracks in Nick of Time
WINS DOW AWARD

EDWARD McNAMARA OF GLASGOW STATION, ONT:
risks life to save stunned man from wheels of moving train

The morning local was just about to pull out from Glasgow Station, near Arnprior, Ontario. Royce Macklaim was standing by his truck, close to the tracks, when the train began to move. Side-stepping quickly to avoid a shower of water thrown from the train, he lost his balance and stumbled . . . striking his head against his truck. Temporarily stunned, he fell directly across the tracks — underneath the second last coach of the slowly moving train!

ACTS IN SPLIT SECOND

In what seemed like a fraction of a second, station agent Edward McNamara, who was also on the platform, leaped to the man's assistance. At great risk to his own life he grasped Macklaim by the ankles and dragged him clear of the tracks — just as the heavy wheels passed over the spot where his head had been, seconds before.

Macklaim suffered from shock and a gash on the head . . . but, thanks to the almost unbelievable speed, courage and presence of mind of the agent, was otherwise unhurt. We are proud to pay tribute to Edward McNamara of Glasgow Station, Ontario, through the presentation of The Dow Award.

Macklaim lost his balance trying to avoid a shower of water from the train. In doing so, he struck his head against the rack of his truck and fell onto the tracks, under the train.

Although the truck driver suffered from shock and a gash in the head, he was otherwise uninjured — thanks to the action of the quick-thinking station agent.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

Ornamentalists' Fifth Year Marked With Dinner Dance

Fifth birthday of the YWCA Ornamental Swimming Club was gaily celebrated by the members and their friends at a dinner dance in the Empress Hotel, Friday evening. Special guest for the occasion was Mrs. C. R. Sellers, of Montreal, who has helped the Club on to success in many ways in her capacity of secretary to the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association and chairman of the Figure Swimming Section.

International importance of the step taken by the local swimmers when they competed for and won the American Junior Championship in Detroit early this year, and again entered competitions at Des Moines in August, where they were honored with the sportsmanship award, was stressed. "You are the best ambassadors of good will Canada could have," Mrs. Sellers told the girls. "You did what no other Club in this country did—pioneered in the American Nationals. Now the way is open there will be others eager to follow suit. You did not take exception to the judges' decisions in any event, as you might well have done, but proved a credit to yourselves and your city by being good sports and were recognized for it."

Lions Club president, Mr. Simpson Gledhill, proposed a toast to the Ornamental Club, saying "We are proud to be identified with a group such as this which has brought marvelous credit to themselves, to Peterborough and to Canada." Mrs. Shirley Moldaver responded.

A toast to swimming was proposed by Mr. Gordon Minty, YMCA swimming director. He outlined some of the benefits to be derived from swimming: physical, physiological, character building, self-confidence, loyalty, self-sacrifice, protection and also its use in making a living. A reply was made by Miss Joan Paterson.

Mrs. Isabelle Crary, president of the Club, presented gifts to the coach, Mrs. Jas. Forbes, and manager, Mr. N. C. Munro, and also to four faithful workers, Mrs. J. Young, Mrs. F. Gant, Mrs. F. Gray and Mrs. D. Heffernan.

Appreciation was also expressed to Mayor Wm. Ovens and the City Council, the Lion's Club, Chamber of Commerce, YMCA and YWCA for giving assistance.

Installation of new officers was conducted by Mrs. Sellers who pinned the badges of office on as follows: president, Miss Marguerite Buck, first vice-president, Miss Norma Gant; second vice-president, Miss Beverly Rumary; recording secretary, Miss Jean Millard; corresponding secretary, Miss Joan Paterson; treasurer, Miss Betty Dorsett.

Head table guests included Mr. G. H. Roper who cut the birthday cake, and Mrs. Roper, Miss Lea Brownscombe, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Minty and Mr. and Mrs. S. Gledhill. They were introduced by Mrs. Forbes. The guest speaker was introduced by Mr. Hunro and thanked by Miss Beverly Rumary.

English 'Crafter' To Teach Hand Weaving

To open their 44th year, the Peterborough Women's Art Association Friday afternoon had a charming speaker, Miss Nan Scott of Frnhm, Surrey, England, who is residing in this city. A most versatile artist and craftsman by profession, training and experience, her main interest is "hand weaving" and was her subject. Samples and pictures of her work on display in the Green room of the YWCA showed not only fine tweds and scarves, expertly woven but the use of different materials to make attractive place mats.

Weaving, as Miss Scott explains it, is just a glorified way of "darning". The hardest part she says is "threading the loom" which is done by "count", according to the pattern to be worked. Few people realize that even in machine woven material, every single thread must be handled twice by hand in this 'setting up" process. "The history of weaving is really man's effort to find a simpler way of making material," she said.

In England children learn to weave at the age of our using ltitle braid looms. They start making useful things at about eight years, and Miss Scott exhibited a lovely scarf made by an eight-year-old Peterborough girl, under her supervision. Weaving is still in a primitive stage in many countries of Europe, however.

The "overshot" type of weaving on a "four harness" loom, comes from the Colonial coverlets and is the standard North American method. It can almost be called exclusive to Canada Miss Scott said. English weavers, probably because of the climate, neary always make tweeds and heavy woollens.

Having heard that handicrafts are growing rapidly in Canada, Miss Scott made up her mind to come here and aid in advancing the art of weving. Her qualifications include graduation from the Guilford School of Art, and a three-yard length of her tapestry is now on display in Britain, but will be brought to Canada when released. After a trip across Canada, making contact with wevers and those interested in the art, Miss Scott was engaged to teach weaving at the Banff School of Fine Arts for the summer course. In Peterborough, under the Home Weaving Service Department of the Ontario Governmen, sponsored by the Recreation Commission, she will give a basic weaving course of about 120 hours instruction over a three-week period if eight to 12 pupils register for it. It is planned to give the instruction in Dixon House where looms and equipment can be set up. The opening date will depend on applications received. These are to be sent in care of Mr. Jack Dane. On completion of the basic course an advanced course will be made available.

Miss Scott was introduced and thanked by the president, Mrs. N. D. Seaton.

CBC Recognizes Miss Fern Rahmel

Divorce Caused by Failure To Cultivate Friendship

Dorothy Dix

In this land of the free and at the home of the brave, fortune hunters are rare birds. Almost all marriages are love matches, yet we lead the world in divorce, and the puzzle is why two people who were sure they could not live without each other, so often find it impossible to live with each other.

And what increases the mystery is that there is nothing the matter with the husband and wives as individuals. They are fine people, with high principles. They are intelligent. They are sane enough to understand the nature and quality of their act, as the law puts it. They are kind and generous. They get along harmoniously with their friends and neighbors and those with whom they do business, yet they fight and squabble and say insulting things to each other until they pull their houses of happiness down about their ears.

What there is about marriage that sours the milk of human kindness in so many husbands' and wives' breasts, and changes them from cooing doves into snarling cats and dogs, is anybody's guess. Mine is that we are the victims of our romantic dreams and when life wakes us up from them we just can't take it. We have erected a false standard of marriage that makes us expect to go on eating our wedding cake for forty or fifty years, and when we find we have lost our taste for it, we blame the party of the other part for not making it sweet enough.

Honeymoon Sets

At the bottom of nine-tenths of the unhappy marriages is not some crime that the husbands and wives have committed against each other, but their disappointment over the honeymoon having set. It is then that they begin spatting. For when a married couple quit telling each other how beautiful and wonderful they are, they begin calling names and throwing their faults and shortcomings in each other's teeth.

In proof of this you have only to recall that the eternal alibi of the philandering husband is that his wife is cold and unsympathetic and doesn't understand him, and that the grievance of millions of wives, over which they shed barrels of tears, is that their husbands take them for granted.

It is a pity that in this yearning to make marriage a perpetual romance (which it never can be with us, for we are a practical and hard-boiled race with a limited ability to thrill) we throw away the one thing that we can have and that would make every marriage glorious success, and that is FRIENDSHIP. And, after all, that is what counts in the long pull of marriages that last. The emotional heights are for youth. They pass, but the thing that stays is the friendship that grows deeper and stronger as the years go by, the trust, the faith, the mutual experiences, the being able to say "don't you remember" to each other.

When a man and woman can say Friend Husband of Friend Wife, itis a guarantee of domestic happiness that you can cash in at the bank.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Sunday, October 17

Sunday's horoscope is a difficult, menacing and intriguing one in which the feelings, emotions and strange impulses may run away with better judgment. Weird ideas, curious drives, or inexplicable yearnings may lead to real dangers, in which unique experiences may be subtle, probably inspired by disordered nerves or disturbed physical condition. Keep discreet in all moves and rigorously suppress curious psychological urges.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are encouraged to concentrate on integrity of mind and body, lest nerve tensions or strange drives take possession of feelings and emotions. This could lure into dangerous fields of adventure, with impulses under peculiar drags toward the illicit and sinister. Let reason sit on the throne, since subtle impulses and psychic obsessions could begot most objectionable adventures. Find solace in mystical or cultural avocations. Side-step all schemes and slander.

A child born on this day may have strange impulses or curious notions, inexplicable and subtle. Indulgences in intrigues of a weird or eccentric character could react on health and reputation.

For Monday, October 18

Monday's astrological forecast shows a most propitious opportunity for attaining high goals of ambition, constructive grasp of new ideas, and unique developments in fresh fields of operation and achievement. Persist in efforts to develop these clever ideas. Firmness and precision should triumph in the long run. Novelty and originality thrive.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is are confronted by an exciting and productive year in which the strange, unique and foreign figure with force and final success, but with little if any cooperation from desired sources. Have confidence in plans and purpose, however strange or fantastic the ideas and vision may be. Dare to keep to the unbeaten track, against obstacle and sneers. Ingenious performances ultimately flourish, perhaps in a spectacular manner.

A child born on this day, will be richly endowed with novel ideas and originality, creative and inventive, sustained by the courage, purpose and stability to carry on against opposition.

Credit Unions 100 Years Old On October 21

October 21 marks the 100th anniversary of Credit Unions in North America. Today there are about 10,000 Credit Unions with over 3,000,000 members in the USA and Canada with assets of well over $400,000,000.

In 1940, 20 people in Peterborough studied the Credit Union movement, its constitution and its aims. They discovered it to be a co-operative bank operated by the people, with a common bond of association to encourage thrift and to provide credit when needed.

Sold on the idea that the growth of this movement in Peterborough would be a benefit to the community, they applied for and received their charter from the government, Department of Agriculture. To build up a fund each member deposited 25 cents a week, before they had saved $25 they received an application for their first loan. Today assets have grown to over $18,000 with a membership of 334.

This growth has been due to the fact that the first purpose of the Credit Unions is to encourage thrift by accepting the small sums deposited weekly by the wage earner, the quarters and 50 cent pieces that would not be taken to the bank. Each dollar that has been built up is doubled in the event of death by a saving insurance.

The second purpose is to teach people that as the working man lives on the edge of small catastrophes, so the only way to keep their heads above water is to prepare for these events by pooling their small savings. The borrower is protected by Credit Union Loan Insurance.

The local group is recognizing this anniversary by holding a public meeting Thursday, October 21 at the Public Library.

Winter Halts Ungava Survey

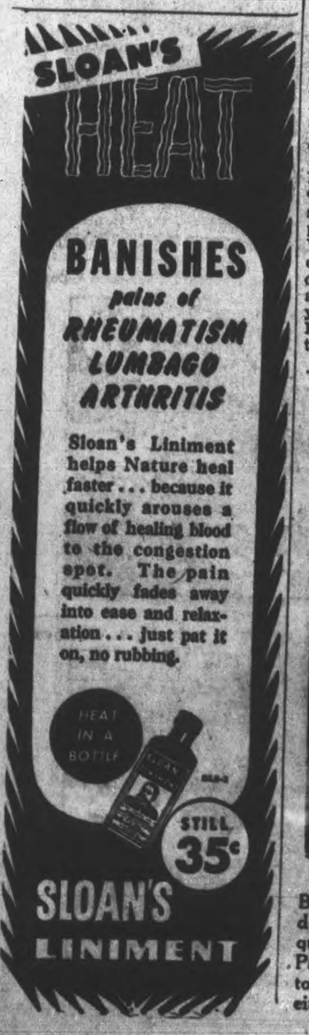
BURNT CREEK, Que., Oct. 16—(CP).—Across the land of Far Away winter already is closing in and the summer's probing of Northern Quebec for mineral potential is about over. But as the ore hunters were being flown "outside" in small bunches from the metal-bearing country of Ungava, this could be said today: Everybody concerned with the search for ore seemed happy with the summer's finds.

The Eskimos gave the country the name of Ungava which means "far away" but they never knew what geologists have learned now: that Ungava had a projected initial production of 10,000,000 tons of iron ore a year. More than that, Ungava is known to hold untold wealth in titanium ore.

Burnt Creek, 320 miles north of the Gulf of St. Lawrence and with a population of 190, is the base of exploratory operations which to date have uncovered at least 300,000,000 tons of iron ore.

Most drills which worked during the summer charting the ore bodies have closed down and by next week those near here will have stopped work.

The crews are being flown out to seven islands on the St. Lawrence which is the aerial jumping-off place for Ungava.



SEVERAL LONDON WOMEN are now spending week-ends in camp with their husbands, father, or sons as the case may be, of the 599 Heavy Anti-Aircraft Regiment near Epping Forest, Eng. The idea was that of Capt. A. Williams who couldn't find enough cooks to prepare meals at the camps (counterparts of our reserve army camps) and so he asked the men to invite their wives, mothers or sisters. The women take over the cookhouse and do the cooking. They must supply their own rations, which may or may not match the free rations of their kin. It is a great recruiting idea, too, because many wives of ex-army men were loath to permit any more long separations over week-ends. Here is a seldom seen sight. A sergeant is "spud-bashing" with the aid of two ladies of the cookhouse.

The Christian Law

REV. E. R. JAMES

JESUS SAID: VERILY, VERILY, I SAY UNTO YOU: WHATSOVER YE SHALL ASK THE FATHER IN MY NAME HE WILL GIVE IT YOU. HITHERTO YE HAVE ASKED NOTHING IN MY NAME: ASK AND YE SHALL RECEIVE. St. John 16; 23.

How often have you read or heard these words. Have they startled your mind. Read again this important statement praying that God may open your eyes to see. "Hitherto ye have asked nothing in My Name, ask and ye shall receive". A devout Pharisee, trained to pray directly to the Father would be deeply shocked that he must offer his prayers through the Name of the Carpenter of Nazareth. The small band of Apostles were unconsciously giving Him the value of God.

Perhaps it has been your privilege to meet a man who had the atmosphere of God around him. you felt that he prayed to God and His Presence went with him. and that God was very real to him. Such a condition of character came through earnest prayer in "the Name of the Christ". He would tell you he kept on praying in spite of apparent darkness and disappointments. He knew that God heard him and gave him grace to persevere. It was this writer's privilege to know such a layman.

In the days of His ministry the Lord was training His Apostles to believe in prayer. I must be so with you and me. God is prepared to do much for us but He is hindered because we do not believe in the power of prayer.

"In My Name". To the ordinary man it means offering your petition "through Jesus Christ our Lord". But the words have a deeper meaning. The prayer you offer must be in accordance with the mind of Christ; what Christ wants. "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus our Lord".

You offer your prayer to the Father in the name of Jesus Christ, who is our High Priest. In simple language you place your prayer into the hands of the Lord, Who is bone of our bone and flessh of our flesh. You are a member of His Divine human Body. You are one of the cells. You receive your divine life and energy from Him. It is an uplifting thought that Jesus Christ, the God Man stands between you and the Father. The Father's Eyes of love are fixed upon His only begotten son. Can you imagine the Father refusing your prayer offered in His Son's Name. He may not answer as you desire. If so He whispers: "What I do now thou knowest not but thou shalt know hereafter".

The Anglo Saxon of ancient days said:—"I believe into Jesus Christ" He was trained to believe in his vital union in the Christ. May this thought grip and fascinate you as you offer your prayers "in His Name".

A layman; not of the Church of England, was attending a Communion Service. He was thrilled with the following prayer, which is truly in His Name, according to Christ's desires. He copied it for his own private prayers. Perhaps you, as a Priest of a holy Priesthood, may feel like offering it for yourself and your brethren.

ALMIGHTY GOD, UNTO WHOM ALL HEARTS BE OPEN, ALL DESIRES KNOWN AND FROM WHOM NO SECRETS ARE HID: THE THOUGHTS OF OUR HEARTS BY THE INSPIRATION OF THY HOLY SPIRIT, THAT WE MAY PERFECTLY LOVE THEE, AND WORTHLY MAGNIFY THY HOLY NAME, THROUGH CHRIST OUR LORD.

FOR CRYING OUT LOUD HOW WE NEED A RINK

ARE THERE STILL any "Doubting Thomases" concerning the necessity of having a Civic Arena? The 20 GOOD REASONS listed below should dispel any further doubts in your mind. Almost $20,000 is still needed to finance this Arena, NOW ALMOST COMPLETED! Next week . . . one hundred volunteer workers will be combing the city, making a house to house canvass, soliciting donations for the CIVIC ARENA. REMEMBER, your donation will be an investment in the youth of this city.

20 Very Good Reasons Why You Should Support the Civic Arena

- Peterboro cannot afford to go through another season feeling the humiliation of being dubbed "THE RINKLESS CITY!"
- Marmora and Lakefield are building a rink this year and with all the small towns around having a rink, let us remember too—that Peterboro has grown up!
- Last season Peterboro hockey teams were forced to play home games at Lakefield, Omemee, Lindsay, etc. Lindsay boasted that they benefitted to the extent of $2,227 by the 15th of April.
- Why should Peterboro continue to send her purchasing power out of the city when our merchants, restaurants, etc., suffer greatly from this loss.
- Preventing the loss of life through accidents to citizens going out of the city to see HOME GAMES, is of paramount importance.
- School teams forced to play hockey in Lakefield, means that three teams play their games IN ONE EVENING. By the time the third team completes its game and the boy reach home it is often 2.30 in the morning. Having to attend school the same morning is not good for the morale or health of these youngsters.
- In Peterboro last season there were 93 ORGANIZED AND SUPERVISED HOCKEY TEAMS with 1,220 permits issued by the Recreation Commission for one-hour hockey periods. This was in addition to the games played away from home.
- The Civic Arena will eventually save the taxpayer the cost of construction and operating two outside rinks at an estimated cost of $1,000 each. The City maintains under the Parks Committee 16 open-air rinks, 8 of which are for hockey.
- The lay-out of the Arena Building Committee ensures that when the seniors move over to the Memorial Centre the CIVIC ARENA WILL STILL BE SELF SUPPORTING! A set-back of 140 feet has been allowed for the establishment of a business section with an Arcade leading to the main entrance.
- The Parks and Recreation Commission, plus all the Service Clubs, have done a wonderful job for the youth of our city during the summer months. Without the Arena, however, the needs of our youth, during the hockey season, can only be partly looked after by the Commission.
- We have a newly formed figure-skating club in Peterboro. This Club is badly handicapped by the fact that we have no Arena in the city.
- The Civic Arena will not conflict in any way with the proposed Memorial Centre. Rather it will be an asset, for it must be remembered that the Memorial Centre will not only contain an ice surface but will also look after the needs of other sports, as well as conventions, dramatic, musical programs, public benefit events.
- It also must be borne in mind that the Committee in charge of the Memorial Centre is duty bound by a Government Private Bill — to complete the Centre as originally planned. With this information it can be readily appreciated that the Memorial Centre could not possibly handle all the hockey played in Peterboro.
- The Civic Arena will be a great incentive for all youngsters playing in it. These youngsters can look at the Memorial Centre and say "BOY . . . SOME DAY I'LL BE PLAYING THERE TOO!"
- No matter how generously you may have donated to the Memorial Centre, please treat the present campaign as an entirely new appeal for an urgently needed project.
- The General Committee respectfully requests all Manufacturers, Church Organizations, Service Clubs, Restaurants, Schools and, in fact, every citizen, to take a financial interest in the Civic Arena, for its completion is of vital importance to the youth of our city.
- Financing this project by public subscription will ensure that the Arena will always belong to the Citizens and, that at no time will it fall into the hands of private enterprise and be taken away from the YOUTH OF OUR CITY.
- The fact that the Arena is being built on city owned property and that ALL DONATIONS HAVE BEEN RULED FREE OF INCOME TAX BY THE DEPARTMENT AT OTTAWA, is a factor in the above statement. An official receipt will be given for all donations as well as a Certificate of Donation which can be framed and kept for posterity.
- Please remember, that the youth of our City today, is the Nation of tomorrow. As we have had a heritage handed down to us, so must we hand it down to the future generation, whom we expect to carry on as a democratic Nation.
- As the building is well on the way to completion and, as funds are urgently required NOW, we strongly appeal to anyone wishing to help this worthy cause, to contribute generously when a canvasser calls at your door . . . during CIVIC ARENA WEEK!

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

THIS REBID NOT WEAK

WHENEVER the partner of an opening bidder bids and then rebids the same suit as his first two responses, he is making the second time what most good players consider a sign-off indicating length but lack of honor strength. A third rebid of it on the next turn is still more of a sign-off indicating greater length. But such bids by the opening bidder can never be sign-offs, since he has shown honor strength with his opening and can never deny it later. If he rebids the same suit three times, and it is a minor, maybe his call at the three level is rather strong asking his partner to try a No Trump game if he has a mere stopper in some suit not yet shown as obstructed.

	♠ A 10 4 ♥ Q 9 6 5 ♦ A 5 ♣ 7 6 5 2
♠ Q J 8 7 6 2 ♥ K J 10 8 ♦ K 6 4 ♣ None	N W E S	♠ 9 ♥ A 4 2 ♦ 9 7 ♣ A K Q J 9 4 3
	♠ K 5 3 ♥ 7 3 ♦ Q J 10 8 3 2 ♣ 10 8

(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

North	East	South	West
Pass	1 ♣	1 ♦	1 ♠
Pass	2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 NT

On this deal, played in a social duplicate, the bidding at another table went exactly the same for the first two rounds and then East bid 5-Clubs. As he explained later, he considered a mere 3-Clubs over 2-Hearts, an absolute minimum rebid of his original suit, to be much too weak for a hand containing apparently eight trick takers, opposite a partner who had shown ability to respond with two different suits. So he hopped all the way into 5-Clubs. That contract was set in a hurry with two tricks in diamonds followed by one in spades.

After the deal was over at his table—which happened to be the final round of the whole game, a real veteran of the wars who sat at another table told him about the bidding as given above and explained that, in this situation a minimum rebid of three in a minor is partly to stay below the No Trump game level and see if his partner can't stop all the other suits. Such a rebid, he explained, is not necessarily weak at all.

As it developed, West could make the No Trump game against any defense, and did, whereas the eleven-trick club contract was doomed from the beginning.

Your Week-End Question

You have undoubtedly learned the news that a new set of official Laws of Contract Bridge went into force all over the world on October 1. Do you know in what respects they have changed the game, and in what respects they have left it unaltered? If not, the series in this column beginning Monday will answer your own questions and enable you to protect your opponents' and your own interests at the bridge table.

Approval Given To Agreement With Dr. Worton

Finance committee of the council has authorized the signing of an agreement with Dr. Harold Worton affording him leave of absence from the city's health department to study at the University of Toronto for a degree and diploma of Veterinary of Public Health.

It implements the intentions of the Board of Health, and entails a cost to the city, as estimated by Mayor Wm. Ovens, of approximately $400.

Substituted for his regular salary during the eight months of the university term, which Dr. Worton has begun, is an allowance of $2,000. He agrees to remain in the employ of the city for a period of three years from the termination of his course, and not to accept any employment with any other person or corporation during that time. In addition to the reduction in salary, he foregoes $500 for the use of his automobile in the performance of his duties.

Members of the finance committee affirmed that to them Dr. Worton's previous verbal agreement to continue with the Board of Health was as good as his signature, but the written agreement was drawn up as a result of public criticism of the Board's arrangement.

The main point that was emphasized in the discussion was that the net cost to the city for part time service in Dr. Worton's absence would be only $400 or thereabouts. During his weekends and holiday periods Dr. Worton will carry on his work as usual for the department.

Ald. Gordon Armstrong commented that public criticism was levelled at the Board of Health. "This matter of remuneration should have been decided here, and then if there was any criticism it would have been levelled at the council".

Ald. Herbert Young said he was satisfied the cost of the amended arrangement would not be more than $400.

"Before anything was said publicly there was no mention of the length of time Dr. Worton would remain with the city after he completed his course," Ald. Doug. Miller remarked. "There were no ties on him. Then some persons raised a stir, and the Board realized they had left themselves open."

Ald. Grant Miller said he had full confidence in Dr. Worton. "He is a fine chap and is doing a good job for the city. But, I haven't changed my mind on the issue. I thought paying him his full salary was too generous. My objection was the percentage of commitment the city would have had to make. That was all. I would like to have seen Dr. Worton take the course, and then the city engage him afterward."

Ald. Adam Sands said that engagement of a sanitary inspector was made by the council, and the arrangement for Dr. Worton to continue with the Board three years should also be made by the council. "It is all our concern."

Acquit Fireman Of Killing Halifax Divorcee

HALIFAX, Oct. 16 — (CP) — Victor Robart, 32-year-old Halifax (negro) fireman, was acquitted Thursday night by a Supreme Court jury of the June 2 murder of Mrs. Maureen MacDonald, attractive divorcee.

Loud cheers and clapping from the overcrowded courtroom drowned out the discharge address of Mr. Justice John Doull after Cyril Tanner, foreman of the jury, read the verdict. The jury deliberated two hours and four minutes.

Robart was charged with dragging Mrs. MacDonald from a Water Street house where she had been sleeping, and beating her to death.

Mrs. MacDonald, 34-year-old divorced wife of a Canadian naval officer, died on the way to hospital after she was found in a waterfront yard badly beaten about the face and clad only in a jacket-sweater.

Motionless in the prisoner's dock, Robart managed a smile after hearing the verdict. During the three-day trial he had remained unmoved as he listened intently to vidence given by 30 witnesses, 24 for the crown.

Robart's mother, father and sister rushed down from their seats at the rear of the court as the verdict was announced. His mother threw her arms around him and hugged him.

Greeted by friends, reporters and photographers when he stepped out of the courtroom, Robart said with a broad smile: "I am happy. I have had a fair trial."

SOMEWHAT SPUTTERING FIREWORKS enlivened the closing session of the Canadian Congress of Labor Friday as scattered groups demanded scrutineers to watch the scrutineers count ballots during election of new president. Here Jack Critchley, Local 200, UAW, Windsor, calls on chair for such action.

wish to congratulate the town of Lindsay for their fine co-operation. What they have done for one part of the province becomes an example to all the other parts.

Have New Ideas

I wish to welcome and congratulate the plowmen from Northern Ireland. I am sure they will go back with new ideas of Ontario and will tell the people at home all about this province. They will have a better understanding of us. In that way I think their visit is a grand thing."

To the plowmen who were not successful in carrying off prizes, Premier Kennedy said their experience would prove a real benefit to them because they would do better work.

"No one will blame you for making a mistake. You could be blamed only if you didn't try. One thing we can't stand for is doing nothing. You farmers did your best work as it was this time, but I hope you will come back to the next match and defeat the winners. The main things is to keep on trying and doing. It will make you better plowmen and better citizens."

To the manufacturers whose products attracted many thousands to the tented city of the plowing match, Col. Kennedy said they had provided the greatest display of machinery ever seen in Canada. The research work which they had put into so many improvements "will make our province wealthier and better".

The day of competition was approaching, he said, and apparently used that word competition in a broad application. "We must realize that any people who do not keep abreast of the time and their methods will go down hill."

Col. Kennedy said he understood the feeling of the farmer who said that new implements were too expensive, but in meeting conditions in farming today no farmer could afford not to have the most modern machinery within his means.

Times Changing

"We must be aware of the changing nature of the world, the growth of population, the greater need of food. In the old days diseases and plagues kept population down, because they were so fatal. In 1800, Great Britain had a popular of 5,000,000. Today it is 26,000,000 because we have learned how to combat plagues. Science has come to the aid of mankind in preventing diphtheria and other diseases. This generation is eating better food than our forefathers. As a people we are content to half starve as they did. We are not eating so much pork and so many pigs.

Population is increasing, there will be more people to feed in the years ahead of us, and there is not too much farm land left. I believe the trek from the farms is going to stop because farming will pay better, it must pay better, because we have got to get the food somewhere. In that respect machines will be an increasing help. The trend will be from the city to the farm because of the modern methods we are adopting."

The rural way of life held the strongest appeal for him, Col. Kennedy said. "You can have the city."

Lure of Country

"With adequate returns for our labor and with our better ways of living more comfortably, more people will be attracted to the country. When a man gets up in the morning and looks at the sun and the fields and trees, when he puts in a good day's work, and goes to bed tired and ready to rest, he feels that he has accomplished something worth while. It is said that he is working with nature. We farmers say he is working with God."

Lindsay was generous host to the plowmen and their association and guests, and received numerous compliments for the excellence of the dinner. One of the entertainment numbers was a vocal duet by the Misses Westaway, two girls from the township just west of the town, as they were introduced by Mayor Lamb. A soprano and contralto, two beautiful voices, their harmony was exceptionally good in their two lyric numbers "Sympathy" and "I Hear You Calling."

Premier Kennedy was greeted by three members of his cabinet, visitors to the plowing match, and among the head table guests. They were Hon. Mr. Frost, Hon. Harold Scott, Minister of Lands and Forests, and Hon. Wm. Goodfellow, Minister of Welfare who is being mentioned for the portfolio of Provincial Secretary.

Senator J. J. Duffus, G. K. Fraser, M.P., and Wilson Gemmell of Peterborough were also at the chairman's table.

Welcome Irish Guests.

W. L. Clark of Gormley, past president of the provincial association, introduced the five men from Ulster, John Hart, president of their association, Peter Fitzpatrick, vice-chairman, James Morrow, Robert Irwin and Thomas Reid.

Replying for them, Mr. Fitzpatrick said: "We came over to Canada as strangers to a strange land, as we thought. Today we feel we are part and parcel of Canada, we have met so many people. We have met so many farmers whose families came from Ireland that we are wondering just who are Canadians. We in the north say that an Ulsterman is an improved Scotsman, because many of our people are from Scotland. We are now inclined to believe that a Canadian is an improved Ulsterman. And I give you as an example the new Premier of Ontario whose family came from Portadown. We wish for Col. Kennedy success and long life in his new task.

Mr. Clark told you about the welcome the Canadian plowmen received when they visited us. I can tell you that it was nothing like the welcome we have received this week. We haven't had a minute to say "Let's sit down and take a rest". We are delighted with your welcome and when your next team comes to Ulster I assure you they will receive a real welcome."

TWO LINES, ONE FISH

DUNCAN, B. C. (CP)—Frank Simes of nearby Maple Bay used two lines to catch a fish. The first attempt fouled the line in his boat's propeller shaft. A second cast brought in, not a fish but the first line. It—the lost line—had the fish.

U.S. Demands U.N. Give Up Atomic Energy Problem To Canada, Five Powers

Report New Compromise Plan Considered To Take Berlin Issue Also Away From United Nation Hands

PARIS, Oct. 18—(CP).—The United States and Britain today supported a Canadian proposal that the deadlocked atomic energy problem be turned over to the five Great Powers and Canada for direct negotiation. Canada's Lionel Chevrier also backed up the Dominion's resolution and attacked the Russian proposal for international control of atomic power as "a program of specious and deceptive simplicity."

The Berlin dispute comes up tomorrow in the United Nations Security Council. A new compromise plan which would take the issue out of the UN is reported under consideration by the six neutrals of the Council, including Canada.

As the 58-member political committee of the General Assembly took up the atomic issue, Warren R. Austin, chief United States delegate, said the United Nations could go no farther in its efforts to control the atom until the Soviet Union agreed to "participate in the world community on a co-operative basis."

Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain called on the Big Five and Canada to make "a supreme effort" to achieve agreement on fundamentals.

Universal Group

Transport Minister Chevrier said "the only answer lies in a co-operative association which is universal and which the work of the Atomic Energy Commission has shown to be technically feasible and possible."

The Soviet resolution which he attacked calls for the simultaneous banning of atomic bombs and establishment of international controls.

Austin, commenting on a report drawn up by an atomic energy sub-committee, declared:

Communist states desire to live in a secret world of their own behind which, for all we know, they may arm and prepare their people for war. We do not desire to live in such a world.

Austin said the problem must be turned over to Canada, the Israel Accepts U.N. Offers For Peace Talks

TEL AVIV, Oct. 18—(AP)—Israel accepted tonight a United Nations offer to arrange peace talks with Egypt on the fighting in the Negev. However, she rejected a cease-fire proposal.

The foreign office said no cease fire proposal would be accepted until Israel is assured the Egyptians will behave.

In actions Sunday night, Jewish troops stormed and captured heights dominating the road through the Negev, Palestine's southern desert. A dispatch from Associated Press correspondent Carter L. Davidson at the front said the Jews had succeeded in blasting open their supply route to the desert.

(The United Nations Security Council has been called into special session tomorrow morning in Paris to consider the new outburst of fighting in the Holy Land.)

An Israeli foreign office spokesman said the United Nations had proposed a four-day truce in fighting "to settle peacefully the basic differences between the Egyptians and Israel in the Negev" and suggested peace talks in Jerusalem.

Ready To Meet Egyptians

Israel, he said, is ready to meet the Egyptians any time, any place for peace discussions. A cease fire is impossible, he added, unless the United Nations can guarantee the Egyptians will not take advantage of such a truce to improve their positions.

The fighting was reported centred around Gaza, main Egyptian military base in Palestine and

4 Inches Snow Blanket Sault

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP). — An unprepared western and northern Ontario received its first taste of winter Sunday night as thermometers took a sudden drop and heavy, wet snow greeted shivering citizens today.

The London area found itself in the worst trouble. An unofficial six inches fell at the London airport and less than three inches in the city, breaking branches and service wires. Hydro service to London township was cut.

Wiarton, Gore Bay, Parry Sound, Sault Ste. Marie all had a taste of the stuff. The Soo area received four inches of snow, bringing four minor traffic accidents and forcing a speed-up in the preparation of snow removal equipment.

100 Large Industries Now Working Nights

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP). — More than 100 of Toronto's larger industries have changed over to night and week-end working hours as part of the city's power conservation effort, it was reported today by Toronto Hydro manager E. M. Ashworth.

Toronto saved 1,941,500 kilowatt hours during the week-end when Hydro consumption was below quota on Saturday and Sunday.

Mayor Hiram McCallum said today that Toronto will have hour-long cut-offs on week-day mornings this week. Previous interruptions were 45 minutes long.

Fire Razes Resort

NORTH BAY, Oct. 18—(CP)—Camp White Bear, famous Temagami tourist resort 70 miles northwest of here, burned to the ground Sunday. The camp, a hideaway for Hollywood movie stars, was closed for the winter and no one was injured. Damage to the frame resort lodge and ice house was estimated at $50,000. Built 15 years ago by Arthur Judson of New York, the property on Silver Birch Island, was acquired a few years ago by Mel Hundreth of Toronto.

Canada Raps Russian Atomic Control

PARIS, Oct. 18—(CP).—Lionel Chevrier, Canadian delegate to the United Nations, today attacked the Russian proposal for international control of atomic energy as "a program of specious and deceptive simplicity."

The Soviet resolution calls for the signing of simultaneous conventions prohibiting atomic warfare and establishing international atomic controls.

The Canadian Transport Minister, addressing the political committee of the General Assembly, denied that the Canadian resolution closes the door to further progress towards international control.

The Canadian resolution, submitted to the political committee Sept. 30 and subsequently amended in sub-committee, has three sections. It seeks General Assembly approval of the majority principles of the Atomic Energy Commission; expresses concern at the impasse in the Commission and requests that the Big Five and Canada meet to determine when a basis for agreement exists for continuing the work of the Commission.

Resting Quietly

LONDON, Oct. 18 — (CP). — Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada "continues to rest quietly" and spent a good night, his staff reported today. Orders by doctors to rest last week because of illness, there still is no indication when he will be allowed from bed but it is expected that it will be at least another week.

88 Parliamentarians Meeting In London

LONDON, Oct. 18.— (CP). — The luxurious Savoy hotel becomes the home for the next 10 days for 88 parliamentarians from 37 countries of the British commonwealth.

Twenty Canadians, the largest single commonwealth group, are attending the Empire Parliamentary Association meeting which opens tomorrow.

The sessions are secret but press statements will be issued from time to time. The conference will reach no formal conclusions nor make any official pronouncement at its end. The nearest approach will be a private summing up by the chairman of each meeting, giving the conference's attitude to the particular subject discussed.

Tourists Visiting Canada Increased 1 To 12 Per Cent

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP). — All provinces except British Columbia reported an increase in tourist travel during 1948, it was disclosed to-day at the opening of the third Dominion-Provincial tourist conference.

A convention report submitted by Dominion and Provincial Departments and transportation companies said it is apparent that 1948 will set a new record for the number of tourists visiting Canada.

The report did not include an estimate of the year's number of tourists, but most of the provinces estimated that traffic had increased from 1 to about 12 per cent. over 1947.

British Columbia, however, reported a 5 per cent decrease in tourist trade. The disastrous floods which swept through parts of the province last May were blamed for the decrease.

The Federal government's Travel Bureau said that up to September 30 it had received 249,150 inquiries as against 199,834 in the corresponding period of 1947.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics estimated that up to August 31 some 4,550,443 cars entered Canada as against 4,039,074 a year ago, an increase of 12-7 per cent.

Quebec estimated it will have a 12 per cent increase over 1947. The number of tourists entering Quebec to date totalled 3,499,010.

Ontario listed no figures, but estimated an increase of 10 per cent over the 1947 tourist movement.

Practically all the provinces said that efforts were made this year to improve highways used by tourists. Steps were taken to expand and improve tourist accommodation.

Iron, Steel Imports Cut 18 P.C.

Howe Promises US To Limit Buying To 200,000 Tons

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Trade Minister Howe announced today an 18-per-cent voluntary reduction in the import of iron and steel products from the United States.

His announcement came just 10 days after Defence Minister Claxton told the Canadian Ordnance Association in Montreal that steel was the most important single factor governing the extent of Canada's defence preparedness and war potential.

Mr. Howe said in a statement the Canadian government has agreed with the American government to limit its imports of iron and steel from the U.S. to 200,000 tons during the last three months of 1948.

At the same time he told The Canadian Press in an interview that the government has under study plans for the expansion of Canada's steel industry. These plans were not ready for publication.

May Take 2 Years

Steel Controller W. K. Ashbaught has estimated it may take two years to construct new furnaces to boost Canada's current annual production of 3,100,000 tons of ingots.

The reduction was made necessary by the U.S. government's great need for steel, principally for the reconstruction of the country's defences.

Mr. Howe said that certain controls will be exercised over the import of the following iron and steel categories during the next three months:

1. Structural steel, limited to 35,000 tons, a reduction of 34 per cent of the 1947 quarterly level and 38 per cent of the 1948 level;

2. Iron and steel plates, limited to 17,000 tons, 26 per cent below the 1947 level and one per cent below the 1948 rate;

Shaw Believes Irishmen Foreigners In England

LONDON, Oct. 18 (Reuters).—George Bernard Shaw, commenting in the News Chronicle today on Eire's plan to repeal her External Relations Act and sever her last tie with the Commonwealth, says:

"I can't see that it's a matter of great importance if Eire does break away completely, although I am unaware of all the latest facts."

Shaw, born in Dublin 92 years ago, adds:

"Irishmen have always been foreigners in England. I am still a foreigner here after all these years.

"I shall always be a foreigner here, whether I have to register as an alien or not, because I am one of the few people here who think objectively. Englishmen are incapable of objectivity.

"I don't think the repealing of the Act would really make an atom of difference. Irishmen will continue to flock to England because they are able to use their brains over here.

"But I'll write you an article for £1,000 ($4,000) showing the whole position in its proper light."

Find De Gaulle Trails In Vote

PARIS, Oct. 18 (AP)—Candidates running under the Rightist banner of Gen. Charles de Gaulle and the Communists of the extreme Left trailed in voting for the lectoral college, but the De Gaullists claimed far more strength than the figures showed.

The election was held Sunday to choose 100,001 members of the electoral college which No. 7 will name the 320 members of the council of the republic, the advisory upper house of France's legislature.

Nearly complete returns showed the Socialists and Independent Socialists received 26 per cent of the vote; the Radical Independents, 21 per cent; the Rightist Rassemblement du Peuple Francais (R.P.F., De Gaulle's group) 13 per cent; Radical Socialists (Conservatives) 12 per cent; Communists, 10 per cent; the Centrist Mouvement Republican Populaire (M.R.P.), nine per cent; and miscellaneous others, nine per cent.

The figures were supplied by the interior ministry.

The secretariat of the R.P.F. issued a statement saying the figures were unrealistic. It said the ministry listed candidates strictly by party classification and took no note that some parties under other labels were known De Gaulle supporters.

Search Swamp For Body Missing Woman

KITCHENER, Oct. 18 —(CP)—The search for 37-year-old Mrs. Emma Pohl, missing from her home at suburban Sunnyside since Sept. 13, has centred on two square miles of swamp and quicksand eight miles northwest of here.

A search party of 50 men combed the area Sunday without finding the woman, and police said they were looking for a "body, not a living woman."

Sunday's search was made when police remembered a report made by Fred Kissner, of Kitchener, that he had seen a man pull a heavy sack from the trunk of a car and drag it into the swamp on Sept. 17. Only a cursory inspection of the swamp was made by police at the time, for they had not been notified of Mrs. Pohl's death.

Elijah Holtzhauer, father of the missing woman, and Alex and Cameron Holtzhauer, her twin brothers, led Sunday's search.

Plans To Return

Meanwhile, from London, England, came the news that Mrs. John Stuart, who was reported missing from her Galt home since Sept. 15, plans to return here to stand by her son, William, 30. He has been charged with public mischief in connection with Mrs. Pohl's disappearance, and is expected to appear in court here on Wednesday.

Police have released Mrs. Margaret Misener, 28, on bail. A friend of William Stuart, she was charged with vagrancy and questioned by police about Mrs. Pohl's disappearance. She has said that Stuart is the father of her month-old child, and her parents stated that Stuart had promised to marry her.

In an interview in London on Sunday, Mrs. Stuart said she could throw no light on the mystery. She said she knew Mrs.

Shells Burst Near Plane At 2,000 Ft.

BERLIN, Oct. 18 (Reuters). — The pilot of a United States C-54 plane, taking off from British-controlled Gatow airport today, reported shell bursts near his plane at a height of 2,000 feet.

"My plane was very nearly hit," he radioed to the control tower.

The incident was reported to the American chief controller at the Berlin air safety centre who lodged a protest with the Russian controller.

On Friday last, gunfire and shellbursts were seen at a height of between 100 and 200 feet between three and four miles due west of the airport.

They were in line with the runway and burst directly underneath air lift planes taking off in a western direction.

28 Naval Ratings Missing As Carrier Boat Swamped

PORTLAND, Dorsetshire, England, Oct. 18 — (CP). — Twenty-eight naval ratings are missing and one midshipman was drowned when a Liberty boat from the aircraft carrier Illustrious was swamped by a gale in Portland harbor late Sunday night, the Admiralty announced today. The dead midshipman was identified as Richard Arthur Clough of Oxford who was unconscious when rescued and died later.

The Liberty boat capsized near the 23,000-ton carrier. Some of the men who were tossed into the sea swam to her and were hauled out. Others were picked up by passing boats.

The search is continuing.

A board of inquiry will investigate. Earlier, a naval officer at Portland said 21 men were rescued from the swamped boat.

The Admiralty said the launch was returning to the ship and had nearly gained her side when the lashing winds capsized the craft.

Swamping of the Liberty launch came during gales and rainstorms that swept southern Britain throughout the night, ripping off roof tiles, levelling fences, and flooding low areas.

The Liberty boat was making its last trip of the night when it capsized.

A member of the crew of the Weymouth lifeboat said he had "definite news" that at least 20 were drowned.

"When we got to the spot the Liberty boat was on the bottom," the lifeboat man said.

Those rescued were picked up by lifeboats from the Illustrious as they clung to lifebelts in mountainous seas.

OAKLAND, Calif., Oct. 18—(AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation was called in Sunday night to investigate the ransacking of a mass of highly technical dat in the residence of Francie R. Bichowsky, atomic scientist who, friends say, left for Washington three weeks ago on "secret work for the government."

Create Board In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP).—President Truman today created an emergency board to investigate the dispute between the railroads and 16 non-operating railroad unions in the United States.

The unions now are taking a strike vote, and creation of the board is intended to head off possibility of a walkout. Under the railroad labor act, a work stoppage is forbidden while the emergency board is studying the dispute.

Truman's executive order said a strike would "threaten substantial interruption to interstate commerce" and "deprive the country of essential transportation service."

The board is given 30 days to make its findings, and neither strike nor lock-out can be ordered within 60 days after the board's recommendations reach the White House.

About 1,000,000 workers are involved. The so-called "non-operating" workers are those not actually engaged in running trains. They include switchmen, yardmen, maintenance workers, telegraphers, and numerous other crafts.

Enlist Boys 16

WARSAW, Oct. 18—(AP)—The government today started enlisting youths 16 to 18 years old, inclusive, to work for national reconstruction projects and for military training. About 1,500,000 are expected to be in the service by Dec. 18. The corps gradually will be boosted to 3,000,000.

Three Western Zones Sign Economic Merger Pact

BERLIN, Oct. 18—(AP)—An almost complete economic merger of the three western zones of Germany was announced today.

An agreement fusing the foreign trade of the French zones with that of the already merged British and American zones was signed by the three Western Allied military governors.

This united the economies of all zones except the Russian zone of Germany, save for a few activities which will be regulated by consultation among British, French and American officials.

A similar fusion of the three western zones along political lines will be accomplished by the tri-zonal government for which a constitution is being drafted by Germans at Bonn.

When these steps are completed, a virtually complete new state of Western Germany will be created, leaving only the Russian zone outside.

Leave Door Open

British, American and French officials have stressed that the western state will be held open to make it an all-German state whenever agreement can be reached with the Soviets.

Today's agreement applies only to the foreign trade of the three western zones. It merges them all under the joint export-import agency (JEIA) which has been regulating the foriegn trade of the British and American zones.

The office of foreign trade which has been handling the French zone's foreign business will be closed and its dealings transferred to JEIA as rapidly as possible—by Dec. 31 at the latest, the official announcement said.

Want Four To Pay For Crimes

Ottawa Declines To Comment On Latest Report

By ALAN HARVEY

PARIS, Oct. 18.—(CP).— The French government regards four alleged French collaborators now living in Quebec province as "traitors" and demands that they be returned to France, high sources said today.

"In the eyes of the French government these men are traitors and must be brought back to France to pay for their crimes," sources close to the French interior ministry said.

"The French government wants these men," the sources added, saying France had asked Canada "several times" to start extradition proceedings against the men, alleged to have collaborated with the Germans during the war.

They added that warrants still were in force against the four identified as Georges Benoit Montel, a surgeon; Julien Gaudens Labedan, interior decorator and cabinet maker; Andrew Charles Emmanuel Boussat, a surgeon, and Jean Louis Huc.

Under Death Sentence

The same sources said that Labedan, 35, who entered Canada as a "political refugee" under assumed name in 1946, was under a death sentence in connection with alleged war crimes. The sentence was passed in his absence. The others were sentenced on lesser charges.

The exact nature of the charges were not specified but one informant said it was connected with wartime activities of Milice, a force whose members fought against the French Maquis.

'We have asked Canada to return these men and we are anxious to press the charges against them,' the sources said. They declined to be quoted by name.

Police said Sedar was unable to give a coherent account of the accident. They said a high bank on the right side of the road may have obscured the driver's vision and prevented him from seeing the train as it approached the crossing.

Finnish Trade Pact Rather Sad Story

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP). — Uhro Toivola, Finland's minister to Canada, today described Finnish-Canadian trade relations as "a rather sad story."

"Finland's imports from Canada exceed many times her exports to Canada," he told the Canadian Club here.

"In the first half of this year Canadian exports to Finland — according to Canadian foreign trade statistics—were $1,488,558 but Canadian imports from Finland stopped at $9,996. At this rate Finland is paying—mostly in American dollars—for her imports from Canada 150 times more than she is receiving in return for goods exported to this country.

Reds To Grab Romania Czechs Say

Other Satellites May Be Included; Reds Tighten Security

PRAGUE, Oct. 18—(Reuters)—Under the guidance of the Communist Party in Moscow, the Communist Parties of the Eastern European countries are preparing for an even closer, more formal association of the people's democracies with the Soviet Union, observers here believe.

There has been talk recently of a plan by the Soviet to include one or more of the satellite states within its borders. Romania was named the most likely first candidate for this honor.

Communists and non-Communists here agree such an extreme step at this stage is unlikely.

But opinion has hardened on a belief that Moscow is organizing and may soon announce an Eastern union formed in reply to the Western European union.

While the new development is unlikely to mean the formation of any Eastern assembly, it now is considered likely that the accomplished fact of Eastern union through Communist co-operation will become a declared fact.

In all the people's democracies there have been recent "purges," with the Communist Parties busy eliminating "reaction" and "bourgeois nationalism."

This process has coincided with Soviet actions on the international level and may well draw the Eastern states together behind the front presented to "Western Imperialism."

From Paris, there have come strong indications that the Soviet Union is prepared to meet developments in the United Nations over the Berlin situation by withdrawing from her world associations.

The formation of an "Eastern UN" behind the Stettin-Trieste line would be a natural result of such a step.

The Czechoslovak people have, within the last few weeks, become well aware that the process of communization is being accelerated here.

Forced labor camps are being established in many districts. Hundreds of arrests have been made.

Pull Ship Off Ledge 2 In Crew Unhurt

WATERTOWN, N.Y., Oct. 18.—(AP)—Coast guards late Sunday pulled the Canadian-manned ketch Grabe off a rock ledge in the main Duck Islands of Lake Ontario.

The ketch, from Falmouth, England, was freed as a heavy sea threatened extensive damage to the craft. Chief Boatswain's Mate Russell E. Mallett of the coast guard said.

Mallett said the 20-ton ketch stuck fast on a ledge while a fishing tug was attempting to tow it into the lake. The ketch was manned by Harry R. Etheridge of Vancouver, and Robert Davis, of Oakville, Ont.

Discover Boat Fear 4 Drowned

SILVER CREEK, N.Y., Oct. 18—(AP)—Police said the finding Sunday night of a capsized boat on Lake Erie led them to believe four Buffalo men reported missing were drowned.

A 14-foot outboard motorboat found overturned about 200 yards from shore off Lotus Point near here was identified as the one the four used. They were reported missing two days after they were believed to have gone fishing.

Coast guards said the men probably could not have withstood the rough, cold water even if they had been able to don life jackets.

In the fishing party were Joseph Balcerzak, 33; John Koniarczyk, 34; Edward J. Welninski, 37, and Anthony Kwarciak, 46.

"In the eyes of the French government these men are traitors and must be brought back to France to pay for their crimes," the sources added.

No Comment

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP). — External Affairs Department spokesmen declined today to indicate whether the French government has asked Canada to open extradition proceedings for the four alleged Vichy collaborators now living in this country.

"We must say 'no comment'," said an external affairs official of a Paris dispatch which quoted informed sources as saying France had made such a request "several times."

All queries were referred to acting Prime Minister Howe, who said in an interview Sunday night it was his "strong" impression the French government had requested only the return of Count Jaques De Bernonville, now appealing a deportation order in Montreal.

Case Closed?

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP)—Acting Prime Minister Howe indicated today the government is standing firm on its intention not to reopen the case of the four alleged Vichy collaborators.

Asked for comment on reports that the case was to be brought under review again, he told the Canadian Press:

"I gave you a statement last night. I've checked it. It's true. That's the official story."

Beyond that, he declined to say anything further.

Mr. Howe was referring to an interview Sunday night in which he told a CP reporter the case was "closed as far as the cabinet is concerned" and that there is no present intention of reviewing it.

The four men, currently living in Quebec province, are alleged to have collaborated with the former Nazi-dominated Vichy government.

Mr. Howe in an interview said altogether there are five alleged collaborators in Canada. The fifth is Count Jacques de Bernonville, fighting deportation in a Montreal court.

However, another government spokesman says there are six, but adds he cannot recall the name of the sixth alleged collaborator or what has become of him.

The order-in-council prepared and issued in mid-September was made public Saturday. It admitted three of the four men. The fourth, says government sources, was admitted under a subsequent order-in-council which gives French citizens the same free entry to Canada as enjoyed by immigrants of British origin.

Mr. Howe says it is his "strong impression" that the French government requested the return of only Count de Bernonville and that no representation had been made about the others.

Pohl as Mrs. Patience, a divorced mother of two children who used to visit William at the Stuarts' Galt home after his discharge from the British army.

"As far as I know, she was still in Galt when I left to come here in September, though I hadn't seen her for some time."

Police looked for Mrs. Stuart, herself, after relatives reported that the 58-year-old woman had not been seen at her Galt home since Sept. 15—two days after Mrs. Pohl disappeared. But Mrs. Stuart said Sunday that there was no "mystery" to her disappearance.

She told The Canadian Press in London that she had only obeyed a nostalgic urge to return to bomb-battered West Ham, a working class district in London's East End where she was born. She had crossed to England on other occasions, sometimes working her way on cattle boats.

Mother 'Upset'

She said she was "upset and distracted" to learn that police were holding her son in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Pohl, whom he had once planned to marry.

She added that her only thought now was to get home to William, due to appear in magistrate's court here Wednesday on the public mischief charge.

"Billy, who is also divorced, had planned to marry her at one time but later told her he wanted nothing more to do with her and then packed up and went to Kitchener to work," she said. "There he met another girl to whom he became engaged. Mrs. Patience married someone else."

Mrs. Stuart said the claim that her son owed Mrs. Pohn $600 apparently referred to money that was used to buy an automobile when the couple planned to marry. The car had been wrecked and Mrs. Stuart said she did not know what became of it.

Mrs. Stuart added that she is going home to Galt as soon as financial and passage arrangements can be made.

"But that's going to be hard and I don't know what I'm going to do."

Just A Manouvre

He said Russia's new proposal to outlaw atomic weapons was a manoeuvre which was inacceptable to "sincere men." He repeated his rejection of the proposal, which would set up an atomic control organization simultaneously:

The Russians would lift the blockade of Berlin; Russian currency would become the sole currency for the former German capital, under four-power supervision; the four-power council of foreign ministers would meet or be called to meet on the whole German question.

The western powers previously had rejected the idea of lifting of the blockade simultaneously with the currency compromise and the convening of the foreign ministers. They wanted the blockade lifted before they would discuss Berlin or Germany. But their interest in a plan along these lines is said to be increasing.

capital of the newly-proclaimed Arab government of the Holy Land.

Israeli government spokesmen said the purpose of the Israeli attack was to smash open the road to Jewish settlements in the Negev, southern Palestine dessert.

That road crosses the Egyptian supply and reinforcement road to Beersheba, Heron and the southern arc of the Jerusalem front. If the Jews won full control they would cut the Egyptian supply and reinforcement route for much of southern Palestine

An indication of at least partial Israeli success in that objective was receipt at U.N. headquarters in Haifa of an Egyptian complaint that the Jews had occupied positions east of Faluja blocking the highway approach from Gaza through Hebron to Jerusalem. Faluja is a communicatons centre 23 miles northeast of Gaza.

Housing Picture Still Grim Survey Reveals

The housing situation remains about the same in Peterborough, a survey of real estate companies shows. All agents are agreed that generally a house can't be purchased unless the prospective homeowner is willing to advance between 40 and 50 per cent of the total cost. And chances of renting one are just about nil.

One Simcoe St. agent said that recently-arrived British immigrants were particularly hard hit.

"These lads can only take out a maximum of $1,000 a year from Great Britain," he said. "A lot of them are on the verge of going back in disgust. They're not complaining about their treatment, but they do think they should have been told about the housing situation before they were invited to come out here."

The same agent said that the down payment on a new house would now be anywhere up to 50 per cent, unless the purchase was being made under the National Housing Act. Under this Central Mortgage and Finance plan the would-be homeowner can borrow up to 80 per cent of the cost of his house.

Another bright spot in what otherwise seems a rather dark picture, is the second mortgage which the provincial government is willing to extend to those who have houses under construction. But the amount of this second mortgage cannot exceed $1,200.

"The pressure hasn't eased a bit," said another realtor appraising the overwhelming demand for houses. "We've had lots of inquiries recently, many of them, perhaps, from people coming in from summer places and trying to get comfortably accommodated before winter sets in."

"Business always drops off in summer," this realtor explained, "but it picks up again in the fall. As a matter of fact in the last two weeks we've just about had a record turnover."

Even wartime houses which were erected to relieve the worst of the shortage, cannot as yet come near to satisfying the need. "There's still a long waiting list for every house," was the terse comment on wartime houses.

To the question: When will the shortage end?, there were several answers.

The most pessimistic was from an experienced dealer who predicted that it would continue on into the indefinite future. "The situation will keep up until the prices of materials come down," he said. "At the moment prices are higher than ever and the materials remain hard to get.

He singled out Gyproc, nails, and cement particularly as almost unprocurable items.

But this pessimist had a solution: lift the ceiling on rents. He maintained that if the ceiling were lifted many people now living in large houses, and not using a number of rooms, would feel it worth while to open up these rooms for rent.

The most optimistic view was that of an agent who estimated that approximately 300 new homes now under construction would be available before winter, and the consequent reshuffling would help to ease the bottleneck.

Meanwhile the unanimous decision of the experts is: "We can sell all we build, but we don't know of any houses for rent."

UNITED NATIONS DAY—October 24th

This is a time for each of us to reaffirm his determination that succeeding generations shall not suffer from the scourge of war. It is the privilege and duty of each of us to take a personal interest in the activities, the aims and ideals of the United Nations. Irish Playwright Described By Nancy Pyper

COBOURG, Oct. 18 —(ENS) — Impressions of George Bernard Shaw gained in interviews and through production of his plays at Hart House, formed the topic of an absorbing address by Nancy Pyper at the session here Sunday of the Business and Professional Women's clubs of Ontario. Irish herself, and familiar with his plays, Nancy Pyper was doubly qualified to interpret "G. B." to her audience.

Miss Pyper said she first met Mr. Shaw when he was 71 years of age.

"I telephoned him about getting an interview and he told me that I could find him next day at a gathering he was scheduled to attend. I asked him how he would know me when I came and he replied 'you wear a white daisy in your coat and I'll wear a white beard."

She said she was impressed most with his eyes They twinkled and were kind in spite of his somewhat sharp wit. There was colour in his voice and his gestures were remarkably expressive as he was a superb actor. His sentences sounded English at the beginning but they ended with the rising inflection that was Irish.

"His quotes are always news. His recipe for old age is keep your regard for your aged contemporaries but discard them and live with the young. If the old cannot be young; if they have forgotten to be young, then they are old forever." Nancy Pyper said.

"George Bernard Shaw's father was a drinker and his mother was Puritan in her instincts. It hurt them when people laughed at his father when in difficulties due to alcohol and he vowed when a young boy never to touch liquor. The great playwright had a superb sense of the anti-climax, a gift which he no doubt inherited from his father. Shaw recalls one time when he was a young boy, trying to get nerve enough to take his first dive into the Irish Sea, his father was trying to help him acquire the necessary courage and told his son that once he jumped in and rescued his uncle and with his keen taste for the anti-climax, Shaw senior added as he demonstrated with a dive—"and I have regretted it ever since."

Warning, Not Exampl

"Shaw had his own ideas how children should be brought up," Mrs. Pyper said. Once he commented that if parents must hold themselves up as an object lesson to their children, "then hold yourself up, not as an example, but as a warning." No man has urged more the freedom of women than Shaw, she declared. This could be seen readily in his plays."

"An astonishingly few number of people realized that Shaw did not talk with his tongue in his cheek," Mrs. Pyper remarked, "What he said was truth and often he sugar-coated a pill with his wit but underneath was the bitter truth."

Another story about Shaw was his great admiration for the acting of Ellen Terry, "the only woman who knew how to cry beautifully," a feat possessed by few women in Shaw's opinion. Once he asked Ellen Terry how she managed to look so youthful and she replied that during the week she was some other person in whatever role she was playing at the time and when Sunday came around, Ellen Terry became Ellen Terry. She only really met herself once a week and consequently never had a chance to grow old. Shaw had a definition of the theatre which Nancy Pyper repeated for the benefit of her listeners. It was:

"The theatre is the temple of the ascent of man. It is a church; a church where the more often you by laughter can you destroy evil laughed, the better, because only without malice and establish good fellowship without mawkishness."

"G.B. is kind. He is only rude when he has to be," the speaker said. She recalled Mr. Shaw at the opera one night. He always sat in the main body of the theatre while his wife sat in her own box. Mr. Shaw took Nancy Pyper to meet his wife.

Mrs. Pyper word-sketched her—"she was of medium height, plumpish a little, twinkling green eyes, lovely grey dress with a mauve scarf. It was one time I wished Mr. Shaw would go away because I wanted to ask his wife about him. But he didn't. He stayed there. We chatted and before we left she gave me a note which would admit me to their flat."

"The flat was a priceless museum of gifts from all over the world, sent or brought by his admirers. Mrs. Shaw's bedroom was beautiful but Shaw's was plain and simple with a bed like that to be found in a monk's cell. There was a wash basin atop a metal tripod but to add a little bit of something was a French picture "just a bit on the naughty side."

Convinced by H. G. Wells on the propriety of cremation, when Mrs. Shaw died her husband arranged for the remains to be cremated. In a simple ceremony attended by only a few, the earthly remains of one whom Shaw loved very dearly were consumed by fire.

Can Rent Home For $27.43 But Let Gov't Find One

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP). — Mr. and Mrs. average home-seeker may find consolation in a government statistical finding that Mr average Canadian pays only $27.43 a month rent for his home.

You'd have thought the way ome prices are going these days hat he might be paying a little nore . .

The Dominion Bureau of Statis-s, who obtained the rent figure om a survey of sample house-lders across the country last bruary, tells Mr. and Mrs. erage home-seeker:

"One-family detached dwelling-ad the lowest average rent at 24.27 and apartments and flats he highest at $30.37. For dwelling units in rows or terraces, the average was $26.09 and for two-family detached dwellings $26.28."

Well, let's take a walk with Mr. and Mrs. average home-seeker through the provinces. Perhaps we, too, can pick up a little home for around $27.43.

In Toronto a brief Canadian Press survey shows you can actually get a furnished house—for around $90 a month. Sorry, but unfurnished homes you can get for neither love nor money.

Apartments Scarce

Apartments? They're scarcer than hen's teeth, unless you have lots of spare cash. Newly-constructed three-room apartments are going for about $75 UP. Four-room apartments and duplexes for about $100-up to $150.

If you're a car dealer, you might advertise as one has during the week-end and say you're willing to pay a year's rent in advance or $1,000 for something to live in.

So we leave Toronto, a little downhearted and hurry to that big town, Montreal. You're just in time, says The Canadian Press survey, to get a few apartments going fast . . . at $100! You get desperate, and place an advertisement in the newspaper. And then you see that others are also doing the same and offering $150 a month for an apartment or four or five rooms.

Desependent? Then let's go down to the east coast—to Halifax. Yes, says Mr. Survey. Nice, comfortable homes are renting from $35 to $40 a month. But there are just none available. An apartment? None of that statistical $30.37 here. For "nothing special" you pay from $90 to $100 a month.

Tried To Crash Birthday Party 3 Go To Jail

OSHAWA, Oct. 18. — Three Whitby men were trotted off to police cells shortly after midnight Sunday when they tried to crash a birthday party at the Blue Swallow Inn on No. 2-A Highway.

Constable Kist said a scuffle occurred when he tried to arrest the men, and Charles Taylor ran across the field after taking a swing at him. He was identified by a coat left in the car.

Finds Big People Involved In Bugsy's Death

BEVERLEY HILLS, Calif., Oct. 18.—(CP).—Police Chief Clinton H. Anderson said today he knows who killed Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, but added, "the persons involved are so big we can't go cut and give them the bum's rush."

Siegel was slain June 20, 1947, as he sat reading a newspaper in the Beverley Hills mansion of Miss Virginia Hills. Four bullets were fired into his body.

Anderson, who arrived home by air today from New York, described Siegel as a Los Angeles "ganglord" and said he was killed on orders of "an international underworld syndicate" because he threatened to talk.

"This was no ordinary shooting," he added. "There was big money behind it."

He said he needs time to gather corroborating evidence before making an arrest.

With Siegel when he was killed was an associate, Allen Smiley, who entered the United States from Canada in 1922 and now is undergoing deportation proceedings in Los Angeles. Smiley was born in Russia.

Young Man With a Plan

Every young man faces two certainties . . . one, that he cannot work forever . . . the other, that he cannot live forever.

As a consequence he must also admit two possibilities . . . one, that old age may find him financially dependent on others . . . two, that his early death may bring privation to his family.

There is a sure way in which a young man can provide alike for himself in old age or for his family in case of early death. It is to embark upon a definite life insurance programme with an initial policy within his current means. Step by step, thereafter, he can increase his life insurance holdings to keep pace with personal advancement and growing responsibilities.

In this way he places — and keeps — his own financial future and that of his dependants beyond the hazards of mere circumstance. He becomes a "Young Man with a Plan" . . . a more substantial citizen and a happier man because of it.

Out Of The Everywhere

The Canadian Bureau of Statistics tells us that in 1947 our country had the highest birth-rate in her history. In spite of the gloomy predictions of the scientists who tell us that the world is becoming uncomfortably crowded, there is still plenty of room in Canada—and particularly for babies of our own manufacture. This record of a high birth-rate is good news indeed.

* * *

Everybody knows George Macdonald's sentimental verse which begins—

Where did you come from, baby dear?
Out of the everywhere into the here.

Respecting the 356,303 babies who turned up in Canada last year we can give somewhat more exact information; most of them made their appearance in Nova Scotia, which holds the record of 36.2 per 1,000 of population. In Ontario, always remarkable for the conservatism and restraint of its people, the rate was a mere 26. Quebec, which is said to be famous for big families, is in third place on the list, with a birth-rate of 31.2 per 1000. It is interesting also that Quebec is sixth of the nine provinces in its incidence of marriage. The highest record of marriages is in British Columbia, although it has the lowest birth-rate. Something to do with the altitude, probably. The poorest marriage record is that of Prince Edward Island.

* * *

For the country as a whole the birth-rate is 28.6 per 1000 of population. Ontario and British Columbia have the lowest infant mortality rate, which somewhat excuses them for having so few babies; they take good care of the ones they do have. Their figure was 36 deaths in each 1000 infants. New Brunswick is disgraced with an infant mortality of 59 per thousand, and Quebec is close behind with a rate of 57. The national rate is 46. The death of mothers in childbed is the lowest it has ever been, standing now at 1.5 in every 1000 live births. But the national infant mortality rate is disgraceful, and it is up to the delinquent provinces to do something about it.

Danger Of Divided U.S. Congress

It is increasingly apparent that the possibility of a divided United States Congress after the Presidential election next month is strongly influencing the campaign tactics currently used in that country. The Republicans are now concentrating their efforts in five or six states in which the issue is very much in doubt in the Senate race; the Democrats are matching those efforts, and Henry Wallace is doing the same thing. Control of the Senate now appears the only doubtful result of the election, for United States' observers unanimously concede the Presidency and the House of Representatives to the Senate.

The manner in which this affects the campaign is being demonstrated in the State of Minnesota, one of the most doubtful in the Union. Mr. Wallace campaigned there just over a week ago, followed by President Truman last Wednesday and Governor Dewey last Friday. Polls show that the state's voters are about evenly distributed between Truman and Dewey, apart from a small percentage recorded for Wallace. If the polls are accurate, this could easily mean a Democratic triumph, for a heavy vote for the Dewey ticket as a whole is considered essential to the re-election of Senator Joseph Ball, who is opposed by Mayor Hubert H. Humphrey of Minneapolis. However, while showing Truman and Dewey running about even, the polls give Humphrey a wide lead over Ball.

Even to outside observers, Senator Ball does not appear to be a strong candidate. While consistency in politics is by no means the essential virtue some critics profess to think it, a politician who reverses his field on everything in less than four years usually manages to alienate the voters. Although a Republican, Ball was for Roosevelt four years ago and against Dewey. He was then pro-labour; he is now against it. Then an ardent internationalist, he is now the Senate's leading isolationist; his swing from liberalism to extreme conservatism has been complete. If Dewey's popularity manages to re-elect Ball, it will be a major political achievement.

The Republicans are sparing no effort to bring that about. They know that if they lose Minnesota, Oklahoma, New Mexico, West Virginia and Kentucky—which seems at least a possibility—they will almost certainly lose control of the Senate. It is a prospect alarming not only to Republicans, but to people everywhere who are hoping for strong and undivided government leadership in the United States for the critical years immediately ahead.

No Cause For Gloom

Should any attempt be made to familiarize school children with the plays of Shakespeare? Mr. A. Ward, who is a member of the advisory committee of the Toronto Board of Education, does not think so. He is quoted as saying that the subject should perhaps be dropped "because it may be a waste of time to teach Shakespeare to the children". The bad manners shown by a few Toronto children at some Shakespearean performances which were arranged for them last week led Mr. Ward to express himself thus.

We think that his idea deserves consideration. It would not be possible, of course, to arrange a curriculum simply on a basis of what children want to learn. Most children lack any clear ideas on the subject, and only a few could arrange a sensible course of studies for themselves. Children must learn what competent educators consider fitting. But it is quite possible to argue that Shakespeare requires a maturity of judgement which high school students lack, and that his plays should be reserved for university instruction only.

Such a plan, if adopted, would be an unfortunate confession, however, for history is full of instances in which children under twelve years old have said that Shakespeare was their favourite writer. If our Ontario children do not measure up to standards achieved elsewhere, we must face facts and arrange our studies accordingly. But we feel that Mr. Ward takes too gloomy a view.

We know, both from high school students and from teachers, that the plays of Shakespeare are popular with most of the students who are faced with them—perhaps with a majority. Our own opinion is that there is too great a concentration on single plays, and that a survey course, demanding the reading of perhaps ten plays, would be better; of course intensive examination on so many plays would not be possible, but a broad knowledge of Shakespearean language and style would be gained. We feel, also that matters would be greatly helped if Ontario afforded more chances to see plays of Shakespeare adequately performed. Greater familiarity with Shakespeare would be good education and good fun.

There is a widespread notion that Shakespeare's plays are hard to understand—that they are "over the heads" of most people. This is the purest piffle. Once certain unfamiliarities of language are overcome, and a superstitious awe of a man who is not only a master dramatist but also a great poet, Shakespeare appears in a new and brilliantly attractive light. Because a few Toronto students have made asses of themselves in public—or have revealed their native asininity more nakedly than before—we must not become gloomy about all the young people of Ontario.

Thanks To Martin Chenhall

We cannot permit the retirement of Martin B. Chenhall from his post as organist of St. Paul's Church to pass without a word of public thanks. Yesterday Mr. Chenhall played his last service in the church where he has served for nearly twenty-eight years of the sixty years of his musical life. During his time in Peterborough he has done much—more, perhaps, than any other single man—to raise the standard of musical taste in this city, through his works as a teacher and his example as an organist and choirmaster. During the existence of the Peterborough Male Voice Choir he brought honour to this city in festival performances as far from here as New York, and he gave deep satisfaction to thousands of his fellow-townsmen with whom he shared his own musical appreciation.

When we think of the makers of a city we must not restrict our praise only to the men who have managed the business, spent the money, shared the burdens of public affairs, and held public office—important though these men are. We must remember also the men who have in other ways made that city a good place to live in, who have brought the good things of the ancient world to our doors, who have shown us the way to employ our leisure like civilized men and women, who have provided for us adventures among the arts and evenings which we shall recall with delight so long as we live. Martin Chenhall is one of these, and we thank him.

"Of Cabbages And Kings"

By PETER ELIOT

"THE other afternoon on sudden impulse as I was passing, I opened a drawer in a cabinet on the stairs at Renishaw. Inside, I noticed an envelope, with something written on it. I took it out, and read:

"A lock of Marie Antoinette's hair, cut from her head ten minutes after execution."

So begins one of the many enchanting reminiscences in Great Morning, the third volume of Sir Osbert Sitwell's autobiography. "Carefully unfastening the envelope," he continues, "I looked in it, and found within some rather coarse grey hair, tied up with a faded ribbon....For a time I was puzzled, thinking how odd it was that so interesting a relic should have been left about, just anywhere, in that manner, wondering why, for example, my father had never told me of it, and how it had come here and who had shorn it—and then, about an hour later, in the way that memory sometimes acts, so that you are able to remember in detail an occurrence which only a little while before was so completely forgotten that it no longer existed, a scene came back to me....

"IT was over thirty years ago, and Ned Lutyens and I were sitting on a sofa in the library at Wood End. My father had just left the room to look for a rough drawing he had made on the back of an envelope, to illustrate a possible alteration of which he had thought whilst out walking, and which he wanted the architect to consider. Suddenly, as we were talking, we heard a rending sound, and found that the cover of the sofa had split, revealing its stuffing. Ned had hurriedly seized a bit of it, pulled it out, and then screwed round it a bit of ribbon he had proceeded to tear off the edge of a curtain. Having done this, he placed the wisp of stuffing in an envelope, on the outside of which he wrote something, sealed it up and threw it into the drawer of the cabinet. He then shut the drawer, and returned to the sofa. All this he had accomplished with remarkable speed, for fear of my father returning to catch him at it. As he sat down, he remarked to me:

"'Nobody's likely to find that for a long time, and by then it will have become real.'

◆ ◆ ◆

"WHEN Wood End had been sold ten years ago, much of the furniture had been moved to Renishaw—and this was the cabinet. Had anyone but myself found this piece of horse or sheep hair—and even I had almost forgotten the incident,—it would doubtless, as the author of the joke prophesied, have passed for a genuine relic."

ONE of the most colourful of the Lowells—that distinguished New England family of wonderful people—was Amy. Of her Ferris Greenslet writes in The Lowells And Their Seven Worlds:

"The years between 1920 and 1925 mainly devoted to the slow accumulation of material and the writing of the life of Keats, included several periods of serious illness, extensive travel, and lecturing at home, and abroad. The prodigal hospitality at Sevenels continued, but her appearances at her own dinner parties became later and later. Once or twice she never came down at all from the third story quarters where she turned nights into working day. The seven large bouncing bundles of long hair that climbed over you after dinner, and were discovered on closer contact to contain affectionate sheep dogs, were no more, but the vast table in the rich and stately library was still piled solid with travel books and murder stories to the height of two feet, and eighteenth century memoirs by her bedside. The ten thousand long light manila cigars she had bought during the Old War to secure her future were still under consumption. Cigarettes had proved inadequate, and a pipe she discovered burned small holes in the meticulously stretched bedclothes beneath which she wrote. Like the men in her family, save Cousin James, his father and his great-grandfather, she had found that a good cigar was a smoke. She liked to tell of an occasion when the mulberry motor had ceased suddenly to function and the proprietor of the village hesitated about charging the cost of repairs:

"'I'm Amy Lowell,' she told him, 'the sister of the President of Harvard. Call him up and he'll tell you I'm good for the bill.' The proprietor called Kirkland 7600, and did so, stating the case in some detail.

"'What's she doing now?' asked Lawrence.

"'She's sitting across the road on a stone wall smoking a cigar!'

"'All right, that's my sister.'

IN the summer of 1921, while bedridden after an operation, she worked off her energies in the rapid composition of her Critical Fable which was published anonymously the following year. The secret of the authorship was well kept. The inquiring reader was thrown off the scent by the unknown poet's exceedingly candid portrait of Amy Lowell:

"Conceive, if you can, an electrical storm of a swiftness and fury surpassing the norm; conceive that this cyclone has caught up the rainbow and dashed dizzily on with it streaming in tow. Imagine a sky all split open and scissored by flashings, and then you can picture this buzzard. That is, if you'll also imagine the crashes of tropical thunder, the incessant crashes which shiver the hearing and leave it in ashes. Remember, meanwhile, that the sky is prismatic and outrageous with colour. The effect is erratic and jarring to some, but to others ecstatic, depending of course, on the idiosyncratic response of beholders. When you come to think of it, a good deal is demanded by those on the brink of it.'

◆ ◆ ◆

NO sooner was the book out than she started an enthusiastic boom for Leonard Bacon, whose "Banquet of the Poets" had amused her, as the brilliant author of the Fable. It was so announced by Henry Canby in the Saturday Review. Leonard was flattered but indignant. Guess the author of the Critical Fable became a popular literary game. Among those featured were Amy Lowell and Leonard Bacon, Gamaliel Bradford, Conrad Aiken, Louis Untermeyer, Masters, Don Marquis, Nathan, Haskell Dole, Christopher Morley, Wallace Irwin, and, to his mingled consternation and delight, Ferris Greenslet. Of course, no one of them save Amy Lowell, nor all of them together, could conceivably have written it. It was not until the English Who's Who of 1923 came out that the authorship was disclosed.

Annual Drought For Ontario?

(LONDON FREE PRESS)

FOR some years now the people of Southwestern Ontario have been warned by conservationists that the scarcity of trees, the resulting shortage of water and erosion of soil, constituted a threat to continued agriculture and the whole prosperity of this area. Now there are indications that the water shortage which has been increasing may continue to develop unless drastic and immediate steps are taken to prevent it.

In a report issued by the Geography Department of the University of Western Ontario there is a clear warning that the best of scientific methods must be employed at once if Western Ontario is to be able to reverse the present trend towards an annual drought. That the shortage is real and acute does not have to be argued at length. It is a matter of experience to many farmers and in many small centres. Even in the cities engineers are beginning to show some alarm at the growing demand and the increasing difficulties of meeting higher consumption marks.

Conservation programs such as that devised for the Thames watershed will counteract this situation but it would be foolish to believe that the building of dams alone can create adequate reservoirs. Unless forest land is replanted generously and the swamps permitted to remain swamps and not washed out by open drains the dams will have no water to form reservoirs.

The Geography Department report points out the perilous degree to which we have permitted trees to be cut in Western Ontario. In Middlesex, for example, our forest land today is 6.4 per cent.; in Elgin it is 8.2 per cent.; in Lambton it is 8.2 per cent; in Huron it is 5.9 per cent.; in Essex it is only 2.8 per cent.; in Oxford it is 5.7 per cent. This is far below the forest areas of Britain and the smaller countries of Western Europe, and there is actually a larger area of forest land in Belgium than in all Western Ontario.

As the report states our conservation programs to date are only a beginning, and we have the means at hand to remedy our situation. Weather conditions in Western Ontario are unusually consistent; all we have to do is to take care of the water which comes to us in various forms every year. We have to conserve the rain and the snow for our use and not allow moisture to be drained away by floods and freshets.

Nevertheless there is an urgency about the situation for without water in the soil there can be no vegetable or animal life—no human life. Adequate supplies of water are necessary to survival, and the conservationist is in truth the saviour of our children's heritage.

Who Isn't A "Foreigner"?

A Toronto magistrate has bound over three men to keep the peace for a year for getting into a brawl over the use of the word "foreigner" as applied to two of them by the third. In a terse and very sensible comment he pointed out that this is a cosmopolitan country and people should not go around using a word which may have offensive connotations when everybody here except the Indians (to which race the magistrate happened to belong) was as much a "foreigner" as everybody else.

An immense amount of twaddle has been talked and a good deal of ill-feeling stirred up, over the years, by this sort of thing and the Toronto magistrate is right in protesting against it. We're all "foreigners" if it comes to that, if to be a foreigner means to have taken up residence in a country when somebody else had got there first. Even the full blooded Six Nations man on the Toronto bench might have a hard time proving that his people were the very first inhabitants of Canada. Was there not an almost unknown race before the Indian came, about whose members we possess so little information that we have not even a name for them but call them "Mound Builders" after their mysterious habit of heaping up earth here and there? If any of their descendants of unmixed blood were left—which there aren't—they could with equal reason regard the Indians as parvenues and all the rest of us as mere transients. Similarly an "ancient" Briton, if of the pure stock, could quite as sensibly look down upon the vast majority of the country's inhabitants whose family tree was in any way influenced by the affair of 1066.

Anyway, how far back must a Canadian be able to trace his ancestry in this country before he can become a Canadian? Judging them by any of the standards we know a lot of "new Canadians" that this country is lucky to call its own, and we would like to see a great many more of this kind of "foreigner" come over and make Canada their Canada,—theirs and ours. With the utmost respect to the wise Toronto magistrate, this country might not be as far ahead as it is today had it not been for a lot of "foreigners", French and English and half a dozen racial blends, all mixed up now and all Canadians.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now if Christ be preached that he rose from the dead, how say some among you that there is no resurrection of the dead, then is Christ not risen: and if Christ be not risen, then is our preaching vain, and your faith is also vain....

But now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the firstfruits of them that slept.... But every man in his own order: Christ the firstfruits; afterward they that are Christ's at his coming. Then cometh the end, when he shall have delivered up the kingdom to God, even the Father; when he shall have put down all rule and all authority and power. For he must reign, till he hath put all enemies under his feet.

The last enemy that shall be destroyed is death. (1 Cor. 15: 12-14, 20, 23-26.)

ONE MILLION MAN HOURS of accident-free working time is the fine record of employees of the Quaker Oats Company. Typical of those who made it possible, and viewing the plaque installed at the plant's employees' entrance are, Left to Right, W. Youden, Elsie MacDonald and J. Garvey.

Quaker First Milling Plant To Set Safety Mark Million Hours, No Lost Time

'A Safe Plant." That is the reassuring legend engraved on a bronze plaque presented to the Quaker Oats Co. by the Industrial Accident Prevention Association in recognition of more than 1,000,000 man-hours without lost time due to industrial disease or injury.

The plaque, now hanging up outside the entrance to the plant, is the first of its kind to begiven to a milling company in the province. Altogether, four plaques have been awarded among the 17-18,000 members of the I.A.P.A. in Ontario during the 10-month period in which they have been issued.

This accident-free stretch is the fruits of a careful campagn of safety education which has been disseminated among employees since 1945. Various contests, posters, and elimination of unnecessary mechanical hazards have all helped to make the employees safety-conscious, Carl Jensen, chairman of the safety committee, believes.

Compilation of the 1,000,000 hours began on February 11 and was reached on October 5. Once before the company thought it might reach the million mark but an accident marred the record when about 800,000 hours had been completed.

Lewis H. Ingram, vice-president of the Quaker Oats Co., is doubly proud of the plant's achievement, both in his executive capacity with the company and as 1948-49 president of the I.A.P.A.

That the emphasis is on accident prevention is apparent to the outsider as soon as he enters the plant. When he pushes open the front door a poster in a glass frame meets his eye.

It says: "Yes, old accident himself can give you a kick in the face if you don't keep safety rules. No one is immune to accidents. Help us to help you work safely."

To illustrate this catchy little reminder, a mule is shown planting his rear hooves in the face of a luckless victim, A series of similar posters spread throughout the plant are said to be more effective in making the employees safety-conscious than the more sophisticated handouts from the I.A.P.A.

Proud of Record

"We are certainly very proud of our achievement," said Mr. Jensen. "But it doesn't mean we're going to rest on our oars now. We're going to hang on to that plaque as long as we can."

There are two committees to supervise the safety campaign. the Plant Safety Committee and the Women's Safety Committee. The Workman's Committee, under its chairman, Fred Chambers, is composed of 10 members or, as nearly as possible, one from each department. They meet once a month and inspect the plant, watch for any hazards or unsafe practices in the various departments, analyze the cause of plant accidents and promote safety generally.

The Plant Committee has about eight members consisting of department heads. It is chaaired by Mr. Jensen. Here also accidents and the circumstances surrounding them are analyzed and the ways and means of avoiding these time-wasting mishaps are fully explored. When a solution is arrived at the appropriate department manager is given the recommendations of the committee, and he is expected to carry them out.

Company officials say that the greatest asset in safety prevention work is the co-operation of department managers and foremen. It is felt that they constitute a safety committee in their own departments, as they are acquainted with the day-to-day routine of the employee, and are best able to gauge his emotional and psychological behaviour.

For each 200,000 man-hours of accident-free work the company receives a certificate from the I. A.P.A. Blue is given for 200,000, then green, red, silver and gold. If the gold certificate is won the company is eligible for the bronze plaque which is retained until 30 days after the first accident.

Lost time is when the employee is away from his job, through industrial disease or injury, beyond the day or shift on which the injury occurred. Or again, when there is a death, or a permanent total or partial disability. When he returns to work the next day or at the commencement of the next shift, he must do so on the permission of the doctor who has to be satisfied that he can work with normal efficiency.

In the educational program which has been so successfuly, Mr. Jensen picks out two features which have been particularly effective in focusing the attention of the workers on safety measures.

The first is the safety contests. For example, in 1946 there was a safety slogan contest, into which plant employees entered with enthusiasm. A year later there was a contest with points taken away from departments for safety infractions. And the second popular means of education is the numerous posters.

Plant offical say this honor is an indication that the Peterborough company is leading the other Quaker plants in both the United States and Canada when it comes to safety practices.

Meanwhile, in the words of Mr. Jensen, "First we want a full year of no accidents, and then on to the 2,000,000 mark."

Durban Fathers Win The Double

DURBAN, South Africa, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Ninteen Durban fathers have won "the double"—not at Clairwood or Greyville, but in maternity hospitals, where their wives have given birth to twins in the past few weeks.

The only explanation a nursing sister could give about this sudden "rush" of twins was: "The sea air must be doing it—I can think of nothing else."

In addition, to the 19 pairs of European twins, there has also been a number of native twins.

Boy twins have predominated with "mixed pairs" next.

PCVS Juniors Hand Loss To Lakefield

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 18 (ENS). — PCVS juniors defeated Lakefield 38-6 Saturday at the latter's home field completing 13 of 23 attempted forward passes despite rain and a wet ball. Four resulted in major scorers while three were good for single converts.

Armstrong, Evans, Griffin and Jensen combined to score in the first with plunges and passes as Jensen took Griffin's pass across the line at the two minute mark. Knox later plunged over for a major which Griffin converted to Jensen. Another toss from Griffin to Armstrong took the latter over to make the score 16-0 at the end of the quarter.

Lakefield fought back and scored as they intercepted a pass in the second, worked to scoring position, finally plunged across and made a good convert. Knox widened the margin for PCVS late in the quarter on a plunge to score and Griffin to Armstrong enabled Armstrong to score again converted. Another similar pass after a great run by Jensen to Lakefield 25 in the third and he himself converted to Griffin. Gaudy carried around right end in the fourth on a nice plunge as did Armstrong at the 12 minute mark to end the scoring in a one-sided contest.

PCVS Juniors: flying wing, Evans; halves, Knox, Heard, Armstrong quarter, Griffin; snap Frize; insides, Grant, Wood; middles, Howe, Jopling; outsides, Burns, Jensen; alternates, Langhorne, Bigford, Fowler, Fecendi; Cruickshanks, White, Finn, Young, Ackford, Brown, Braund, Gandy.

Lakefield: flying wing, Twist; halves, Kelly, Blake, Coyle; quarter, Calberry; snap, Deck; insides, McCracken, C. Pearson; middles, Crawford, D. Pearson; outsides, J. Sloan, D. Sloan; alternates, Freeburn, Berger, Wilford, Sabatino, Darling.

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 18 — (ENS)—R. F. Jolliffe, M.D., who has been associated with Dr. W. W. Baker for the past two years is moving to Warkworth where he has purchased the late Dr. C. Armstrong's practice.

Dr. Jolliffe graduated from Western University in 1941 and during the war he served with the R.C.A.F. for four years.

A BIG HELP—Russ Scriver was a big help to the Panthers in their 15-1 ORFU win here Saturday over Oakville. He kicked a field goal and two singles, and his fumbled kick in the second quarter resulted in another touchdown.

Panthers Take Second Spot With 15-1 Win Over Oakville

"Panther weather" prevailed Saturday at the Oval as the Panthers trimmed Oakville 15-1 to take a firm grip on second place in their ORFU intermediate standing. Rain held down the crowd for the second straight home game for the Panthers, but the local gridders continue to show they are mudders by rolling to a fairly easy victory. By quarters it was 5-1, 11-1, 12-1 and 15-1 at the windup with another touchdown just a couple of yards away.

It was pretty much straight football in the first quarter with a lot of even hoofing, and whole teams substituting at a time. Davidson intercepted a forward on Oakville's 40, Jim Conlin threw a forward to Berardi, Matthews bucked and then the latter plunged 12 for a try, not converted. Watson later kicked a point for the visitors, trying for a placement. Hodson skirted end for eight in the second, Scriver kicked and Davidson grabbed up the fumbled hoof for another try, Scriver converting. Scriver, Middleton and Garvey got good gains and later Burns intercepted a forward. Jim Conlin threw another forward to Berardi and Hodson got yards.

Another Point

The CGE Pipe Band entertained at half-time, and then a run for 15 by Middleton and Hodson's buck for five set up Scriver for a kicked point. Jim Conlin, Matthews and Garvey got through for gains but nothing else happened this quarter. After an Oakville fumble in the fourth and a buck by Hodson, Scriver kicked a neat field goal to end the scoring. The Oakville backfield worked up the field for a space but near the end, Hodson plunged to within a few yards of a try before the histle.

Behind a solid front wall, the local backfield looked good, with Scriver, Hodson, Jim Conlin, Middleton, Davidson and Beradi pulling some effective work all through. Matthews went good but was used sparingly, while Plunkett and Curtin were out with injuries. The losers worked haro but could make little headway.

The teams:

Oakville— Flying wing, Milligan; halves, White, Curry, J. Whitnell; quarter, Bury; snap, Black; insides, Heath, Sturrup; middles, Hook, Johnston; outsides, Sackfield, Pollock; alternates, Abbs, Clarke, Herog, Brown, Leslie, Osborne, Redshaw, Sharpe, Tissard, Tuck, Watson, N. Whitnell.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Rain washed out the Windsor-Petes' lacrosse playoff Saturday here, and the whole series is over. At a round-table talk with club officials from Windsor and Peterborough, along with the referees, the Windsorites decided to default tonight's tilt and go home. Admitted they were outclassed and didn't want to take a bad financial beating by staying over any longer. They were surprised at the quality of lacrosse played up in this neck of the woods. So, both clubs parted on good terms but may arrange an exhibition series next spring. This brings the Levack Trophy and all-Ontario honors (apart from senior "A") back to the Petes again. Our hearty congrats to them. Miller Bowl can be locked up now till next spring tra la.

City Softball League executive, with wives and some guests, wound up their season with a dinner at Hiawatha on Saturday. A most enjoyable affair to end their best year yet. Prexy Pat Calladine, who did a good job the past summer, expects they'll have a P.A. system next season along with sunken dugouts and increased bleachers at the Bowl d'Ashburnham. He expressed appreciation to the parks' officials for past co-operation. Dave Leether, another valuable loop veteran, commended the executive on the work done, and George Dormer spoke briefly. The Peller Trophy for the most valuable player was presented to Howie Dalton.

Panthers Move Up

Panthers mauled Oakville 15-1 here Saturday to take over second spot in their ORFU intermediate group standing, ahead of Oshawa but back of Orillia. Spike Matthews, Bill Davidson and Russ Scriver got the points for Gord Young's gang, but Jim Conlin, Gordon Middleton, Fred Garvey and Ron Hodson also turned in a fine effort. With the husky line really outplaying Oakville all the way. Panthers completed a couple of nice passes, Jim Conlin to Joe Berardi, and looked impressive. Not too many viewed the tilt as rain again beat the gridders.

Down at Port Hope day before yesterday, Bev Goulding's senior PCI-ers took a 31-1 triumph over Trinity. It used to be that TCS took PCVS regularly in exhibition jousts but not the past two years. And in four games to date, the Collegians have scored 102 points with just 25 against 'em. They had five tries this time, one converted. Johnny Green intercepted a forward and ran the full length of the field for a major—and he's still puffing. Wally Graham raced 60 for a touchdown, while Al Northcott, Robinson, Hempstead and Sargent were among others going well. The team completed four of five forward passes. Nice work.

Taking To The Air

And Alex Londry's junior PCVS took to the air again to win 38-6 in Lakefield. Polished off 13 of 22 forward passes, which is right good going. Griffin, Armstrong, Lindsay, Jensen, Evans and Burns all caught the eye with fine work, but the whole team clicked in okay manner. Lakefield battled hard but they haven't the reserve power against a strong squad like the PCVS team. Griffin is having himself a big season and will later prove one of the better graduates to senior ranks. Both Collegiate teams are doing hunky-dory so far if they can just maintain the pace and avoid serious injuries.

Just three players, G. Foster, K. Downer and J. Hennessy, made an appearance for the Petes' soccer club on Saturday, and O'Halloran's—with a full quota—were awarded the game. They'll meet CGE this coming week-end in Mayor Ovens' Cup play. The Electrics and Lindsay drew 2-all in Lindsay on Saturday, and this gave Canadian Legion the league championship. Congratulations to them. But in the inter-branch final down Guelph way on Saturday, Chatham ousted our Legionnaires 3-1 in a tidy tussle.

Longson And Mask

Wild Bill Longson, former world's heavyweight mat champion—and currently seeking another crack at the crown—will be here Wednesday to meet the Masked Marvel in the main grapple bout at the Brock Arena. Two big fast men, with a lot of experience and no powder-puff tactics, so it should be quite a scrap. Pat Flanagan mixes it with large Ben Morgan in the semi-final, while Lee Henning will go against George Becker in the opener. They all sound like solid bouts, with that main one in particular catching the fancy of wrestling fans. Longson hails from St. Louis where he is reported exceptionally well heeled after a lengthy and colorful mat career.

PCVS Seniors Get Win From Trinity

By FRED MAYBEE

Peterborough Collegiate senior football team defeated Trinity College at Port Hope Saturday in the annual exhibition between the two clubs. PCVS led 10-0 at halftime and added 21 more in the second half, despite a steady rain that soaked players and spectators. Johnny Green's 109 yard run in the fourth for a try after intercepting a likely scoring pass from Miller to Greenwood on his own goal line, was the feature play of the game, while the cheer leading of the Misses Catherine Graham, Mary Braund and Catharine Clifton from the sidelines served as usual to pep up proceedings and encourage the boys to rack up their 102nd scoring point in four games.

Northcott ran back a TCS kick to his rivals' 35 at the seven minute mark in the first from whence Graham and Green plunged for yards and the former zig-zagged through a maze of players for 25 more to score. TCS blocked the convert. Good offensive work by both teams with some neat passing was offset by equally strong blocking as play reverted from end to end in the second till finally a pass, Graham to Green from TCS 45 to 20, paid off, as the latter sped across to score but failed to convert it. Trinity scored mid-way in the third stanza as they plunged to PCVS 29 and Wood hoisted to Northcott behind the line for a single. On second down at the 14 minute mark, Graham carried 60 yards for an unconverted try following a bad pass.

Three more major scores in the finale, one converted from placement, ended the scoring as Trinity faded after a hard battle up to that point. Green's long run was followed by a clever move by Hempstead who booted a fumbled kick 45 yards, followed and fell on it behind the line for a major score. Northcott pulled a neat quarterback sneak from 10 yards out with two minutes to go to wind up the scoring.

PCVS—Flying wing, Northcott; halves, Graham, Coon, Thomson; quarter, Green; snap, Killingbeck; insides, Hempstead, Buck; middles, Lowes, Beavis; outside, Swanston, Grainger; alternates, Stacey, Lane, Woodcock, La Plante, Wright, Fitzpatrick, English, Stewart, Ward, Hamblin, Robinson, Sergeant, Payne, Welsh.

Trinity College—Flying wing, Wilson; halves, Dignan, Wood, Hughes; quarter, Thompson; snap, Stratford; insides, Austin, Scowan; middles, Gilley, McGill; outsides, McLaren, Greenwood; alternates, Cox, Selby, Moffitt, Byers, Backes, Deverall, McPherson, Huycke, Sterling, Millen, Fullerton.

Referee, Hiltz; umpire, McComb; head linesman, Gerry Patterson.

Barons Win Again Edge Ramblers 6-5

Cleveland Barons Sunday night protected one of hockey's longest unbeaten streaks by defeating the Ramblers 6-5 at New Haven.

The victory was the fourth straight in the American Hockey league this season for Cleveland which won the last 27 games of the 1947-48 season.

Hero of the night was veteran Pete Leswick who scored the winning counter with less than 1½ minutes to play.

Providence Reds made it four straight by whipping Washington Lions 4-2 before 6,151 fans.

Hershey Bears suffered their third setback in a row at the hands of Buffalo Bisons, being trimmed 3-1.

GREAT RUN—Johnny Green's field-length run for PCVS in Port Hope Saturday for a touchdown was a feature of their exhibition grid win over Trinity. He turned in a fine all-around game.

Bowlers And Curlers Will Hold Meetings

By HERB MARTIN

The semi-annual meeting of the Peterborough Curling Club is called for this evening at 8 p.m. in the club's parlors.

The main item of this meeting is the choosing of the schedule rinks for the coming season.

The skips are especially requested to be present, but if they cannot be there, to please see to it that the vice-skip is.

Also this evening, the annual meeting of the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Co. is to be held in the club house, McDonnel St. At this meeting reports from the different committee chairmen will be received, prizes distributed, sec.-treasurer's report read and a general review of the season's activities by the president.

A new board of directors will be elected and it is hoped that a large attendance will be on hand. Eight o'clock is the hour.

Just how some of us chaps, who are interested in both these sports, can attend both meetings at the same time is not quite clear. From here it looks as if we'll have to toss a coin.

JUST SIGNED TO A two-year contract to manage the New York Yankees, Casey Stengel screws his face into a prodigious wink to indicate to the world that nothin' could be finer than this New York job. Stengel, one time Dodger and Giants favorite, succeeds Stanley "Bucky" Harris, who resigned after the Yanks finished third in the American League race just closed. The new manager has just finished a five-year managerial stint in the minor leagues this past season in Oakland, Calif., where he led his club to the Pacific Coast league championship.

Softball Loop Ends Year With A Dinner

The City Softball League officially closed off the season with a banquet for the executive, their wives, and a few guests, Saturday evening at Hiawatha. The four clubs previously held their own affairs, financed by the league. The "do" Saturday was described by officials as the best ever in the league's history and it marked the finish of the most successful season this circuit ever enjoyed.

Treasurer Dave Leether was chairman and he paid tribute to the work of President Pat Calladine and the other executive members. Mr. Calladine expressed thanks to all, including the parks' officials, and intimated the league would have a public address system next summer. George Dormer also spoke briefly. A highlight of the enjoyable affair was the presentation of the Peller Trophy to Howie Dalton, Johnny Nameth turning it over to the president who did the honors.

Carry Off Goalposts As Queen's Wins Tilt

TORONTO, Oct. 18—(CP).—After Queen's University won their football game against University of Toronto 3-6 Saturday, scores of Queen's students carried the goalposts through downtown streets and tried to take them into the city's biggest hotel.

A dozen students marched with the crossbar while others lugged the uprights.

When the jubilant students swung into the hotel's main lobby, the hotel staff good-naturedly took over the trophies.

Bruins Belt Leafs 4-1 As Wings Blank Rangers

By The Canadian Press

They gave the Stanley Cup to Toronto Maple Leafs Saturday night, but less than two hours later Dit Clapper's Boston Bruins took some of the shine off the silverware.

Bruins belted Leafs 4-1 Saturday in Toronto's first National Hockey League game of the season—highlighted by the official presentation of the cup the Leafs won last year along with the world's hockey championship.

Montreal Canadiens briefly took over the league leadership Saturday by beating Chicago Black Hawks 8-2, but dropped back to second place Sunday when Detroit Red Wings hammered the crippled New York Rangers 7-0.

Detroit now has two straight wins, putting them one point ahead of the Habitants who have a win and a tie. Boston, in third place, can tie Detroit by winning their home game against Chicago Wednesday.

Unhappy Night

Chuck Rayner had an unhappy night in goal behind the Rangers. Detroit fired 49 shots at him as Ted Lindsay scored twice and Jerry Couture and rookie Max McNab each garnered a goal and an assist. Bill Quackenbush and Jack Stewart had one each.

Already weakened by an automobile accident that sidelined top scorer Buddy O'Connor and defenceman Frank Eddolls, New York collapsed when winger Ed Slowinski broke a leg in practice

Canadiens scored four goals on clean breaks and four more in prolonged scrambles when Chicago defencemen were unable to clear.

Elmer Lach, top of the scoring race last year, got off to a head start this year with two goals Norm Dussault got two and Maurice (The Rocket) Richard brought the crowd to its feet on his first goal of the season.

Glen Harmon, Joe Carveth and Ken Mosdell got the other Canadiens' goals with Adam Brown and Gus Bodnar scoring for Hawks.

Although still suffering from a throat infection, Frank Brimsek beat off 29 shots on goal as Bruins downed the Leafs and his teammates fired 18 back at Turk Broda.

Big Ed Sandford started his second year in the big time with two goals for Boston with Milt Schmidt and Pete Babando tallying once. Harry Watson got the lone Toronto tally on a neat passing play with Max Bentley and Bill Ezinicki.

Three Hockey Battles Settled By 3-2 Score

(By The Canadian Press)

Three tight hockey battles were settled by scores of 3-2 in the United States League Sunday night.

Kansas City had the only breather, breezing past Dallas 8-1, making all its goals after the Texans tallied first.

St. Paul Saints outplayed Minneapolis all the way to win 3-2 for their second victory of the season. More than 7,000 fans saw the game.

Fort Worth took advantage of a Tulsa foul and scored the winning goal for a 3-2 margin while one of the Oilers was cooling in the penalty box during the last period. Vic Lofvandahl fired the pay-off shot.

Houston came from behind with two last-period goals to down Omaha 3-2.

TO BOX AT GLACE BAY

Joe Pyle of New Waterford, N.S., and Pete Zaduk of Guelph, have been matched to fight at Miners' Forum at Glace Bay, N.S., Nov. 10 or 11, it was announced Sunday. Zaduk fought a draw a week ago with George Ross, Canadian middleweight champion.

Tigers Swamp Mercurys 8-2; Tee sTriumph

By The Canadian Press

Steady goaltending, a mass of penalties and extra-period games highlighted week-end games in the Ontario Hockey Association along with 2 straight wins for Hamilton Tigers and St. Catharines Teepees.

The senior Tigers, with a first-period splurge netting five goals, swamped Owen Sound Mercurys 8-2 Saturday night while St. Catharines defeated Galt Rockets 6-2 in a rough junior tilt that had 25 penalties.

Hamilton's victory gave them a four-point total for first place—one point ahead of Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen. The only senior team yet to play, Toronto Marlboros, visit Stratford tonight for their initial game.

The Flying Dutchmen officially opened their local senior season with a 2-2 overtime tie against Stratford Indians Saturday night.

In the junior loop, Oshawa Generals whipped Barrie Flyers 5-2 and Windsor Spitfires defeated St. Michael's College 6-5.

Although Owen Sound held an edge in territorial play they couldn't beat brilliant goal-tending by Tigers' Art Childs, who blocked 42 shots.

Sparkling Game

Veteran Johnny Conick, who played a sparkling game when Tigers defeated the Mercurys Friday, again paced the Hamilton attack with two goals and as many assists.

Down 2-1 with less than five minutes left of regular play, the Flying Dutchmen eked out their tie game on Nick Federonik's scramble-tally in the Stratford goal-mouth.

Stratford had evened the count 1-1 in the second period on a three-way passing play by Mickey Roth, Billy Flick and George Blake, and then gone ahead on Bill Walsh's third-period goal.

In the junior division, Oshawa Generals turned in a third period four-goal rally that gave them their victory over the present league champion Barrie Flyers. The Generals were beaten 7-6 by the Flyers last Friday.

Hockey's Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

Mac McNab, promising Detroit rookie centre, is tied with Montreal's Elmer Lach, NHL scoring champion last year, for early leadership of the scoring race. Each has collected two goals and two assists in two games. Gordon Howe of Detroit holds down third spot with three assists. Eleven players are tied with two points apiece.

Ottawa Drubs Argonauts 41-6 Queen's Trounces Varsity 8-6

(By The Canadian Press)

Supporters of Ottawa Rough Riders and Hamilton Tigers already are making plans to watch the two teams meet in the Eastern Canada football final.

In Calgary they're going even farther—they're considering eastbound train reservations about Grey Cup time to watch their Stampeders.

It may be a bit early—and the playoffs can change things vastly—but at any rate Hamilton cinched first place in the Ontario Rugby Football Union by drubbing Sarnia Imperials 37-5 Saturday and Ottawa hung the most humiliating defeat of the year on the Dominion champion Toronto Argonauts. Ottawa won 41-6.

Calgary won its 10th straight game, a 8-7 victory over the last-place Saskatchewan Roughriders, hard-luck club of the Western Conference.

But Montreal Alouettes showed they still are in the Big Four running by bouncing Hamilton Wildcats 19-1.

In the Intercollegiate circuit University of Western Ontario almost lost its first game since 1939 Trailing 13-11 at the end of three period, Mustangs went ahead again when Jack Parry ran back a kick 62 yards for a touchdown.

Queen's University Gaels shoved University of Toronto into the cellar with an 8-6 win, their first in nine years in Varsity Stadium.

In western intercollegiate, University of Alberta Golden Bears won the Hardy Cup and western championship by beating University of Saskatchewan Huskies 45-3. It was the final of a four-game total-point series which Alberta won 128-20.

Hamilton Tigers' victory was their seventh consecutive this year. Jack Stewart went for two majors and Jack Harper, Doug Smith and Ralph Bartolini all crossed the line. Pat Santucci converted four of them and Joe Bloomingdale kicked a field goal.

Pete Karpuk went for an Ottawa touchdown in the first quarter after intercepting an Argo forward. The Rough Riders rolled for six more—two by Ted McLarty and one each by Doug Smylie, Bob Paffrath, Buck Rogers and Tony Golab.

Howie Turner kicked a single, Wilf Tremblay converted two and Rogers, Smylie and Eric Chipper all kicked converts.

The lone Argo touchdown came on a 30-yard pass from Sonny Colvin to Fred Doty in the final quarter. Colvin converted.

Big Virgil Wagner went for three touchdowns as Montreal moved to within one point of the second-place Argos. He now leads the Big Four in scoring with 35 points, collected on seven touchdowns.

Ches McCance converted two of Wagner's majors and the other two came when Keith English pulled down Gordie Miller for a safety touch behind the Hamilton line. Hamilton got a point when Bob Cunningham was rouged on Ralph Larue's kick.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

E. K. (Eddie) Emerson, president of the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Big Four league, said early today at Ottawa it was not true that the team had at any time bet a large sum of money on itself in a match with the Toronto Argonauts.

He was commenting on a report by Dan Parker, sports columnist of the New York Daily Mirror, who said in his column today: "The Ottawa football team bet $1,600 on itself against the Toronto Argonauts when they met in Ottawa recently. . . . "

"The report is not true," Mr. Emerson said. "Sure, there were some people Saturday willing to bet 2-to-1 that Argos would win.

"But neither myself, the executive or any of the team took any of the bets on Saturday or at any other time."

Speedy Irish went to an easy 2-lengths win at Long Branch Saturday in the Orpen Cup and Saucer—Canada's Richest race for two-year-olds — and became triple-crown winner of Canadian-foaled two-year-olds for the 1948 season.

Bunty Line, owned by the John Stuart stables, was second and Graydon Tina third.

Speedy Irish, owned by George McCullagh, Toronto newspaper publisher, won hero wner $8,145 in addition to the Cup and Saucer valued at $500. The colt's earnings now total $20,165.

Former football player Joseph Soyka, 25, was arrested Saturday at Hamilton and charge with receiving stolen football tickets for last Saturday's game between Hamilton Tigers and Sarnia Imperials.

Police said football tickets — valued at $1.75 each—were stolen from the Tiger clubhouse and they charged Soyka sold them at the game for $1 each.

He played with Montreal Alouettes in 1946 and with the Tigers last year.

A scheduled Senior B lacrosse game between Windsor and Peterborough was rained out at Peterborough Saturday night. The teams started their series Friday.

Sheriff James Baker of Norwood, Mo., Sunday said Morton C. Cooper, former major league pitcher, told him he had written about $300 in bad cheques.

Baker said he arrested Cooper but released him on Cooper's promise to surrender to St. Louis police by noon Monday. Cooper is wanted at St. Louis on a complain signed by a St. Louis hotel manager.

The complaint charged that Cooper wrote two cheques for $50 each which were returned marked insufficient funds.

Cooper, 34, a veteran of 10 years in the majors, was retired last spring by New York Giants at his request.

Trans-Canada Highway Plan To Be Discussed

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Construction of a Trans-Canada highway will be discussed at a Dominion-Provincial conference Trade Minister Howe said today. He did not indicate when the conference will be held.

Addressing an opening session of a three-day Dominion-Provincial tourist conference, Mr. Howe said:

"It is not my intention to-day to say anything specific about the Trans-Canada highway, I note that it is discussed in a general way at your conference. All I can say to you now is that the Federal Government realizes the economic importance of a Trans-Canada highway.

"We are gathering together such data and information as is essential to present to a conference which will be held in Ottawa between Federal and Provincial authorities, when this whole question of the Trans-Canada highway will be discussed.

To Discuss Question.

"Until we have discussed the whole question of grades, standards, and a dozen and one details with the Provinces who will be partners with the Federal Government in any undertaking to construct an all-weahter trans-continental highway, any remarks of mine on those subjects would be out of place."

Mr. Howe said Provincial government and transporation company representatives were invited to the tconference to join with ards, and a dozen and one details private, within this country."

He said the 1948 tourist gives season gives ery indication of being a "record breaker."

"Now I realize you don't establish records in anything without hard work and serious application to the job in hand. For the part that you have played in making this tourist season a great success, I offer my congratulations. I hope that the part the Federal Government organiaztion has played in that devolpoment has met with your warm-hearted approval."

Concert Enjoyed

BETHANY, Oct. 18—(ENS)—Two hours of enjoyment were provided for music lovers by J. S. "Doc" Dyer and his Newcastle Entertainers in the town hall on Friday evening. The entire chorus of 22 members sang several numbers; Clare Belle Hare, elocutionist was much enjoyed. The male quartette was outstanding in its performance and Glen Allan, first prize baritone, with his rendition of "The Big Bass Viol" and his closing number, by special request "The Holy City" received much applause. "Doc" Dyer led in a community sing song and his humorous introductions of the members of the cast and comments through the evening added much to the entire program. The concert was under the auspices of the Women's Institute. Members of the Institute served lunch to the entertainers at the close of the concert.

World Series Disappointing For Bob Feller and Heath

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Written Specially for Examiner and Central Press Canadian

The stage was set 12 years ago for a dramatic meeting in the 1948 World Series but fate stepped in and pulled the curtain down on the heads of the two leading characters.

Bobby Feller, an Iowa farm boy with an arm like a rocket gun, and Jeff Heath, a University of Washington athlete who could smash the ball out of the lots, joined the Cleveland Indians in 1936 as raw rookies with a future.

Feller and Heath became stars of the Cleveland club and each helped the other win many games.

They became good friends and many times as they talked about the day they would get a chance to play in a world series.

They waited for 12 years. Fate split the two and as the 1948 world series approached the stage was set again, for Heath, now a member of the Boston Braves, would be opposing Bob Feller, still a member of the Indians, in the big event both had awaited.

The hero stage was set for both. Heath was the big gun of the Boston Braves' attack. Feller was the No. 1 hope of the Cleveland Indians' defence.

The series now is over. And, instead of becoming heroes, Heath and Feller became two of the most dejected players in baseball history.

Heath sat on the bench, his leg in a cast.

Feller started two ball games and lost 'em both.

The case of Feller was even more tragic than that of Heath's. Here was a guy who had set all sorts of baseball records with his pitching. And here was his chance to set world series marks with that same pitching.

Feller pitched his heart out in Boston, and gave up only two hits. But his hard-luck dogged him and he lost.

Then came the "big" one, the game that would cinch the classic for the Indians.

Feller was belted all over the lot by a group of Boston batters who couldn't hit a thing in the first four games. He hung on for seven inning and then walked slowly of the mound to the clubhouse. His 12-year wait became a wake.

Baseball is like that. It makes heroes out of bums and bums out of heroes.

They say that "everything comes to those that wait." It sure did, for these two athletes—everything!

Betty Wright, Millbrook Awarded Top Guide Honor

MILLBROOK, Oct. 16—(ENS) —A special meeting of the Millbrook Company of Girl Guides was held at the school on Thursday evening. Guide Lieut. Betty Wright was presented with her gold cord, the coveted award held by only six or seven other Guides in Canada, having been won as the result of five years' faithful study and work, passing all the necessary tests.

Mrs. Guy MacKay, leader of the local Company explained the tests Miss Wright had been obliged to pass in order to attain such high standing. She must also hold the Little House Emblem, and pass her first class test.

To qualify for the Little House Emblem, a Guide must pass six homecraft tests. The candidate tests. The candidate must also be recommended by her captain, and commissioner, on her company, and camping record and be the holder of the following proficiency badges: Pioneer, handiwoman, swimmer, world knowledge.

The Guide must also have at least two more badges of her own choice and this test the candidate had passed successfully.

The local company of Guides, through its leader, expressed its pride in the achievement of a Gold Cord won by its lieutenant, and the presentation was made by Mrs. Ball, secretary-treasurer of the Woman's Auxiliary to the company.

This marked an outstanding event in Guide history, and by request, Miss Wright then presented badges won by the following: First Class award, Vivian Chapman, captain of the local company; and the same to Margaret MacKay; Second Class awards to Guides June Blair, Vaneta Chapman, Margaret Guthrie, Dorothy Hutchinson, Jessie Lunn, and Francis Dawson. Margaret MacKay was also given her badge for laundress on the homecraft test, and Vivian Chapman her first aid badge on the handiwoman test.

Guide Captain Vivian Chapman took charge of the program, which concluded the evening's activities.

The young hostesses served lunch to the mothers, and all others present, and Mr. J. A. Thompson, principal of the Continuation School, who is going to help with the boys' side of the work, announced an important meeting for Oct. 21, when Mr. Jackson, field secretary for Ontario for the Boy Scouts, will be present to organize a local patrol.

Must Make Apology Before Smelters Back

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP). — The executive committee of the Canadian Congress of Labor reaffirmed Saturday that reinstatement of the Smelters Union will be considered "if and when" the smelters make a "proper" apology for publication of remarks derogatory to CCL officials.

The apology must be in "the union," official organ of the Internation Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers, said a statement by Pat Conroy, CCL secretary-treasurer. He issued it after an executive committee meeting.

The smelters were suspended by the Congress executive last Aug. 24 because of statements printed in "the union," although the real reason was the executive's belief that the smelters are Communist-dominated. The CCL convention this week upheld the suspension.

Legion Ousted In Final By Chatham 3-1

The local Canadian Legion travelled to Guelph on Saturday to play Chatham in the Canadian Legion soccer championship, on Lyons Park, with the later winning 3-1 in a steady downpour of rain that continued throughout the 90-minute period. Welland, Peterborough, was injured in the second half but the doctor's report is favorable.

Right from the kick-off, the Peterborough boys introduced close-passing tactics that resulted in Chatham responding with a three-man full back defense, on a rain soaked ground. Twice, G. Downer and Welland penetrated the goal area to bring the Chatham goalie to his knees to concede fruitless flag-kicks. On a breakaway. Hearns of Chatham carried the ball inside the Petes area to find Curtis saving his shot but the greasy ball rolled over the goal line to open the scoring. As time wore on the team found the going hard in the continued rain that prevailed but Craig made an opening for G. Downer-Welland combination to get the equaliser through H. Foster.

Welland Injured.

On resuming Peterborough concentrated in combination with Chatham replying with a good defensive system. After five minutes of play, Welland was injured in a collision with a Chatham player and was out for the remainder of the game. A little later, Chatham made the count 2-1 on a long shot that Taylor placed away out of the reach of the custodian. At this point, Chatham dominated the issue with a steady attack that finally resulted in Skolnik scoring on a breakaway. The Peterborough halfback line of Dunn, Craig and Murduff endeavoured to rally the team. Dunn kept swinging the ball from wing to wing thereby keeping most of the play in the Chatham area but without any further scoring. Best for Peterborough were T. Foster, jr.; J. Craig, G. Downer, Welland and J. Dunn. Best for Chatham were Howard, Howard, Baker, Pearson and Skolnik.

Parliamentary Ears Ache When Mr. Soucy Arrives

By GEORGE KITCHEN.

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 — (CP) — That rat-a-tat-tat man is back on Parliament Hill again, and this time, heaven help the parliamentary ears, he has got helpers.

He is Cleophas Soucy, the portly, bouncy, bald stone-sculptor deluxe who appears in the parliamentary corridors each sessional recess, sets up a cloth-screened scaffold and chisels out gargoyles and other fancy doodads on the granite walls.

He slips in quietly, but once he starts work, everyone within hearing distance of the building—and then some — knows he is around.

Cleophas is no ordinary sculptor with muted wooden hammer and cold chisel. He bites into the stone with a hand-sized pneumatic air drill. The drill may be hand-sized, but the noise it makes is not. It could be described as a cross between staccato amchine gun fire and a grating, whirr-rr-ring sound that sets the teeth on edge.

Shapes Gargoyles

On his annual appearances, he shapes gargoyles out of blank stone blocks which were left spaced along the main corridors of the building when it was put up following the First World War. An employee of the Public Works Department, he works from a plaster model of the finished design which he prepares beforehand and hangs up in his little scaffold.

Everybody likes Cleophas, the cops on the door, the parliamentary cleaning staff, the members of Parliament themselves. But all shy away from the sound of his drill.

And this year something new was added. When Cleophas came, he came not alone. He brought with him four assistants with four more cloth-screened scaffolds and four more drills with just that much more noise.

There were whispered protests. This was too much. Then, the powers-that-be solved the situation neatly. They put Cleophas and his crew and their drills on the night shift—working 5 p.m. to midnight when everyone else was home.

Gifts of food were received from the members to fill three 20-pound boxes to be sent to the adopted Institute branch in England, and to be received for Christmas distribution. Mrs. Douglas Dart, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Ward Glenn are to prepare the boxes for shipment at the home of Mrs. Harry Mann. Lunch was served by the hostess, Mrs. Bill Waters, assisted by the lunch committee, Mrs. Clarence Glenn and Mrs. Ward Glenn.

Atomic Co-operation

CHALK RIVER, Oct. 18—(CP) —Atomic energy discussions between three nations began here Friday, but security control barred disclosure of the nature of the talks. However, an official said the talks were concerned with a "continuation of the atomic co-operation between Canada, the United States and the United Kingdom."

Served 22 Years Awarded Medal

In a story which appeared on the second front of the Examiner on Friday night, Joseph Mackness who was given a meritorious service medal this week was listed as a former Regimental Sgt.-Major of the Royal Canadian Regiment.

This was incorrect and in order to give a true picture this short biographical sketch of Mr. Mackness' military career is given:

Sergeant Joseph Mackness of the Royal Canadian Regiment was retired to Pension on 12 August 1919 after more than 22 years service in the Canadian Army. His first two years service was with the 57th Regiment of the Non-Permanent Active Militia. Sergeant Mackness enlisted in the Royal Canadian Regiment on 12 July, 1899, and served through the South African campaign and up to the outbreak of the First World War when he moved with the unit to Bermuda where he served until 1915, when he transferred to the Canadian Expeditionary Force. He served in England and France with the 85th and 185th Battalions being promoted to the rank and appointment of Warrant Officer Class 1 (Regimental) Sergeant Major. He was wounded in action in 1918 which ultimately resulted in his being invalided home and discharged medically unfit. During his service in the Canadian Expeditionary Force, he was honored by having his name "Brought to the notice of the Secretary of State for War" for valuable service. He was also awarded the Long Service and Good Conduct Medal on completion of eighteen years service in the Permanent Force with an "exemplary" character. Sergeant Mackness was also awarded the Queen's South Africa Medal with four Clasps for his service in the South African campaign and the British War and Victory Medals in respect of his service during the Second World War. He is now residing at 802 Water Street, Peterborough.

Food Measures Expected From Geneva Commission

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH.

GENEVA, Oct. 18 — (AP). — An agriculture committee is to be set up within the United Nations Economic Commission for Europe to help the development of food production in Europe.

The Economic Commission for Europe comprises the United States and all UN member states in Europe. Non-members, including Eire, Italy, Switzerland, Romania, Bulgaria, and Hungary, take part in the work of the commission, but have no vote. Spain alone is barred under a UN decision excluding the Franco government from all UN activities.

The Agriculture Committee will open new aspects of the economic life of Europe to the Economic Commission. More than 20 other committees and subcommittees, whose membership includes both Communist and non-Communist states, have been working since July, 1947, for the economic revival of Europe in many fields, ranging from steel to the production of ceramic insulators.

Unanimous Consent

If the committee follows a tradition set up by the other technical organs of the commission during the last 16 months, all its decisions will be reached with the unanimous consent of both the Communist and non-Communist delegations.

The Economic Commission has no connection with the Paris organization for European economic co-operation, which contains only the nations participating in the European recovery program.

The new Agriculture Committee is expected to recommend far-reaching international measures to promote European food production and decrease Europe's dependence on food imports from the dollar area. A recent survey by the Economic Commission secretariat showed the European Continent could become almost entirely self-sufficient in food if all under-developed areas were made fully productive.

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 18—(AP)—Never say die is the theory of James Stewart, whose Bendix air race entry went down in defeat last month. He'll try again next year.

"I'm getting a new engine for the plane," says Jimmy, "and if I'm not working and have time enough to get in shape, I'll fly it myself."

The actor is busily preparing to portray Pitcher Monty Stratton. "I've found all sorts of new muscles," he says. "The other day I got a charley-horse in my hip. I wasn't doing a thing at the time; I just moved."

Manslaughter Case

Blame Housing Costs On Slow Rate Of Workers

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Oct. 18 — (CP). — It costs approximately three times as much to build a house in Britain as it did before the war. One big factor is the slower production rate of workers.

A committee appointed by Heauth Minister Aneurin Bevan, who is in charge of the government's housing program, says that in 1947 the typical three-bedroom house built under the authority of local councils cost £1,242 ($4,986). In 1938 it cost £380.

Some of the increase is due to a trend toward larger houses. To-day's "statistical average" shows an extra 134 square feet of dwelling space compared with before the war.

But labor costs concerned the committee as much as anything. A gang working on to-day's typical house in 1938 would have turned in a bill for £290. Now their charge would be £416, chiefly because they took longer.

Much Slower

In 1939 it required about 1,550 man-hours to build a typical house. Last year it took 3,034 man-hours, of which 698 hours were needed to make up for the decline in productivity.

The committee suggested that costs might be reduced by building smaller houses. Possibly a larger proportion of two instead of three bedroom houses could be built.

"Resistance to further increases (in costs) appears to be growing, and we have been informed that cases have already occurred in which people have refused to take houses offered to them by local authorities because they found the rents beyond their means."

A more vocal complaint against high rents was made to Bevan by several women delegates to the National Conference of Labor Women at Weston-Cuper-Mare, Somerset. He advised them not to press their protests or housing stands might suffer.

Annual Hastings Deanery Meeting Held At Marmora

MARMORA, Oct. 18—(ENS)—The annual Hastings Deanery meeting of the WA was held last week. There was a celebration of Holy Communion at St. Paul's at 10.30 a.m. at which 89 communicated. The celebrant was Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, with Rev. F. C. Beazer as Epistoler and Rev. F. Downing as Gospeller.

The sermon was preached by the latter, who gave a resume of the missionary activities of the Church of England from the time of St. Columba onwards. Following the service delegates from the 10 W.A.'s represented adjourned to the Parish Hall for dinner, served by St. Paul's Ladies' Guild. In the afternoon they reassembled at the church.

Mrs. Lindsay Tanner of St. Thomas Rawdon, Deanery secretary, called the meeting to order. Miss Edna Tanner was organist. Opening prayers were taken by Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie.

He pointed out it was the first occasion for the Deanery WA to convene at St. Paul's. The address of welcome by Mrs. J. M. Brownlie followed. The response was made by Mrs. A. S. McConnell of Trenton.

Reports were given by the St. John's, Bancroft W.A. and the Litle Helper of that parish. Mrs. J. DePencier Wright, Diocesan president, introduced the lady missionary, Miss Bessie Plant of Nigeria, Africa. Miss Plant described the customs and attire of the natives to whom she has ministered for a number of years. She pointed out the marked difference between the habits of the inhabitants of Northern and Southern Nigeria and gave interesting details concerning the missionary compound.

The contrast between a Moslem and Christian funeral taking place the same day was strikingly brought out by the speaker. The power ceded to the secret god of the Nigerians—the Magiro was unbounded and even their government recognized this. The people pay their heathen missionaries. Miss Plant pointed out the danger of letting anything take the place of our God.

Churches Report

Further reports were heard from St. Mary's, Bonarlaw; St. Paul's, Marmora; St. John's, Madoc; St. Paul's, Roslin, WA and Little Helpers; St. Thomas', Rawdon; St. John's WA, Junior WA and Little Helpers, Stirling; Christ church, Thomasburg; St. George's, Trenton, Senior WA, Evening Branch, Girls' Branch, Junior WA and Little Helpers; St. James', Tweed, WA, JuniorWA and Little Helpers.

St. Paul's, Marmora, in their report, referred to the organization of the Girls' Auxiliary and the prospective formation of the Junior WA and Little Helpers.

Mrs. J. De P. Wright, Diocesan president, congratulated the branches on their progress during the past year. She stressed the importance of each branch, paying its pledge in full annually and the use of thankoffering boxes. She hoped for a further increase in membership of the organization which had grown from seven members to 73,000. She referred to the sending of boxes of food by branches to the clergy in England and hoped the thoughtful act would be continued.

Miss Bessie Corier of Kingston gave the report of the Dominion board meeting held in Toronto recently.

Mrs. G. Reid of Kingston, spoke on God's work, asking for more leaders and more branches. She also outlined the program of the camp held this past summer. Votes of thanks were given by Mrs. Kellar of Bancroft for the resolutions committee.

Bancroft Chosen

Invitations were received from the Trenton and Bancroft branches for the 1949 annual meeting. The latter branch, through Mrs R. Wiggins, pointed out that the 60th anniversary of St. John's Bancroft, will be held next June and as one of the outstanding events of their diamond jubilee year, they desired to entertain the Deanery WA. Trenton conceded the honor to Bancroft. Mrs Lindsay Tanner declared her office of secretary-treasurer vacant. The Diocesan president moved her re-election, which was carried unanimously.

Many delegates returned to the parish hall for tea before returning to their homes.

Clergy of the Deanery also assembled at the rectory in the afternoon for a regular Deanery session.

There were two minor trips made by the fire department on Sunday. Shortly after 11.30 a.m. they went to the 492 Sherbrooke St., the residence of Miss M. Late in the afternoon a basket of clothes which had been placed under the gas stove in the kitchen of Mrs. D. Rodgers, 118½ Hunter St., caught fire. Before the blaze was extinguished the clothes were ruined and there was slight damage to the kitchen. Cause of the fire is not known.

Pipe Band Draws Much Applause

C.G.E. pipe band contributed their music to two local affairs Saturday. They paraded in the morning in behalf of the Civic Arena fund campaign this week, and in the afternoon they led the rugby procession up town to the Nicholls Oval. The captains of the Peterborough Panthers and Oakville placed wreaths on the war memorial in Confederation Square.

The band has acquired confidence in itself by its recent public appearances under the leadership of Pipe Major Alex Milne, and is now established as a new musical unit in Peterborough. Their uniforms are exceptionally attractive, and their McRae tartan is a beautiful Scottish plaid.

The willingness of the band to lend their support to those who sports affairs Saturday won many compliments apart from their smart appearance and their smooth playing.

Moose To Elect Officers Thursday

A large attendance is desired so that a program of social evenings can be drawn up by the members.

Mr. Kerr is expected to talk on the rapid growth of the order, particularly during the year 1947-48 when more members were initiated than in any one year for the past 40 years.

Kiwanis 'Little Olympics' Attracts 275 Competitors

An entry of 275 grade school students keenly contested the various events Saturday at the Kiwanis Club 'Little Olympics' track meet in Morrow Park. It was a successful show from the first relay for girls under 12—in which Confederation and Queen Mary tied—to the last race for boys as they skated over a greasy track.

All track events were completed but a number of the jumps and the shot put were called off owing to the rain, which also kept down the crowd. Competitors will be notified regarding the running off of these events again.

A highlight of the meet was a demonstration of pole vaulting and high jumping by outstanding athletes from Toronto West End "Y." The boys vaulted over the top of the standards at 11 feet, six inches, and the high jumpers cleared the bar at the top of the standards, which were borrowed from the Recreation Commission. This would be more than six feet one inch.

Arena Donations Total $20,741 Drive Underway

This week is Civic Arena Week in Peterborough, and it marks the beginning of an all-out drive to raise $20,000, the sum deemed necessary to complete construction of the new hockey arena.

Members of the Civic Arena committee point out that the contractor, Hugh Wilson of Cannington, has promised to have the building finished by the end of the month. With favorable weather they expect to see junior and senior hockey teams playing on its ice surface by the first of December.

To solicit the necessary funds the committee has divided the work in three ways: a house-to-house canvass will be made by volunteer workers assigned to one of the city's 104 districts; a special names committee under the chairmanship of Alderman Pat Anglesey will interview a large panel of well-known business and professional men, and an industrial committee under Alderman Hurrell Dodds will check local industries for contributors.

Final plans will be formulated by the Special Names committee when it meets at 2:30 p.m. today at the City Hall. Additional canvassers are sought by the committee in charge so that no household in the city will be missed and every person interested in youthful sport will have an opportunity to make his contribution.

All canvassers are scheduled to meet at 7:30 p.m. today at the YMCA and any interested citizen who would like to help out will be cordially welcome.

Start Tonight

The first doorbell should start ringing tonight. Official beginning of Civic Arena Week will be marked by a parade of three bands—the Boy Scout Band, Regimental Band of the Prince of Wales Rangers, and the Peterborough Pipe Band—along George and Charlotte streets beginning at 8 p.m.

A similar parade for one hour every night will be held to focus the attention of Peterborough citizens on the need for financial support.

Included on the committee of those who are asking for financial support for the youthful hockey players are John S. Black, Alderman Dodds, Alderman Anglesey, Geddes Harper, Bud Labranche, Charles Kingan, Percy Killingbeck, A. Weir, Dick Ouimet, Stan McBride and Mrs. W. Addyman.

The committee stresses the fact that the Civic Arena will not conflict with plans for the erection of a Memorial Centre. It is pointed out that both ice surfaces will be needed in this fast-growing city, and the proposed centre will not be exclusively for hockey, but for other sports, public gatherings, dramatics, musical programs and public benefit events.

A receipt will be given to each donor so he can mail is together with other income tax exemptions.

645 Gals. Water Required At Power Dam To Keep 100-Watt Lamp Burning 1 Hour

It takes 645 galons of storage water at a power dam to keep a 100-watt lamp burning for one hour, a Hydro official said today. How many persons understand that basic fact in the economy of electricity?

They are so accustomed to leaving these 100-watt lamps burn without concern about power sources, that they never think of this power waste in terms of water waste. And it is the water tumbling over power dams and through the generating machinery that provides the energy which keeps the wheels of factories turning, he said.

Some people may shrug their shoulders at a mere 645 gallons, but there are approximately 900,000 Hydro consumers in Ontario. If each of them left one of those bubs burning needlessly for one hour out of the 24, the amount of water wasted would be a prodigious 580,000,000 gallons, or as much water as falls over Niagara Falls in 45 seconds.

Let the toaster burn 15 idle minutes and the housewives wastes about 1,000 gallons of water that should be used and is sorely needed in driving the machines that create electricity. That is a simple translation of power waste into terms every member of the household can understand.

If you have an electric tea kettle and let it boil 10 minutes longer than necessary, the water waste is 1,500 gallons.

Peterborough factories are trying to save power, in order that they will be able to maintain industry at an even level during these months of power shortage and the long nights.

Peterborough's use of power Sunday was 174,000 kilowatt-hours, 20,000 kwh more than a week ago, but only slightly in excess of the previous two Saturdays, each of 170,000 kwh.

This is the critical week in Hydro's scrutiny of Peterborough's power consumption.

Five days, Monday to Friday, inclusive, may run the city's power register above the 240,000 kwh daily average. Hence, Utilities Commission are hoping that sensible citizens will avoid waste of electricity even in the little leaks of the 100-watt lamp.

NEW ZONE COMMANDER for F-5, Ontario Command of the Canadian Legion is Arthur Wagstaff, of King George St. He was elected Sunday afternoon at a special zone meeting held here that included delegates from Peterborough, Hastings, Marmora and Apsley. Mr. Wagstaff served overseas with the 2nd Division from 1915 to 1919 as a stretcher-bearer with the 20th Battery.

Arthur Wagstaff Commander Of Legion Zone

Arthur Wagstaff, of 252 King George St., Peterborough, was Sunday elected zone commander of Zone F-5 of the Ontario Command, Canadian Legion.

The special zone meeting was aotended by 75 delegates who had been called to elect a new zone commander. This followed the resignation of Robert Hotrum, also of Peterborough.

Approximately 40 of those present were from the two Peterborough branches: branch 52, men Legionnaires and branch 452, women. Other delegates were from Hastings, branch 106; Marmora, branch 237, and Apsley, branch 381.

War Service

Mr. Wagstaff was born in Manchester and bought his discharge from the 2nd Manchester Regt. to Peterborough with him in 1910.

When war broke out in 1914, as a reservist, he was immediately called and went to Canadian Headquarters, Kingston. Then he travelled through many centres in Canada as a private in the Canadian Corps troops.

Early in 1915 he was transferred to the 2nd Canadian Division Headquarters and later to the 20th Battalion stationed in Toronto. From there he was transferred to the Canadian Army Medical Corps and went overseas with the 2nd division at the end of 1915.

He served as a stretcher bearer with the 20th Battalion until 1919, and ended his soldiering career overseas with the occupation troops in Bonn, Germany.

In Toronto 19 Years

Mr. Wagstaff returned the same year to Peterborough, but two years later went to Toronto where he opened his own electrical business, and he remained there 19 years.

In 1938 he returned to Peterborough and started his own electrical business here. He retired in June.

During the second world war he was property chairman of the local branch of the Canadian Legion.

F. Grant, of Oshawa, secretary of district acted as secretary for the meeting which was chaired by Frank Threadgold of Whitby.

Mr. Wagstaff upon being elected, thanked the delegates for their confidence in him. He assured them that he would fulfill his obligations in a worthy manner.

There were no resolutions put forward but the subject of veterns' housing was extensively discussed. It is expected that a resolution will be drawn up to be forwarded to the Provincial and Dominion Commands when the Peterborough branch meets Monday night.

Accompanying district Commander Threadgold from Whitby, were L. Lovell, zone commander for F-1 and Reginald Wood of Whitby legionnaire.

9 Cars, 2 Trucks, 2 Trains In Traffic Accidents, Four Persons Are Injured

Nine cars, two trucks and two trains were involved in week-end traffic accidents in Peterborough and district. Four persons were injured, three in one accident. There were no fatalities or serious injuries. A smashed truck and injuries to its driver resulted when a truck went out of control on No. 28 Highway two miles south of Apsley Saturday evening. The vehicle tore down more than 75 feet of rail fence, snapped a hydro pole and rolled over one and a half times. The driver, Ray Stevens of Apsley, was badly shaken up. Those on the scene first put in a worried search at first, as the driver could not be found. It was later learned he had stumbled to his home, about a mile from the scene. He received treatment for his injuries. Provincial Constable Bert Howden, Apsley, investigated.

Truck Is Wrecked

First of two city accidents involving freight trains was at George and Hilliard Sts. crossing of the CNR about 2.30 p.m. Saturday. A truck driven by James H. Coones, Smith township, struck the rear of the engine of a freight of which James DeFinney of 275 King St. was engineer. The truck was carried 35 feet along the track before it was brought to a stop. The vehicle was reported beyond repair. The driver was unhurt. Investigating officer was PC V. J. O'Donaghue.

In the second train mishap, the driver of the car, Norman Barr, of 139 Rubidge St., escaped with a bruise to his hand. His car was struck on the side by a CNR freight train at the crossing at Bethune and Sherbrooke Sts. about 3.35 a.m. Sunday. He told police he had not seen the wigwag signal as the windows of the car were fogged up. A door and a fender were crumpled and another fender dented. PC C. J. McGillen investigated.

Collision On Aylmer St.

Three persons were injured in a truck-car collision near the fire hall on Aylmer St. Saturday night. The driver of the truck was M. Armstrong of Lakefield. Rex B. Wilson, 512 Aylmer St., was the car driver. A passenger with Wilson, Mrs. Stewart McNaughton, received two severe cuts on her forehead when her head was thrust through the windshield by the force of the impact. She also suffered cuts inside her mouth. The head wounds required stitches to close it.

Stewart McNaughton, another passenger, and the driver Wilson, both received minor face cuts. Mrs. Wilson was uninjured.

There was no damage to the Armstrong truck. Damage to the car included a smashed fender, smashed headlight, broken bumper braces and bent steering wheel. PC Douglas Farthing investigated.

Total damage of more than $500 was caused two cars which sideswiped on the wet pavement just outside of the village of Bailieboro on No. 28 Highway Saturday evening. Drivers were Miss Sally Trotter, RR 4, Peterborough, and Alfred C. Lough, Brampton, Ont. Provincial Constable Emmett Crough investigated.

Car Damaged

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Stewart and Reid Sts. at 12.20 a.m. Sunday. Drivers were Norris Dafoe, 547 George St., and Henry Sadler, 548 Westmount St., Toronto. Fenders, radiators, grills and bumpers of both vehicles were damaged. PC Gordon Trennum investigated.

One car took to the ditch beside Highway 28 about 9 p.m. on Saturday three miles west of Peterborough. Harry Schwartz, 700 Elcombe Crescent, swerved to avoid striking a car in front of his which had skidded across the pavement Driver of the first car was Harry Wilcox, Thamesville, Ont. A fender was ripped off the Schwartz car. Mr. Schwartz was not injured. Provincial Constable Gordon Langton investigated.

A hit-and-run accident was reported to city police by Earl Magee, 64 Hunter St. His car was parked on Hunter St. Saturday evening when it was struck with damage to the fender and bumper. The offending driver did not remain at the scene.

Wed. Closing Still Undecided

The Peterborough Business Men's Association today denied that it had approved the Wednesday morning opening for member stores.

The reference was to a report in Saturday's Examiner where Gordon S. Matthews, chairman of the Utilities Commission, was quoted as saying that he understood members of the Association were going to open their stores on Wednesday morning.

"The impression gained at Friday evening's Utilities Commission meeting was wrong," Ernest Braund, president of the Association said today. "No decision has yet been reached on the Wednesday opening."

It is expected that the matter will be decided today and an announcement will definitely be placed in Tuesday's Examiner by the Association.

Any members who are in doubt and need plenty of warning of a change in plans are advised to phone J. J .Dorris, secretary of the Business Men's Association, early on Tuesday morning.

A NARROW ESCAPE

A year-old deer had a narrow escape from death on Highway 28 near Bewdley, Saturday night. Harold Fry reports he was driving toward Peterborough and caught the deer in his car headlights at the top of the winding hill north of the village. It was raining, and the deer crashed to the pavement as soon as it stepped on the slippery surface. The car was stopped in time, and the animal regained its footing, jumped the fence and was off. It is believed several deer have moved into the area, particularly in the Cavan swamp.

Canadians Cities Said Inadequate

TORONTO, Oct. 18—(CP)—R. E. G. Davis, national president of the Canadian Community Planning Association, said Friday night Canadian cities and towns were "wretchedly inadequate."

He told the Ontario division of the association they were "congested, unhealthy, inefficient and unattractive."

"Housewives cannot shop easily, motorists cannot find parking space and children have no place to play."

But the greatest lack was the lack of vigorous popular demand, he said. "This is the crux of the whole community planning business. We must have public support."

Jaques Greber, special consultant to the Federal Government, told the convention the new plan for the nation's capital would be submitted to the Government by the end of the year.

The biggest problem to be faced was the network of railway lines running through the city with 120 grade crossings.

"These must be eliminated," he said. "It will be necessary to construct a belt line around the city connecting east and west railway routes. The lines will be laid in the green belts around the city proper.

Drew Hasn't Decided Yet Where He'll Seek Election

OTTAWA, Oct. 18.—(CP), —George Drew, as newly elected leader of the Progressive Conservative party, has not yet decided where he will seek election to the House of Commons.

A party official said that Mr. Drew, whose resignation as premier of Ontario is expected momentarily, has not decided when he will come to Ottawa to discuss the question of his election with Progressive Conservative members of the Commons.

Shortly after the party's national convention selected him as successor to John Bracken, Mr. Drew told a party conference that the question of where and when he would run as a Federal candidate would be decided after consultation with the party members in the commons.

Dr. Drew has been ill for the last few days and supporters here believe that may be the reason he has not sent out notices for a party caucus.

There were reports that Mark Senn, 70-year-old member of the Commons for tthe Ontario constituency of Haldimand, would resign to make way for Mr. Drew. However, the Progressive Conservative organization in Mr. Senn's riding have denied the reports.

It also has been reported that Hon. Earl Rowe, member of the Ontario constituency of Dufferin-Simcoe and minister without portfolio in last Conservative government will give up his seat in favor of Mr. Drew. Mr. Rowe declined to confirm or deny the reports.

Several sitting members in the Commons have offered to resign their seats, but so far Mr. Drew has been non-commital. Before a caucus Wednesday picked his successor in Ontario, Mr. Drew announced that Roland Michener, his provincial secretary, will come to Ottawa as his special assistant.

r. Michener, like Mr. Drew, was defeated in the Ontario election last summer.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Girl Has Right to Freedom Supports Self, Helps Family

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 24 years old. Live at home and help out financially, since my father is an invalid. I don't mind helping the family at all. In fact, I am proud to be in a position to do so, but I do think that a girl of my age should be allowed a little freedom. I work six days a week and on Sunday afternoons I would like to go to a movie, but when I ask my mother to go with me she refuses, and if I go without her she sends my brother to see where I go and with whom, and she accuses me of meeting strange men which, of course, I never do.

Dorothy Dix

The company I work for gives dances quite often but I have never been permitted to attend one of them. I never even have been allowed to go to the weddings or showers of my friends. I am expected to come straight home from work and never leave until I go to work the next day.

It isn't that I want to run around. I just want a little of the fun and liberty that girls of my age are entitled to. Please tell me something to do, for I can't stand many more of the week ends that I have had for the past four years, and it gets worse all the time.

LIZZIE

ANSWER: I think you are very foolish and weak to submit to your parents' tyranny, and that you should read the riot act to them and make them fully understand that unless they leave you free to come and go as you please that you will leave and go somewhere to live where you can, at least have a little personal liberty.

It isn't as if you were a little bobby-socker who was too young and ignorant of the world to be able to look out for yourself. You are 24 years old. That is maturity for a woman, and if she is ever going to have any sense and discretion, she has it. You have shown that you are capable of taking care of yourself by not only being self-supporting, but by helping to support your parents, and that certainly entitles you to emancipation.

A girl has to make her hay while the sun of her youth and good looks shine. If she doesn't do it before she is 30, she is apt to have a very slim harvest; so you had best get busy. If a girl has never been allowed to have a date before she is 24, she is practically doomed to be an old maid, for she is out of the swim with the youngsters. She is not in touch with the crowd, and it is a lot harder for her to get in with it than it is for a teen-ager.

When parents refuse to let their grownup daughters have dates, or go anywhere, or play around with the boys and girls, it is practically always just selfishness. They don't want their girls to marry because Mother wants to hold on to their pay envelopes.

✦ ✦ ✦

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am 18 years of age and am going to be engaged soon, but I have an older sister who hasn't a boy friend yet and she says I will never see her again if I get engaged first? I love my sister very much, but I also love Bob. What shall I do?

CYNTHIA

✦ ✦ ✦

ANSWER: Get along with your engagement and don't worry about your sister doing the vanishing act. She won't, because she has nowhere to go and, anyway she would want to be a bridesmaid in the wedding. It is a very common thing for older sisters to be very jealous of younger ones who are more popular than they are. Which is a pity, because it not only spoils the brides's pleasure in all of her wedding festivities, but so often it makes the older sister rush into a foolish marriage just because she is silly enough to think that it is sort of a disgrace for her younger sister to marry before she does.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Tuesday, October 19.

It is quite probable that recent clever and well-organized activities may culminate on the personal side of life. The domestic social and professional life may assume a liveliness of desire for celebrations and festivities in the home or in connection with those businesses, occupations and projects revolving around these. Home improvements along artistic lines of charm and beauty, with ample assets and credit, work toward such objectives with pleasant relations and willing friends.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may anticipate a happy, prosperous, and fruitful year, with many pleasant activities in which home and personal life may engage the attention, enhancing social prestige and popularity. All forms of business accenting such interests should flourish and give pleasure. Artistic and cultural ambitions should thrive, with credit and increased assets available. Cultivate friendships under such reigns and find keen enjoyment through charm, personal magnetism, and cultural contacts.

A child born on this day should be happily gifted for a successful, happy and prosperous career, in which its personality and charm supplement excellent talents and skills.

Girls Under 30 In Demand For Travel Jobs

LONDON, Oct. 18. — (CP). — Smart, single girls, preferably under 30 who like travel and adventure, are in demand just now as Government "girls in green."

The girls in green are the official car drivers of Britain's delegates at international conferences. They are paid an average of £5 ($20) a week plus cost-of-living bonus, but the chief indicement to join is foreign travel.

There are 47 such girls in Paris today and they will be there until the end of the year. Another 46 returned recently from Geneva.

In London the girls drive high government officials from one place to another. Abroad they drive foreign as well as British delegates.

Pay varies according to the size of the car driven. The average wage is £4 10s a week for 44 hours, but there is overtime besides and double time for Sundays. Uniforms are free and the girls get 17s 6d. for each night spent away from the depot.

But the life isn't all glamor. There's plenty of hard, tiring work with long days of driving and weary hours of waiting. "But," said one of the girls, "the exciting jobs make up for the dull moments."

Nine girls out of every 10 have been in the services, the majority in the A.T.S. (women's army). Their average age is 27. Every year one girl in three resigns to get married and settle down to a quiet life in Britain. That's why 200 girls are needed as replacements every year.

After the ceremony a small reception was held at the home of the bride.

Mrs. Allen received her guests wearing a gown of pale green, eyelet silk jersey with black feather hat and accessories, and wore a corsage of Talisman roses. Mrs. R. Brown, receiving for the groom, wore a gown of dusty rose crepe, black hat and accessories, and corsage of white roses.

During the reception cablegrams of congratulations were received from the groom's mother sister and brother-in-law in Glasgow, Scotland, and were read by the bride's father.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Dickson left by motor for New York City, where they will visit the groom's aunt, his only relative in this country. They will reside in Peterborough.

Willis Pianos

Since 1871 . . . Willis & Co. Ltd. have been building fine Pianos, at first seeing that European Pianos were not built to withstand the extremes of heat and cold, humidity and aridity of the Canadian climate, they set out to build a piano which would be a finer instrument, for Canadian use, than any which could be imported. Succeeding so well that a Willis Piano is adapted to every climatic condition, not only in the Dominion, but in every other habitable country in the world.

For long past, Willis Pianos have been selected for concert platforms, for use in musical colleges, for leading commercial and religious institutions. Their purity of form and tone have made them the favourite in thousands of Canadian homes. Because of this necessity for fine craftsmanship it is impossible to meet all demands for the instruments. The high standard is never lowered. Into every piano which bears the name of "Willis" has gone the skill, the care, the knowledge, the high excellence which have characterized these musical instruments for SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS.

This is the WILLIS Line of Upright Pianos:

Prices Inquiry Nearing End, Work On Report

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (CP). — The public investigation launched last February into the prices sellers charge their buyers is near an end.

The royal commission on prices, successor to the original parliamentary committee appointed by Prime Minister Mackenzie King when the end of most price controls allowed Canadian prices to seek world levels, has only a few investigatory chores left on its agenda.

Barring the possible appointment of another prices committee when parliament meets again in January, completion of the commission's final items of study will complete the prices investigation

The commission, which sits under the chairmanship of a Queen's University professor of economics, C. A. Curtis, has still to spend another three days examining lumlumber witnesses will be mediumber operators Some of its final scale wholesalers but most interest will centre in the big-Pacific coast timber operators still to appear.

With lumber out of the way, the commission will devote another week to odds and ends—supplementary information received on past subjects.

Prepare Report

The commission intends to recess for most of November to give members a chance to study the evidence already presented and begin work on the report which they have been instructed by the government to present before the next session of parliament.

The commission, according to its present schedule, will hold a few further public hearings before the report is finished. Some national organizations — most likely the three big labor groups and one consumers' organization—will be invited to present briefs at these final hearings.

The report itself, by present indications, is likely to be a scholarly analysis of inflation so far as it exists in Canada. It will probably be accompanied by a summary written in more popular terms.

Cars Meet Head-On Three Injured

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 18.—(ENS).—Clifford Sheppard, 19, of Codrington, suffered severe head injuries late Friday night when the car in which he was riding was in collision with another car at the entrance to Edgewater park. Two others were confined to their homes with cuts and bruises.

Dr. W. W. Baker was called to the scene of the accident and after giving first aid rushed Sheppard to the hospital, where it required 36 stitches to close the wounds.

Sheppard was riding in a coupe driven by Jack Peake, 37, of Campbellford. After Peake made the turn leaving the park an approaching car, driven by Donald Fleming, 20, of RR No. 2, Hastings, collided almost head-on throwing Sheppard against the windshield.

Peake received a broken thumb, arm and leg injuries and he had two teeth knocked out. Earl MacMillan of Hastings, who was the only passenger in Fleming's car, escaped with a few cuts on the forehead. Fleming, who was driving his father's car, was unhurt.

Peake's car was almost demolished, while the other vehicle escaped with a slightly bent frame. Chief G. H. Hardy and Constable W. E. Cargin of Campbellford and Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings, investigated.

Beloved Librarian Dies At Ottawa

OTTAWA, Oct. 18 (Special)—An impressive funeral service, attended by friends from educational institutions, libraries, government departments and the press, was held Friday afternoon here for William John Sykes, a native of Campbellford who died suddenly on Wednesday. One of Ottawa's most revered scholars and teachers, he had been librarian of the Ottawa Public Library for a quarter of a century before his retirement in 1936.

Born at Campbellford 82 years ago, Mr. Sykes was a son of the late R. J. Sykes, a school teacher, and Mrs. Sykes. He received his early education at Campbellford and Cobourg, when Victoria College was located there. He later held teaching positions in Hamilton and Ottawa until his appointment as librarian to the Ottawa Public Library in 1912.

Doomed to extinction?

A duck that nests in trees and prefers wooded swamps to open water! That's the Wood Duck, the most beautiful of our waterfowl. They are well protected by law, but the draining of wetlands and clearing away of the dead tree trunks they nest in presents a serious threat to their survival. Everything you do to preserve their natural nesting areas will help to conserve the Wood Duck for years to come.

The Labrador Duck became extinct before 1900. Today 44 stuffed specimens are all that remain of this little sea-duck, showing what happens when sound conservational practices are neglected.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

NEW LAWS WELCOMED

WHERE players have followed the new Laws of Contract Bridge, which came into force all over the civilized world on the first of this month, they have applauded the work of the formulating committees. Never have new Laws been so warmly welcomed. This time the wishes of the overwhelming majority of all players have been followed. The game itself has not been changed in the slightest degree, in the scoring or other fundamental. The sole alterations are in regulations which apply when someone happens to commit an irregularity.

Penalties for irregularities—which are for the purpose of preventing undue damage to the non-offending side—have been so moderated that they cause no disproportionate harm to the offenders. And they have been so simplified that a large percentage of all players may learn and remember them, or at least the most important and most frequently applied penalties. Such sanity and clarity now maintain that any male player who considers himself a gentleman or any feminine player who considers herself a lady should be eager to pay one of the prescribed penalties, in fact insist upon it, whenever inadvertence or any other factor has caused an infraction.

When the new regulations, of which all players may be proud, are cheerfully observed, the words of the preamble to the Laws will be true—"arguments are avoided and the pleasure which the game offers is materially enhanced."

The new Laws, published by co-operation of the John C. Winston Company of Philadelphia and available through any bookstore, begin with definitions of terms, using words in the habitual vocabularies of all devotees of the game. The rest is departmentalized in more or less chronological order—what happens prior to the auction, then general laws on irregularities, next occurrences during the auction, followed by those during the play, and ultimately the scoring, after which comes a section on the proprieties of conduct and one on rules for club procedure. Relative brevity also is achieved, the new Laws covering only 45 pages of large type as against 62 for their immediate predecessors, and there are only 11 small-type footnotes as compared with 30 in the superseded code.

Any player may make himself popular in his circle of friends by having a copy of the Laws for reference, or familiarizing himself with the most essential ones, so he may be an authority among his associates, thus contributing to their enjoyment of the game. It will be the purpose of this series to aid those who wish to render such service.

Let's today give the main provisions regarding a new deal, ordinarily called a re-deal. Summed up, there must be a new deal with the correct pack by the right dealer, with him alone shuffling, whenever it is learned before the last card is dealt that the deal was by the wrong dealer, or with the wrong pack, or that a card has been faced anywhere, or if it is ascertained before the first call of the auction that a player has picked up the wrong hand and seen any cards in it, or if at any time before the end of play it is learned that one player had been dealt too many cards and another too few cards, or that the pack itself is incomplete or otherwise incorrect.

• • •

TOMORROW—The new Laws on irregularities in general, and during the auction exposed cards, condoning irregular calls, changing a call and insufficient bids.

Men Talk Too Much At UN Woman Says

PARIS, Oct. 18 — (AP). — A woman delegate suggested today the men are talking too much in the United Nations social committee.

"We're now in a crisis," said Minerva Bernardino of the Dominican Republic. She urged the men to "hold back the avalanche of bitterness" which she said had turned the 58-member committee's deliberations into an east-west cold war.

The committee's dozen or so women delegates have been "more reserved" in the debate on a proposed human rights declaration, she added.

YPU Re-elects Jack Admaston At Conference

Nearly 400 young people, representing United Churches of the Bay of Quinte Conference, met in Peterborough from Friday to Sunday for the 20th annual convention of the Young People's Union.

The theme of the convention was "Break up your fallow ground . . . it is time to seek the Lord." Theme speaker, who delivered three addresses, was Rev. E. Crossley Hunter of Trinity United Church, Toronto.

Jack Campbell of Admaston, Ont., president of the Bay of Quinte Conference YPU was re-elected to head that body.

Worship periods were taken during the conference by presbyteries of Lindsay, Peterborough, Kingston, Oshawa and Renfrew.

The sessions were held at St. James' United Church on Romaine St. A fellowship banquet Friday evening was first on the program following registration of delegates from all parts of the conference, which extends from Whitby to Brockville and north to Pembroke. Mayor W. G. Ovens extended the civic welcome to the visiting young people. A sing-song was conducted by Miss Glenna Wilson of Oshawa. Rev. F. W. Craik, minister of the host church, also gave an address of welcome.

The report of the General Council was given Friday evening by Rev. A. Lloyd Snorten of Foxboro and the recreation period was in charge of Miss Loretta McDougall, Belleville.

National Y.P.U. president, Dr. Graham Hudson of Ottawa, delivered an address outlining the purposes of the Young People's Union on Saturday afternoon. Many of the visitors were taken on a scenic tour of Peterborough and surrounding district following the session.

Feature of the Saturday evening program was the presentation of three one-act plays by groups representing finalists in Conference competition. Queen Street United Church of Kingston took first place with its farce "His First Shave." Other finalists were Warkworth United Church and Selina United Church of Oshawa.

The winning Kingston group were presented with the Baxter Trophy by Mrs. J. E. Baxter of Belleville, convener of the culture committee. Adjudicator was R. L. Hale of the Peterborough Normal School.

The Sunday morning service was in charge of Rev. S. L. Osborne, principal of the Ontario Ladies' College at Whitby.

An address was given Sunday afternoon by Rev. J. Verner McNeely, president of the Senior Bay of Quinte Conference of the United Church.

More than 300 attended communion service conducted by Mr. McNeely later in the afternoon. He was assisted by Rev. F. W. Craik in the service. Special music was supplied by the Peterborough Salvation Army Band.

Solo selections for both services were given by Miss Norma Arkles from Belleville.

Ended Sunday Evening

Following a special service of music and films, the final address of the conference was given Sunday evening by Rev. D. H. Gallagher of Toronto, Associate Secretary of Overseas Missions of the United Church of Canada. Having just returned from a round-the-world trip this year, he gave a vivid word picture of mission work abroad.

Mission Circle Plans To Present Play

The Thanksgiving meeting of the Jean Wagar Mission Circle was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Ephgrave, Lansdowne Ave. The president, Gladys Langton, conducted the service of worship. Passages of scripture were read by Norma Ephgrave. "Faith Can Come Alive Again" was the promise in a reading by Mabel Dulmage.

The devotional period closed with prayer by Alma Hunter. The Study Book, "Straight Furrows," was introduced by Connie Wagar, who suggested various methods of presenting this play, and conducted a quiz on present-day China.

It was decided to purchase individual copies of the play which will be presented by the circle in the spring.

"The Circle Book Shelf," which was won by this circle last year in the Peterborough Presbyterial reading contest, was presented at this meeting, and the books were circulated among the members as a start on this year's contest.

During the business period a letter from the advisory president was read, giving thanks and encouragement to all workers of the circle, and plans were discussed for the November meeting.

An encouraging financial report was given by the Christian stewardship secretary, Mabel Dulmage, who also read a letter regarding increased allocations.

Temperance was presented in a reading entitled "The Brewer's Slogan" by Alma Hunter.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. Ephgrave, assisted by Miss Dulmage.

Heavy Snowfall In London District

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 18.—(CP).—Heavy snow which broke tree branches and service wires caused scattered damage in the London district overnight, with the brunt felt in London township where a large section was without Hydro facilities this morning.

Suburban parts of the township with large residences and estates also met water service inconveniences because pumps were inoperative.

Only minor damage to Hydro and telephone lines were reported in the city itself.

The Dominion weather bureau recorded an official snowfall of 2.9 inches but falls up to five inches were reported in some areas.

The thermometer fell Friday night to 31 degrees for a new low of the season and the mercury held under 35 degrees during the morning.

MustDoPlanning On Regional Basis Says Clark

TORONTO, Oct. 18 — (CP) — Community planning which is limited by municipal boundaries is outmoded, Frederick P. Clark, planning director of the New York Regional Planning Association, said today.

Only through joint community planning on a regional basis can development problems be solved, Mr. Clark told the Ontario division of the Community Planning Association of Canada.

Regional planning might supplement and co-ordinate local planning authorities or might be a directing influence such as the Ontario Department of Planning and Development.

"Regional planning is coming increasingly to the forefront throughout the United States," he said. "Few of us live solely within one municipality.

Cities Congested

"Our cities have gradually become congested, expensive and unattractive. More and more people seem to desire living in the suburbs."

Throughout the United States suburban areas were growing rapidly while central city areas grew slowly, if at all.

"While much of this suburban growth has been an asset, too high a proportion of new developments have been poorly planned and poorly constructed, resulting in living conditions which may be little better than those they left in crowded central areas."

The movement from downtown areas to suburbs involved such problems as provision of streets, schools, water, transportation and other services. This problem fell not on the city but on the suburban municipality. These problems could not be solved by municipal planning but required a broader regional planning.

Mr. and Mrs. Lean, Apsley, Feted On 45th Anniversary

APSLEY, Oct. 16 — (ENS) — Fifty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Lean surprised them in their home last week to present them with gifts and best wishes on the 45th anniversary of their wedding.

It had been in October of 1903 that Bertha Hales and Wellington Lane were married by Rev. T. Leggott, Methodist minister of Lakefield. The ceremony had been at the bride's home in Chandos.

Until 1928, they lived on a farm two miles south of Apsley, at which time they sold their farm and have resided in Apsley sinnce.

They have one daughter, Helen, now wife of Rev. G. Hazelwood and two grandchildren, Lane and Lynda, all of Walton, Ont.

They have both been active in community affairs such as Red Cross Society, Agricultural Society and war services work. Mrs Lean is a charter member of the Apsley Branch of the Women's Institute and organist in Trinity United church for a number of years.

Mr. Lean, who served for some time as township councillor, is an elder of Trinity United church.

The gathering this week presented them with an electric coffee-maker and gift towels. The presentations and expressions of good will were made by Mrs Charles Smith and Mrs. W. Staples, both close neighbors.

The evening was spent in games with lunch served by the visitors. The wedding cake, served by the bride of 45 years ago, was a gift of her daughter. The couple received many messages of congratulation from those unable to be present.

Worthington To Head Civil Defence

Will Supervise Plans In Case War Emergency Develops

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP). — Maj.-Gen. F. F. Worthington, 59-year-old expert on armored warfare, has been appointed co-ordinator of "civil defence planning," Defence Minister Claxton announced today.

Military informants placed some emphasis on the planning nature of the new job as the announcement said "it has been decided not to try to set up local committees at this time."

Main task of the short, stocky and blunt general—he was nicknamed Fighting Frank by soldiers—will be to supervise the creation of plans for civil defence which would be placed in operation if war became imminent.

The formal announcement of his appointment said that the first step would be to plan the coordination of federal departments that would be involved in civil defence—defence, health and justice. The next chore would be to decide and arrange the part provincial and municipal authorities would play in an emergency.

Government sources said they do not consider the time has come to start digging deep shelters and involving people in full-time civil defence activities. On the other hand, they made it plain they considered the time has come—partly for morale, partly for strategic reasons — to prepare for some future day.

Fortunate Choice

"We are fortunate to have a man of Gen. Worthington's proven qualities to undertake this important job," Mr. Claxton said in announcing the appointment. "During his career as a soldier he displayed great qualities of leadership in addition to high administrative capacity."

Gen. Worthington was one of the pre-war officers whose ideas about tanks first seemed unorthodox and then became the essence of orthodoxy in the last war. He was Scots-born and American-raised. His first battles were fought in a revolution in Nicaragua.

He jointed the Black Watch in Montreal as a private in 1915,

Butter Undamaged

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 — (CP).—Although some of the 50-pound casks of the 1,400-ton Danish butter shipment arriving here on Saturday have burst their seams, little if any of the butter has been damaged, it was reported today. A butter importer said some of the hoops had fallen off casks but he had not seen a single package in which the butter was damaged.

Say Destroyers May Be Used To Help Power

TERRACE BAY, Ont., Oct. 19—(CP). — Destroyers and other Royal Canadian Navy craft may be used to help beat Ontario's power shortage, chairman Robert Saunders of Ontario Hydro said today.

The question of piping into the Southern Ontario power system the electricity from ships which could be moored in Toronto harbor now is under study, said Mr. Saunders in an interview.

"Ships have plenty of power and you can imagine what a tremendous help an aircraft carrier would be," he said. "We already have looked into the possibility of making use of the freighters tied up idle in Toronto all winter, but have found it impractical.

"However, I do know that power from a United States destroyer moored in Portland, Me., was, in an emergency, piped ashore to light up a New Brunswick town."

He said he has given instructions to approach the Canadian Navy and other armed services and War Assets Corporation.

"And we're even going to the United States to see if there are any idle craft or war inventions there which could help us."

Mr. Saunders is here to officiate at the opening today of the new 40,000 kilowatt Aguasabon power plant, which will supply badly-needed electricity to the Lakehead cities of Port Arthur and Fort William.

Mr. Saunders said he had "a very good hope that power barges used by allied armies during the war could be obtained. The barges were used after D-Day landings in France to supply power to cities blacked out by bombings.

"I can see no reason why, if any of these are available, and the cost is not prohibitive, why they can't be pressed into service here in Ontario. We don't intend to overlook any possibility for helping ease this power shortage."

Death List Includes 2nd Official

Witness Says Death Plotted In 1947; Turned Down Job

DETROIT, Oct. 19 —(AP)—A witness testified today that Carl Bolton, 39, offered him $15,000 to kill Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

The witness was John Miller, 45, who testified at Bolton's examination on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The witness said also that Kenneth Banyon, director of the union's Ford department, was scheduled to be assassinated later.

Reuther was shot in his home last April 20 but is recovering.

Miller was not immediately identified. He gave his home address as Highland Park, Mich. A UAW-CIO spokesman said he had never been a member of the Auto Workers Union.

Miller testified that he had known Bolton for about 20 years

He said that as early as September, 1947, Bolton told him "that something was coming up," and that a lot of money was involved

Again in March, 1948, the witness continued, he had a similar conversation with Bolton. The name of the victim was not mentioned, the witness said, but he said Bolton referred on both occasions to 'a dirty Red Communist."

Didn't Want Job

Four days before Reuther was shot, Miller went on, he again was approached by Bolton and "the name of Walter Reuther came up."

Miller said that Bolton spoke then of "rubbing out Walter Reuther." He asked Miller if he wanted the job, according to the testimony.

Bolton was quoted by the witness as saying the assassination would be worth $15,000.

"You mean that's all? Miller said he asked Bolton.

"You'll get it within an hour after the job is done," he said Bolton added.

Miller testified that he then told Bolton, "No, I don't want the job."

Miller went on to say that Bannon's name came up at the same time.

"I don't know how his name came up," the witness continued, "but he was supposed to get it the same way as Reuther did. At some future date Bolton told me there would be another one and it would be Ken Bannon."

Bannon at one time was president of Ford Local 400, UAW-CIO. At another time Bolton

Ottawa Orders Inquiry Into DP Camps

WINNIPEG, Oct. 19 (CP) — Conditions in Manitoba work camps for displaced persons came under Federal government scrutiny today after charges that misery and squalor abounded and that food was so poor all 65 men in one camp were sick simultaneously.

Arthur MacNamara, Federal Deputy Minister of Labor, in Ottawa Monday night ordered an investigation when it was reported that some DPs on sugar beet farms were enduring poor accommodation, food of poor quality, crude sanitation and washing facilities, scanty and grimy blankets.

Mice were reported to be able to enter the shacks in which the men were housed in easy fashion. The men said the mice had chewed holes in shirts, trousers, underwear and bedding.

J. H. Evans, Deputy Provincial Minister, saaid this morning he had received word from Mr. MacNamara containing instructions for a join investigation by the two departments. Disinterested observers also will participate, it was reported.

"We want to get this thing cleared up as fast as possible," said Mr. Evans, referring to the charges.

Agriculture Minister D. L. Campbell of Manitoba, said this morning his department had received "what amounts to no complaints this year' from the D.P.'s. He added that the workers had easy access to the government if they wished to express complaints.

Good Construction

"I'm not trying to pretend that camps look like the lobby of leading hotels. But they are of good average construction, the same type of camps used for construction workers. Polish soldiers in Canada were stationed in similar camps for two years and so were German prisoners-of-war."

The suggestion that wages were too low Mr. Campbell described as "just no good. The wages are good wages."

He also denied that the buildings were covered with tar paper, describing the substance as a type of rubber roofing common to camp huts.

"Our contention is that they are good camps and don't deserve the adverse publicity now given them."

Expert Believes Signature Of Missing Woman Forged On $600 Receipt

Say Mrs. Pohl Barely Able To Sign Name And Only With Left Hand; Hold Little Hope Of Finding Her Alive

KITCHENER, Oct. 19—(CP).—The mystery of the missing woman has taken on a new fillip with a police statement that they believe a receipt bearing the woman's signature was forged. They said the vanished woman, Mrs. Emma Pohl, was barely able to sign her name— then only with her left hand. Beyond that, she could not read or write.

Investigators found samples of her signature. Handwriting expert Alonzo Payne of Beamsville compared them with a receipt that William Stuart, believed the last person to see Mrs. Pohl, told investigators the woman gave him.

Police said Payne reported to Deputy Chief John Patrick and other officials that he considered the receipt signature a forgery.

Stuart told police that on Sept. 13 he paid Mrs. Pohl $600 he owed her and was given the receipt. He said he last saw Mrs. Pohl on a street in Kitchener the day she disappeared.

Police said they hold little hope of finding the woman alive. They took shovels out for a search of a wooded swamp eight miles northwest of here Monday and told reporters they were looking for a body.

The hunt swung to the quicksand quagmires after a Kitchener man reported that he had seen a man drag a burlap bag from an automobile on a lonely country road and throw it into the bog. Police searched the spot but found nothing.

The citizen who gave police the tip, Fred Kissner, said the man he saw dragging the burlap bag was tall and well-built with a dark complexion.

Investigators pondered the possibility that Mrs. Pohl may have gone to England. Her first husband, Joe Patience, went there two years ago after the couple's divorce was granted.

Von Brauchitsch Dies Waiting War-Crimes Trial

HAMBURG, Oct. 19 (AP) — Walther Von Brauchitsch, former German field marshal, died Monday night in a British military hospital here where he was under guard awaiting trial as a war criminal. He was 67.

Von Brauchitsch had faced trial with three other leaders of the German army of the Second World War—Field Marshal Gerd Von Rundsted and Erich Von Mannstein and Col.-Gen. Adolf Strauss—all in British custody.

A British army announcement said Von Brauchitsch died of coronary thrombosis. He had been placed on the critical list only three hours before

Foreign Secretary Bevin recently announced in the House of Commons that American investigators had turned up evidence establishing a prima facie case against the four German military men. The British authorities had intended to begin the trial in Hamburg next January.

Von Brauchitsch became commander-in-chief of the German army as a result of a sensational cabinet shake-up by Hitler in 1938. The shakeup had culminated in the resignations of Field Marshal Werner Von Blomberg, then minister of war, and Col.-Gen. Baron Werner Von Fritsch, who later died on the Polish front.

Brauchitsch remained commander of the German army until it bogged down in the Russian snows before Moscow. Hitler fired him December 20, 1941.

Brauchitsch, a prototype of the old Prussian soldier, had a powerful influence in Hitler's cabinet decisions just before Germany invaded Poland.

With Reichsmarshal Hermann Goering and Grand Admiral Erich Raeder, Brauchitsch was the third member of a triumvirate which guided Germany in the first years of the war.

Before the war Brauchitsch's troops had marched into Austria and Czechoslovakia's Sudetenland.

UN Orders A Cease-Fire In Palestine Desert Fight

PARIS, Oct. 19—(CP).—The United Nations Security Council today unanimously ordered an immediate and effective cease-fire by Jews and Arabs in the southern Palestine desert fighting. The council acted swiftly on the report of its interim mediator, Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, on the battle between Israeli troops and Egyptians for the Negev Desert.

The 11-member council first voted 9 to 0, with Russia and the Soviet Ukraine abstaining, to adopt a resolution calling for a cease-fire and instructing Bunche to negotiate a settlement of the Negev dispute. Syria proposed this resolution.

Russia objected to combining the cease-fire with the negotiations and asked for reconsideration of the resolution by sections.

The Council also adopted unanimously a British-Chinese resolution calling upon Israel to report soon on any progress in the assassination of the mediator, Count Folke Bernadotte. The same resolution asked more cooperation from both Jews and Arabs with the truce supervisors.

"Double Violations"

Aubrey S. Eban, Israel's representative here, said a "true report" by the interim mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche, would have told of "double violations by Egypt" of Bunche's rulings on the use of convoys in the disputed Negev Desert area.

"We are satisfied with the complete unity of some political factors" involved in the proolem of the Negev, Eban said. He said Israel refuses to let the Negev be pinched off. Under the original Palestine partition plan the Negev was to be Jewish territory, but Count Folke Bernadotte, the slain mediator, recommended in his last report that it be given to the Arabs.

Dr. Bunche said Israel had refused to accept UN control of aerial supply of settlements in the Negev and accepted only the UN plan for use of the same crossroads by both Israeli and Egyptian convoys.

Order Cars Pass In Russ Zone

BERLIN, Oct. 19—(AP)—The Russians, in another blockade-tightening move, announced today that all highway traffic entering Berlin from any point must pass through the Soviet sector of the city.

There the Russians are subjecting all vehicles to search for confiscation of foodstuffs and other "contraband" artciles destined for the sealed-off western sectors.

This meant that henceforth no German motor traffic coming from Potsdam or the southwest could enter the city directly, via the American sector. It now must go around the city and enter from the east.

Police officials said the orders were necessary to stop an "illicit" flow of produce from Soviet-zone farms into western Berlin. They declared fuel, machine parts and manufactured products also were being brought through in this manner.

One Communist police spokesman asserted that if these "smuggled" supplies were shut off western Berlin could not survive off the Allied air lift.

Missing Aircraft Reaches Field Safely

HALIFAX, Oct. 19 —(CP)—A light aircraft with two persons aboard, reported missing overnight on a flight from Charlottetown to Blissville, N.B., landed safely this morning at its destination after spending the night in a farmer's field.

Pilot Paul Sharpe of Charlottetown, an R.C.A.F. veteran, put the two-place Fleet Finch machine down near Havelock, near Sussex, N.B., during a heavy fog and remained overnight. He took off early today and landed safely at Blissville airport, R.C.A.F. search and rescue here reported.

His passenger was Elton C. Woodside, also an experienced pilot.

Under ordinary circumstances the flight would take less than two hours.

B. Chandler. The former all-time high was $6,544.76, and went to Detroit Tigers in 1935.

German Negotiations Useless U.S. Says

PARIS, Oct. 19—(CP). — The Big-Three Western Powers told the United Nations Security Council today that further negotiations with Russia on Germany are useless as long as the Russians keep a watertight blockade on Berlin.

Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States said the Russian stranglehold on road, rail and river communications with Berlin was being tightened "even as the security council deliberates."

Speaking on behalf of Britain, France and the United States, Jessup and Sir Alexander Cadogan said the Western Powers would not negotiate on the basis of their Aug. 30 agreement with Prime Minister Stalin as long as the blockade lasted.

French Strikers Face Showdown

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(AP).—Forty persons were injured when police and mine strikers clashed near St. Etienne, Agence France-Presse said today.

The outbreak in Central France occurred, the news agency said, when pickets attacked police occuying Roche La Moliere mine Eight strikers were arrested.

The strikers used stones and scraps of metal and the police replied with tea gas bombs. The wounded were equally distributed between the police and miners, the agency said. Strikers were cleared from the pits and two flooded pumps were put back into operation.

Elsewhere in France pickets and troops and police massed for a showdown in the coal strike. Public services broke down in the northern coal fields. Mines were flooded in the south.

In the St. Etienne region of South Central France, where police skirmished Monday with 1,000 miners, authorities have established virtual martial law.

Street gathering of more than five persons have been forbidden. A showdown appeared possible between troops and rebellious strikers.

The government dispatched troops and police to the mines Monday after Communist leaders had ordered all security measures halted for 24 hours in protest against police presence in the mine-fields.

Arab Civilians Fleeing Gaza

TEL AVIV, Oct. 19 — (AP).—Bombing by the Israeli Air Force of Gaza roared into its fourth straight day today and the Arab civilian population was reported in flight from the capital of the Arab-proclaimed Palestine state.

United Nations observers already have left the port city. How nearly deserted it was could not be learned, but its use as a seat of the Arab government seemed to have been abandoned for the time beng. Egyptian forces have occupied it.

Israeli military authorities here said it is not their intention to capture Gaza durng the present Jewish-Egyptian battle for the Negev Desert in Southern Palestine.

(This dispatch was filed before the United Nations Security Council in Paris to-day ordered an immediate and effective ceasefire by both Jews and Arabs in the Southern Palestine desert fighting.)

Don't Want To Finance Building For Tourists

OTTAWA, Oct. 19—(CP).—The Federal Government has not yet been convinced that it should loan money to persons who want to build new tourist accommodation, B. C. Butler, associate director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, said today.

He told the three-day third annual Dominion-Provincial Tourist Convention that inquiries to date have not shown that the loaning of money for tourist accommodation construction is necessarily a function of the Federal Government

If any action was taken in the field, it should take the form of a survey. An investigation should be undertaken to find out how much tourist accommodation is lacking and how soon the gap will be closed by private enterprise.

4 Dead and 40 Injured As Texas City Rocks Again

TEXAS CITY, Tex., Oct. 19—(AP)—Four persons were fatally burned and about 40 others injured in a gas explosion and fire which swept a line of automobiles at a blocked railroad crossing here Monday night. The explosion took place near the scene of the great 1947 explosion.

Three of the deaths occurred this morning.

The dead are: Clarence Stewart, 24, negro taxicab driver from Galveston; Corniel Olivei, 20, negro woman, Galeston; Slyvester Villareal, Galveston; and Jack Flynn, Joplin, Mo.

The injured, who were taken to hospitals here and at Galveston, across Galveston Bay, included many whose burns were described as critical.

Fire Chief Fred Dowdy of Texas City said the explosion was caused by the igniting of an accumulation of manufactured gas which had leaked from a pipeline alongside the highway, near the Stone Oil refinery.

Witnesses said the gas, which hung in the roadside ditches in a visible fog went up in a huge puff of flame. The searing blast burned 16 automobiles waiting for a string of tank cars to pass the railroad crossing.

The explosion occurred about 7:30 p.m. and started rumors that Texas City was menaced by a repition of the disastrous explosions and fires of April 16 and 17, which killed 512 persons and devastated the city.

Ask Commission On Municipal Relations

Would Like Province To Assume Hospital, Welfare, Relief Costs

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — Ontario municipalities urged the Provincial Government today to set up a commission on provincial-municipal relations.

Four municipal organizations, meeting Cabinet Ministers at a government-sponsored conference, also made 13 specific financial suggestions. The main recommendations:

1. Municipalities should be relieved of all hospital, child welfare and relief costs.

2. Municipalities should get a "more adequate" share of revenue from gasoline tax and automobile licence fees.

3. Municipalities should be relieved of all justice administration costs.

4. The Assessment Act should be reviewed "to determine what properties now exempt should be properly liable for municipal taxation."

The brief was prepared by the Association of Ontario Mayors and Reeve, Ontario Municipal Association, Ontario Association of Rural Municipalities and Northwestern Ontario Municipal Association. It was presented by Reeve Ann Shipley of Teck township.

In urging establishment of a provincial-municipal "committee or commission," the organizations said they understood such a move was forecast last year in the Speech from the Throne at the opening of the Legislature.

The commission, said the brief, should survey "the whole field of provincial - municipal relationships" and recommended changes in "functions and finances."

"Pending the final conclusions of such a body, it is further recommended that it be instructed to make interim recommendations for interim financial adjustments as it may deem expedient to relieve the municipalities of the acute financial difficulties with which they are now confronted under the existing provincial-municipal arrangements."

The municipal representatives said in a preamble that their most important object is "to see that taxes on owners of homes and real property should be placed on an equitable basis."

In the three years 1944-6, Ontario municipalities had spent a total of $25,056,220 on social services, hospitals and relief. These were "not properly municipal services" and, therefore, should not be municipal responsibilities

Baby 'Drowned' 15 Minutes, Saved By Mother

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 19.—(CP).—Because he is only 17 months old, sturdy Barry Ladkin is alive, though he fell in the icy creek near his home Monday morning and was "drowned" for nearly 15 minutes.

A cool, capable mother, alone in their isolated home at RR 5, Thamesford, saved his life. She gave artificial respiration while a telephone operator brought provincial police and firemen from London in a life and death race.

Firemen used an inhalator nearly half an hour. Dr. T.M. Weir, of Thamesford, said Barry lived because babies stop breathing when they hit water, and Barry's lungs wouldn't fill up as much as if he'd been older.

Barry is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Ladkin, who came from Toronto a few weeks ago.

Barry went out to play and when his mother couldn't find him a few minutes later she started out in search.

Halfway down the long driveway to the highway is a bridge over a creek. She looked over the bridge and saw the child lying face down in the pool under the bridge.

Barbed wire protected the approach to the pool, but Mrs. Ladkin paid no heed to gashes in her legs and arms as she rushed to the rescue.

She got him out of the pool, ripped his clothes off, and started artificial respiration, which she had learned at a Red Cross course last winter.

THE ARABIAN DELEGATES to the United Nations General Assembly in Paris were guests at a party given them and attended by many important personages of the United Nations. Prince Feisal of Saudi Arabia is shown at the party chatting with U.N. Mediator Ralph Bunche. Obvious by their absence were the Israel delegates to the U.N.

Seek Faster Methods For Consultations

LONDON, Oct. 19 (CP).—High officials worked late Monday night trying to find new and speedier methods by which Dominions may consult each other.

The officials belong to one of two short-circuiting committees set up Monday at the Commonwealth Prime Minister Conference. Members of the second committee worked equally late trying to find a new name and a higher status for Dominion High Commissioners, who, in the present diplomatic order, rank lower in precedence than Foreign Ambassadors.

Today the Commonwealth leaders resume debate on international affairs, with particular attention to the European situation. This section of the debate was postponed to await the arrival from Canada of Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, acting Justice Minister, who replaced Prime Minister Mackenzie King, who is ill.

Frank Wolff, a graduate of the Guelph Agricultural College and at present agricultural representative for the eastern lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, was guest speaker He discussed Mendel's law of inheritance and genetics in general. He explained in detail how the dominant and recessive characteristics of chinchilla and other live stock appear in the progeny. Many took advantage of Mr. Wolff's knowledge in a general discussion of animal husbandry, following his tal-

50 Gypsy Violins Sound Requiem

PITTSBURG, Oct. 19 — (AP). —The sobbing notes of 50 gypsy violins and the flashing color of gypsy costumes will accompany Andrew Margitza to his grave on Thursday.

Margitza, known as the King of the gypsy violinists, wanted in death the music he loved so much in life. As he lay dying on Sunday, the 60-year-old violinist told his son William:

"Assemble the old musicians, the young musicians, and the very young and have them play for me in the grand manner, when they lower me down."

He asked his son to have his host of friends and relatives don the garb of their forefathers and form a parade to St. Michael's Roman Catholic Church and thence to the cemetery. There, on the bleak hills, the casket will be opened. And the old musicians, the young and the very young will sound the haunting unwritten strains of the gypsy dirge: "I Am Leaving You Forever."

City Projects Require $100,000

Cost of municipal expansion came home to the council Monday night in the amount of $100,554 that has to be borrowed.

For sewers on Arndon Ave., Monaghan Road, Edison Ave. and St. Catharines St. the bill was $23,902.

Similar work on Montgomery (Albertus), Lansdowne, Morrow, Sherbourne and Haggart Streets cost $35,242.20.

The Arndon job was unforeseen when former City Engineer Parsons laid out a five-year plan. It is a new integrated housing area west of Park St. The other sewer job is south of Lansdowne St. and west of the Locks Bridge, an area where a cluster of government houses is now being completed. This sewer money is being spent on new housing.

Another item is for $12,410 to pay for a four-wheel drive snow plow and also a tractor, equipment that had to be bought for the board of works department. The fourth parcel of borrowing is $29,000 required for Queen Mary School. The Board of Education encountered the common experience of costs exceeding estimates. The money that was first asked for and obtained was not sufficient when the final bills were paid.

Debentures will be issued for the total of slightly more than $100,000.

H. R. Richardson, director of the Manitoba government's Farm Help Service which has jurisdiction over the camps, said he had "never heard of any complaints about tenant conditions at the camps."

2 Camps Involved

The charges about miserable conditions involved two camps housing 80 men, one at Emmerson and the other at Letellier. The company employing the men at these two camps also operates two other smaller camps at St. Agathe and Homewood. Reporters for the Winnipeg Tribune, which carried the first story of the camp conditions, visited the Emerson and Letellier sites.

The 65 men at the camp near Emerson are all single and came from Poland, Yugoslavia, Ukraine, Latvia and Estonia. Four buildings make up their camp—three for living quarters and one for a cookhouse.

"When things get too [illegible] filth, some men cannot stand it," said a former Yugoslav newspaperman. "They go into town and pay 25 cents for a hotel bath."

It was at this camp that all 65 men were reported to have become sick overnight from food they had been served.

No Chance To Study

One DP said the men felt badly because they were afforded no chance to learn English. Haltingly, he declared "We do not want to speak only Serb, Latvian or whatever our language was—you see, we hope to be Canadians some day."

Mr. Richardson referred to the Tribune article as "obviously of a sensation-hunting type." He said that "any person in his right state of mind would know that the state of affairs portrayed by that article frankly does not exist."

Fred J. White, regional supervisor of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, said he understood the facts of the story to be basically true.

Visiting The City

Percy King and his wife of St. Catharines are visiting in the city this week. Mr. King was formerly in charge of the bakeshop at the Nut Krust Bakery located under the Town Clock on George St. He left the city in 1927 and now is a partner in a variety store in St. Catharines. A keen lawn bowler, Mr. King's last visit to the city was four years ago. He once worked as a baker for Hooper's and learned with regret of the death of T. H. Hooper this morning.

Claim Generator Is Nuisance

An electric generator used by Florence M. Leach, optometrist at 406½ George St., is causing loss of sleep to the residents in the neighboring flats. They protested to the council Monday night that the put-put noise of its gasoline engine was a nuisance to the people in that block, facing Hunter and George Sts.

City Solicitor Huycke said it was a local not a community nuisance, and there was nothing the council could do about it. The objectors themselves would have to sue for damages or injunction.

It was suggested that the petition should be sent to the proprietor of the brightly conspicuous store on George St.

Ald. Herbert Young said the council should write to her and ask her to discontinue the use of the gasoline generator that produces the electric power.

"The petitioners can go to court if they see fit," said Mr. Huycke.

A motion by Aldermen Swanston and Raine is advising the petitioners that remedy or restraint of the nuisance is outside the authority of the council.

In addition to the $15,000, Miller testified, Bolton offered to secure him a "good job in the union, through the people who are having this thing done."

The day before the shooting, Miller's testimony continued, Bolton came to his home to pick up two shotguns he had left, there and told him "I'm going out and get myself a --- ---- Commie."

No Enmity

Earlier, Reuther. himself, testified that as far as he knew there was no enmity between himself and Bolton.

The 40-year-old Union leader was the first witness at the examination of Carl Bolton, 39, accused of trying to kill Reuther last April 20. Bolton is a former minor official of the union.

Defence Counsel Joseph Louisell asked Reuther if there had been any "friction or hard feeling" between himself and Bolton.

"No, I have no knowledge of any personal animosity existing between Mr. Bolton and myself," Reuther answered

No motive for the shooting, which nearly cost Reuther his life, ever was made public.

Union Branch Severs Ties

WELLAND, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Local 637 of the International Union of Mine, Mill and Smelter Workers (CIO) has severed its affiliation with the union, officials announced today. The union has been reported dominated by Communists.

"Local 637 will not accept autocratic dictatorship no matter where it stems from—and because of Communism and its disastrous results,' the local is withdrawing, said President John Shadden.

The union recently was suspended from the Canadian Congress of Labor.

The executive was influenced to recommend this step because it felt that continued association with the parent body was against the best interests of the local's membership," said the local president.

Industrials Ahead On Strong Gains

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — Prices were generally firmer as trading slowly increased on the Toronto Stock Exchange to-day. Industrials edged ahead on some strong gains and golds were quietly firmer.

The advance was general in industrials with steels paving the way. Canadian Vickers was ahead 2½ and Canadian Industries rose to a new high at 175¼. Steel of Canada, Walkers, Canadian Locomotive, Imperial Bank and Loblaws A were among the gainers.

The base metals list slid in the early trading, but showed signs of swinging ahead towards midsession. Smelters was down ¼, and Pend Oreille, Reeves Macdonald and Falconbridge dipped 10 cents. Gulf Lead was down to a new low at 73 cents while Noranda, Waite Amulet, Steep Rock, and Sherritt firmed.

Dome lost a fraction in senior golds and Kerr Addison added. Juniors were very quiet with the bulk of the trading confined to a few issues. Nicholson rose to a new high at 45 cents, and East Malartic, Macassa, and Madsen eased. Lamaque rose 25 cents and Teck-Hughes 2 cents.

Cool Snap Stretches Across United States

CHICAGO, Oct. 19—(AP)—The mid-October cool snap stretched across most of the United States today. Temperatures dropped to below freezing in the early morning hours from the plains state to New England and into the south.

The weather bureau said the chilly weather extended as far south as northern sections of Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee and Arkansas and westward to northeastern Texas. More of the same cool readings were forecast for the southern areas tonight.

The mercury dipped to 27 at Chattanooga and 29 at Nashville, Tenn., and was in the 30s along the north and central gulf coast.

Readings in the 20s and 30s were reported over most of the midwest, the east and in the New England states. Portland, Me., shivered in 22 above, while morning readings at Boston and Albany, N.Y., were freezing. New York city and Washington each reported 35, the same as reported at Chicago.

Canada's Atomic Resolution Hits Heavy Weather

By ALAN HARVEY

PARIS, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Canada's attempt to steer her atomic energy resolution through the United Nations Monday ran into heavy weather.

Transport Minister Lionel Chevrier introduced a patched-up proposal endorsing the majority principles of the Atomic Energy Commission but amendments sprouted promptly in the political committee where the Canadian resolution was born three weeks ago.

Despite Chevrier's statement that the majority principles are the only "real hope," the counter-suggestions were many.

India, El Salvador and Australia all introduced amendments. The major premize of all three was that the Commission should resume work immediately.

Need Agreement First

Canada, backed by the Big Three western powers—Britain, the United States and France — and many small countries, said the Commission, comprised largely of experts, should not resume work until some basis of agreement is found.

Thus the debate is right back where it started Sept. 30.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton, Canada's permanent delegate to the United Nations and a member of the Atomic Energy Commission since its inception, introduced the original Canadian resolution at that time. But so many amendments were submitted that the 58-power political commiteee decided to appoint an 11-country sub-committee to hammer out one proposal from the many.

The sub-committee voted for the Canadian resolution over the India and Russian proposals

Monday the Dominion's motion came back to the full committee. And the amendments started all over again.

Cobourg Car Death Judge Critical of Highway Act

COBOURG, Oct. 19 (ENS). — Lack of clarity in the available interpretation of Section 94 of the Ontario Highway Act. was deplored by Mr. Justice Chevrier Monday during a trial in voir dire with the jury absent in the hearing of a motor manslaughter charge against Edward Drumm of Grafton. His Lordship referred to the section whcih treats statements made to an officer investigating an accident as privileged. and he said that he would sustain the objection of the defence counsel to the statements going in, in the chance it would bring the problem before the appeal courts or the legislature.

Mr. Justice Chevrier said that if it should go to court of appeal or to the legislature, it might be established in either place just what that section of the Highway Traffic Act means and how trial judges should deal with it.

"I will sustain the objection of the defence counsel, not so much that it is so, but perhaps I am guided more by a desire to get clarification than to express my own opinion," His Lordship said.

Continuing he declared that perhaps the best and most important evidence is kept away from the trial judge because the traffic officer cannot give evidence that contains revelations made by parties in giving a report on an accident. Interested parties, being human, may color their evidence later and there is no recourse to examination of statements made earlier to the investigating officer.

Wants Section Amended

"In my years on the bench I have found the greater proportion of traffic officers to be alert and intelligent and could be called to give certain evidence except that, because it formed part of the report on the accident, it remains a part of the report that went to the registrar (Motor Vehicles Branch) and stays there where it serves no useful purpose to the court. I would like to see that section amended or repealed and made absolutely clear. If this should go to the court of appeal it will serve a useful purpose," His Lordship said.

In reference to the ban on the use of the word "against" by police officers giving a warning to an accused preparatory to taking a statement, Mr. Justice Chevrier pointed out that such a regulation was based on the rules in English courts. Whatever were the merits of the ruling, it was still something that was not to be found in the Canadian Criminal Code.

"Personally I do not accept it. I don't think it applies to our procedure under the Criminal Code," commented His Lordship.

James Boyle, age 18 of Grafton, who was with Edward Breczuk at the time of the fatal accident, testified that the two of them were riding along the Shelter Valley Road about 8.45 on the evening of August 28. Boyle's bicycle was on the eastern edge of the road and Breczuk was riding his bicycle about three or four feet west of him. He saw the lights of an approaching car which came around a bend and then the collision happened. Boyle said he believed the bicycle came in contact with the bumper of the car. Breczuk was badly hurt and was taken to the hospital where he died later. The car stopped down the road and later Edward Drumm came over to the scene.

Provincial Constable Don Nicol told the court that on going to the scene of the accident he found the Drumm car parked facing south easterly. A skid mark ran north, from a point three feet in that direction from the far, for a distance of 104 feet, nine inches. The skid mark at the north end was three feet four inches west of the east edge of the road, the road being 17 feet nine inches wide at that point. Going southerly the skid mark was parallel to the east edge of the road until a point 84 feet south, it ran four feet west of the east edge. At the southern terminal it was 20 inches from the edge. Boyle's bicycle was 13 feet three inches south of the north end of the skid mark and Breczuk's bicycle was in front of Drumm's car, the constable testified.

A BIG PLANE of operation Vittles' vital airborne lifeline buzzes with food for Red-blockaded Berlin while a string of empty coal barges moves up the Havel lake toward the once richly industrial suburb of Spandau, Berlin. Once the prime mode of transporting bulk material in the Berlin area, the barge fleets have been stranded by the blockade. It is interesting to note that one shipment of coal via these barges (about 5,500 tons) would equal a full day's operation of "Vittles" in bringing coal to Berlin.

Guilty Of Stealing Purse From Store

Joseph Lynch, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to stealing a ladies' purse from a downtown department store and was remanded one week for sentence when he appeared in court today. Evidence heard by Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, was given by PC C. J. McGillen.

He said he arrested the accused in a beverage room after receiving reports of the loss from the store. On his approach, he said Lynch threw the purse under the table in an attempt to hide it. He later admitted the theft, the officer said. In his own defence, Lynch told the magistrate, "I was pretty drunk at the time and just staggered into the store and grabbed it."

Social Worker Outlines Methods Of Children's Aid

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 19 — (ENS). — The Children Aid Society is a private social agency independent of the government. We get our financial support from service clubs and individuals. This is why we are obliged to put on a financial campaign from Oct. 25 to Nov. 6 consisting of a tag day and house to house canvass. Hówever, because the Children's Aid Society of our united counties is rated grade B we do receive a government grant of $1,500 a year." Mrs. A. Raby of Port Hopé, was guest speaker at the noon luncheon of the Rotary Club, speaking on behalf of the coming campaign.

Mrs. Raby is a social worker with the Children's Aid Society of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham. She was introduced by Rotarian George Nicholls.

"Our shelter is in Port Hope and acts a clearing house for the neglected children of the counties. We do not snatch children from their homes as some people think, but we act on complaints generally sent in by ministers or teachers. Even then we do not take action until the causes of the complaint are thoroughly investigated," she said.

"If the complaint is genuine we take the child from its home but the magistrate in court decides whether the child should be taken back to its parents or detained by the society."

She continued: "We do not believe in keeping children in institutions. We try to put them under the care of reliable foster-parents who will give them a good home. The society keeps in close touch with these children to see that they are not neglected. The foster-mother receives 50 cents a day per child, therefore, it must be love for the child not profit which she desires. A record whose contents are not available event to the police is kept of every child.

"There is a probationary period of two years before a home can obtain adoption papers. Every effort is made to obtain permanent homes for children of unmarried mothers. The day a child is adopted in a goo dhome is the happiest day in the life of a social worker."

Freedom of The Press Vital, Says Woman Speaker

CAMPBELLFORD, Oct. 19—(ENS)— "Today peace sits on the point of a bayonet. The four freedoms enunciated by Roosevelt and Churchill are visionary dreams to a large proportion of the world's population. It is freedom of the press that makes democracy tick.

The fundamental differences between democracy and totalitarianism are that democracy gives one freedom to laugh and freedom to display a sense of humor. Dictators do not enjoy laughter said Mrs. R. J. Meggs of Gore's Landing guest speaker at the supper hour of the Kinsmen Club nor humor."

Mrs Meggs is on the executive of the Ontario Trustees' and Ratepayers' Association. She was introduced by Kinsman Arthur Wartman of Warkworth.

"The place of Canada in world affairs depends upon her citizens not on her material resources. We could reach any country in the world within 60 hours from our nearest airport," she said.

"The advent of the airplane has made out world much smaller. Present day events force us to take new and wider responsibilities in our foreign policy."

She continued: "We are acquainted with the two old parties in the United States. The New Progressive party under Wallace is clamoring for recognition and openly advocating closer relationship with Russia."

"English laws are based on the Ten Commandments. Communistic laws are based on atheism," she concluded.

The Deadly Quandry Of Berlin

There is little use in crying over spilt milk, little wisdom in being wise after the event. There is no use in saying now that the western allies should never have been in Berlin, or, if there, should have been in occupation without benefit of Russian company. There is little use in wishing that the German province of Thuringia had been kept in British and American hands, in exchange for letting the Russians have all of Berlin. The western allies are in Berlin and there they must stay. It is an impossible situation from every angle.

* * *

Geographically the situation is an idiot's fantasy. Berlin is entirely surrounded by Russian-dominated Germany. Politically it is a powder-keg, which one American plane coming down in flames could ignite. Militarily it is an impossible situation. Should war break out, the first act of the British, American and French forces in Berlin would be to get out as fast as possible. If every square foot of the British, French and American zones of Berlin had one British, French or American soldier standing on it fully armed, the western nations would still have to get out of Berlin. The final irony of this Berlin quandry is that short of war it is impossible for the Americans and British to leave Berlin. They therefore have to do the impossible and stay there. It is a Mephistophelean farce.

* * *

The British Foreign Secretary is an ailing man, and one contributory cause of his illness is Berlin. Mr. Bevin knows the horrible comedy of it, yet he knows that giving way now would be another Munich. He has asserted that the Western Powers were in complete harmony both as regards the Berlin negotiations which took place in Moscow and the steps to be taken in the event of their failure. Some of these steps are now evident. The Americans have taken command of the air lift. They are more rigorous — even rigid — in this matter than the unhappy British, for Russian bases are nearer Britain than they are to the United States. The French, even more unhappy about Berlin than the British (because France is nearer Russian troops than Britain is), are taking and have taken no part in the air lift. Mr. John Foster Dulles, the Republican representative on the American delegation to the U.N. Assembly, has said that the American share in the air lift into Berlin is "above party politics". Whatever he means by that it sounds well. Certainly the air lift is and must be an American party.

* * *

Berlin is the pawn in power politics, and the United States of America and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics are the chief players. In this game the United States airs the rules, and—we hope—rules the air.

"It Is Not To Be Thought Of"

In London nine Prime Ministers (or their representatives) of Britain and the Dominions are in conference. They are considering the present nature and future condition of the greatest union of nations on which the sun has ever shone. The conference is profoundly important to all mankind, for the British Commonwealth is the only successful union of nations in the welter of unions conceived, dead or struggling to birth which in its infinite variety has stood the pragmatic test—the test of workability.

We have already stressed editorially the importance of this London conference, and remarked on the new conditions in which the Commonwealth finds itself. As we said last Thursday, Britain has, more than ever before, become a European country. It is the heart of the Commonwealth, yet it must now be a major partner in the West European Union. "The problem of the Dominions in London", says the New York Times in an editorial which we reprint elsewhere on this page, "is to give a lead to a new combination with Britain as a pivot, which will enable the United Kingdom to play its full role in the European system while maintaining its bonds with the Commonwealth".

The Western European Union is vital to the security and preservation of Europe but the preservation of the British Commonwealth in one form or another is vital to the security and progress of the world. It is not to be thought of that a system which works, which has stood the test of years and which is already in existence should be sacrificed to a lesser union which is now only the shadow of substance. Both the Commonwealth and the Western Union are essential, but the Commonwealth must not be lost to the world.

Wordsworth's sonnet written when Napoleon was threatening the existence of Britain has now a wider applicability when Russian and American republicanisms are at explosive points.

It is not to be thought of that the Flood
Of British freedom, which, to the open sea
Of the world's praise, from dark antiquity
Hath flowed...
That this most famous stream in bogs and sands
Should perish and to evil and to good
Be lost for ever...

In London at this moment the course of "this most famous stream" is being re-charted.

Which Way To Peterborough?

The Provincial highways which lead to Peterborough are well-marked for a distance of thirty or forty miles from the city. There are arrows and signs marked "Peterborough". However, once a driver is outside that charmed circumference he has to reach Peterborough by guess, by map or by word of mouth. There is little sign language. For instance, suppose you are a senator, an M.P., a civil servant or merely an adventurer in Ottawa and you wish to drive your car to Peterborough. You know that there is an excellent highway system almost direct from Ottawa to Peterborough. In fact the system is so good that it is actually faster and easier and only a few miles farther to go between Montreal and Peterborough by way of Ottawa rather than on Number 2 highway. You know that too, perhaps. But in Ottawa your question is—"Which way to Peterborough?"

There are place-name signs galore at the hub of wheeled Ottawa (Confederation Square) but not a Peterborough sign among them. Is Peterborough too lowly and remote to be mentioned on a highway sign-board in our capital city? North Bay, Perth, Kingston and other lesser places have their niche but not Peterborough. Yet Peterborough is the largest city between Ottawa and Toronto north of the lake shore. You must read a map in Ottawa to find out how to get on to the road which takes you to Peterborough. There are no Peterborough indicators at Carleton Place, Perth and main highway junctions until you are well along Highway 7 and in the area of Marmora.

This is a poor state of affairs. We recommend that the Chamber of Commerce take the matter up with the Department of Highways, if the Department does not take the hint itself. "Which way to Peterborough?" is a question motorists might ask when leaving Toronto, too. There is no sign suggesting that Peterborough may conveniently be reached by travelling on the new dual highway between Toronto and Oshawa.

Peterborough may be on the highway maps, but it is not on enough highway signs.

Bobbies In New Uniforms

The famous London Metropolitan Police have an altered uniform. The tunic has lapels instead of a high collar, and the leather belt has been discarded. But we observe with pleasure that the characteristic tall helmet has been retained.

There is a great deal to be said for those helmets. They are cool in summer and warm in winter. They protect the head from blows. They give the wearer added height. But most of all they mark him as a policeman and as nothing else. Police forces which have adopted caps have lost something which the London bobbies have the sense to keep. A helmet cannot be worn jauntily, or untidily, and its wearer is never in danger of being mistaken for a bus driver.

Police helmets are rarely seen in Canada, but in winter our police have very handsome caps of fur. No doubt the time will come when some reformer will want to discard them. When that day comes we hope that the police will have the strength to say No. Half a policeman's dignity lies in his hat.

We read that a man in Hollywood has married a lady described as "a previous wife". Obviously this fellow is of the domestic, as opposed to the roving type.

Round British Galleries

By MICHAEL MIDDLETON

THE most important exhibition this month has taken place, not in London, but in Wales. For the week of the Eisteddfod—the national bardic congress of Wales, which took place at Bridgend this year—the Arts Council arranged a big showing of paintings and drawings by Augustus John, which will later go on to Aberystwyth and other towns in Britain. John has been a prominent and successful figure for fifty years; he is certainly the most important Welsh painter since Richard Wilson.

John was both fortunate and unfortunate in the period of his training. On the one hand he came under the influence at the Slade School of Legros, Tonks and Brown, who were then substituting for the laborious smudging and stippling of the nineteenth century, the use of line as a means of direct expression. Thus it was that he began that long series of drawings in chalk or pencil of single figures, draped or in the nude, for which his second wife, Dorelia, was a favourite model—drawings in which he expresses his own vivid and vital personality with a maximum freshness and immediacy, and a minimum of self-conscious control. On the other hand, his natural exuberance led him to cultivate the breadth and scope of the old masters at a time when society was beginning to have less and less place for work on the grand scale. The virtuosity and assurance of his early work inevitably led to innumerable portrait commissions, and alone in one or two full-length portraits has he been able to indulge in the real grand manner.

◆ ◆ ◆

THAT none of his crowded cartoons for big-scale decoration has ever come to completion is to be regretted. It must, however, be admitted that it is in just this work, where his imagination has taken precedence over his observation, that John's eclecticism is seen most clearly and to least advantage. Reminiscences of Rubens, El Greco and Rembrandt abound, and many of these big figure compositions seem to be curious collections of unrelated and partly digested fragments. The force of the artist's personality alone, and his intuitive improvisations, serve to unify them. The formal structure is often obvious or arbitrary. John has seldom been able to press matters home to a satisfactory conclusion in this respect. Studies abound, but never the final statement—a failing all too common in Britain during the past century. One may regret, in fact, that during his early maturity, he had so little competition against which to measure himself and fully extend his great natural gifts. As one critic has put it: It has been John's tragedy that his student success has prolonged itself all his life.

◆ ◆ ◆

YET, when all's said and done, a prodigious amount of work remains, and out of it posterity will surely rescue enough to make its author's name secure in the history books. Some of the flower pieces, some of the small line and wash compositions; the portraits of the distinguished and the dispossessed, alike recorded with a dispassionate yet sensuous and sometimes wistful bravura—these will surely remain. When moved by a sitter, John's whole personality comes into play, catching subtleties of tone and colour with intensity and precision. And then of course there are the drawings (about half the 125 pictures in the current exhibition are drawings)—faultless and complete in themselves.

THE Lefevre Gallery have been showing a large exhibition of work by Harold Gilman, who was born two years before John, and who died in 1919 at the early age of 43. Gilman was one of those artists — Spencer Gore, Charles Ginner and Robert Bevan were amongst them — who formed the Camden Town Group, and, later, the still active London Group, of which Gilman was the first president. The group represented the closest link with contemporary French trends, and though it found its personal focus in the person of Sickert, the other members mostly ventured much further in the direction of the Post-Impressionists than did Sickert himself. Indeed, in his adherence to the brilliant colour-scale of Cezanne, Gaugin and Van Gogh, Gilman was almost 'plus royaliste que le roi'. Yet, though the Latin-Mediterranean manner can scarcely be said to sit very happily on more romantic British shoulders, behind Gilman's rather forced modulations from warm to cold colour, from strawberry pinks to apple greens, one can perhaps trace a certain British reserve.

A CONTEMPORARY in spirit—Vuillard—has had a good showing recently in London. Wildenstein's large memorial exhibition has lately been succeeded by a smaller but carefully chosen selection at the Hanover Gallery. This included several interesting early works to salt the main dish of more characteristic painting. Outside the mixed summer exhibitions—joined this month by a display of "Fame and Promise" at the Leicester Galleries which is more orthodox than usual—the abstract has been represented by a single one-man show, that of William Gear at Gimpel Fils. Gear is in his early thirties, and has not previously exhibited in London, although he has recently held an exhibition in Paris. His work is very Parisian in manner, deriving mainly from the "leaded" compositions of Picasso's "stained-glass window" still-lifes of 1931 and after.

JUST SLANG

"What does this expression 'Sez you' mean?" asked the judge.

The clerk of the court replied: "My lord, it appears that this is a slang expression of American origin which has gained regrettable currency in the language of our people through the insidious agency of the cinema, and is, I am led to understand, employed to indicate a state of dubiety in the mind of the speaker as to the veracity or credibility of a statement made to him."

"Oh, yeah!" said the judge

Problem For The Dominions

(NEW YORK TIMES)

A GRAVE responsibility rests on the shoulders of the Premiers of the British Dominions, now in session in London. The meeting is a turning point in the history of the Commonwealth, for not only have the member states become more independent in the eventful years since the last conference, in 1937, but as a result of the war they have developed a different relationship to one another and to the rest of the world. This is especially true of the mother country. The tone of the address of Sir Stafford Cripps, pleading that Britain is not "old and tired" but making steady progress toward recovery, is significant of the change in Great Britain's position. This is emphasized by the fact that the Chancellor hurried home from Washington to attend the meeting and that the main topic of discussion is the effect on Empire trade of British commitments to the European Recovery Program.

For the first time the British Islands have entered into a close economic partnership with the nations of Europe. This co-operation is a necessary condition of American aid, British recovery. Thus the British have no choice in this crisis of their fortunes but to throw in their lot with the sixteen countries of the ERP. Some of these countries are in favour of a closer integration of policy as a means of which none of the component states can wield separately. But this is a long-term and American aid is a necessary condition of design, fraught with such difficulties that neither the hopes of its European promoters nor the encouragement of American advocates like Governor Dewey, Senator Vandenberg and Paul Hoffman can fit the larger project into the framework of the Marshall Plan.

Economic integration is essential to reconstruction, however. The French are prevented by their inner confusion from taking the lead in this enterprise, and the British are held back from throwing all their weight into it by the ties to the Commonwealth and the Empire. This is a union in being, and one of the bulwarks of international order which no inhabitant of the Western World would desire to weaken.

The problem of the Dominions in London is therefore to give a lead to a new combination, with Britain as a pivot, which will enable the United Kingdom to play its full role in the European system while maintaining its bonds with the Commonwealth. Since nothing less than the survival of Britain depends on the strength and security of Western Europe, the Dominions are obligated to sacrifice their lesser interests to the vital necessity of the mother country. Certainly they are no less concerned than the United States in the success of the Marshall Plan, and it is obvious that it cannot succeed without the unreserved co-operation of Britain. The Commonwealth Conference, if it is realistic, will act to remove rather than increase obstacles to this co-operation.

Strong Strides

A recent description of Mr. Anthony Eden making a departure from the House of Commons with "strong, purposeful strides" brings a reminder of a reference Charles Lamb once made about Southey. Lamb touched on the psychology of strides when he remarked to a friend: "I saw friend Southey from a short distance....he was striding along full of some purpose. It is my belief that a man's character is clearly revealed by his length of stride; a forthright and intelligent man usually knows where he is going and why." Dr. Johnson once chided Goldsmith with "habitually slouching along to no purpose." Oliver replied: "I am plagued with slow thinking... If I walk quickly I am usually put out of stride with my train of thought. Would you have me adopt the senseless stride of a soldier "—Manchester Guardian.

A Bible Message

Then the same day at evening, being the first day of the week, when the doors were shut where the disciples were assembled for fear of the Jews, came Jesus and stood in the midst, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you....

But Thomas, one of the twelve, called Didymus, was not with them when Jesus came. The other disciples therefore said unto him, We have seen the Lord. But he said unto them, Except I shall see in his hand the print of the nails, and put my finger into the print of the nails, and thrust my hand into his side, I will not believe.

And after eight days again his disciples were within, and Thomas with them: then came Jesus, the doors being shut, and stood in the midst, and said, Peace be unto you. Then saith he to Thomas, Reach hither thy finger, and behold my hands; and reach hither thy hand, and thrust it into my side: and be not faithless, but believing. And Thomas answered and said unto him, My Lord and my God. (John 20: 19, 24-28.)

Letters to the Editor

BOARD OF HEALTH EXCEEDS AUTHORITY

Sir: I hope all your readers noticed the report of the meeting of the Finance Committee, printed on page nineteen of Saturday's Examiner.

There they would have seen proof that I was perfectly correct in my statement published in "Letter to the Editor" column of October 4th, 1948, that members of the local Board of Health exceeded their authority when they decided to enter into an agreement with Dr. Worton, whereby Dr. Worton would receive eight months leave of absence, to attend University of Toronto, and would receive the sum of $2,000 wages for that period.

And, by the same token, the members of the board were absolutely wrong, when they declared they "were a corporation and had the power to enter into this agreement".

Thus is revealed a combination found only too often in some of our spending bodies:

1—Extravagant expenditure of public funds. That is, spending taxpayers money, and giving leave of absence in a lavish manner entirely unknown in their private business.

2—Lamentable ignorance regarding limitation of authority.

In view of this fiasco it might be advisable for some members of the Board of Health to accompany Dr. Worton to the University of Toronto to complete their education, and if a lowly taxpayer may be permitted to mention a suitable course of study for these members, I most respectfully and humbly suggest The Municipal Acts of Ontario.

With many thanks to you, sir, for your kindness, I am,

Yours truly,
W. TINKER.

Steel Import Reduction Blow

By The Canadian Press

Canadian industrialists predicted Monday night that the 18-per-cent reduction in steel imports from the United States would prove a set-back to this country's manufacturing.

A typical reaction to Monday's Ottawa announcement came from Edmonton. Oil company officials there said that an already tight supply situation in oil casing and tubing would be aggravated further.

In Vancouver, the steel cut was termed "a sledge-hammer blow" to British Columbia industry. Manufacturers said stamped steel plumbing fixtures manufactured in Vancouver, now is in short supply for home building, would become still more scarce.

Spokesmen for steel companies in the big industrial city of Hamilton said they felt certain the reduction would have serious effects on production by their factories. They rely on imported steel as material for much of their processing.

Jolliffe Urges Provincial Rent Controls

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — E. B. Jolliffe, Ontario CCF Leader, monday night called for an immediate session of the Ontario Legislature to pass a Provincial Rent Control Act which would go into effect immediately Federal rent controls were lifted.

He proposed that such a Provincial Act also apply to commercial rentals, now unprotected.

"We have very good reason to believe that the Dominion Government will not renew rent controls when they expire next March," he said. "If they do, the Provincial Government will need legislation on the statute books and administrative machinery set up to avoid complete chaos in housing in this province."

"We have already seen what happened when rent controls on commercial premises, were taken off some months ago and rents for stores and offices jumped at once, in some cases by as much as 300 or 400 per cent. Many small business men and women were forced to move and some were put out of business altogether.

"Exactly the same thing will happen, and worse, if we permit rent controls to be abandoned on private homes. . . ."

Mr. Jolliffe said a fall session of the Legislature should also consider the housing problem and the power shortage.

"We call upon the Provincial Government — and the Dominion Government, too — to stop fooling themselves with roundabout schemes and get to work on a low-rental government housing program that will provide at least 20,00 new homes in this province for those who need them and at prices they can afford."

U.S. Candidates Begin Final Drive

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19—(AP). —With the United States presidential election just two weeks off, the candidates are preparing their final drives for big-city votes.

President Truman today is scheduled to make two speeches in North Carolina.

Governor Thomas Dewey of New York, the Republican candidate, is resting in Albany, NY, following his latest campaign tour of the Midwest states.

Henry Wallace, head of the Progress Party, pushed his drive in Pennsylvania. He spent most of Monday in Pittsburgh seeking support of rank-and-file union members by attacking Labor leaders, who he said, had joined with the "enemy"—corporations.

Truman will speak today at Raleigh, NC, at a dedication ceremony and later will open the State Fair.

Following his brief southern visit he is due to start his campaign wind-up Saturday with a flight to Pittsburgh. Next week his schedule takes him to Chicago, Cleveland, Boston, New York and St. Louis.

PRAGUE, Oct. 19.—(AP). — Plainclothes police closed off the British information service reading rooms today, arrested a Czech employee, held a British embassy secretary at the interior ministry's police headquarters. The British ambassador protested to Foreign Minister Vlado Clemtis, who refused to see him. Clementis, however, ordered the release of the secretary, Richard Wallis.

Capture Two Women Convicts

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — Camille Dinwoodie and Audrey Greenfield, who escaped Monday from Mercer reformatory for women were captured a few hours later in Hamilton.

Reformatory officials said the women were carrying garbage to the rear of the institution shortly after noon when they bolted from a matron and scaled a fence. A motorist later told police he had given a lift to two women who resembled the escaped women. He took them to the eastern city limits and they told him they were going to Hamilton.

Mercer reformatory was the scene of a riot this summer in which women wielding chair legs and crockery injured several policemen.

Heavy Sentences In Drug Case

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19 (CP). — Mr. Justice H. S. Wood served notice in assize court Monday that Vancouver may become a less attractive market for Ontario narcotic racketeers.

The warning accompanied sentence of four men to seven years each in penitentiary on narcotic counts and a woman to five years.

The judge named Toronto "or near by" as the distributing centre in the case of the five accused, and charged they were part of a "deliberately-planned scheme for distribution."

"We on the coast do not intend to encourage it," he said. "Perhaps Toronto papers will copy."

Sentenced to seven years were Ronald Douglas Dean, 25, of Toronto and William Kushnik, 33, of Vancouver on charges involving narcotics worth $100,000 on the illicit market. Charges followed a tip to RCMP by a city housewife and a police officer.

Dinny Annunziello and Steve Peters also drew seven years on possession charges. Mrs. Mary Annunziello was tentenced to five years as a conspirator.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

What is known in Brooklyn as a "rhubarb" seems to have developed over that Levack Trophy lacrosse series betwixt Windsor and the Petes. Only one game was played, the Petes winning Friday 16-10. The Windsor squad stayed over but Saturday's struggle was rained out. So the two clubs got together, along with the referees, and Windsor officials agreed that Peterborough had the better club. They felt they'd take a financial beating if they remained over till Monday—especially as the probs said snowflurries. So they packed up and went home, saying they wouldn't play any further games. Is that a default or isn't it? True there was a bit of doubt about Hydro allowing lights for further games, but that wasn't definite.

* * * * * *

Well, word came through late yesterday that Windsor denied defaulting the series, but left because Hydro planned to cut off the power this week at Miller Bowl. Gene Dopp, OLA secretary—who has been balled up on the playdowns all through (even letting Scarboro back in)—sends word that he understands it was not a default. Nuts. Local officials are quite indignant and think the Windsorites pulled a fast one, having a change of heart after leaving here. They knew the Petes could take them, and said so after the first fray, but they don't like going home to Windsor and letting the folks know they are licked. Great stuff, eh?

* * * * * *

And Jack Is The Ace

Speaking on a happier note, Jack Foote is the scoring champ of the Petes' lacrossers this season. The classy and popular forward—who also coached the minors here this year—led the club easily. Had 123 points for 24 schedule and 10 playoff games, 91 of them being goals. A swell total. Lou Vitarelli also was right up there again to finish second with a total of 90 points. Dootch Vitarelli had 88, leading Lou during the schedule but trailing him slightly in playoffs. Arn Dugan, Mick Magee and Terry Gordon were others well up in there. And it speaks well for Mick to have 22 shots he is better known as a defenceman than an attacker. The veteran captain of the club had a fine season all the way through.

* * * * * *

Some of the players went better than others, naturally enough. And some who shone last year weren't quite so hot the past semester. As others came on better this year. Besides the newcomers on the roster. Scoring isn't everything, either, as back-checking by forwards is highly important and, then, the defencemen and goalies aren't expected to be the snipers on a team. No, the squad as a whole went good all season and earned their laurels. All that remains now is to add up the fans' votes as to the three most valuable players on the club for the entire season.

Most Valuable Player

A letter from Jack Devine of Belleville, secretary-treasurer of the Central Ontario Baseball League. "Dear Sir—As you probably know, the Bata Shoe Co. of Canada has generously donated a trophy to the Central League to be awarded to the player in the league voted most valuable to his team. The winner is to be chosen by a poll of sports writers, sportscasters and team managers around the league. It is pointed out that the persons voting may not vote for players from their home club. This was decided at a league executive meeting in Belleville May 9. We would appreciate it if you would advise us as to whom you think should receive this award." Hm, can't nominate any of the Petes, eh? This will take some thought.

Junior sections of the Public School Soccer League have wound up their schedules and are into playoffs. In a sudden-death semi-final for the south section yesterday at Confederation, King Edward defeated Prince of Wales 2-0 on markers by D. Sutherland and A. McArthur. Final with Confederation is listed for this aft. Haven't heard the other section setup yet. Senior schedule continues tomorrow with these games: Central vs. Prince of Wales at the Oval, Queen Mary at King Edward, and Confederation at King George. Another week to go yet ere they hit into playoffs. Other soccer is on the wane now, too, as the season advances.

All Is Not Harmony

An example of how friction can riddle the ranks of an outstanding athletic squad is seen in the Argos' grid machine cracking up lately. Following their bad loss to Ottawa on Saturday, word comes out that little harmony exists among the players. The linesmen—they include Les Ascott, a swell player who learned his football in Peterborough at PCVS and in intermediate and senior ORFU company—accuse the backfield of messing up plays after holes have been opened in opposing lines. The Argo back division retaliates by saying the front line isn't fighting, and is letting the backfielders down. Fine stuff in a Dominion championship club. Coach Morris has laid down the law to the whole team and intimates heads will roll if they don't all smarten up.

Lawn Bowlers Vote On The New Board

By HERB MARTIN

With about 40 shareholders present the Peterborough Lawn Bowling Club Ltd., held its annual meeting in the club house on Monday evening. President W. Jeffries occupied the chair.

In his address the president gave a report of the season's activities. He thanked the chairmen of the different committees for their co-operation. He pointed out the importance of being on time and complimented the members for carrying out that idea all summer. He referred to the passing of H. B. Rosevear, Port Hope, a life member, and also to the passing of H. Ralph. Their loss would be greatly felt.

Asks Support

He asked all to give to the new board the same support that they had to last year's board.

The secretary-treasurer, F. Dearborn, read the financial report and this was well received.

While the ballots were being counted, the prizes to the season's winners were presented.

The meeting was thrown open for discussion and many ideas were passed on for the consideration of next year's committees.

Ray Brown and P. Moore were appointed a nominating committee and Geo. Soulby and Fred Reed auditors.

Of last year's board, W. Jeffries, R. Gamble, H. Beatty and R. Shields were re-eleected. Judge S. Smoke, R. Knox and H. Freeman retired.

J. Fitzpatrick was elected after a year's absence and A. Black and K. Shadgett were the two new members of the board.

When it was announced that the new board would meet in a few days to choose a president and other officers, the meeting adjourned.

Lach Shares Top Spot With McNab

MONTREAL, Oct. 19 (CP). — Elmer Lach, Montreal Canadiens' master playmaker, is off to a fast start in defence of his National Hockey League scoring crown.

Official statistics released today show the Saskatchewan-born centre-ice wizard with two goals and two assists in his first two games.

But Lach has to share top spot after the first week of play with a newcomer to NHL scoring summaries—Max McNab of Detroit. The rookie Red Wing centre also has clicked for two goals and a pair of assists in two games.

Tied for third place are veteran Joe Carveth of Montreal, who had a mediocre season last year, and Gordie Howe of Detroit. Each has three points. Eleven players are tied with two points.

Billy Reay, pint-sized Montreal centre, has taken an early lead for badman honors. Reay has spent 14 minutes in the cooler so far, including a 10-minute misconduct sentence.

Goalie Harry Lumley of Detroit has earned the only shutout so far. Most penalized team in the league to date is Montreal with a total of 39 minutes.

20 Baseball Attendance Records Broken

By JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 19 (AP). — No fewer than 20 assorted attendance records were broken as more persons watched major-league baseball during the 1948 season than ever before, according to unofficial figures compiled by The Associated Press.

Spurred by the American League's top paid attendance of 11,150,099 fans, reported by President Will Harridge, the majors coaxed 20,972,601 through the turnstiles. It marked the first time in history that the two leagues passed the 20,000,000 figure.

The National League slumped five per cent off the pace of 1947, attracting 9,822,502 compared to more than 10,000,000 the previous season.

The world champion Cleveland Indians, who survived an epic playoff for the pennant and went on to whip Boston Braves in the World Series, led the record-breakers.

Staggering Total

The Tribe drew a staggering total of 2,620,627 into mammoth Municipal Stadium for a single club's season record. That bettered the former mark of 2,265,512 set by the 1946 New York Yankees.

The Yankees also bettered their former high by playing before 2, 373,901 paid fans. Five other clubs—Detroit, Boston Red Sox and Philadelphia Athletics in the American League, and Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Braves in the National—established new marks.

Detroit lured 1,743,035 compared with 1,722,590, its record in 1946. The Red Sox, who bowed to Cleveland in the unprecedented playoff for the title, had 1,558,798 against the previous club mark of 1,427,315 in 1947.

Billy Meyer's Pirates, another surprise flag contender, packed 1,517,490 into Forbes Field, cracking by 233,959 the park's record set last year. Pittsburgh's total also topped all other clubs in the National League.

Jack Foote Leads Scorers With Total of 123 Points

Jack Foote, starry forward, led all the Petes' lacrossers in scoring this season with a grand total of 123 points in 24 schedule and 10 playoff games. During the schedule he had 56 goals and 21 assists for 77 points. In the 10 playoff tilts he tallied 35 goals and aided on 11 more for 46 points. Lou Vitarelli was next highest with 90 points for the whole season, two ahead of his brother, Dootch, and six ahead of Arn Dugan. Following are the totals:

Ivan Lines Up Powerful Team To Face Leafs In All-Star Game

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—(CP).—Detroit's Tommy Ivan, coach of the 1948 National Hockey League all-stars, has gathered a powerful-packed 18-man squad to oppose the Stanley Cup champions Toronto Maple Leaf in the second annual N.H.L. all-star game at Chicago on Nov. 3.

Besires the first and second all-star teams as selected by the six N.H.L. coaches at the close of the season, Ivan has added such puck-chasing luminaries as Milt Schmidt and Woody Dumart, Boston Bruins, Bill Durnan and Butch Bouchard, Montreal Canadiens, Edgar Laprade and Tony Leswick, New York Rangers, Doug Bentley, Chicago Black Hawks and Gordie Howe from his own Detroit Red Wings.

Two members of the official all-stars as picked last spring will not be playing for the all-stars. They are goalie Turk Broda and centre Buddy O'Connor. Broda, who was named to the goalkeeper's post on the first all-star team is a member of Toronto Maple Leafs and will lineup with the Stanley Cup holders. O'Connor, who was picked for centre on the second all-star team will not be able to play due to injuries received in a recent auto crash.

Calls On Durnan

As a substitute for Broda, Ivan will call on Durnan, who was rated third among the loop's goalies last year. Durnan will share the goal-keeping assignment with Frank Brimsek of Boston, who was selected to the second all-star team last spring. Milt Schmidt, Boston's terrific centre, will fill in for O'Connor.

To refresh your memories, the first and second official National Hockey League all-star teams were as follows: First team—Goal, Turk Broda, Toronto; defence, Bill Quackenbush and Jack Stewart, Detroit; centre, Elmer Lach, Montreal; right wing, Maurice Richard, Montreal and left wing, Ted Lindsay, Detroit. Second team—Goal, Frank Brimsek, Boston; defence, Kenny Reardon, Canadiens and Neil Colville, Rangers; centre, Buddy O'Connor, New York; right wing, Bud Poile, Chicago and left wing, Gay Stewart, Chicago.

Suggest Ambulance Kept At Race Track

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — A coroner's jury Monday night recommended that city and suburban race tracks keep a fully-manned ambulance on hand during races to "ensure the safety of other jockeys."

The jury was investigating the death of Willard Abrams, steeplechase jockey, who was fatally injured at Woodbine Park October 2 when his mount, Rice Cake, fell on him. A verdict of accidental death was returned.

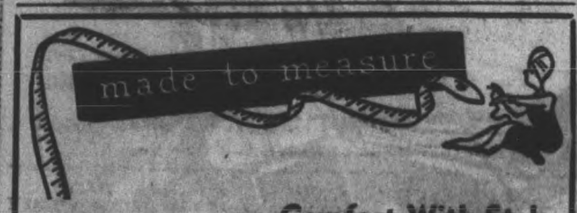
Masked Marvel To Tangle With Wild Bill Longson

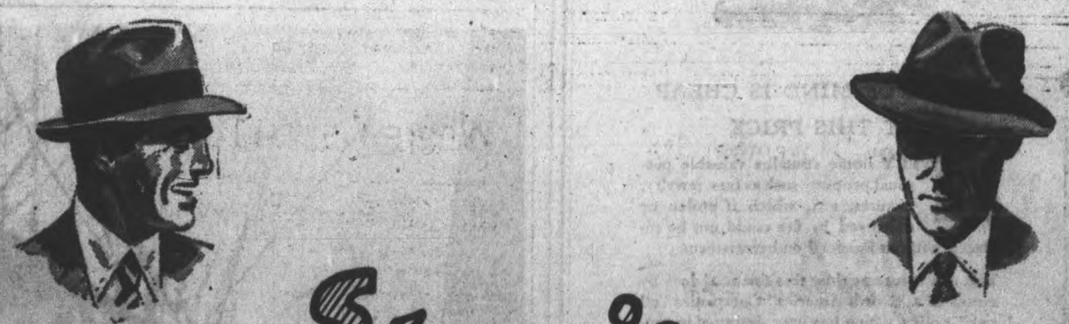
Wild Bill Longson may get a real surprise when he wrestles the Masked Marvel here in the Brock Arena ring tomorrow night. Longson thinks he can polish off the big mystery man in short order. "I've had bouts with masked men all over North Ameries," said the former world champion "and now that I've seen this so-called Marvel in action I'm sure I can upset him definitely." A lot of local mat fans think otherwise. They know the Marvel is fast, tricky and ruthless and Wild Bill will have his work cut out to stop the Mask's string of victories. The two big athletes are both inclined to rough work and their clash should be the most interesting this year. The Mask has yet to turn in a poor bout at the Brock and Longson has plenty at stake in his comeback to regain the world's heavyweight crown.

Pat Flanagan

Ben Morgan

Big Ben Morgan wrestles in the semi-final spot against popular Pat Flanagan. Patrick is going like a champion these days and may make even the huge Morgan back up. Morgan is about the fastest of the big men to appear here. In the opening bout Ben Sharpe (the ladies' choice) meets a good man in George Becker.





Argos Decide To Do Better After Morris Ultimatum

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP). — Plagued by injuries and split by dissension, Toronto Argonauts talked things over at a special players meeting Monday night—and decided they could do better.

They worked out briefly after holding a post-mortem on the humiliating 41-6 beating they took from Ottawa Rough Riders Saturday.

They hoped the frank talk at the meeting would clear the air and coach Teddy Morris promised tougher workouts before Saturday's all-important Big Four game with Montreal Alouettes.

Morris said after the meeting that Joe Krol's injured left knee should be well enough to permit Mr. Football to play Saturday. A floating cartilage, which Krol has had for several yearas, was shifted by an injury three weeks ago but had been taped into position.

Both Morris and team members sounded off on what was wrong with the team—winners of three consecutive Dominion championships—when it hit an all-time low Saturday.

Despite a fiery outburst after the game, Morris was soft-spoken as he went down the line in his criticism. After the game he had barked: "I'd rather go out there with 12 kids who are trying and get beat than with 20 prima donnas who aren't trying."

Scornful of Plight

Toronto sportswriters were both stunned and scornful at the plight of the once-mighty Argos, crippled for a good part of the season by injuries to Krol and Royal Copeland, key men in their attack.

Sources close to the team said there was some dissension between the players themselves and between some of the executive and players.

When Morris called Monday night's session, he threw out a "be there or else" ultimatum. Several players missed, but Morris said nobody would be fired.

A minor line-backfield split developed, with the line accusing the backs of messing up signals and the backs replying they weren't getting the blocking.

"We have to learn to play as a unit and if we play like a unit we can win," Morris replied.

Before the meeting, team manager Earl Selkirk said Morris might ask some of the players to "retire" if they didn't show more in workouts.

"He feels some of them have been resting on their laurels. ... from be different from here in and if things don't improve names will be named and some of them asked to retire."

CLIMAXING AN 80-YARD DOWN-FIELD MARCH by the McGill Redmen is Dave Hackett, who is seen diving for the goalline near the "coffin corner" where he went over for a touchdown in Montreal recently. Fleet Dave took a short pass from "Rocky" Robillard and scampered another 36 yards to glory. The Western Mustang trying to cut him off is big Don McFarlane, while strewn in the dirt behind is Fabe Curry. Western won the game, 24-19.

ASSIGNED CENTE POSITION

Utility player Joe Klukay Monday was assigned to the centre spot for Toronto Maple Leafs between Harry Watson and Bill Ezinicki. It is his first chance at a regular line spot with the Leafs. Klukay takes over from the injured Cal Gardner.

Indians Edge Marlies 3-1 In Rough Tilt

By The Canadian Press

Stratford Indians moved into a second-place tie with Kitchener-Waterloo Monday night by defeating Toronto Marlboros 3-1 in a penalty-riddled Ontario Hockey Association senior game at Stratford. The Indians garnered their first win in three starts.

Marlboros, playing their first game this season, took the lead early in the first period on a goal by lean Johnny McCormick.

Stratford, who took eight of the 18 penalties handed out, clicked twice in the second period, Darky Daniels and Russ Eady taking the honors.

Indians withstood a 10-minute attack early in the third period and added another goal when Billy Flick beat netminder Howie Harvey.

Marlies share a cellar position with Owen Sound Mercury's, who have dropped both their games. Leading in the division are the league champion Hamilton Tigers with two consecutive wins.

In the only game slated in the five-team circuit tonight Owen Sound Mercurys play host to Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen.

In the junior division, of which St. Catharines Teepees occupy the top berth, Toronto Marlboros tangle tonight with Galt Rockets and the 1947 champion Barrie Flyers meet St. Catharines.

On Wednesday's card, the second - place Oshawa Generals play Stratford Kroehlers while Guelph Biltmores meet Windsor Spitfires.

Wonder If Problem Of Eire Solved In Weekend Meeting

By MICHAEL O'MARA

LONDON, Oct. 19 — (CP) — Observers today wondered whether the unheralded week-end meeting of United Kingdom, Dominions and Eire spokesmen had solved the commonwealth's No. 1 constitutional problem:

Can a sovereign republic not bound to the British Crown continue as a member of the British commonwealth?

Sunday Prime Minister Attlee and the representatives of Canada, Australia, New Zealand and Eire held an informal talk at Chequers, Attlee's country home. A statement said that "there was a general exchange of views on matters of common interest arising out of the declared intention of the Eire government to repeal the External Relations Act."

This Act is one of the last ties linking Eire to Britain. Passed in 1936, the law specifies that Eire's diplomats abroad and foreign representatives in Dublin are accredited through the King, just as British diplomats are.

Eire's intention to repeal the External Relations Act was announced by Prime Minister John Costello of Eire at a press conference in Ottawa Sept 7 during his Canadian visit and the decision has been confirmed since his return to Eire.

Snap Last Link

Repeal of the Act would snap the last constitutional link between Eire and other commonwealth countries.

Thus technically—unless some formula can be found to adjust the normal practices between "foreign" countries — Eire citizens in Britain and the Dominions would become aliens and Eire would appear certain to lose many trade advantages she now automatically enjoys as a member of the British commonwealth.

The problem reaches further than Eire's status in international relations. It also closely concerns India and its solution might set a precedent for other countries now within the commonwealth.

Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru of India is reported to have canvassed Prime Minister Mackenzie King of Canada, Attlee, and Herbert V. Evatt, Australia's minister of external affairs, for opinions as to the constitutional consequences should India adopt a draft constitution which would also sever her crown ties. The whole subject is one of the most ticklish facing the current dominions meeting here.

During Sunday talk at Chequers some of the commonwealth's keenest legalistic brains wrestled with the question when Lord Jowitt, the Lord Chancellor, Louis St. Laurent, Canada's acting justice minister, and Evatt put their heads together.

Also on hand were Prime Minister Peter Fraser of New Zealand, Philip Noel-Baker, Britain's commonwealth relations minister, and two members of Eire's cabinet, Sean MacBride, minister of external affairs, and Patrick McGilligan, finance minister. Attlee presided.

AGAINST A BACKGROUND of low-hanging clouds, two gliders are being prepared for flight at Oshawa Airport. A member of the Toronto Gliding Club adjusts his safety harness. Tow plane further down the runway gets ready for the take-off.

Ex-Inspector H. Thompson Dies

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 19 (CP)—Harry Thompson, 54, retired inspector of the Ontario Provincial Police and a veteran of the First World war, died in hospital Sunday night. He served with the Provincial Police since 1925 and came to Belleville from Hamilton, where he was a sergeant.

A member of the Masonic order and an ardent bowler, he is survived by his widow and three daughters.

Aerial Hitch-Hikers End Up In Genoa Jail

ROME, Oct. 19 (AP).—Genoa dispatches today reported the end—in jail—of the odyssey of two Italian aerial hitch-hikers extraordinary.

Six months ago, report to Rome papers said, Bruno and Franco d'Amico, brothers 24 and 19 years old, fitted themselves into trucks and were loaded on an Argentina-bound plane leaving Rome. The plane landed at Dakar and, thinking they had reached Buenos Aires, the brothers emerged.

They were clapped into prison for several days.

Released, they hid on another plane which landed them at Natal. Italian residents in Brazil intervened in their behalf and they wound up triumphantly in Rio de Janeiro.

After some months, however, they decided to come home. This time they paid their passage on the ship San Giorgio. On its arrival at Genoa police nabbed them for "clandestine emigration."

Compressor Station Blast Kills One Man

DETROIT, Oct. 19—(AP)—An explosion in a compressor station of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Company at suburban Melvindale early today cost one life and injured four other employees.

A company spokesman estimated damage at between $250,000 and $500,000.

Lawrence K. Richey, vice-president and manager of operations for the company, identified the dead man as W. A. Blascak, 26.

Officials at first feared a large storage tank might also explode but that fear was removed as firemen brought the resulting blaze under control.

Windows in a two-mile area surrounding the scene were shattered and the business section of Melvindale was reported to be a shambles of broken glass.

YOU CAN'T PLEASE THEM

Jack Lightbody of Lindsay claims to be the only Hydro manager in Ontario who gets complaints when he switches the power on. Monday an irate citizen protested the power came back on before the regulation 20-minute cut-off was ended. His bacon burned, he protested.

IT DIPPED TO 29

Flower growers who spent many happy hours in their gardens and on their lawns during the past summer looked out Monday morning, at a mass of frost-blackened vegetation. The mercury dipped to 29 over the week-end and this sharp cold wave finished off the late blooming hardy flowers.

FOUR COUNCILLORS OUT

Members of the county council are not only deer hunters but are interested in conservation as well. At a meeting to discuss the Crown Game Preserve Monday night, Warden James Humphries had three of his colleagues with him. Reeve Darling of Dummer, Reeve Flynn of Harvey and Reeve Norman Wilson of Burleigh-Anstruther.

WHAT TO DO

An indignant housewife remarked this morning: "This last-minute decision to have stores stay open or have them closed Wednesday morning doesn't give shoppers much chance, does it? They're pretty nearly compelled to buy their groceries, etc., today as, if they wait till tomorrow morning, everything may be closed up tightly."

FIRST SNOWFLAKES

Shoppers hurrying home shortly before five o'clock Monday afternoon were greeted by some vagrant snowflakes along the main street. There were just enough to identify the tiny feathery harbingers of winter, and enough to make people shiver in their summer clothing. At London there was six incnes of snow, and a small blizzard whipped through Toronto at 11 o'clock Monday morning.

DISMANTLING BRIDGE

Dismantling of the steel bridge over the river at Stoco removes the last vestiges of the old Canadian National Railway line from Tweed to Napanee. The bridge was originally constructed by the old Bay of Quinte Railway Company, which later, disposed of its interests to the Canadian National. Three men are engaged in the two month job, presently building cribwork to facilitate the removal of the girders.

A SECOND CROP OF PEAS

A Benson Ave. resident is picking his second crop of peas on these chilly October days, and he says they were grown the hard way. He picked his first crop early in the summer but left a few pods on the plants when the family had sufficient. Eventually the pods broke open, and dropped the peas to the ground where they eventually took root. Now they have grown, blossomed and produced more peas.

Sportsmen Oppose Opening Of Crown Game Preserve

Forty sportsmen and members of the County Council voted with one exception to oppose any opening or suggestion of a controlled shoot in the Crown Game Preserve. The decision was reached at a meeting held in the Chamber of Commerce and arranged by Jim Fraser, secretary-manager, who brought the various groups and individuals together so that the question could be thoroughly discussed.

The motion opposing any change in existing regulations was introduced by Norman Wilson, Reeve of Burleigh-Anstruther and seconded by Campbell Rowatt of the Peterborough Fish and Game Association. There were no negative votes, but later in the meeting F. C. Marshall, president of the Kawartha Conservation Association, said he did not support the motion.

Dr. Clarke, biologist with the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Department of Lands and Forests, and a specialist on wild animal life, outlined conditions at the Preserve. He was accompanied at the meeting by the chief of the Fish and Wildlife Division, Dr. H. J. Harkness.

He told the meeting had two reports on deer starving in the area. The first was a report based on a survey by a Department investigator who used a jeep to get around the section, and the section report was made by two game overseers from Lindsay. "Both reports told of finding animals dying from starvation and also confirmed reports of pronounced over-grazing of the winter range."

"We have found that deer will starve to death on the home range, refusing to travel three or four miles to areas where food is abundant," Dr. Clarke said. He explained that over-browsing was most noticeable in the cedar swamps where the high skirting on the trees indicate the deer had browsed as high as they could reach.

Norman Bradley—"Why couldn't dogs be used to run some of these deer out of the preserve during the hunting season?"

Dr. Clarke—"I see no reason why this can't be done."

At this point Tom Curvin, Young's Point, and a veteran hunter of the district, said this plan wouldn't work, because the dogs are going into the preserve now, and always go in during the hunt but it doesn't seem to make any difference.

Favors Feeding Them

Charles Kingan told the meeting he still considers supplementary feeding of the deer during late February and early March, a good plan. "There are not too many deer in the Preserve at all, it is just that they concentrate in one area for wintering."

Bob McCabe, president of the Peterborough Fish and Game, said the organization could not place too much credence on the two reports because they did not agree with surveys made by members of the Association. "Our men did not travel by jeep, they slogged on foot criss-crossing the Preserve, and found signs of over grazing but very few starving deer."

Continuing Mr. McCabe explained that the Association planned to keep a close watch on the Preserve during the winter by making regular trips into it, and as soon as there are signs of starvation extra feed will be provided.

Jim Fraser—"Let's work together on this. Why can't the Peterborough Fish and Game make a survey during the winter with the co-operation of the Department of Lands and Forests?"

Dr. Clarke—"That's an excellent plan. The crucial time is in late winter or early spring, and if there is any starvation it will occur at that time.

Dr. W. H. J. Harkness suggested that a recommendation go forward to the Department asking that such a survey be made. The motion asking for the check-up was" made by Warden James Humphries and Bob McCabe.

There was considerable discussion on the deer population and how best it might be controlled.

Tom Curvin said he owned a camp in the centre of the area which he has not seen since the section was taken over for a Preserve. "I was one who opposed this Preserve, now I am for it lock, stock and barrel. There are more deer in the county than ever before, and if you ever let hunters into the Preserve it will be a big mistake."

Campbell Rowatt jolted a few of the members when he said the section where most of the overgrazing took place, and carcasses were noted, was not in the game preserve at all, but south and west of it.

At this point Fred C. Marshall, president of the Kawartha Conservation Association, was asked for an opinion, and he said "If the game preserve is overpopulated, why not have a controlled shoot. I can't see the wisdom of having Dr. Clarke, an expert and a biologist, come up here and ask us for opinions, when he should be telling us what should be done."

At this point, Pete McGillen asked Mr. Marshall if he had not supported the motion opposing any change.

"I did not vote for the motion," Marshall replied.

"Well, you didn't oppose it either because no hands were raised when the nays were called."

Not Permanent Cure

Dr. Clarke answered the suggestion of a controlled shoot by saying that was only a stopgap, that the same condition would recur in about two years, because the deer won't move from the home range, and they multiply rapidly.

That appeared to wind up the discussion, and Jim Fraser, who had acted as chairman throughout the meeting, suggested that the gathering pass back to the Department appreciation and gratitude that the Preserve had been established. This motion was seconded by Fred Marshall who said "Any motion of appreciation should have coupled with it, special reference to T. P. Lancaster, Havelock. I was game overseer when the Preserve was established and if it hadn't been for Mr. Lancaster going ahead then we might never have had the area set aside. There was not a single progressive idea put forth by me during that time, that Mr. Lancaster did not support, and that included the establishing of fish sanctuaries."

Stores To Open Wed. Morning

A decision of the executive of the Peterborough Retailers' Association, Public Utilities Commission and Hydro on Tuesday was that stores were to remain open on Wednesday morning of this week. President E. C. Braund of the retailers said that it will be a test case to show what increase in power, if any, shows in comparison to Wednesday mornings earlier in the fall season. There will be another executive meeting, possibly on Thursday, to decide whether or not to lock store doors on Wednesday mornings before Hydro does it for them.

Many Peterborough merchants feel that the voluntary scheme of closing all day Wednesday in order to conserve power and eliminate the possibility of Hydro pulling the switches, started out in a half-hearted effort. Two weeks ago Wednesday a survey showed that about 60 per cent of the stores were closed and 40 open.

Some merchants point the finger at large chain stores whose local managers, they say, have no say in the matter. This is not true according to manager W. J. Cunningham of the F. W. Woolworth Company who advises that his superiors have left the decision with all local manager to remain open or closed provided the issue is genuine and in line with the majority of business men and for the general welfare of the community.

So, as far as retail power saving in Peterborough is concerned the situation will revert to normal on Wednesday of this week and the future may change one way or the other.

Thos. H. Hooper Veteran Baker Dies At Age 87

Last of Peterborough's elder retail business men, Thomas Henry Hooper, 87, confectioner and baker, died in Civic Hospital Monday.

He had recovered during the summer from a heart attack that was the first illness of a long and active life, but was critically stricken again two weeks ago.

Mr. Hooper was born in Plymouth, England, son of Thomas Hooper and his wife, Elizabeth Warrington. He came to Peterborough as a boy with his parents whose home, for some years, was in North Monaghan. The old house was occuupied in recent times by Mr. Archie Patterson, who excavated a large section of the land as a gravel pit.

Ten years ago Mr. Hooper recalled to the Examiner that he began business for himself at 327 George St. on October 1, 1887. That location, north of Charlotte St., became known as Hooper's lower store when he later expanded his business to a second retail shop at 414 George St. and to a store and bakery at 601 George St.

Hooper's cakes and candies have delighted the young people of Peterborough for three generations, and a feature of the Hopper business was the catering to hundreds of weddings in the city and district. In the sugar shortages of two wars, the Hooper products were maintained in their excellence of quality. The only concession to [illegible] conditions was to suspend production until supplies were again available.

Mr. Hooper was one of the oldest members of the local lodge of the Sons of England, and of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F. He was also a member of Peterborough Lodge No. 155, A.F. & A.M., Corinthian Chapter, Moore Preceptory and Rameses Shrine. Throughout his life he had been one of the prominent members of All Saints' Anglican church.

Music, the theatre and sports were phases of community life which had long shared his interests. He was an ardent baseball fan, down to his later years, and been associated with Ketchecum Lake Hunt Club back to the early days when the trips to the northern part of Peterborough county were an all-day adventure up to the Cochrane country of Cavendish township. Mr. Hooper was for many years a member of Peterborough Curling Club, and he used to say that with good health, business and pleasant past time in which men engaged, he counted himself gratefully fortunate.

Mr. Hooper leaves two sons, T. Percy Hooper and Fred Hooper of Peterborough, his daughters, Mrs. A. R. Deyell (Mabel) and Mrs. Ken Thompson (Geraldine) Toronto; one brother, Walter Hooper of this city; and sisters, Mrs. C. H. Cheverill of Peterborough, and Mrs. T. E. Cunningham, of Orillia.

The funeral will take place Thursday at 2 p.m. from All Saints' Church where the service will be conducted by Rev. W. E. Kibblewhite. In the meantime the body is resting at the home of his son, Mr. T. Hooper, 562 Gilmour St.

Mr. Hooper learned the confectionery business with the late Harry Long in the store now occupied by Mr. Frank Greatrix, druggist, on George St.

"I was with Mr. Long about seven years, and then one day I wanted to go to Fenelon Falls for a week-end." Mr. Hooper told the Examiner in his anniversary reminiscence. "He said I could go on Thursday, but had to be back on Friday. That allowed too little time, and I decided right then I ought to be go into business for myself."

There was a vacant store on George St. opposite the market It had been occupied by McAndrew and Noble, plumbers, and was owned by Toronto Savings and Loan Co. I went in to see George A. Cox, afterwards Senator Cox, about renting it. He asked me a lot of questions and said that if Harry Long had kept me seven years that was recommendation enough.

Mr. Cox took the key off the wall, I can remember it all so well, and went down to the store with me. He was generous in having it fixed up to suit me, and later when he spent a great deal of his time in Toronto, coming home at week-ends, he often called in to see me, and enquire about how the business was going."

Mr. Hooper's youth went back to the years when the streets were dimly lighted by gas lamps. His recollections was: "The lamplighter made his rounds when the dark was coming on. He carried a short ladder and a sort of lantern torch. He would place his ladder against the old iron gas lamp standards, climb up and turn on the gas valve, and thrust in the torch to light it.

About midnight he would start over the same route, and turn off the lamps, leaving the whole town in darkness. Most people in those days thought after midnight was a terrible hour to be out. Stores were lighted with coal oil lamps. Water was carried from neighborhood pumps, and apprentice confectioners, teenagers of that generation, worked long hours for three dollars a week. That was the custom."

A generation ago when he had acquired the scenic island "Idyl Wyld" at Rice Lake, Mr. Hooper was host to some of the Cleveland ball players who came over this part of Ontario for postseason fishing. Among them were the famous Tris Speaker of the Indians, Les Nunamaker and others. Roger Peckinpaugh of the same team had a place near Marmora, and he also joined the Cleveland group at Rice Lake. There were several years when Mr. Hooper was their guest at world series games when Cleveland's great team was in the finals and a title winner.

Mr. Hooper lived a long and industrious life. With all his various activities he never neglected his business. He was a loyal churchman, and All Saints will miss him. Curlers will recall in pleasant memory the big bonspiel events that ran three or four days, with the late W. G. Morrow as general chairman of the bonspiel committees, and Tom Hooper in charge of the snack room on the top floor. Coffee, cheese, bread, crackers and apples was the usual fare for the rinks as they came off the ice.

Those nights are gone with the old membership, Bob Neill, Frank Matthews, Bob Hicks, Pete Lang, Bill Campbell, Alex Mowat, George Stephenson, Jack Fitzgerald, Bill Thompson, Bill Bradburn, Rollie Waddell, Walter Oke, George Giroux, Archie Moore and scores of others.

THOS. J. HOOPER, dean of Peterborough merchants, died at Civic Hospital Monday night at age 87. He had been in business on George St. for more than 60 years, and all of his business colleagues who started storekeeping half a century ago are gone.

Electric power use in Peterborough Monday was 212,000 kwh., as compared with 164,000 a week ago and with the daily quota 240,000 kwh.

Ashburnham Trunk Sewer Across Burnham's Point To Cost At Least $52,000

Enlargement and completion of the city's sewage disposal plant, on the south shore of the river, opposite Park St., is now likely to cost more than the estimates of a year ago. That financial change from bad to worse, as it looms, is intimated in the report on this delayed project which the council received Monday night from Gore & Storie, consulting engineers, Toronto. It was referred to the board of works.

The last delay was virtually recommended by the engineers on the basis of the advance in costs from the time of their first plans about three years ago. They were recently requested by the council to investigate again the disposal plant, its site and capacity, together with a report on a sewer pipe line across the river from Ashburnham. This survey was made some weeks ago by Dr. A. E. Berry, provincial sanitary engineer, Toronto, City Engineer Chalmers, William Storie and J. F. McLaren of Gore and Storie. They have informed the council that they inspected the existing disposal plant and the areas bordering the downstream reaches of the river.

"Study has confirmed that the treatment plant should be continued on the existing site (opposite the foot of Park St.) and that alterations and extensions to the plant should be carried out in accordance with the plans and specifications already prepared.

Unfortunately prices have continued to increase and the situation respecting deliveries of material and equipment is now as bad and in some cases worse than before.

In these circumstances it is more than probable that fenders will run to substantially higher figures than were revealed by the informal tenders previously received.

We had thought some advantage might accrue to the city if we removed from the proposed contract certain items of equipment that could be purchased and installed by the city. We have concluded, however, that such a move will have little effect on the overall cost."

Cost of bringing an Ashburnham sewer line across the river by way of Burnham's Point is estimated at $52,000 by Gore and Storie, consulting engineers, Toronto, in their report to the city council Monday night.

They propose that a 21-inch tile sewer be laid westerly on Maria St. to the lake shore at the foot of Burnham St., thence along the water front to Burnham's Point. There the sewage would be pumped into a 12-inch force main across the river to connect at Perry and Crescent Streets with the main sewer down Lock St.

Perhaps the chief purpose of this project is to "clean up Little Lake," long advocated by councils and citizens in their dissatisfaction with the existing method of disposal of Ashburnham sewage. The old plant on the north side of Maria St. has often been described as nothing more than a septic tank, and not an effective one. It would be discarded by the new plan, and sewage from across the river would be carried to the disposal plant on the Otonabee shore, opposite the foot of Park St.

Consider Alternate Route

The present council had also given some thought to an alternate route around the east end of Little Lake, down Armour Road, and eventually crossing No. 7 Highway and continuing along the south side of the river to the disposal plant.

The Gore and Storie report evidently regards that course as secondary in the community's need and urgency. It was mentioned in council as a possibility to accommodate the growing section of the city, generally in the vicinity of Downer's Corners.

Their suggestion begins the conditional phrase: "At a later date, when developments in areas east of the canal warrant, consideration can be given to a gravity sewer along the east bank of the river northerly (looking at it from the sewage disposal plant) to No 7 Highway, and continuing through a low area (along Boyler's Creek) to Armour Road at a point 2,000 feet south of Maria St., and thence northerly to the intersection of Maria St. and Armour Road."

A new sewer out of Ashburnham going that way would have to be laid across the canal, and would have to provide for pumpage.

At present costs an eastern sewer from Armour Road and Maria Streets, south to the creek, thence southwesterly to No. 7 Highway and extending along the river to the city's outfall sewage plant would involve an expenditure estimated at $110,000.

The Gore & Storie report was not read last night. It was rather lengthy, and Ald. Dodds, chairman of the board of works, suggested that copies be supplied to the members for study prior to the next meeting of the board.

It places before the council the estimated cost of $52,000 for closing up the old septic tank on Maria St. and substituting for that means of disposal a new sewer laid across the river between Burnham's and McDonald's Points at the extreme end of Rink St., on the west side, and thence to the corner of Perry and Crescent Streets.

Big Grizzly Mauls Hunter Pal Puts Gun Down Throat

CRANBROOK, BC, Oct. 19 — (CP).—Lawrence Longacre and Dewey Rivers of Concord, Cal., found their first grizzly bear in the Flathead district, 140 miles east of Trail, BC, and found that the terror surrounding the name is no myth.

With an experienced hunter, Alex Gravelle of Fernie, the pair were tracking a bear they had seriously wounded on the previous day. Today, Longacre is in hospital at Fernie, his arm shattered in an encounter with the big grizzly. His companion escaped injury.

The quarry led the hunters to an open spot in the rugged mountains, then lay in ambush around a corner of the trail.

A fully grown grizzly is about 800 pounds of fighting fury. Its fur is incredibly thick, and bullets seem barely to penetrate the tough hide. Tenacity to life and lightning speed are its striking characteristics:

The wounded animal leaped on Longacre, pinning him down and clawing and biting at his arm. Rivers drew careful bead and hit a vital spot.

The dying bear continued gnawing and mauling its victim as Rivers closed in. When he reached [illegible] the pried his mouth from the injured man's arm and rammed the butt of his rifle down its throat.

He held it there with all his strength for several minutes until the bear ceased its death-struggle.

Trans-Canada Highway Being Discussed

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 — (CP) — Construction of a Trans-Canada highway will be discussed at a Diminion-Provincial conference, Trade Minister Howe said Monday. He did not indicate when the conference will be held.

Addressing an opening session of a three-day Dominion-Provincial tourist conference, Mr Howe said:

"It is not my intention today to say anything specific about the Trans-Canada Highway. I note that it is to be discussed in a general way at your conference. All I can say to you now is that the Federal Government realizes the economic importance of a Trans-Canada Highway.

"We are gathering together such data and information as is essential to present to a conference which will be held in Ottawa between Federal and Provincial authorities, when this whole question of the Trans-Canada Highway will be discussed.

To Discuss Question.

"Until we have discussed the whole question of grades, standards and a dozen and one details with the Provinces who will be partners with the Federal Government in any undertaking to construct an all-weather Trans-Continental Highway, any remarks of mine on those subjects would be out of place."

Mr. Howe said Provincial Government and Transportation Company representatives were invited to the conference to join with the Fedral Government in a co-operative and co-ordinated effort to improve our tourist facilities, both public and private, within this country."

He said the 1948 tourist season gives every indication of being a "record breaker."

"Now I realize you don't establish records in anything without hard work, and serious application to the job in hand. For the part that you have played in making this tourist season a great success, I offer my congratulations. I hope that the part the Federal Government organization has played in that development has met with your warm-hearted approval."

GLOVES IRREVERENT

In the earliest days of the church, it was considered irreverent to appear gloved before a member of the clergy.

EDEN AHBEZ, composer of the song hit "Nature Boy" is shown in Hollywood with his wife, Anna, and their newborn son Tatha Om Ahbez, who doesn't look too worried about the odd handle selected by his father and mother. Tatha, Ahbez explained, is derived from the East Indian and means "one fully enlightened"; and Om is the prefix of omniscent or omnipotent. Ahbez described himself as the happiest man alive, not a particularly sensational statement from a new father, adding that he hoped his new son would choose to follow his parent's way of life. His credo, he explained, is "God is my father, nature my mother, and all things living my brothers and sisters."

Use Protection As Theme For 'U.N. Day'

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 —(CP) — Canadians likely will be served up the advantages of a North Atlantic Security Pact this weekend.

Skeptical about peace, they may find new courage in joining with the Western European countries, the United Kingdom and the United States as a bulwark against any further Russian plans for expansion.

At least that's the hope of the United Nations Association in Canada, the government's civilian lieutenants organizing the Dominion's first United Nations day celebrations next Sunday. The day in which the United Nations organization went into effect three years ago will be observed in most part of the world.

And the possibility is that Defence Minister Claxton, who will take part in U. N. activities, will play a leading role in stressing the advantages of a North Atlantic Security Pact.

The only cabinet minister participating, he is scheduled to deliver his views on Canada's role in international affairs in an address on the air.

Another address will be delivered by Eric Morse, National Secretary of the U. N. Association. Russia's consistent use of the veto has winged the dove of peace, believes Mr. Morse, and articles 51 and 52 of the U. N. charter appear a good way for Canada to get "second best" security.

The building was owned by Benny Glick. Cause of the blaze was unknown and no estimate of damage was available here.

Says Surprised Hollywood Isn't Tougher

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 19 (AP)—Joel McCrea is surprised there is not more sin in Hollywood than there is.

This observation came forth during our discussion of the oft-heard comments about Hollywood: That it is a hotbed of sin and seduction; that it is a haven of just plain folks.

"Hollywood is neither," Joel commented on the "Colorado Territory" set. "The town is settled with two widely separated groups."

He named them thusly:

1—The people who lead moral lives and draw credit to the community.

2—The cain-raisers.

2½—Joel added another class, the people who claim to be 1, but are actually 2.

The question is: Which class is in the majority?

"I think the 1s are," said Joel. "You hear a lot about the 2s, because when they step out of line, it makes all the papers. The lives of the nicer folks are not newsy."

"Actually, it is a wonder there is not more sin in Hollywood than there is. The business is conducive to it. Everybody is trying to get somewhere. The type of work is unique. If you are playing a heel, you might begin to feel like a heel. Heaven knows what you might do.

Joel, who has lived around Hollywood all of his 42 years, said he thought the town has far [illegible] the old days. A big reason: The sound pictures.

"In the silents, a guy could show up on the set swacked and still get by. The director could yell at him from off-stage to tell him what to do. But now you have to know your lines and you have to think out your character."

He told of how he and Gary Cooper were discusing a film star noted for his tippling.

"I don't know how he does it," said Coop. "I have to go in training for a picture. It is too hard work."

May Devise Plan To Ease Tax Burden In Ont.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP). — Ontario property owners soon may be relieved of some of the tax burden arising from expanding social services which municipalities are asked to provide.

Some heads of municipalities—including Toronto's Mayor Hiram E. McCallum — have expressed belief that taxes on property and homes have reached the saturation point and that other means than increasing those taxes should be found to raise funds to meet growing municipal needs.

The problem has been the chief theme of a two-day meeting, due to end today, between representatives of the Ontario government and of the municipalities. It is believed that out of the meeting may come a plan to shift some of the load from the home and land owner.

The conference was called by Municipal Affairs Minister Dunbar as a result of an undertaking given last spring by Premier Drew. It brought together representatives of the Ontario Mayors [illegible] Ontario Municipal Association and the Northwestern Ontario Municipal Association.

Mr. Drew told the gathering he believed that only by consultation between government at all levels — federal, provincial and municipal — could any plan be achieved which would equitably distribute the cost of social services

Close Relationship

The closer the relationship between municipal councils and the people, the more efficient will be the municipal administration, Mr. Drew said. It was essential that municipalities be able to make adjustments from time to time in [illegible]

Mr. Drew said he was opposed to any system that made the provinces and the municipalities dependent on subsidies.

"It is my hope that there will be a broad factual foundation laid for municipal taxation which, in turn, will be reflected in Dominion and provincial relationships," he added.

Premier-designate T. L. Kennedy said that, in solving the problems of the municipalities, all would benefit. Municipalities now had to have considerable money for social services but it was unfair to place the whole burden on the land.

Plans To Open Theatre School Near Cobourg

OTTAWA, Oct. 19. — (CP). — Would-be actors and actresses soon will be learning their craft right in Canada.

Brian Doherty of Toronto, prominent Canadian playwright and producer, said in an interview Monday that next summer he hopes to open a professional theatre school near Cobourg.

"The school will be on a 100-acre estate just this side of Cobourg, and it has a natural amphitheatre for outdoor productions."

Mr. Doherty said he would be working with Bertha Knapp of Detroit, former opera singer and an outstanding teacher of voice and diction. Training would be given in both operatic and stage craft, and only those intent on making the theatre their career would be accepted as students.

Just One Venture

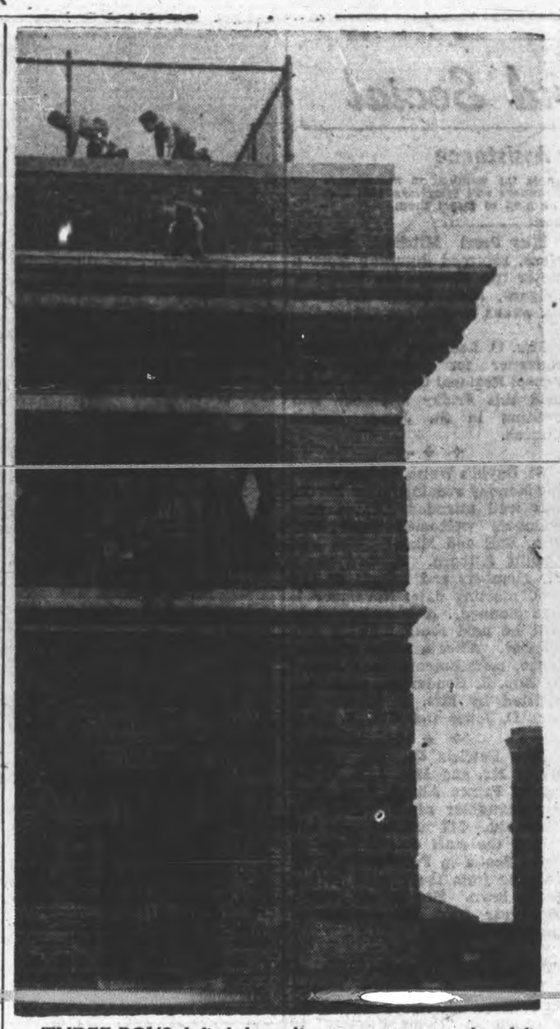
The summer school will be one of several theatrical ventures for Mr. Doherty, who heads the New World Company which made its debut here Monday night with "The Dunkard," a comedy of the music hall era.

The old-fashioned melodrama is the play with which this newly-formed stock company will make its initial tour of Ontario and Quebec cities.

After a week in Ottawa the group will travel to Kingston and Montreal. Other cities in the circuit are: Hamilton, St. Catharines, Simcoe, Brantford, London, Toronto and Kichener.

"We hope to make this a permanent circuit," said Mr. Doherty.

Three other plays are scheduled for the current season, and he said one of them would be Canadian-written.



THREE BOYS defied the police emergency squad and fire department plus scores of doctors and nurses when they played out on the eighth-storey ledge of Bellevue Hospital in New York. Inmates of the psychiatric ward, the boys finally were persuaded to call it quits by Mrs. Wanda Wright, teacher in the hospital.

Superannuation Plan

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—(CP).—The board of governors of the Ontario Teachers' Federation has drawn up a new teachers' superannuation plan which would increase the rate of pension and permit it to be paid to teachers' widows. Benefits would be granted at 62 years to men and women with at least 25 years' experience and to any who have completed 40 years' service. The maximum would be raised from $1,500 to $3,000 and the minimum would be $600.

HERALDS OF EVIL

In the 16th century superstitious persons believed comets to be heralds of evil, portending flood, famine, earthquake, war and pestilence.

Find Melodrama Hit With Ottawa Audience

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 — (CP). — There's nothing like a good old-fashioned melodrama to put an audience in good spirits.

The New World Theatre Company of Toronto tried it here on Monday night when it made its debut with a rollicking burlesque of that old-time "moral domestic" drama, "The Drunkard." The play provided enough laughter to shake the bustle of a mid-Victorian teetotaller.

Written in 1843 as a serious attack on intemperance, it ran for years in the United States as a unique combination of hilarious comedy and 19th century music-hall numbers. Under the skilful direction of Brian Doherty, the newly-formed Toronto company showed what Canadian professionals could do with it.

The dead-pan expression of the child Julia, played by Araby Lockhart of Toronto, was enough in itself to bring down the house. But then there were the jumping-jack antics of Barbara Hamilton, also of Toronto, and the poses struck by the "Trusting Widow," played by Beth Gillanders of Vancouver.

Comes Too Late

TORONTO, Oct. 19 — (CP).— Quebec's Beauharnois power plant extension on the St. Lawrence river likely will come into operation too late to help Ontario overcome its power shortage, C. G. Kingsmill of the Quebec Hydro Electric Commission said Monday night. Mr. Kingsmill said the Beauharnois extension will not be completed until 1951.

SANTIAGO, Chile, Oct. 19. — (AP).—At least 15 persons were reported killed Monday in a violent eight-hour eruption of the Villarrica volcano in Cautin province, 40 miles south of Santiago. Unofficial reports said the death list may run as high as 50.

Accidental Death Verdict On Hunter

EGANVILLE, Ont., Oct. 19 (CP) —A coroner's jury Monday night brought in a verdict of accidental death in the case of 55-year-old William Schweigert, fatally injured by hunters who mistook him for a deer and fired at him.

The jury found that Schweigert, a district farmer, died from a stomach wound inflicted by a .303 rifle bullet fired by his brother-in-law, Joseph Musclow, 44, one of the hunters in the party.

Because they had hunted Oct. 3, when the season had not yet opened, each of the party were fined $50 and costs.

Should Take Guides

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(CP). — The police and members of the armed forces are 'getting fed up with people who want to go into Canada's Hinterland without guides," R. A. Gibson of the Resources Department said Monday. Speaking at a Dominion-Provincial tourist conference, Mr. Gibson said tourists should not go into the Hinterland without trained guides who "at least can bring them back alive."

More Permanents Needed With Short Hair

VANCOUVER, Oct. 19—(CP).—Women are fickle but, say two United States hair stylists, hairdressers love them for it.

"We make our living from it," Raymond Huet and Enrico Caruso, New York experts, Monday told more than 200 hairdressers attending the Western Canada Beauty Trade Conference.

And the women hairdressers, outnumbering the men three to one, agree.

"Women may like the new short-cut style this winter," they say, "but come spring and they'll want something different—an upsweep, pigtails or a bun."

Huet and Caruso, with more than a decade of practice in New York and Paris, are giving refresher lectures in which they bring out some interesting comments on the current style trends.

"Short cut hair with a fringe all around—in a halo effect—is the most popular style today."

"For the first time in history milliners and hairdressers are working together. The new hair style tends to blend the hairline into the hat."

We are using about 20 different styles," they say. "To pick the right one, a hairdresser must visualize the woman as his date for that night—the way he would like to see her wear it."

The beauty of the new hair-do, the experts say, is that milady now can look after it more easily than she could with the long hair.

"She no longer has to stand for hours before a mirror, turning and twisting. The idea now is to give her that well-groomed "feminine look."

The only catch in the new trend is that women now will require three or four permanents a year, in place of the one some got along with before.

Stevenson-Hoare

A wedding of local interest was solemnized in Hilton United Church on Saturday by the Rev. Gordon Adams when Pauline Phylis, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoare, Hilton, became the bride of Frederick Harry, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ernest Stevenson of Seymour West.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin trimmed with pearls, with a bouffant skirt. Her fingertip veil was caught to a coronet of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade of red roses and fern.

The bridesmaid, Miss Ruby Cox, Hilton, was gowned in blue taffeta with shoulder veil caught to a taffeta bonnet, and carried a cascade of yellow roses and fern.

Decorator Sees Wallpaper Floor Covering

The University Women's Club of Peterborough heard Miss Eleanor Brown, interior decorator and lecturer for a Toronto firm, speak on the "New Look in House Furnishings" at the regular meeting Monday evening.

Miss Brown stressed the importance of color in decoration "Color effects people emotionally," she said. "It depresses some and stimulates others."

Contemporary decorating has three basic principles — comfort, convenience and charm, the speaker said. Every piece of furniture should be utilized and mirrors can be used to enlarge and open up a room. On a recent trip to the United States, Miss Brown saw wide experimentation in the use of wallpaper as floor covering. A very heavy paper is used on a felt base with a protective plastic covering.

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Backward Parents Refuse Allow Children to Grow Up

One of the most pitiful things in the world is that so many parents never grow up with their children. In their attitude towards their youngsters they stay exactly where they were when the doctor said "it's a fine boy," or "beautiful little girl."

Dorothy Dix

They wish a perpetual babyhood on their offspring. Even after Johnny is six feet tall and has whiskers Papa and Mama still think he wears rompers and has to be warned not to go too near the fire Long after Mamie has cut her store teeth Mama sits up at night until she comes home for fear she itsy-bitsy girlie may have gotten lost on the way.

This retarded mentality on the parents' part is at the bottom of almost all of the cruel, bitter conflicts between the two generations that makes so many homes in which there are adolescent children, a place of endless strife and heartbreak.

It brings about those innumerable tragedies that wreck so many lives when parents who worship their children drive them away from home by their tyrannies; when bobby-sock girls marry the first men who ask them, to escape their mothers spying on them; when youngsters, who are crazy for the pleasures that belong to their time of life, have to lie and steal to get them. As a result they go places, and do things, and associate with people they never should know, and get into scrapes that leave a smudge on their reputations as long as they live.

Cloistered Lives

There isn't a day that I don't get scores of letters from girls, who range anywhere between 16 and 30 years of age, complaining that their parents never let them have a date with a boy.

Others write that they never have been permitted to go to a party unless Father escorted them, which automatically made them wallflowers, and that even when they go to the movies little brother trails them to report where they went and if they spoke to any boy on the way. And a pitiable number of other girls write that their mother treat them as if they were criminals; that Mother opens all of their letters, listens in on her telephone calls and goes through their bureau drawers to see if they have anything hidden.

Now these parents who deny their children every vestige of personal liberty and who insult them by their vile suspicions are not intentionally cruel, nor are they deliberately setting out to wreck their youngsters' lives. They are just the fathers and mother who never have grown up with their children. They still want to hold their children by the hand. They still want to dominate them as they did when they were infants in arms. They still want to dictate their every move. And when they find they can't do it, they weep bitter tears over their children's ingratitude.

On every side you see parents beating upon their breasts and complaining that their children want to do things that they were not allowed to do. Of course they do, but we have scrapped the rules of yesteryear. Everything has been speeded up. Girls and boys in theirs teens are as old and worldly wise as their parents were at 20. Most of them have been wholly or partly self-supporting, and if that isn't a proof of adulthood, what is?

Fathers and mothers would save themselves a lot of trouble if they would only try to keep step with their children and grow up with them.

E. Walker Jones Marries Alice Irene Grills

A wedding of local interest took place in Belleville Saturday, October 9, at Bridge St. United Church when Alice Irene Grills, of Belleville, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francis Grills, was united in marriage to Elsworth Walker Jones of Peterborough, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Jones.

Baskets of white 'mums, white tapers, and ferns made a lovely background. Mr. Alec Gordon played the traditional wedding music, and during the signing of the register, Miss Phyllis May sang "Because."

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Carmen Grills, was in a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned on princess lines with yoke and skirt godets of Chantilly lace. A Mary Stuart headdress of Chantilly lace, edged with seed pearls, fingertip veil of tulle and a cascade bouquet of Sweetheart roses completed her ensemble.

Mrs. Fred Ash, Peterborough, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her gown was of Autumn blue taffeta with portrait neckline, fitted bodice, full skirt with a matching headdress of ostrich feathers. She carried a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses. Miss Olive Elson, Belleville, was bridesmaid, wearing a gown of American Beauty taffeta, styled similarly, with headdress of matching ostrich plumes and a cascade bouquet of Johanna Hill roses.

Mr. Fred Ash of Peterborough, brother-in-law of the bride, was groomsman. Mr. E. S. Fairman and Mr. E. S. Smith were ushers.

The wedding reception was held at the Bay of Quinte Country Club.

Receiving, beside the bridal party, were Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Jobe of Peterborough. Mrs. Jobe, sister of the groom, wore navy blue crepe with matching hat and gloves, and a corsage of Talisman roses.

The couple left later by plane for Bermuda, the bride wearing a Victorian wine gabardine suit with matching accessories, and a Russian squirrel, finger-tip length cape.

On return, they will reside in Peterborough.

Out-of-town guests present were from New York City, Bermuda, Dalhousie, N.B., Sudbury, Toronto, Peterborough and Prescott.

THE STARS SAY . . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Wednesday, October 20

It is advised that readiness to grasp a sudden change of distant or long-range possibilities with little loss of time in preparation is important. New openings, agreements and contracts can have permanent value if cleverly manipulated and worked out with sagacity and dispatch. Details may be important, but quick wit, intuition and acumen could heighten scope and prospects where loitering, for logic and rationalizing, could block the way.

If It Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, may find opportunity knocking at the door, with insistent pressure, and this with an offering of long-term security, although perhaps in distant fields of operation. This is true not only geographically but as to new substance, desires, plans or objectives, with fresh techniques and well-worked-out details. Keen intuitions, hunches or plain versatility and acumen are important as waiting to figure too closely along the lines of logic might confuse the issue. Act promptly, be ready for whatever may offer. The prospects are for pleasant and lucrative tieups and new environs. Ingenuity and adaptability count for much.

A child born on this day is blessed with quick wits, keen insight into "the main chance" with much versatility and adaptability.

Here and There in Sport

By The Canadian Press

The involved status of amateur puckster George Armstrong popped up Monday and sent Conn Smythe, Toronto Maple Leafs' managing director, to Stratford to try to get Armstrong's release from Stratford juniors.

Smythe wanted to assign Armstrong to Toronto Marlboro juniors this year after a good showing in the Leafs' training camp. Armstrong refused and held out for a week, but Monday showed up in Smythe's office and agreed to play for Marlboros.

But Stratford refused a transfer.

"I cannot stop Armstrong from playing senior hockey," said Manager Dave Pinkey, "but I do not intend releasing him to another junior team to play against us."

Calgary Stampeders extended their victory string to 11 straight in the Western Inter-Provincial Union in Winnipeg Monday with a 21-8 victory over Winnipeg Blue Bombres.

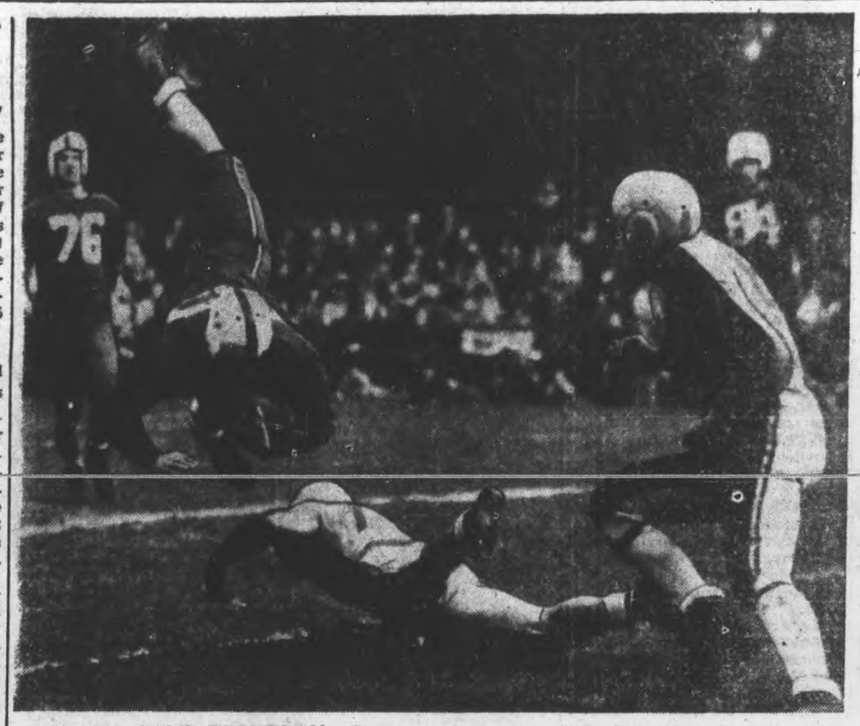
Stampeders racked up three touchdowns — one in the first quarter by Rod Pantages, one in the second by Woody Strode and the third in the last quarter by Normie Kwong. All were converted and, in addition, Freddie Wilmot booted a 23-yard field goal. Johnny Westrum scored a touchdown and Norm Geller kicked a three-point field goal in the last quarter for Bombers.

Sam Breaden, former owner of the St. Louis Cardinals, Monday came to the aid at St. Louis of his one-time star pitcher, Mort Cooper, when he signed three bonds totalling $2,000 so Cooper could gain his release on three bad cheque charges. Cooper pleaded innocent to charges of passing two $50 worthless cheques at St. Louis' Mark Twain hotel last August. Cooper also gave $1,000 bond on a fugitive warrant from Ohio where he is accused of giving a worthless $97.85 cheque to a clothing company.

A resident of Milan, who hid his identity under the initials L.R., was awarded 61,051,000 lire. ($106,000) at Rome Monday for being the only person to guess correctly the outcome of the 12 Italian soccer matches over the weekend. The record payoff in the Italian soccer pool was set last Soring when a coffin-maker in Northern Italy won 64,000,000 lire.

Cliff Dapper, 28-year-old catcher formerly with Montreal and Mobile, Ala., will manage the Atlanta Crackers of the Class AA Southern Association next season, it was announced at Atlanta Monday. Dapper won the most-valuable player award in the Southern Association in 1947 while catching for the pennant-winning Mobile Bears.

Jewel Ens signed a two-year contract at Syracuse Monday as manager of the International League Syracuse Chiefs. Given a substantial bonus for "efficient 1948 service," Ens led the Chiefs to victories in the Governor's Cup playoffs in 1942, 1943 and 1947. The team lost in the finals this season to Montreal.



THAT'S WILF TREMBLAY, Ottawa Rough Riders' sure-handed back, taking the nosedive. Wilf kicked two converts and played a solid backfield game Saturday as Riders trounced their old rivals, Toronto Argonauts, 41-6. Pete Karpuk (76) and Doug Smylie (84) are the other Ottawa players looking on. Two unidentified Argo men are equally incapable of altering things as Tremblay dives.

How Much Money Have You Yet To Earn?

Multiply your annual income by the number of years you expect to work before retiring. This is the money which you, your wife, and family are counting upon to provide the necessities of life—food, shelter, clothing—throughout future years.

The only way to make sure that all this money isn't lost to you and yours, if you should become totally disabled or die, is to have adequate life insurance and have it properly planned to serve your needs.

Looking to the future, Canadians have already arranged for One and a Half Billion Dollars of life insurance through the London Life. You may benefit from this Company's experience by getting in touch with a London Life representative.

FUEL, FOOD and other necessities of life may be on the shortage list, but Berlin ladies must be a la mode. This outfit, called "icescater," was a hit at the recent autumn and winter fashion show in the battered capital. Most of the people who enjoyed the show can't hope to have any of the things shown, but they can dream, can't they? The "icescater" is of vividly checked wool, modelled in "new look" style.

never in our history . . . clothing value like this

We say this sincerely—our clothes have NEVER before offered the dollar for dollar value—in terms of to-day's fabric and labour costs—that they do to-day! In woolens, style and workmanship the Tip Top tailored-to-measure clothes for 1948 for men and women give you more for your money than at any other time in our history. Without a doubt here IS Canada's Greatest Clothing Value as thousands of men and women are continually finding out.

PENALTIES SIMPLIFIED

IN THE NEW Laws, whenever any irregularity is committed, any player, including the dummy except when he has looked at someone else's hand, may call attention to it and give or receive information on the applicable Law. That is a sane simplification, as is true with all the other penalties now provided, and the fact that a strictly ethical side calls attention to its own irregularity does not in any way alter the rights of opponents.

Either opponent except dummy may select or enforce a penalty, but if opponents consult on the choice of a penalty or if either opponent waives it, it is cancelled. All matters concerned with the incident and the penalty should be settled before the game continues.

A remark or unmistakable gesture by anyone which gives information or expresses desires is penalized during the auction by allowing either opponent to require the other side to pass whenever it is its turn to call and, if the offenders become defenders, the declarer may require or forbid the lead of a specified suit. A similar offense by anyone except declarer during the play empowers declarer to require the offender's partner to withdraw any lead or play suggested by it and substitute one not conforming to it, either on that trick or any one subsequent trick, but before this penalty is applied the players must agree on what lead, play or line of play has been improperly suggested.

There is no penalty if a card lower than a jack and not prematurely led is exposed during the auction. But if during the auction a jack or higher card, or more than one card, or a card prematurely led is faced or held so that the player's partner sees its face, the owner's partner must pass on his next turn to call; every such card must be faced on the table until the auction closes, and if its owner becomes a defender it becomes a penalty card.

If a player calls before the penalty for an improper call by his right-hand opponent has been enforced, his action causes the improper call to be treated as a pass unless it was a bid of more than seven or a double or redouble when only a pass or bid could be proper, irregularities treated later in the Laws.

Changing a call practically in the same breath causes a player's second call to stand and cancels the first, unless the second was an improper call. Changing a call except practically in the same breath causes the second to be void; if the first was an improper call it is duly penalized; if it was a proper call, the offender must either allow the first to stand, in which case his partner must pass on his next turn, or else substitute any other proper call, in which case his partner must pass whenever it is his turn to call.

When a player makes an insufficient bid he may substitute either a sufficient bid or a pass; if the lowest sufficient bid in the same denomination there is no penalty, if any other bid his partner must pass whenever it is his turn to call, if a pass his partner must pass whenever it is his turn to call and if the offending side becomes defenders the declarer may require or forbid the opening lead of a specified suit.

No French Request For Extradition Yet

OTTAWA, Oct. 19 — (CP). — The French embassy said Monday it had made no request to the Canadian government for the extradition of four alleged Vichy France collaborators now living in this country.

Paris dispatches Monday quoted sources close to the French interior ministry as saying the French government had asked Canada "several times" to start extradition proceedings.

Asked for comment on the case, a spokesman for the embassy pointed out that extradition usually applies to "criminal rather than political matters."

Fight Bush Fire

Men from Tamworth and Enterprise were called out last week to fight a bush fire that was raging in the neighborhood of Stanley Thompson's home, southeast of Tamworth. Rain that started during the night was most welcome. It is thought the fire spread from burning brush along the old railway track. This fire was started by men who were clearing up the telephone line.

OVERCOME when she was told her son Bobby, 10, had been killed in a traffic accident Monday, Mrs. E. D. Bowyer (left), of North York Township, smiles in gratitude after learning the report resulted from a case of mistaken identity. In her hand she holds a picture of Bobby. Mistaken for a playmate who was killed in the accident, Bobby Bowyer (middle) returns to his school after going home to reassure his mother. Victim of the accident was Bobby Williams, 6 (right). A brother, Donald, 12 (left), came along the street a few minutes after Bobby was killed.

Woman Gets Divorce No Verbal Evidence

SWANSEA, Wales, Oct. 19. — (CP).—A woman now resident in Ottawa Monday was granted a divorce nisi against her husband, living in Italy, after legal processes described as "rather remarkable" in that no verbal evidence aws offered.

Mrs. Monica Jones of Ottawa gave evidence to a special examiner appointed by the Chief Justice of Ontario. Evidence against her husband, Dr. Crichton Treharne Jones, was taken by the British vice-consul in Milan.

Mr. Commissioner Temple Morris said it was "rather remarkable" that the requirements of the law were satisfied without the necessity of verbal evidence of any kind.

Radio Station Final Link For Fire Control Says Scott

RICHMOND HILL, Oct. 19. — A short-wave radio station, capable of two-way communication with ground stations and aircraft of the Ontario Department of Lands and Forests, is under construction at the Southern Ontario Research Station near here, it was learned today.

The station will "work" with northern points such as Kenora, Sioux Lookout, Pickle and Red Lakes, Sault Ste. Marie, Cochrane, Timagami, North Bay and Sudbury and with planes which are actually in the air on fire patrol and prevention work, according to Hon. Harold R. Scott, Minister of the Department. This will complete the communication network of the department from the southern boundaries of the province to the extreme northern area.

Both voice and key transmission will be used by operators at the local station and the transmitter is expected to "cut" through weather conditions which occasionally prevent ready communication between stations in the field and Toronto headquarters of the department.

The Minister said fire fighting operations would be greatly facilitated by the sure communication between the aircraft of the Provincial Air Station and the main station. If necessary, he pointed out, it could relay messages from rangers in actual fire areas to aircraft anywhere in the north.

At present, the Department operates more than 250 radio sets, including those used in towers, portable, boats, packs and aircraft. It has nearly 250 steel lookout towers, 65 wooden towers and more than 4,500 miles of telephone line in Northern Ontario.

"When the station goes into operation," Mr. Scott said, "it will bring in all the province and give us complete coverage." At the Research Station, constructed some year ago, experts are carrying on fish studies, soil analyses, uses and improvements on forest fire equipment, and reforestation methods.

MASSEY, Oct. 19 — (CP) — Polling headquarters for the Oct. 25 Algoma East Federal by-election was established today and the list of 112 polling stations in the widely-scattered riding was announced by returning officer J. W. Danby. Contesting the by-election will be Lester B. Pearson, external affairs minister, Liberal; Lorne D. Callahan, CCF; and John J. Fitzgerald, Social Credit.

Is Whisky Scotch When Made In U.S.?

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19 (AP). The United States Government took up to-day the question of whether there can be a Scotch whisky that does not come from Scotland.

That is one of the issues that finds United States distillers and importers divided as the start of a three-day hearing before the Internal Revenue Bureau's alcohol tax unit over possible changes in rules for labelling and advertising imported whiskies.

"Scotch" made here has to be described as "Scotch type" under present rules, which date back to pre-war years.

United States makers of this whisky contend contend that description hurts their sales—makes the customer think it is "imitation" stuff and therefore inferior —something the American distillers vigorously deny.

They want to be able to call their product Scotch whisky made in the United States, but the importers say that if it isn't from Scotland, it is not Scotch and ought not to be labelled as something it isn't.

Under present rules, in general, the Bureau lets imported liquor alone if it meets the requirement of the country of origin. Major liquor imports are Scotch, Irish and Canadian.

HAVANA, Cuba, Oct. 19—(AP). —Communist Aracelio Iglesias, 48, central figure in a feud for control of Havana's port workers, died Monday of bullet wounds inflicted by an assassin. The Marítime labor leader was shot Sunday in front of union headquarters.

Britain Planning Big Festival

LONDON, Oct. 19 (Reuters).—Present-day uncertainties will not affect Britain's determination to stage a great festival in 1951 to attract hundreds of thousands of visitors from all over the world.

Gerald Barry, festival director, said in an interview that 1951 for Britain will be a year "of gaiety, festivity, of the fun and games which the bitter circumstances of the last few years have denied us."

London will "rid herself of some of her proud but ugly scars" and be restored "to the gaiety she once knew," Barry said.

The plans he outlined include a central exhibition of British life and of British contributions to civilization, travelling exhibitions in provincial cities, separate Scottish and Welsh exhibitions and an eight weeks London festival of music, opera, ballet, theatre, music hall shows and films.

The exhibition will not be a trade fair, Barry said. Rather it would tell the story of British life and "present a coherent and imaginative picture of British achievement, of what is past, present and to come."

The Dominions and colonies will participate.

Eire And Britain Work Out Plan For Sickness, Maternity Benefits

By MICHAEL O'MARA

DUBLIN, Oct. 19 (CP).—Ties between Britain and Eire are, in many ways, growing closer—despite Premier Costello's avowed intention to "cut the last link with the British Crown."

Latest example of this is an Anglo-Eire reciprocal agreement on sickness and maternity benefits. It is expected that agreement on other social welfare schemes will shortly be reached.

In future title to these benefits in one country will, subject to certain minor conditions, be accepted for payment of such benefits in the other country.

Those insured in either country will be able to draw benefit from that country at a rate not exceeding that payable in Eire for the first six months after moving to the new country. If they stay longer, their previous insurance will be transferred to the new country and contributions paid in both countries will count toward benefits.

Under Eire legislation a man who has contributed to national insurance for two years receives sickness benefit at the date of 22s 6d. ($4.50) a week for 26 weeks followed by disability benefit of 15s for as long as is necessary. Corresponding rates for women are 18s. and 12s.

In Britain the standard amount of sickness benefit—as well as unemployment benefit and retirement pensions—is 26s. weekly for men and women, plus 16s. weekly for an adult dependent.

Closing The Books

Irish hotels, restaurants, railways, airways and shipping companies have had the heaviest tourist season in history.

The Holyhead-Dun Laoghaire steamships carried 15 per cent more passenger than last year; the Liverpool service was 100 per cent up; Aer Lingus brought in 50 per cent more Britons than usual; transatlantic travel by ship into Cobh and by plane into Shannon was well ahead of 1947 figures.

Kennedy Ontario Premier Shuffles Cabinet, Changes Porter, Welsh And Cecile

Premier's Term Of Office Uncertain
Delegates Meet October 30;
Has Served 30 Years In Politics

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP). — Tom Kennedy, 70-year-old farmer from nearby Peel county, today is Premier of Ontario after 30 years in provincial politics. His first act after he was sworn in Tuesday as successor to Premier Drew was to shuffle three Cabinet posts. Dana Porter relinquished the Planning Minister portfolio to become Minister of Education and Provincial Secretary.

Arthur Welsh, former Minister of Travel and Publicity, took over the Planning and Development job.

Louis P. Cecile, former Minister without portfolio, succeeded Mr. Welsh as Minister of Travel and Publicity.

The Education portfolio was left vacant when Mr. Drew resigned Tuesday from the Premiership to [illegible] duties as national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party. He was followed in his retirement by Provincial Secretary Roland Michener, who will assist him in his new work.

Retain Portfolios

The other cabinet ministers, who retained their portfolios, are: Leslie Frost, Provincial Treasurer and Mines Minister; Leslie Blackwell, Attorney - General; George Challies, Hydro Minister; George Doucett, Highways and Public Works Minister; George Dunbar, Municipal Affairs and Reform Institutions Minister; Charles Daley, Labor Minister; Russell Kelley, Health Minister; William Goodfellow, Welfare Minister; Harold Scott, Lands Minister; and William Griesinger, Chief Liquor Commissioner.

Premier Kennedy, whose lean, leathery cheeks are furrowed from years spent in farmland sun and wind, retains the portfolio of Agriculture. He has stated he will not contest the party leadership at a provincial convention expected to be held later this year.

The friendly and popular Premier Kennedy was first elected to the Ontario Legislature from Peel in 1919. He has been a member since that time except for the period 1934-37 when the late Duncan Marshall represented Peel.

As flashlikht bulbs popped around him, Premier Kennedy who refers to himself as "the old horse" because he is a former cavalary officer, hugged tiny Bible he kissed when taking his oath of office.

Present Pen

Then he beamed as the lieutenant-governor presented Premier Kennedy's wife the solid gold pen which Premier Kennedy had used to sign the scroll. The new premier shook hands with each member of his cabinet, following their individual ceremonies.

The appointment of Premier Kennedy capped a brilliant career as Minister of Agriculture, a post he assumed in 1930. Mr. Drew had been premier since 1943 and had led his party to the polls successfully on three occasions.

Constituency delegates will meet here Oct. 30 to set the convention date and there is some speculation the meeting may be held before the end of the year.

2 Russ Officers Steal Bomber, Fly To U.S. Base

VIENNA, Oct. 20 — (AP). — A twin-engined Russian bomber with two officer deserters from the Soviet air force landed at the United States air base near Linz Oct. 9, American sources said today.

The plane and one member of its crew—a sergeant—were returned to Russian custody. Two officers who said they were fleeing the Soviet Union were given refuge in the United States zone of Austria.

The pilot and navigator of the plane said they were trying to escape for "political reasons" for more than a year, the United States sources reported.

The craft took off from a base in the Ukraine on what was supposed to be a routine training flight. The pilot said his maps did not extend beyond Linz.

He brought his plane down on the first airfield he saw after reaching the United States occupation zone of Austria, the informants said.

The sergeant was quoted as saying he did not know the pilot's destination until the plane was in the air, and that then he was given the choice of parachuting over Soviet territory or remaining aboard.

Ottawa Approves X-Ray Purchase

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP)—The Federal government has approved Ontario Health Depratment plans for the expenditure of $350,000 on the purchases of X-ray equipment under terms of the national health grants.

A health department official said that in the $30,000,000 grants offered last June by the Dominion to the provinces there was a sum which could be used for the purchase of new hospital equipment.

Each province was offered a grant on a per capita basis. Before collecting, however, they have to submit to the Federal government plans on how the money will be spent. After the plans have been approved, the provinces are free to draw on the Federal grant.

TORONTO, Oct. 20—(CP). —Vincent St. Lawrence, 24-year-old racing stable groom, charged with the Oct. 9 horse-twitch slaying of another groom, George (Cowboy) Parker, at Woodbine rack track here, today was remanded to Oct. 27. Crown counsel indicated the preliminary hearing would start at his next court appearance.

Allow Import U.S. Vegetables During Winter

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP)—The Canadian housewife was assured today of a continuing supply of fresh vegetables this winter.

In addition, she was told she could look forward to larger quantities of citrus fruits and fruit juices along with a few sizeable bunches of grapes for the dining room table.

The good word came from Finance Minister Abbott, who announced Tuesday night that imports of fresh lettuce, tomatoes, cabbages, carrots, celery and spinach will be allowed into Canada this winter.

Up to now, they have been banned under the government's dollar-conservation program, although supplies of cabbages, carrots and onions were permitted entry last winter to meet domestic shortages.

Onions, potatoes and apples already are allowed entry under quota.

A "continued" improvement in Canada's foreign exchange reserves was given by Mr. Abbott as the reason for the relaxation in the import-control program.

General Permits

He announced that beginning Nov. 1 open general permits will be authorized for imports of lettuce and tomatoes from any country while later in the winter similar permits will be issued for cabbages, carrots, celery and spinach.

At the same time, he assured domestic producers that the relaxations would be timed "so as not to prejudice the normal marketing of Canadian produce." Imports would be authorized only when advancing prices or short supplies indicated domestic supplies were running short.

Effective for the fourth quarter of 1948, quotas for imports of citrus fruits and fruit juices and other items in the same quota group are being increased from the current 50 per cent. to 70 per cent. of imports during the base year, July 1, 1946, to June 30, 1947.

For grapes, Mr. Abbott said that beginning with the last quarter of this year permits will be issued for the importation of grapes on a basis of 70 per cent. of the dollar value of each importer's base-year imports.

Remand Wm. Stuart Refuse To Grant Bail

KITCHENER, Oct. 20 —(CP)— William G. Stuart today was remanded until Oct. 27 without bail on a public mischief charge arising from the disappearance last Sept. 13 of Mrs. Emma Pohl of nearby Sunnyside.

The 30-year-old Stuart engaged Paul A. Dufresne of Galt, as counsel shortly before this morning's hearing began. Crown Attorney W. P. Clement said he would have to give the matter of bail serious consideration.

Stuart is believed the last person to see Mrs. Pohl before she vanished. Police said they held him on the mischief charge because they doubted some of the statements he made under questioning.

Canada Gets A-Dispute To Untangle

Big Five Powers
Also To Try
For Basic Agreement

PARIS, Oct. 20—(CP). — The United Nations voted today to turn the atomic energy dispute over to Canada and the Big Five with instructions to try for agreement on basic principles.

The 58-member political committee first rejected a Soviet proposal which would have outlawed the atom bomb simultaneously with setting up of an atomic energy control organization.

The resolution adopted, sponsored by Canada, approved the majority report of the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission, based on United States control proposals. It calls for the countries to sign a treaty setting up an international control agency with full powers to punish violators of atomic control, full powers of inspection and full powers over the development of atomic energy from the time the raw materials leave the ground to the final stages.

The vote to turn back the dispute to the United States, Russia, Britain, France, China and Canada was taken on a Canadian resolution, with 10 delegates abstaining and one absent. The roll-call vote was 41 to 0.

On the basis of this vote, the Canadian proposal is assured of easily winning the necessary two-third majority approval in full General Assembly, all of whose countries are reresented in the political committee.

Against Soviet Plan

The political committee voted 39 to 6 against Soviet proposal, with seven absentions. Only the Soviet-bloc countries voted for it.

The Canadian proposal would provide for sending the Commission back to work "on such of the subjects remaining in the program of work as it considers to be practicable and useful."

Tuesday Canada made a further concession in an attempt to draft a resolution.

The Dominion tacked a fourth paragraph with already rehashed resolution. The new section calls on the Atomic Energy Commission to resume work within limited terms of reference.

Transport Minister Lionel Chevier introduced the amendment before the United Nations Political Committee. He said it was an attempt to incorporate the suggestion made Monday by Australia and India, except that it does not instruct the committee to proceed immediately with the drafting of an atomic control treaty.

The Soviet block, however, remained cold to the Canadian attempts at compromise. Kuzma Kiselev of Byelorrusia called it "a resolution of atomic war."

Sees No Change

Jakob Malik of Russia said the addition did not change the substance of the Canadian proposal, which was "completely unacceptable."

The United Kingdom, the United States, Ecuador, Australia and New Zealand supported the Canadian stand.

City Assessor Said Missing

An intensive search is continuing today for Bert Graham, City Assessor, who has been missing from his home at 610 George St., since Tuesday noon. The missing man's families and friends have been joined by city and provincial police. District police authorities are also on the alert.

The 45-year-old city official, who has been an employee of the city since 1939, left his home shortly after noon hour Tuesday, to post some letters and report for work at the city offices. He did not go to the offices and has not been heard from since. He was driving his car—a dark blue 1939 Pontiac coach, licence 9N77.

Mr. Graham had completed his work on the city assessment rolls at the end of September and had taken his holidays then. He had been at work at the office on Tuesday morning and it had been expected he would be returning in the afternoon.

His family reported the disappearance to city police early Tuesday evening when he did not come in for supper. Led by his brother, Charles Graham, a number of residents and police searched banks of the canal until after midnight. They took up the hunt in likely places known to Mr. Graham again this morning at daybreak. Several reports that the accessor had been seen in the area are being checked now.

Mr. Graham, who is 5 feet 7 inches tall, weighs 162 pounds and is partly bald, was last seen wearing a dark grey suit and fawn-colored topcoat and a fedora hat.

Expect UN Council Asked To Ease Berlin Blockade

PARIS, Oct. 20—(CP).—Western sources said today they expect one of the "little six" countries will ask the Security Council Friday to recommend lifting of Russia's Berlin blockade. Canada is a member of this group. A resolution to this effect is understood to be already in draft.

The informants said they understood the plan was to call upon the council simultaneously to stress the need for an early meeting of the Big-Four Foreign Ministers' Council to settle both the Berlin and the all - German questions.

However, France's Security Council delegate, Alexander Parodi, was reported to have expressed uneasiness about having any resolution on the Berlin crisis submitted to the Security Council at all.

Parodi conferred Tuesday night with Philip C. Jessup, United States delegate, and Britain's Sir Alexander Cadogan.

The informants, in touch with the Big Three western delegations, said the Frenchman made it clear he was speaking for himself rather than for his government.

The Security Council, which Tuesday heard the United States charge that Russia was tightening the Berlin blockade even as the Council took up the case, convenes again on the issue Friday.

The British, American and French delegates made no secret of their hope that a resolution would come from the neutrals — Canada, Argentina, China, Syria Colombia and Belgium.

Western sources said some sort of move in the Council cannot be delayed long after Friday They said they were hopeful of some development which might produce a resolution.

French sources said there has been no general agreement on the tone of a resolution which might be drafted by the Three Big Western Powers. The west has charged that the blockade of Berlin threatens world peace.

20 Race Horses Burned At Track

CHICAGO, Oct. 20 (AP)—At least 20 race horses were believed burned to death Tuesday night in a fire which destroyed a stable at the Hawthorne track where a meeting ended last Saturday.

Henry Johnson, a stable watchman, said the dead horses were valued at an average of $2,000 each. He said the "good" horses had been taken away at the conclusion of racing at the track Saturday.

Most of the dead animals, Johnson said, were rated as only "fair horses." Some probably had been retired from the track, but at least a few would have raced in the current meeting at Sportsman's Park.

The watchman said 28 horses were in the stable when the fire of undetermined origin broke out near a centre stall. Many of the horses had been led or driven to safety but they ran back and perished in the rapidly spreading flames.

At least a few horses were known to be safe, but they were roaming the countryside and a final accounting of the loss could not be made until all were rounded up.

Israel Has Received UN Cease-Fire Order

TEL AVIV, Oct. 20 — (CP). — The Israeli government received today the United Nations order to cease firing in the Negev Desert battle.

(Egypt also received official notification of the cease-fire order. Premier Mahmoud Nokrashi Pasha told newspaper men in Cairo "Jewish aggression" continued this morning. He said the United Nations' order did not fix any deadline and he understood this would be set by the acting mediator, Dr. Ralph Bunche.)

The Israeli Cabinet was said meeting this afternoon to decide when the cease-fire order should be issued to Israeli troops.

An Israeli Foreign Office spokesman indicated the order "would doubtless be carried out."

The Israeli air force Tuesday night again bombed Gaza in an attack described as "heavy and successful."

Police Find Inspector's 5 Revolvers

Men Also Involved
In Bank Robbery;
4 Women Not Held

TORONTO, Oct. 20—(CP). — Toronto police today raided an east-end Toronto house and arrested four men whom they are questioning in connection with the recent Ridgeway bank robbery and break-in at the Oshawa municipal offices. In their raid today police found five loaded revolvers and one rifle.

Police said the weapons seized were stolen from the home of a Hamilton police inspector.

The four men were charged with illegal possession of 'firearms. One of the four, Norman Sullivan, is out on bail, charged with participation in the Ridgeway bank robbery. The two robberies involved thousands of dollars.

The other three held are: Dusty Miller, Peter Dunhorn, and Ronald McGee.

Police said four women also were found by the police squad which carried out the raid. They were not held in custody.

Police said they believed the raid and arrests frustrated a bank robbery or some other kind of a "big job."

The police—guns drawn—battered down the door of the house to gain entry. However, once inside they met no resistance.

Expect Battle In S. Korea

SEOUL, Korea, Oct. 20 (AP)— A pitched battle between loyal and insurgent Korean soldiers was expected in the extreme southern part of Korea to-night after a rebel band of soldiers killed or captured 100 policemen at two towns.

Martial law was declared in South Korea—the American zone —by Home Minister T. Y. Yoon shortly after President Syngman Rhee returned from Japan.

The uprising began at Yosu on the south coast and spread quickly to Suchon, 12 miles away. Yoon said the rebels were led by Communist soldiers.

Naval Experts Examine Shoreboat Wreckage

PORTLAND, England, Oct. 20— (Reuters)—Naval experts today examined the wreckage of the Pinnace which sank in this southern naval darbor Sunday night with the loss of 29 men.

The Pinnace was brought to the surface Sunday after divers had located it. Two bodies were brought up with it, first of the victims so far recovered from the sea.

Two inquiries will open today, one an official naval board to probe the disaster, which occurred in a severe storm, and the other a coroner's inquest to enquire into the deaths of those victims who have been found and identified.

Riviera Railway Traffic Badly Snared As Communists Order 24-Hour Strike

PARIS, Oct. 20—(AP).—A 24-hour strike snarled railway traffic along the Riviera today. The Communists said it was called in sympathy with the crippling French mine strike also over wages, now in its 17th day.

Anti-Communist newspapers predicted a subway strike would hit Paris Monday.

The Communist-led railway union called the Mediterranean strike to support demands for a minimum wage of 15,000 francs ($50) a month.

A De Gaullist aide, terming the coal strike a Communist assault on the European recovery plan, said it had cut France's industrial production by 20 per cent.

The coal tie-up, now in its third week, has cost France more than 2,000,000 tons of fuel. Some 335,000 miners are idle.

Soldiers and police seized dozens of strike-bound pits Tuesday in south-central France to save them from serious deterioration. They were expected to take over more struck mines today.

DP Interviewers Find Some Cause For Complaint

WINNIPEG, Oct. 20.—,(CP).— Displaced persons today continued harvesting the sugar beet crop in Southern Manitoba as the public awaited results of a Federal government investigation into their living conditions.

Conflicting reports emerged from the visit Tuesday of an inspection group to a DP camp of 63 men at Emerson, Man. Accompanying statements of approval and disapproval were claims that a "trouble-making" minority was responsible for the whole fuss.

Interviewers found some D.P. men were satisfied with conditions while others voiced complaints. The inspection group said there was justification for both.

K. G. McQuarrie, sanitary inspector for the Manitoba Health Department, said sanitary conditions—with one exception— met provincial regulations. He frowned on the lack of oilcloth covering for dining room board tables.

"There is no filth in existence," remarked Mr. MacQuarrie as he reported an inspection of the DP huts had disclosed no sign of vermin.

Polish veteran George Orlitz, foreman of the Emerson camp, made the "trouble-maker" charge. He said that 36 of the 63 men in camp told him they had no complaints. Those who did, he said, were a small minority trying to stir up trouble.

But in the dormitories observers were reported to have found 15 DP's in bed. They were said to be suffering from either dysentry or diarrhoea, brought on through eating bad pork. There were reports of mass illness on previous days.

B.C. Coal Miner Presses Charge Refugee Collaborator, Terrorist In Yugoslavia

NANAIMO, BC, Oct. 20—(CP).—Yugoslavia's dark days of German and Italian invasion today are being fought over again before a jury and a Justice of the Supreme Court of British Columbia.

From the prisoner's box and through special commission-taken evidence from London, Mirko Vitkovitch, Nanaimo coal miner, is attempting to justify circulation of letters allegedly vilifying the character of Dr. Mladen Guinio Zorkin.

Dr. Zorkin, now living here, is an anti-Communist lecturer, author and former War Crimes Commission member in London.

Vitkovitch charges that Zorkin was an army deserter, a Nazi collaborator and a member of the "Eustache" terrorists group, accused of committing horrendous war crimes.

Dr. Radich Villisich, a boyhood "friend" of Zorkin's who testified while he was in London as physician with the Yugoslav Olympic team, said in testimony read here Tuesday he was "shocked by the lies Zorkin is saying in America."

Requests 4, Go Home For Trial

Deny French Gov't Has Requested Return Of Quartette

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.— (CP). — Four Frenchmen charged with collaboration with the enemy during the war today were faced with a suggestion that their honor should compel them to return to their country and stand trial.

Meanwhile, one of them has been discharged from his job "because he was in a high state of excitement which made him neglect his work."

The suggestion of returning to France was made by French Ambassador Francisque Gay to Acting Prime Minister Howe in the Prime Minister's office Tuesday. He and Mr. Howe issued statements to the press later.

Mr. Gay's statement said he had "stressed that their concern for their honor should prompt these Frenchmen to go and appear before the courts of their country, where every opportunity of defending themselves would be given to them."

Both his statement and the one issued by Mr. Howe denied that the French government had asked for the return of the men since the end of the Second World War.

Four Men Involved

The four men are Dr. Georges Benoit Montel, 49, a surgeon now lecturing at Laval University; Julien Guadens, Labedan, 35-year-old interior decorator and cabinet-maker; Andre Charles Emmanuel Boussat, 45, also a surgeon, and Jean Luis Huc, a forestry expert.

Labeden was dismissed from his employment as a cabinet-maker in Montreal Tuesday.

All but Huc were allowed to remain in Canada by a special cabinet order-in-council passed last month after immigration authorities had ordered their deportation for entering on false passports.

Huc was allowed to stay under an order which gives French immigrants free entry to Canada.

Routine Method

In Edmonton, Resources Minister Mackinnon said Tuesday the government had handled their cases in a routine way. It was believed they would be found of value to Canada. There was no proof the men were convicted collaborationists.

However, Labedan is reported to have been sentenced to death in France and the others to lesser sentences for what Mr. Gay described as "major crimes." All were tried in absentia. Under French law, a citizen tried in absentia is given a new trial when he returns to France.

During his talk with Mr. Howe, the French ambassador emphasized that the men had been tried according to correct legal procedure.

Mr. Howe re-iterated in an interview Tuesday night that the cabinet considers the case closed and does not intend to re-examine it.

Poor Jail Conditions Start 4-Day Riots

MONTREAL, Oct. 20 —(CP)— The Gazette says today in a news-page story that complaints of bad food, cold cells and lack of blankets touched of a four-day riot in Montreal's Bordeau jail.

The story says an estimated 650 prisoners demonstrated for four days and nights and guards were kept on 24-hour duty.

Dr. Zenon Lesage, governor of the jail denied there had been any demonstration, but the newspaper says unimpeachable sources claimed the riot was precipitated by the first cold spell.

Overcrowded conditions and lack of work for the inmates who would rather labor and keep warm than stay in their cells and freeze, were said to be other factors in the uprising.

Proper Talk Means Prosperity Speaker Tells Sales-Ad Club

"Simple, clear, understandable language will wring people when eoquence fails," said A. C. Richardson, of Montreal, on Tuesday night when adressing the Peterborough Sales and Ad Club.

Mr. Richardson, honorary president of the Sales and Ad Executive Club and advertising manager of a large Montreal electrical firm, was speaking on "The Fitly Chosen Word."

He chose as his theme a verse from Proverbs: "A word fitly spoken is like apples of gold in pictures of silver."

"The whole of our business lives are predicated on the fitly spoken word," he said.

"Words are tools of thought," said Mr. Richardson. "They are the only medium by which most of us know each other. We have to judge the other man by the few words he speaks when we meet him."

To illustrate the power of words, he cited Hitler's verbal assurances given to Prime Minister Chamberlain at the time of Munich and he told of Churchill's wartime speeches "which saved civilization."

He contended that too much pessimistic talk could bring about adepression. "By words we can talk ourselves into depressions. We in the Sales and Ad Club should talk prosperity because we can talk ourselves into a depression. Talk prosperity and we will live prosperously."

Applying the "fitly spoken word" to sales and advertising problems, he offered a few pointers on the use of English, either writen or spoken.

"Delete the first person singular 'I'," he said. "If we are engaged in the selling and advertising profession we should talk about the other fellow's business."

He said that people are naturaly interested in their own affairs, not the salesman's, and the approach to the customer must be in terms of what a particular product will do for him.

Judicious use of the word "no," and the use of the word "request" or "ask" instead of "must" were advised.

Very Gets Rapped

"The word 'very' is the laziest word in the English language," he said. "Think of a word-picture to express yourself." Other words which he put under the ban were 'quality and service' the two most misused words in merchandising." By themselves, he said, they meant nothing.

He warned against cliches, such as "your numble obedient servant," and commented, "There's a dignity in business; let's maintain it."

One of his other recommendations was the use of concise, plain, simple and clear words and sentence constructions. "Speak soft, not loud, use original phrases not cliches."

Mr. Richardson said there was no substitute for enthusiasm and he insisted that speech must be "understandable."

"Don't talk down to people, but speak in good Anglo-Saxon words that they can understand," he said.

As one of his examples of beautifully-written though simple English he quoted from one of Laurence Binyon's war poems, written to the dead: "They shall not grow old, as we that are left grow old; age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn. At the going down of the sun, and in the morning we will remember them."

Mr. Richardson was introduced by Robert Gamble and thanked by Blaine Till. President Paige Rowell was in the chair.

It was announced that Sales and Ad Clubs, sponsored by the Peterborough Club, were holding organization meeting at Belleville on October 29, and at Kingston on November 10. A large number of local members are expected to attend.

In conjunction with this there will be an essay contest for public school pupils in grades 7 and 8, and Collegiate students in grades 9 and 10. Further details have not yet been worked out but the prizes will be tickets to professional hockey games at Toronto.

Guests of the evening, apart from the main speaker were Frank Simpson of Detroit, formerly of Peterborough, Stewart Holstein and Clayton Barnum, both of Peterborough.

Chevrier explained the Dominion did not face an immediate drafting of a treaty because of the impasse with Russia on the basic principles of such a treaty.

"I don't see how the USSR could possibly participate in drafting such a treaty since it does not yet accept principle on which the treaty must be constructed," he said.

"Preparation of the treaty is a detailed and complicated operation and it certainly is not practicable to proceed with it in the present circumstances."

The Canadian delegate said an effort to continue the drafting of a treaty now would "accentuate" the present difficulties rather than solve them.

Elizabeth Goes To Wedding Of Secretary

LONDON, Oct. 20.J—(AP). — Princess Elizabeth, clad in an olive green maternity dress, turned out with the royal family today for the wedding of two members of her household.

Principals in the ceremony at St. Margaret's church in Westminster were Elizabeth's lady-in-waiting, Lady Margaret Egerton, fifth daughter of the late Earl of Ellesmere, and the princess' private secretary, John Colville.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Churchill also attended. Colville was Churchill's secretary before accepting the palace post less than two years ago. He and his bride met for the first time then.

Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh , accompanied Princess Elizabeth on what was probably her last public appearance before the expected birth of their child next month.

Princess Margaret was a bridesmaid.

The king in morning coat, was accompanied by the queen in a claret velvet dress with an off-the-face hat. Queen Mary wore a powder blue coat with grey fur collar.

There were approximately 2,000 guests. Hundreds of uninvited crowded the streets outside for a glimpse of the royal family.

All the bride's attendants wore dresses in misty shade of oyster grey and pink. More pink was used in Princess Margaret's dress than the others in order to suit her delicate complexion.

The bride wore an Edwardian style gown, boned to the higher hipline, in pink satin with tinsel medallions. She wore a tulle veil embroidered and hemmed with soft pink flowers.

Immunization Week Set For September

Peterborough branch of the Health League of Canada held its first fall executive meeting on Tuesday afternoon in the Council Chambers with president George Barns in the chair. A balance of $82 in the treasury was reported. Miss A. O. Dobbin was appointed secretary for the coming season.

Mrs. S. O. Shields reviewed accomplishments during the summer especially the campaign of giving out pamphlets to school students before Immunization Week. Dr. R. A. Kelly, MOH, reported that their efforts showed a greatly increased interest by parents and that the week was much more successful than in former years. He also suggested that Immunization Week be held the third week in September to allow time for summering families to adjust themselves. This resolution was passed and adopted.

Due to the low treasury funds, means of raising more were talked about, such as the holding of bingo rallies or social evenings for all members and their friends. James Dutton, Jr., was appointed to look into these possibilities.

The annual meeting of the league takes place on Nov. 4, 5 and 6 at the Royal York Hotel, Toronto, during which top-ranking medical and health authorities will participate. Health subjects to be discussed will be arthritis, immunization against communicable diseases, milk pasteurization, nutrition, industrial and mental health. Peterborough branch members were urged to attend. A branch of the league is being organized in Port Hope under the guidance of the Peterborough executive.

No Complaints Made To Her F. M. Leach Says

Florence M. Leach, optometrist at 399 George St., told The Examiner today that none of the residents of flats in that neighborhood had complained to her of the temporary gasoline generator of electricity which she is using during the power shortage.

"I read with surprise that a petition had been received by the council from residents of that immediate neighborhood, as reported in The Examiner, before ever bringing the matter to my personal attention.

True, some such complaints have been relayed to me courteously by city police, but as yet no direct complaint from any person who might be affected has personally been made to me, I am anxious to consider the comfort and privacy of anyone residing in that vicinity.

However, the person who broke into the protective housing around this generator and threw a quantity of gravel into the fuel tank, causing considerable expense to me, was not registering his complaint in a cooperative manner, and should not expect me to show too much interest in him."

One of the complainants told The Examiner that his objection to the generator was during the night, when its operation prevented him from sleeping. He said that if it was shut off at 11 p.m. or even at midnight, it would not be noticed.

The single cylinder motor has been enclosed in fireproof housing and equipped with an automobile muffler, Miss Leach said. There is also a standard muffler, and 50 feet of pipe carry the exhaust over the highest part of the building. The motor is also equipped with a spark plug repressor to eliminate radio reception interference.

"I have made every type of inspection to meet the exacting demands of police, fire, insurance and electrical requirements, and all were satisfied. Nevertheless, if the people affected will be good enough to register their complaint to me personally, I will be happy to give them every consideration, and, if reasonable, meet their requests."

Similar relief power equipment has been installed by Cherney Furnishing Co., and Revoy Motors, Elliott Stationery, Peterborough Lumber Co., and Allan B. Collis have ordered producing units.

Indian Jailed 10 Years In Manslaughter

BRANTFORD, Oct. 20 (CP)— Edward T. Hill, 50-year-old Mohawk Indian, today was sentenced to 10 years on a manslaughter charge arising from the death last Aug. 6 of May Maracle, who lived with him in his shack at the nearby Six Nations Indian Reservation.

Acting Crown Attorney C. C. Slemin asked for a heavy sentence "as a warning to others and for the protection of the community."

Defence counsel Norman E. Lickers asked that Hill's age be taken into consideration and argued since Hill was an Indian confinement would be a much greater hardship. Indians by nature were accustomed to being free in the outdoors.

Before sentence was passed Hill said: "All that I can say is that I beg Your Lordship to be lenient with me if you will."

He wept as he stood with his head bowed.

The woman's body was found in Hill's bed, huddled beneath the bedclothes. She had been beaten to death.

During the three-day trial which ended last Friday Hill wept freely as evidence was presented. Defence counsel called no witnesses and did not ask Hill to testify in his own defence.

DP's In Ontario Said Well-Satisfied

SUDBURY, Oct. 20 (CP)—Displaced Persons working in Northern Ontario are well satisfied with the living quarters supplied them, local officers of the National Employment Service said today. Only the occasional complaint has been received and men who worked in the bush last fall are returning to the lumber camps this year.

Most D.P.'s in the north prefer bush work to other forms of employment. The pay is better than in some other jobs, food is good, and the newcomers are happy in this type of work.

Many Displaced Persons are taking special classes in Canadian citizenship and English at the Sudbury Technical School.

Movie Producers Help Solve Dollar Crisis

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 (CP)—United States movie producers are trying to help Canada solve her dollar shortage by encouraging Americans to visit the Dominion.

A. H. Newman, film liaison officer for the trade department, told the Dominion - provincial tourist conference Tuesday that the movie industry has taken various steps to attract more Americans to Canada.

Since the start of 1948 the industry has made 10 tourist films in Canada. They will be shown to an estimated 241,000,000 people. Various newsreels on Canadian subjects also have been made.

In some full-length films the industry has an actor say during a dialogue that they are going to Canada on a fishing or hunting trip. In other films, Canadian tourist posters are shown. Records of speeches in which movie actors and actresses speak of Canada and urge Americans to visit here are being distributed in the United States.

Delegates allowed to stand over a resolution urging that Canada and the United States abolish a 15 per cent tax imposed during the war on transportation tickets.

They also were in agreement in urging that provincial licensing of tourist accommodation be extended. Another resolution urged that the Federal government make more money available for the improvement of services in national parks.

J. S. MacDonald of Montreal, general tourist agent of the Canadian National Railways, said a recent survey had shown that Canadians and not outside tourists are responsible for the depletion of game stocks. He suggested that steps be taken to increase the number and the calibre of game enforcement officers.

Motorist Gets Reduced Charge In Cobourg Trial

COBOURG, Oct. 20.—(ENS).—One month in jail and suspension of his driving license for 18 months was the sentence imposed on Edward Drumm, 21-year-old Grafton youth, when he appeared for sentence this morning on a dangerous driving charge.

"I agree with the verdict of the jury when they found you not guilty of manslaughter, but guilty of dangerous driving. Much too great a number of people are being killed on the highway and something has to be done to stop it. No good purpose is achieved by too severe or too light a sentence. It is not justice and furthermore does not assist a jury in arriving at a verdict. The code provides a fine or imprisonment. I don't like imposing a fine because it is no hardship for a wealthy person who would rather pay a fine than go to jail and in the case where an accused person is poor. It often falls upon the parent to raise the money with no punishment upon an accused young man. You have killed a human being. That will remain on your mind all your life and may be a greater deterrent than the sentence you have received," he said.

The jury retired at five o'clock returning at 6.15 for further instruction in the distinction between criminal and civil negligence and finally brought in their verdict at seven p.m.

Most of yesterday's session was devoted to address by counsel and trial judge to the jury.

Drumm testified yesterday that he was driving about 35 miles an hour as he came to the crest of a grade beyond which was a bend in the county road. He had previously encountered no traffic and the only inkling of anything ahead of him was as he came over the grade and saw the wavering of a dim light ahead of him he applied his brakes and collided with a bicycle. Drumm testified that due to what he described as a tilting of the road surface to the left and the soft condition of the asphalt treated road on the left side, his car pulled to the right when he applied the brakes.

Under cross examination by Crown Attorney Harry Deyman, the accused admitted that bend was dangerous and he also admitted that if he had kept entirely to the right he would have missed the bicyle. He added that as there had been no visible traffice he had been driving in the centre of the road.

E. Hastings, Toronto engineer, stated that the road surface was soft due to the extreme hot weather during the day and that this, along with the tilting of the road surface would tend to pull a car of the left wheel of Drumm's car tion he agreed that the skid mark of the left wheel of Drumms car ran for 80 feet along the east side of the road, or left side in regard to the line of Drumm's travel and that for this distance it was 3 feet six inches from the edge of the road.

Assaulted Girl Fined $50, Costs

Clare Huard, 545 Edison Ave., was fined $50 and $6.50 or one month in jail when he was found guilty today of assaulting his girl friend and occasioning actual bodily harm.

She testified that the accused had been in her apartment Tuesday night when she entered it. He was drunk, she said, and had gained entrance through the basement window. The assault had been with a dust-mop and had injured her arm and cut two fingers. She had required hospital attention, she said.

In his own defence Huard said that "this isn't a case of assault—it was just a little scrap."

"You were told you weren't wanted, and you should know now to keep away from there," commented his worship.

House Problems Irk Society Miss Young Says

Reference to the present housing situation — and the toll it is taking in terms of humanity—was made by Miss Rachael Young, Superintendent of the Peterborough Children's Aid Society at the meeting of the Board of the society Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Young's report said that the staff of the society here is "frequently" faced with requests from families in the city and county asking for assistance "in planning for their children because of the housing shortage."

"Many of these people are living under conditions which are far from good for the children... for many of these families, the present housing programs will not meet the situation because the rentals expected are considerably beyond the ability to pay," she said.

"Every week, we hear complaints from families with whom living conditions with relatives have become impossible or where they are faced with rents they cannot meet or eviction. But where are these people to go? We do our best to help them, but I feel that this problem, which is not within the work of the society, cannot be met by us."

During September, 22 families were referred to the Peterborough Children's Aid Society for assistance. With 342 families and children already under the care of the society, the total now is 364, Miss Rachael Young, superintendent, said in her monthly report.

357 Visits Made

Visits for September totalled 357 and there were 153 office interviews.

With 59 children now in boarding homes and 10 in the Shelter for whom the Society is responsible for clothing, the month was a busy one in this regard, with school openings. A tribute in this matter was paid to the foster mothers caring for charges.

"They have been most co-operative by requesting only absolute necessities and . . . by keeping the clothing in excellent condition."

Seven children were moved from one foster home to another —one to an adoption home and two to free homes. One was returned to the shelter.

Sixty-three children in September had dental care under the Society and 28 received medical examinations.

There were eight unmarried mothers' cases dealt with during the month.

Appeal by the Society for layettes was answered by the Lakefield Red Cross and the Junior Welfare League. Trinity Baby Band is also assisting, the report said.

Small Bush Fire Doused At Lochlin

LINDSAY, Oct. 20—(ENS). — Lochlin, in Haliburton district, was the scene of a small bush and grass fire recently. The whole neighborhood helped the Department of Lands and Forests Rangers in putting out the fire, believed to have been caused by a spark from the noon train.

District Forester A. B. Wheatley of Lindsay, who hopes that this is the last forest fire of the season, stated that a creek had been of great assistance to the fire-fighters.

Fire Department Fills 12 Wells During Drought

Living beyond piping range of the water mains of the Utilities Commission, out where there is elbow room, visibility and all the other advantages of the wide-open spaces, presents many attractions. On the other side of the picture are dry wells in a season of drought, such as the suburbs of Peterborouugh experienced from early in August.

Beyond that nearer rim, farmers were forced to draw water for their own needs in the house and in the barn. Some of them drove their tanks into the Exhibition Grounds and filled them at the overhead tap that was set up as an accommodation for cattlemen giving their stock a bath at fair time.

That was one expedient in the hauling of water. Another was the appeal of people from inside the city's boundary, and also outside it, requesting the aid of the fire department. In those instances, lines of hose are laid to the nearest hydrants, and wells are replenished and refilled.

Probably the board of works' pressure tank has also been used in relieving the recent lack of water for home use.

This assistance has been given willingly, Ald. Swanston told the Council Monday night, but Fire Chief Smith was asking for some specific direction. Ald. Armstrong suggested that the department be permitted to continue this help. It was somewhat in the form of a fire drill, and must be greatly appreciated by the people receiving the benefit of it.

Ald. Sands seconded the Armstrong motion. Ald. Swanston said the fire department had filled twelve or more wells in the last month.

Marine Strike Still In Force

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 — (AP)— The Pacific coast maritime strike in the United States, now in its 49th day, has nearly dried up a $4,000,000-a-day waterborne commerce but has spurred on a huge commercial air lift.

All dry cargo sailings from American west-coast ports have stopped, save a few ships which carry supplies for the army. Oil tankers are not affected by the contract strike.

While paralysis set into shipping, the strike forced resort to the air lift. Pan American airways reported today that perishable food shipments to Alaska have increased about 100 per cent and to Hawaii about 55 per cent. The air shipment of food to Alaska now is at the rate of 1,000,000 pounds a month and still growing.

There appears to be no immediate prospect of ending the strike. There have been no negotiations since Sept. 1.

The Waterfront Employees Association says there are no real economic issues involved.

Routine Admission

EDMONTON, Oct. 20 (CP). — Resources Minister MacKinnon said Tuesday the government had handled in a routine way the admission to Canada of four French citizens accused of wartime collaboration with the Germans. Mr. MacKinnon said they were admitted because "as is found in many cases," it was believed they would be found of value to Canada."

RECALL TEACHERS

BUCHAREST. — Romania has demanded the "urgent recall" of all Yugoslav teachers in Romania because of their "Nationalist and Chauvinist" attitude, the Romanian news agency reported, following what the agency called "subversive activities" of Yugoslav teachers in Serb and Croat schools.

Two-Year-Old Walks Warily Near Railroad

REGINA, Oct. 20 (CP)—Two-year-old Freddie Atherton plays with his toy engine, looks at pictures of trains and says he likes them.

But when he goes for a walk with his parents near the railway line, he draws back and says: "I'm scared Mommie."

About a month ago, Freddie wandered from his home to play in a field near a railway line.

He and two playmates saw a horse on the other side of the tracks.

Freddie ran up the embankment to the tracks just as a train was approaching. Signal operators in the nearby tower had just set the apparatus in motion to close the derail mechanism to allow the train to pass through.

At the moment the mechanism was closing on the track, Freddie placed his hand down to climb over.

His hand was caught. The train kept coming.

Freddie began to cry and his playmates, screaming, ran to pry him loose. His mother, watching from their home hurried to the scene.

She, too, tried to get him loose. Neighbors gathered. Then an unidentified youth ran toward the signal tower.

He yelled: "A kid's caught in the derail!" the operators moved quickly.

The signal was thrown against the approaching train and the engine ground to a stop a short distance from the child.

When his hand was released. Freddie was taken to hospital where it was found the fingers were crushed but the bones were not broken.

Wants Western Union Become Third World Power

LONDON, Oct. 20 (Reuters)—The Labor party, which forms the government, wishes Western union to become a "third world power" with the twin aims of economic independence from the United States and political security against Russia.

15,000-word pamphlet, entitled "Feet on the ground—a study of Western union" published by the party Tuesday, visualizes Western union in this role but adds that, militarily, the European countries themselves have not the forces needed to resist aggression by a world power.

"At the moment, Europe's most valuable military protection against aggression from the east is the few thousand American troops in Germany and Austria, because their presence would involve the United States immediately in any European war," the pamphlet says.

"The European Recovery Program countries could not produce and equip forces adequate for their own defence without wrecking their present plans for economic recovery.

Need U.S. Help

"Thus, at least in the immediate future, the defence of western Europe will depend on direct or indirect assistance from the U.S.A."

At the same time, the pamphlet describes the final aim of Western union as being "to produce a third centre of power, independent alike of America and Russia.

"There is no doubt that if the countries of western Europe could act together as one, their collective resources in population, industrial capacity and raw materials would give them power in the world equal to either Russia or America.

"A strong united Europe might act as a bridge between east and west, where a weak divided Europe has conspicuously failed...

"Until Spain, for example, is freed from the Franco dictatorship, she cannot participate in the work of uniting Europe as a stronghold of political liberty."

Recalling the achievements of the organization for European economic co-operation—"the economic basis of Western union"—the pamphlet adds:

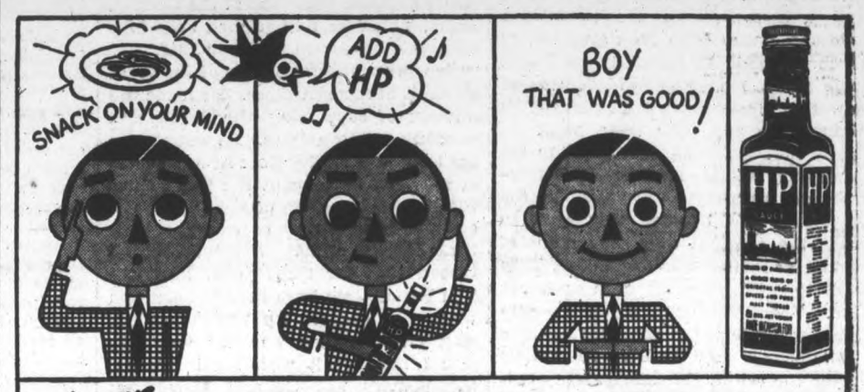
Stumbling Block

"The most serious stumbling block to the agreements already reached was the attitude of Greece and Turkey.

"The attitude of these countries has strengthened the feeling that for many reasons it might be better if Greece and Turkey could be treated separately from the European Recovery Program."

The countries of Europe, the pamphlet says, must recognize the "supreme importance of building a friendly association between the British Commonwealth and Western union.

"A Western union might enter into long-term trade agreements with the dominions to guarantee markets and stimulate production of goods otherwise obtainable only for dollars."



So You Thought We Were in the Lumber Business

★ Isn't it funny how ideas like that get around! Just because there is always some stock on our shelves, some lumber in our bins, and just because we mention these items from time to time in our ads . . . you just took it for granted that we were in the lumber business. In reality, it seems sometimes to us as if we were in a hundred other enterprises. A young man comes in and asks for counselling service as he formulates plans for a new home for himself and his bride.. A veteran is at a loss in interpretation of V.L.A. benefits as he prepares to remodel or build a home or business. Then there was the man and wife who couldn't agree on the house plan at all . . . brother, we even solved that one! And these people all visit us more and more regularly. They are our friends; we offer them any service at our command. Oh, you were right if you thought we were in the lumber business, but that's not all there is to it . . . we enjoy meeting new people, new families, so do call on us and come in and visit.

Displaced Persons In Canada

Thousands of D.P.'s have come to Canada to live, work and become Canadians. In general they are proving excellent and in general they are being well treated. There are exceptions. Some girls who have been given entry to do domestic or hospital work and some young men who have contracted to work on farms have made themselves disagreeable and done their work so poorly that their employers wish to get rid of them. These few have deliberately made themselves unwanted in the particular jobs because they want to break the contract they have made of staying at least a year on the job. They want to roam. Happily such cases are rare. There are, too, employers—particularly employers of domestic servants—who have treated the D.P.'s as chattels fit for the cellar. These unworthy employers are not numerous.

* * *

The shocking report is circulated by the Winnipeg Tribune that conditions in some Manitoba work camps which employ D.P.'s are inhuman. These camps must be investigated immediately, and if the accommodation, food and sanitary conditions are as bad as reported, they must be set right and the owners and operators of the camps severely penalized. Displaced persons are people. They are not to be treated callously and shamefully merely because they are under contract to stay on one job for a year and are perhaps ignorant of the regulations which permit them to ask for other jobs if conditions are not satisfactory. They are not to become slaves merely because they have nowhere else to go.

* * *

The report from Winnipeg is more shocking than even the conditions reported because it is exceptional to find D.P.'s who are not proving to be good and adaptable workers and employers of D.P.'s who are not treating their D.P. employees as well and kindly as they treat Canadian employees.

Who Is Using A Heater?

Ever since the news appeared that the use of an electric heater, except in a house where sickness makes it necessary, will be punished by a fine between $100 and $500, we have been wondering what means will be used to enforce such a law. Can the Hydro officials tell from the meter in a private house if an electric heater has been in use? We doubt it. And is it suggested that the police should search houses which are suspected of the illicit use of heaters? If so we are sure that the police will take the precaution of arming themselves with a search warrant, for otherwise the householder will be quite within his rights if he refuses to admit them. Frankly, we do not think that the police would like to be given the job of checking on heaters. It looks very much as though the law against heaters were unworkable.

In its attitude toward the public in the present crisis the authorities of Ontario Hydro have shown a tendency to use threats, and to adopt a bullying tone. We are convinced that this is unjustified in the case of fully ninety per cent. of the population. There are always people, of course, who will not co-operate, who try to cheat their fellow-citizens, and who take little heed of crises of any sort. But because a minority of such people exist, it is not necessary to treat the whole population as though it were of criminal character.

The greatest measure of co-operation in saving electric power will be achieved by requests, politely but urgently worded, and by explanations of the gravity of the power shortage. Obstreperous laws, which cannot be enforced, and heavy fines, which cannot be imposed, make a very bad impression on the owners of Hydro—the taxpayers of Ontario.

Pravda now asserts that a Russian scientist made an atom bomb back in 1889, but was too much of a gentleman to tell anyone. Of course the atom had not been split then, so we presume that he used the big, healthy, whole (or coarse-ground) sto

A Field-Marshal's Death

One of Germany's two most successful generals, Field-Marshal Walther von Brauchitsch died a prisoner on Tuesday. The other, Field Marshal von Rundstedt is in custody facing trial in Hamburg next January, along with Von Mannstein and Colonel-General Straus. Von Brauchitsch escaped this trial by the grace of coronary thrombosis.

Von Brauchitsch was Commander-in-Chief of the German Army from 1938 until December, 1941. He was a Prussian, the son of a general, a senior member of the German General Staff from 1932, a great practitioner of the art of war, a professional soldier rather than a Nazi. He with Von Rundstedt directed the brilliant campaigns in Poland, in the Low Countries and in France in the first two years of the war. For these exploits he was made a Field-Marshal by the grateful Hitler. In 1941 when Hitler insisted on the ill-fated winter attempt to capture Moscow against the advice of his commander-in-Chief, Von Brauchtisch resigned and Hitler assumed command of the German Army, which he relinquished only in a miserable bunker in Berlin in 1945.

Von Brauchtisch was one of the great generals of modern times. He made the mistake of supporting the Nazis and condoning their actions. He was also on the losing side. Therefore he and others of his rank have spent the years since 1945 ignominiously in prison. The western world must now be weary of the trials for war crimes. It should be disturbed that for three years men like Von Brauchtisch have been in detention without an end being put to their trials. Had the Germans won the war they would have dealt with Field Marshal Mentgomery and General Eisenhower more speedily, if more ruthlessly.

Do You Wear A Hat, Sir?

We have nothing against men's hats except when the wind blows. In fact, we are confirmed hat-wearer, for we have a notion that bare heads cause tawny hair and running noses. We object, however, to the advertising campaign the manufacturers of men's hats are now carrying on against hatless men. Their slogans in trams and buses shout at us: "All Successful Men Wear Hats". "The Loveliest Girls Love Men Who Wear Hats". "If You Want To Get On, Get A Hat". The signs are so pernicious that every time we saw one we cringed and slyly patted the crown of our head to make sure that it was chastely clad in felt or straw.

Once when reading one of these blasts we discovered to our horror that we had forgotten our hat. Everyone in the bus seemed to be staring at us, pointing his finger and saying: "Yah. Yah. You're a failure. No money, no girl, no hat". In dismay we jumped off the bus, ran to a hatters, and then pulled up short of his door when another slogan greeted us: "Are You A Man Or A Mouse?" We decided then and there that we would be a man and refuse to be badgered by mad hatters. Since then, whenever we see one of the hatters' shameful signs, we not only touch our hat but take it off—not out of respect to the cleverness of the advertising, but from sheer bravado. We refused to be humiliated by a sign.

T. H. Hooper

No name and no man in Peterborough stays in the memory of thousands of our people more pleasurably than T. H. Hooper, for Tom Hooper provided the sweets of life to three generations of Peterborough children. Men who are now grandfathers remember the shops deliciously aromatic with freshly-baked bread, the array of trays piled with cakes and currant buns, and their agonies of indecision in spending their penny. This time would it be the striped peppermint stick or the white stick wrapped in wax paper? On a hot summer's afternoon the busy baker and candymaker with his apron might himself scoop out the penny ice cream cone for the child.

It was not only in his shops that Mr. Hooper was associated with pleasure. There were the church fowl suppers, at which Mr. Hooper was much in demand because he could carve a turkey thinner and make it go farther and bigger than any man in the county. Then there were his lusty meals at the Hunt Club—fifty years of them—and the wedding parties and balls with Mr. Hooper at the buttery-hatch. No pleasanter and more modest and industrious a man ever frequented George Street than the T. H. Hooper whose death Monday night took from it its oldest familiar.

NOTE AND COMMENT

It appears that the tourist boom in Callander has collapsed. The Quints are just a memory, like the Floradora girls.

A writer on cooking says that every pie should be "dramatic". Up to now, of course, the only pie to make a place for itself in the drama has been the custard pie.

CANADIAN CAUSERIE

Cruelty And Criticism

By GEOFFREY VIVIEN

THERE is a story of a young Canadian writer to whom a friendly Editor gave some local book-reviewing to do. His first review was a forthright, slashing affair of two hundred words in which he cut up his author into as many pieces. The Editor stroked his chin doubtfully. "As a young writer in Canada" he observed at length "you can't afford to make enemies, you know." "As a young writer in Canada" came the answer "I can't even afford to make friends."

* * *

IT illustrates two of the main facts of Canadian literary life: the smallness of the rewards, and the strong tendency to deal with writers (and especially Canadian writers) as members of a cosy, well-mannered club. Of course there is a lot to be said for friendliness and good-fellowship among writers; and when one recalls the desolation that was wrought on Keats' gentle spirit by the Edinburgh Review's savage attack on his poetry, one is inclined to vote for the outlawing of all unfavourable criticism as too human a thing altogether, like bacteriological warfare. But this is to ignore the changes that literature has undergone since Keats. Writing is no longer a matter between a few cultured or spiteful souls, but an industry which devours our forests, and a habit which makes huge inroads into the treasury of human time. We have every right, therefore, to be at least as exacting with our writers as we are with our other purveyors: if they cannot reduce the wastefulness in their form of private enterprise to the level achieved in a comparable sphere of manufacturing (say, the camera and optical industry) then we should not be afraid to let criticism loose, to operate with all the cruel impartiality of an economical law.

* * *

THE necessity for strong, unshrinking criticism is unfortunately great in Canadian letters, since so much that is printed springs from that most fatal source, good intentions. "C'est avec les beaux sentiments qu'on fait la mauvaise litterature" wrote Andre Gide in his Journal during the recent war; which one might translate by Oscar Wilde's aphorism of fifty years earlier (perhaps Gide remembered it) "It is always with the best intentions that the worst work is done." I am not urging Canadian writers to plunge into introspection in the Russian manner or sex in the American. But I do suggest that our literature would gain in subtlety if for a while every writer had framed over his desk Norman Douglas' observation: "There is so much goodness in real life, do let us keep it out of our books." To which might be added a variant for the critic: 'There is so much fulsome flattery in real life do let us keep it out of our reviews."

* * *

THE main thing is that the critic forswears malice. This is much harder than one might suppose. Malicious joy is one of our earliest instruments of aggression ("Ha, ha, greedy, you've finished your ice-cream and I've still got half of mine!") and its methods undergo continuous refinement with growing intellectual power ("Mr. X talks of himself with great modesty — but without ceasing" writes Gide elsewhere in his Journal of 1940). It becomes like the latest poison gas—one is reluctant to abandon anything to which one has devoted so much time and trouble.

* * *

THE result of all this is the kind of merry battle which is curently being waged between the two noted American poets, Conrad Aiken and Randall Jarrell, following the unfavourable review that the latter gave to Conrad Aiken's new poem "The Kid". Keenly aware of the innate maliciousness of human nature, Aiken asks bitterly whether Jarrell is perhaps "condemned in advance to condemn in advance, and therefore to look with glee for faults about which he can be funny rather than with love for virtues which can be praised". To which Jarrell plays the classic gambit: "It is always hard for our poets to believe that one says their poems are bad not because one is a fiend but because their poems are bad." So devastingly true—when it is true. But how often is that—where is the borderline between pithy good sense and malicious comment? When the eminent dramatic critic George Jean Nathan observes of the playwright Maxwell Anderson that he "enjoys all the attributes of a profound thinker save profundity"—is that wisdom or a wisecrack?

* * *

THE business of honest criticism is certainly full of troubles. But if we want Canadian literature to flourish we must recognize the fact that squeamish criticism is often the most dishonest kind and in the long run disastrous. This hard doctrine has just landed one of our more aggressive "little" magazines, the "Northern Review", into a spot of editorial bother, the occasion being a particularly fierce review of Robert Finch's "Poems", winner of the Governor-General's award for poetry last year. Not a very appropriate subject to have picked on as a beginning.... Yes, a troublesome business.

Unconsidered Trifles

In a bus was a dignified man carrying a pair of women's shoes. He had evidently collected them from the repair shop, and was taking them home to his wife. But he had forgotten to supply his own packing material.

A man opposite was interested. Finally he leaned over, tapped the dignified one on the knee, and said with a knowing wink: "Not letting 'er gad about, eh, guv'nor?"

A bishop was accosted in a railway carriage by a reveller, who said:

"You think you know everything, but I'll tell you two things you don't know."

"Very likely," said the bishop. "What are they?"

"I'm your cook's husband and I'm wearing your shirt."

Letters To The Editor

BUTTER, BUTTER, WHO'S GOT THE BUTTER?

Sir: Your almost nostalgic editorial on "The Good Old Butter Days" seems to point with pride to the position, as outlined in your editorial columns 10 years ago, when there was plenty of this precious stuff, and when "First grade creamery butter was selling in Peterborough at 24 cents a pound."

Not being in this butter-making business, I am wondering how the primary producers felt in those 'good old butter days', and what their share of that 24-cent topgrade product amounted to?

My hometown paper, dealing also with this butter problem, points out the approximate average return to a farmer for a hundred pounds of milk, when used for various purposes thus: Fluid Milk, $4.02; Ice Cream, $3.17; Condensories, etc., $2.97; Fluid Cream, $2.95; Cheese, $2.70; and Butter, $2.55.

Obviously, butter trails the field, and even an urban reader can read between the lines of the above table, one of the basic causes for our butter shortage?

However, to get the complete picture, so far as I am concerned, another 'table' should be placed under the spotlight; i.e., one showing the tonnages of the nation's aggregate milk supply going, respectively, into the above consumption channels? If we could be given these additional figures, then we would be getting the picture into a fair focus. If 'butter' requirements are of such transcendant importance as they seem to be—even going to the risk of irreparable damage to the dairying industry to supply same, or an acceptable substitute for same—I would like to see a priority system inaugurated, under which the needs of so vital a necessity get appropriate precedence over industrial luxuries, processed from the same cream-flow?

"ORDERLY MARKETING".

INCONSIDERATE AND CRUEL PET-KEEPERS

Sir: A resident from near Kendry was telling me that city people are too fond of dumping their unwanted pets near his farm, and other farms. A short time ago a police pup was deserted on the highway, and straightway it adopted him. In one of its playful moods it killed one of his geese and then, he said, he brought the pup in to Mr. Dunford, with thanks.

Just the other day a cat with a litter of half-grown kittens was deserted at his gate.

What a despicable act to dump what you don't want on a neighbour, near or far. Urban dwellers are not climbing any higher in estimation of the surrounding community by their inclination to steal rail-fences from side roads, as well as other sundries. Another deplorable habit!

Dogs in town belonging to so-called exemplary citizens who let their pets loose for exercise are no less a nuisance; for where do the pets run? To their neighbours' porch chairs where pools are left. And the owners think themselves justified when they declare their dogs do no harm. But how would they like our dogs to do likewise?

Will some one please explain the mentality of such people?

TALLY-HO

SHERBROOKE STREET AND PLANNERS

Sir: I am amazed that any one would even think of routing traffic on Sherbrooke Street, surely they never gave it a second thought.

In the first place you have the Prince of Wales School with little children at all hours. There are so many kindergarten pupils that the class is divided half in the morning and half in the afternoon so there are small children going and coming from 9 a.m. till 4 p.m.

In the first block west of George St. it is up grade all the way, you can't get a start until you land at Aylmer, a through street. Just get started again when you have the railroad tracks with engines always shunting traffic is held up from 5 to 10 minutes, if you are lucky.

Next Stewart and Rubidge, both through streets, then the most dangerous crossing in the city, Reid, Park and Sherbrooke. After this, all up hill to High Street, then sharp down grade to Highway 28, another dangerous crossing as you must cross the highway to cut in and there is always a line of traffic here.

How in the name of common sense are you going to get the heavily loaded trucks to take this route with all the through streets to cross? When all they have to do is drop down to Lansdowne to Highway No. 7 and can go right out without having to avoid the heavy traffic and continual stops.

I wonder if you would be kind enough to publish the names of the men who are on this Town Planning Committee so we can all know who they are. Personally I think they should be property holders. It seems to me they were very lax to allow three large gasoline tanks to be installed at the corner of Sherbrooke and Stewart Streets in a residential district enough to blow up the whole town.

There are people who have lived here 40 and 50 years who have helped to build this town that really care something for this street and what is done with it.

Yours truly,
MARJORY REID.

A Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still.

And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last. (Rev. 22: 11-13.)

Now this I say, brethren, that flesh and blood cannot inherit the kingdom of God; neither doth corruption inherit incorruption.

Behold, I shew you a mystery: We shall not all sleep, but we shall all be changed, in a moment, in the twinkling of an eye, at the last trump: for the trumpet shall sound, and the dead shall be raised incorruptible, and we shall be changed.

For this corruptible must put on incorruption, and this mortal must put on immortality. (1 Cor. 15: 50-53.)

I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service.

And be not conformed to this world: but be ye transformed by the renewing of your mind, that ye may prove what is that good, and acceptable, and perfect, will of God. (Rom. 12: 1, 2.)

Plan Full Dress Ceremonial At Parliament

By JAMES McCOOK

LONDON, Oct. 20 — (CP). — Parliament opens Oct. 26 with a full-dress ceremonial, a warm prelude to the hard-fisted debate which is certain in the months ahead.

Instead of the relaxation hard-driven members of parliament hoped for in the later years of the present parliament, they are faced with a new rush of controversial legislation.

Both Labor government and Conservative opposition enter the fray with new zest. The general election is two years away and battle lines are now being drawn for the contest.

To open the new session, the King, wearing his crown for the first time in 10 years, will be surrounded by officials, ministers and soldiers in bright uniforms or formal dress. Then the parliamentarians will get down to sterner tasks.

1. The government will introduce a controversial bill to nationalize the iron and steel industry.

Steel Corporation

The bill is expected to authorize the government to acquire interests in firms and create a steel corporation. The extent of proposed government interference in the actual operation of the industry is uncertain, for the iron and steel industry is generally looked on as efficiently managed

2. Both houses of parliament will be asked to agree to a judicial inquiry into alleged irregularities at the board of trade, following Scotland Yard investigations. J. W. Belcher, parliamentary secretary to the board, has been given leave from his official duties at his own request until the inquiry is concluded.

3. The Commons is again expected to pass—for the third time—the parliament bill to reduce from two years to one the Lords' power to veto Commons' legislation.

4. Extension of compulsory military service for men called up in 1940 and now liable for one year's duty is in prospect. This is likely to stir up opposition from some back-bench Laborites who dislike conscription in any form.

5. There will be more harmony on a bill to reorganize civil defences in the light of the uncertain world situation. This measure probably will be given priority in thte government program.

Nazis Chosen To Head Police Force

LONDON, Oct. 20.—(Reuters) —An authoritative report received here confirms that returned German prisoners of war from Russia are being recruited into the Soviet zone German police force in a drastic reorganization scheme due to be completed by the end of this month.

The same report states it is correct that the new police force is officered by members of the Free German committee, led by Field Marshal Friedrich von Paulus, who was captured during the attack on Stalingrad.

The report quotes the Communist president of the Soviet zone central administration of the interior as saying that the recent purge of the police in Eastern Germany now is complete and that the force will be brought up to full strength by May 1.

He is reported to have added that the aim of the reorganization is to provide an efficiently trained striking force which can be relied upon to maintain order and security and to take over various duties from the occupying powers.

The returned prisoners are said to be in training at a police school at Brandenburg, in the Soviet zone, to be armed with tommy guns and pistols and to be receiving infantry training.

The Soviet zone force is reliably said to include political police, frontier police, garrison police and factory guards.

Since the latest purge, believed to have begun last June, all members of these forces are understood to have undergone political indoctrination.

These reports have increased speculation in diplomatic quarters here on whether the strengthening of the eastern zone police foreshadows a Soviet proposal that all occupation forces should be withdrawn from Germany, similar to the proposal recently made to the United States in connection with Korea.

WHAT RUGBY IS TO CANADIANS, soccer is to the British. While we're rooting for our favorite team to win the Grey Cup, emblematic of supremacy in Canadian football, the English, Scotch and Irish are cheering for their soccer heroes. This is an action-packed moment in a recent soccer game at Highbury, London, between the Arsenal, last year's champions of the first division of the English league, and Burnley, the Lancashire squad. It was Burnley's first match without their crack centre half, Alan Brown, just transferred to Notts County. Here, Bryn Jones (dark shirt in the middle) is trying to force a path between the Burnley full backs. Jones will be remembered as the high priced Welshman who was bought by Arsenal just before the last war. Arsenal won this game with Burnley 3 to 1.

Two More Injuries

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP). — Two more backfield injuries Tuesday night sent the stock of Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four football league still further into the doldrums. Sonny Colvin received what was believed to be a chipped hip bone in Tuesday night's practice session and rookie Dave West went into hospital for observation. Coach Ted Morris said West had apparently hurt his head last Saturday and had been "walking around in a daze."

AT THE BROCK TONIGHT the question for the wrestling fans is "Will Wild Bill Longson un-mask the Masked Marvel?" The former champion of the world is confident he can turn the trick and is openly bragging to that effect. Certainly if anyone can beat the elusive Unknown, Longson should have one of the best chances. But the Mask is plenty sharp. In any case it is expected the bout will be a rough and spectacular one for the fans to watch. Big Ben Morgan meets Pat Flanagan and Ben Sharpe (shown above) goes in against George Becker.

Teepees Sweep 2nd Period Down Barrie Flyers 4-2

By The Canadian Press

The league-leading St. Catharines Teepees scored four goals in 12 minutes of the second period Tuesday night to defeat the 1947 eastern champion Barrie Flyers 4-2 in an Ontario Hockey Association junior game at St. Catharines.

In another junior tilt, Galt Rookets moved into a four-way second-place tie when they nosed out Toronto Marlboros 4-3 at Galt.

Owen Sound Mercurys pulled out of cellar position in the OHA senior loop by swamping the visiting Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen 7-3.

Following a scoreless first period, St. Catharines rallied and counted on goals by Don Evans, Tom Buck, Fred Hildenbrand and Bill Altoft. George Sullivan got two assists. Despite a two-goal effort by shifty Gord Pennell, Barrie was unable to overcome the powerful Teepees' lead.

Rockets, who lost two of their games to St. Catharines last week, counted four times in the first and second periods before Marlies tallied on Moe Galand's close-in shot. Toronto rallied in the third stanza with goals by Bill MacArthur and Murray Grenke but found the margin too great.

Not Much Trouble

Led by Bruno Favero, with two goals, Owen Sound had things pretty much their own way, blasting in seven counters before the Flying Dutchmen answered.

Other marksmen for Mercurys were: Jack Ingoldsby, Mike Shabaga, Murray Fife, Doug Gillespie and Bummer Doran.

In the final 10 minutes of regulation time, Don Bauer, Trent Anderson and Art Hurst tallied for the Dutchmen.

Oshawa Generals meet Stratford Kroehlers at Stratford while Windsor Spitfires play host to Guelph Biltmores in tonight's junior bill.

Coach Joe Primeau looks for better things from his cellar-dwelling Toronto Marlboros when they play Hamilton Tigers tonight at Hamilton in the only senior game slated.

Primeau attributes Marlies poor showing Monday when they dropped a 3-1 decision to Stratford Indians to lack of practice and competition. Joe is satisfied his boys will show a vast improvement "when they get in shape."

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor

A fine old gentleman and sportsman died here yesterday and a lot of folks are going to miss Tom Hooper. Last time we saw him was at the Petes' final ball game a month or so back. He wasn't in the best of health then but there he stood as close as he could to the players' bench and followed play closely and happily. He was like that, a keen fan who loved his sports. Took part in some in later years, too, like lawn bowling and curling, and was a long-time hunter. But it was Mr. Hooper's enthusiasm for everything and his enjoyment of life, reflected in his ever-present smile, that one will always recall.

* * * * * *

Some 60 canvassers started out Monday to raise funds to pay for the Civic Arena, and by tonight there should be 100 on the job. Even so, some folks will be missed and 'tis hoped they send in donations, too. It is a community project with the rink being turned over to the city when it's paid for, and a lot of people deriving use of the building. The place is all finished on the outside, walls and roofing up, windows in, water and sewers in, also, and just some inside work to be finished up within the next few weeks. It'll be a good natural ice rink for now, and later will likely have artificial ice. And it will always be a fine, necessary secondary rink as the city grows and the Memorial Centre takes shape.

* * * * * *

Only Half Paid For

Okay, but it's only half paid for yet, and this week has been set aside for the big drive for funds to clean up the debt. Everyone, but particularly hockey players, skaters, fans and parents of young pucksists, should do their share with a cash offering right away. It is certainly worth something for players and fans, especially, to see and play good OHA hockey in a covered rink in the city again. Just getting away from late, tiresome trips on cold nights with the danger of icy highways, careless drivers, etc., is definitely worth money, eh? And many fans, who wouldn't make these trips, can see their favorite game again. With a building available for other uses, too.

* * * * * *

The hustling Civic Arena executive banked on Peterborough people's support. Unlike the Memorial Centre setup, where the money was raised but not the building, the Civic Arena has been built before enough money is available. But that isn't stupid in this case. They felt it would never be built if everyone sat on his hands—they went out and got it started, and they felt folks here wouldn't let them down. We feel their confidence isn't misplaced and that sufficient do-re-mi will be forthcoming. But this is the week, folks, and this little message is directed to you. How about it?

* * * * * *

Right Big Of Him, Eh?

An item in the Windsor paper says: "Sterlings' Manager Bud Clinansmith, after denying strenuously that his lacrosse club had defaulted the title series to Peterborough, said: 'They can keep their trophy, anyway, it's only a challenge cup and besides we're sick of the way the playoffs have been handled.' Clinansmith stated that the Levack Trophy was already in the possession of the Peterborough club before the series opened and he presumed it would remain with them in view of the incompletion of the series. But he pointed out 'we certainly didn't default'." Thanks for nothing, chum.

* * * * * *

Same article gives Manager Doug Miller's side. "This comes as a big surprise to me," he said. "We won the first game 16-10 Friday night and actually could have doubled it. Windsor, at the meeting we had on Saturday night, admitted they did not have a chance, and —with rain forcing cancellation of the game that night and the weather not looking any too good for a game on Monday—the Windsor boys went home quite satisfied with the financial settlement we had made with them. They were satisfied to call the whole thing off," the Peterborough manager said. "For them to think they had a chance of winning is absolutely ridiculous." Which is telling them.

On The Gridiron Front

While the time of the Lindsay-PCVS junior grid game here Saturday still isn't clear, we're told that the rugby twin bill at the Oval on Saturday will have Orillia against the ORFU Panthers at 1.15, followed at three o'clock by Albert College vs. the senior PCI-ers in a four-point game. With St. Peter's juniors going to Lakefield. The senior COSSA group standing is in elsewhere. Seems PCVS seniors and the Panthers worked out an agreement for the week-end twin bill here, figuring out the gate on a percentage basis. It will be the tastiest grid dish served here so far this football semester.

Stratford Kroehlers Tuesday again refused to release George Armstrong to the Toronto Maple Leafs farm system.

Their decision deadlocked the dispute over the junior, who played with Kroehlers last year and this year signed a Form "C," committing himself to play with the Leafs.

He said he wanted to play another year in junior hockey and the Leafs assigned him to Toronto Junior Marlboros. Kroehlers said they would not release him to play with another junior teams.

The deadlock continued after a conference Tuesday at Stratford between Staff Smythe, son of Leafs managing director Conn Smythe, and president J. H. Wyatt and manager D. M. Pinkney of Kroehlers.

Smythe previously said Armstrong would play in the Leafs system this year or not at all.

Joe Louis changed his mind Tuesday and said he will defend his heavyweight championship again next June.

The Brown Bomber said "definnitely" when he announced his decision to reporters Tuesday afternoon. First he had conferred with Mike Jacobs, president of the 20th Century Sporting Club, and Harry Markson, recently appointed managing director of the fight promotional outfit.

The site will be Yankee Stadium and the opponent likely will be Ezzard Charles, Joe Baksi or Lee Savold.

Murray Hayes, fleet-footed backfielder for McGill Redmen, was chosen as the football candidate for the "outstanding athlete award" for 1948-49 at a meeting in Montreal of the Quebec Rugby Football Union Tuesday night. Meyer Insky, ORFU president, said Hayes' name will be submitted along with those of other athletes to the Board which meets later this year to choose the outstanding athlete.

Jack Shewchuk, former Boston Bruin defence player and more latterly of the St. Louis Flyers, has signed to play with the Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen, it was announced at Brantford Tuesday. At one time it was planned that the Flyers would put a Junior "B" hockey club in Brantford with Jack in charge of the organization, but this did not materialize.

The Quebec branch of the Amateur Athletic Union at its annual meeting at Montreal renamed Gordon Young of Montreal as president and nominated marathoner Gerard Cote of St. Hyacinthe as the division's choice for the Norton H. Crowe memorial trophy, to be awarded the man judged as Canada's outstanding athlete.

The daily double, absent from New York race tracks for the last three years, will be returned with the start of the 1949 season, it was announced Tuesday at New York. Officials of five New York Racing Associations decided officially to restore the pool which has paid as high as $4,313.90 for a $2 bet.

Manager Frank Boucher of New York Rangers said early to-day that Buddy O'Connor and Frank Eddolls have no contract worries. They had signed contracts with Rangers just a few days after they reported to the team's Saranac Lake, NY, training camp last fall, he told the Canadian Press. He was commenting on a report by sports columnist Dan Parker of the New York Daily Mirror, who said O'Connor and Eddolls might not be on the Rangers payroll because they had not signed contracts before they were injured in an automobile accident October 8.

THE HAMILTON TIGERS walloped the Sarnia Imperials 37-6 in a game played at Hamilton, to clinch first place in the ORFU. The Tigers haven't lost a game thtis season, and it looks as though they won't enter the defeat coloumn at all. In the action shot above, Weiss (9) of Sarnia was in the clear until Bloomingdale of Tigers, hidden by Weiss, caught up with him and brought him down. Also in the picture are McLean (23) of the Imperials, and Aull (17) of the Tigers. Frankie Filchuck's Tigers are the only unbeaten team in Eastern Canada football.

At Mexico City, Frank Parker, former United States tennis champion, was forced to the limit Tuesday to defeat Henri Rochon, Canada's No. 1 ace, 8-6, 12-10, 6-2 in the Pan-American tennis tournament. Richard Gozales, United States singles champion, downed Brendan Macken, Canada's No. 2 player, 6-1, 6-0, 6-2. Both Rochon and Macken are of Montreal.

Bearden Heads Home

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP). Gene Bearden, Cleveland Indians' pitcher, left by plane Tuesday night for Poplar Bluff, Mo., where a series of misfortunes befell his family.

He said he will return to pitch against Satchel Paige, also of Cleveland, in an exhibition game here Sunday.

His father, Henry Bearden, contracted pneumonia while attending the recent World Series which Gene help the Indians to win; his 20-months-old son became ill Tuesday, and last night the elder Bearden's apartment was damaged by fire and Gene's mother was in hospital with shock.

Grid Standings

Inter-District COSSA senior standing:

	P	W	L	P
PCVS	2	2	0	6
Oshawa	2	1	1	4
Albert College	1	1	0	2
Belleville	3	0	3	0

October 24, Albert College at PCVS (4 points).

Four of the eight league games have been played, with three of the remaining four the "crucial" type. One of these is here this Saturday afternoon at the Oval when Albert College comes to play PCVS for double points. Should PCVS win Saturday a playoff spot, either first or second, would be assured. Should Albert win Saturday, PCVS would have to win in Oshawa October 30 to be sure of a playoff berth.

Last year's 13-0 thriller won by PCVS over Albert was quite the hardest hitting game of the local high school season. With this year's return game in Belleville also to be decided in this one game Saturday, the thrills will be doubled. It is expected the PCVS-Albert College game will follow the Orillia-Panther intermediate ORFU game, so a great afternoon for football-minded Peterborough is in store.

Belleville Loop Rejects Petes

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 20 — At a meeting in Belleville Memorial Arena last night, Eddie Schrieder was elected president of the Belleville and District Hockey League. Alderman Claude Tice was named vice-president, while George Carver, also of Belleville, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

There was considerable discussion as to the number of teams to be allowed in the loop, with some quarters favoring an eight-team set-up. Others were of the opinion six would provide better hockey. This was left to discretion of the incoming executive.

Five of last season's clubs — Belleville Rocket Juniors, Trenton RCAF Flyers, Trenton Hockey Club, Napanee Legion, and Cobourg — were accepted. Northern Electric and CNR also have made application. October 22 was set as the final date for entries.

It is expected double-headers be played Tuesday and Thursdays for the first four finishers entering the playdowns. Both Peterborough Petes and Peterborough Legion hockey clubs had signified their intention of affiliating with the local loop, but their entries were rejected.

Black Hawks Seeking 1st NHL Victory

By The Canadian Press

Chicago Black Hawks tonight hunt their first National Hockey league victory of the season. They tangle with Dit Clapper's Boston Bruins, winners of their only start this year, in Boston.

Meanwhile, Toronto Maple Leafs will be en route to Montreal, hoping to break the Forum jinx. Montreal Canadiens have not lost a home game to Leafs since last Christmas night.

Detroit Red Wings, currently atop the league, are idle until Sunday when they play host to the Leafs.

The fortunes of Bill Tobin's Hawks so far have failed to improve since Tobin settled the Emile Francis-Al Rollins fight for the goalkeeping job by giving it to Sugar Jim Henry. They dropped the opener at Detroit 3-1 and were pasted 8-2 by Canadiens in their second game.

Boston beat Toronto 4-1 in their first game.

The injury-plagued New York Rangers breathed a sigh of relief yesterday when Buddy O'Connor came out of hospital. But he won't skate for at least another 10 days.

O'Connor—who broke a rib in an auto accident Oct. 8 along with five other Rangers—will rest at his Ville La Salle, Que., home. Frank Eddolls still is in hospital with a severed tendon from the crash.

Rangers eked out a 1-1 tie with Montreal in their first game, lost 7-0 to Detroit in the second.

Leafs won only one game against Canadiens in the Forum last year—a 3-0 shutout Christmas night.

Wants To Get Rid Of $1,300,000

DETROIT, Oct. 20 —(AP)—A new type of give-away specialist is L. L. Laing. He wants to get rid of $1,300,000.

The money Laing is trying to pass out is not his own, either.

He was picked by a federal court to supervise the refunding of $12,300,000 to natural-gas users in 10 Michigan cities.

The funds became available when the court made a retroactive cut in gas rates charged by the Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Company to Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, Consumers Power Company and other Michigan firms.

The court further ordered that householders and other actual users of the gas should get the money.

Laing, after figuring out a fair system of distribution, has returned about $11,000,000 to more than 154,000 users.

The remainder is due to persons who used gas between the fall of 1942 and the end of September, 1945.

Laing thinks many of them have long since moved to other parts of the country and he is engaged in a one-man campaign to locate them so he can distribute the windfall.

Ban Murder Thriller

SEATTLE, Oct. 20 — (AP). — Seattle's theatre censor board Tuesday banned showing of the murder thriller "Rope." Chairman Bernard Reiter said principal objections were that it was not apparent enough the guilty are punished for their crime and it does not seem a proper picture "for children and for impressionable adults."

King Edward Gets South End Final

King Edward junior soccer eleven eliminated Confederation in the final game of the south-end section 1-0, at King Edward park, Tuesday afternoon. King Edward is now waiting the winner of the north section which has a 5-team schedule with many postponed tilts to be decided. Both elevens were very erratic in front of goal. Repeatedly Confederation would break through but lacked finish. Just before the interval, D. Sutherland, King Edward, gained a nice goal on a pass from Pagett. King Edward went on the defensive for the remainder of this half to hold Confederation scoreless.

Confederation—D. Goldie, goal; G. Putman and D. Sloan, fullbacks; P. Wright, M. Parry and R. Bolton, half-backs; B. Floyd. J. F. Rose, P. Bryan, S. Pierton and J. Chesher, forwards. Subs, T. Manley, D. Dolman.

King Edward — R. Halcrow, goal; G. Hunt and R. Rhode, fullbacks; P. Dugan, J. Smith, G. Pagett, half-backs; D. Sutherland, J. Sutherland, N. Johnston, A. McArther and A. Curtis, forwards. Subs, V. Smyth, R. Lauchlan, R. Tarkington and F. Rusaw.

Referee—J. Barnard.

Revolver Seized

Leonard Foster, 549 Romaine St., was fined $20 and $2.50 costs when he pleaded guilty today in court to a charge of possession of an unregistered revolver. The court ordered confiscation of the revolver as well as the fine. The charge was laid by Provincial Police.

SYMBOL OF WELCOME

In ancient China, when a guest entered a home he was given a leather glove as a symbol of welcome.

Cleveland Pitcher Don Black Around

CLEVELAND, Oct. 20 (AP).—With a grin that looks a lot like old times, Don Black, Cleveland Indians pitcher, says he will be released from hospital Sunday.

He has been in bed nearly six weeks with a brain hemorrhage suffered during a game with St. Louis Browns.

Whether Black will be able to slip back into uniform and pitch for the Indians next year still is in doubt. One physician advises him to try it, another says no.

So this is the course he will take:

"I am going to take it easy until spring. Then I'll come back here to the hospital for a thorough check-up. If everything is all right, I'll go to Tucson (where the Indians train), and take a whack at it.

Financially, Black did pretty well toward the end of the season. He collected around $40,000 from a Don Black Night held by the Indians and his full share of the World Series money.

THE BRITISH national flight shooting championships were held recently at Sandown Park, London, by the Royal Toxophilite society. Here Miss Heather Loftus, of Tingewick Hall, Buckingham, "looses" an arrow during the flight shoot open contest.

Adanacs, Tigers Close Tonight For Mann Cup

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP).—With the Mann Cup riding on every goal, New Westminster Adanacs and Hamilton Tigers clash to-night for the Canadian senior lacrosse championship.

It is the final game of the best-of-five series now squared at two games each. On the basis of play in their four previous games there seems little to choose between the two clubs each has scord 38 goals.

Both teams will be nursing injuries when they face off in Toronto's Maple Leaf Gardens.

Adanacs, defending champions, probably will be without first-string quartette centre Jack Douglas. It's a toss-up whether the high-scoring Tommy Love will be able to dress with Tigers.

Douglas aggravated an ankle injury in Monday night's game, and made a brief jaunt to hospital yesterday for treatment.

Hamilton Manager Alex McPherson said he was not sure if Love could make the grade, but Al Doyle's foot injury had improved enough to let him play. Doyle missed Monday's game.

New Westminster won the first two games of the series, 11-6 and 13-11. Hamilton roared back to take the next two 12-7 and 9-7.

"We need some shooting practice judging by Monday night's performance," Coach Ken MacDonald of New Westminster said. "Our passing was off in the last game, too, but we hope to get it in shape for an all-out try in the final."

McPherson said a couple more Tigers were "on the limp."

"We won't know until they are all together in the dressing-room who will and who will not be available."

TRY FOR RECORD

FULLERTON, Calif. — Dick Reidel and Bill Barris took off Tuesday in their tiny monoplane "Sunkist Lady," in an attempt to break the 726 hour endurance flight record set in 1939. They plan to stay aloft until Dec. 7, completing 1,008 hours.

GOLF EXPERTS describe this 18-year-old golfer as the best prospect for links fame in many years. He is Peter Thomson of Melbourne, Australia, who won his first club championship at 15 and has been winning consistently ever since. He recently outplayed the well-known Jim Ferrier.

Wales Building Big New Steel Industry

By MICHAEL O'MARA

MARGAM, Glamorganshire, Wales, Oct. 20.—(CP).—A dream is coming true along the once-desolate salt flats of this seacoast area.

The biggest single unit in Wales' revived steel industry— and the biggest capital steel undertaking ever erected in Europe—will be in full production of 1951, turning firms in the area to carry through construction and start the hot metal rolling from the furnaces.

The work will cost nearly £60,000,000 ($240,000,000). Of this the parent companies have put up £10,000,000. The Finance Corporation for Industry (backed by the Bank of England and other banking and insurance houses), £35,000,000, and the general public £15,000,000—of which £4,000,000 was raised by open subscription, the other £11,000,000 underwritten by investment concerns.

Seven thousand workmen now swarm over the 560-acre site, shifting 4,500,000 cubic yards of sand dune, slag heap and marsh muck to level the land where the enormous plant will stand. Meantime, buidings are going up already and docks are being laid.

Staggering statistics are a dime-a-dozen at Margam. Just one: when the plant is in production there will be considerably more than 100 miles of railway line operating within it.

Much of the original plannning and most of tthe day-to-day supervision of the work is in the hands of W. F. Cartwright, general manager of the company's steel division.

Supports Truman

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP).—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt has written President Truman: "I am unqualifiedly for you as the Democratic candidate for presidency." Mrs. Roosevelt wrote the president Oct. 4 from Paris where she is attending the United Nations Assembly sessions. The White House made public her letter Tuesday.

R. D. Fraser Dies

GODERICH, Oct. 20—(CP)—Reginald Donald Fraser for many years superintendent of public works for the Dominion Government at the local harbor died suddenly Tuesday. A son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fraser he was born in this district.

AFTER THE HUSTLE-BUSTLE of a U.S. nation-wide campaign, it's kind of nice to have a day off, even if it is only a temporary pause. It is doubly gratifying to Governor Thomas E. Dewey and Mrs. Dewey that they could spend some time with the Republican presidential candidate's mother, Mrs. George Dewey, in Owasso, Mich., where Dewey was brought up before he went to New York. Here are the candidate and his wife as they sat down to a home-cooked meal.

German Question Being Studied

LONDON, Oct. 20—(CP)—The Commonwealth Prime Ministers' meeting today examined European questions, including Western Union and Germany with defence experts present as advisers.

This discussion had been delayed until the arrival of Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, acting Justice Minister, who replaced the ailing Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

Far East and other foreign policy matters not of direct interest to Canada were reviewed by the meeting before the Canadian representative arrived last week.

Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain today discussed the European situation reviewing the troubles in Germany and other problems.

St. Laurent, known to other delegates as an advocate of mutual security pacts within the United Nations, is expected to take a prominent part in the discussions.

C.G.E. Wins Horticultural Award For Most Attractive Premises

Canadian General Electric Company is the winner this year of the Horticultural Society's award of honor for the most attractive premises among the industries of the city.

"At this time we also extend our appreciation to the Western Clock Co. for their magnificent floral display centred in a natural display," Mr. W. C. Wilks, secretary, reports. "We also wish to make special mention of the splendid rockery the Quaker Oats Company has developed on the east side of the river, and north of the Hunter St. bridge. This is a fine improvement and addition to the expanse of park on both sides of the bridge."

"De Laval Company is showing a real interest in horticulture and should have their new lawn completed next year. They are interested in beautification in that section of the city in the neighborhood of King Edward Park. Canada Packers Limited are contributing to George St. with their perennial border and flower beds, helping to screen the incinerator and its unsightly surroundings. Peterborough Lumber Company is not neglecting the appearance of their property, and have accomplished something florally worth while with their green grass and flowering annuals against the white background which they keep painted."

Example To Community

Mr. Wilks said that the Horticultural Society fully recognizes the example the manufacturers of Peterborough are helping to set to the community as a whole.

"Canadian General Electric Company had a very fine display of flower beds in contrasting colors this summer. The perfect condition of their lawns was something to marvel at. The whole scheme reflected much credit on those who were responsible for this big undertaking."

"Mr. John Weall of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph, in viewing our scenic drive, was especially impressed by the comparative absence of unsightly billboards and the beauty and neatness of our factories and their grounds. In his remarks he said that during his travels he had nowhere witnessed the same degree of pride in factory surroundings which he had seen here."

"The Horticultural Society hopes to have a permanent trophy for our factory branch, to be awarded annually to the factory showing the most improvement in one year. This will give smaller factories an equal chance with the larger establishments."

Births, Marriages Down

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 — (CP). — Births and marriages in Canada are decreasing while deaths are on the increase, the bureau of statistics reported Tuesday in the first of a new series of monthly reports covering vital statistics for all sections of the country. The report showed 6.1 per cent fewer births registered in offices of provincial registrars during the first half of 1948 than in the similar period of 1947. Marriages declined by 8.2 per cent while deaths rose three per cent.

MAJOR-GENERAL F. F. (Fighting Frank) Worthington of Vancouver, one of Canada's outstanding soldiers who has been given the job of co-ordinating the dominion's civilian defence planning as special adviser to Rt. Hon. Brooke Claxton, minister of natsional defence, is photographed here with Mr. Claxton. Announcement of the new appointment was made by Mr. Claxton on Oct. 19.

BORDERLINE ANEMIA*
can tire you out and wear you down!

If your face is pale and your manner listless—if you're tired most of the time—if you're only enjoying life halfway—the reason may be a blood condition. You may have a Borderline Anemia, a mild anemia due to a nutritional deficiency of iron.

Yes, the red cells in your blood may be too puny and pale and weak to transmit full energy to every muscle and fibre and tissue of your body. Many women—many men and children, too—go dragging their weary way through every day with this tiring Borderline Anemia.

How Ironized Yeast Tablets Build Up Your Blood and Vigor

If this Borderline Anemia is threatening your energy and healthy good looks, take Ironized Yeast Tablets. They are formulated to help build up faded red blood cells to healthy color and size—to help restore your vigor.

Of course, continuing tiredness and pallor may come from other conditions. Always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, take Ironized Yeast Tablets to help build up your blood! Then your energy and color can come surging back! Then you can get some fun out of life again!

THIS HUNGARIAN PARTRIDGE, held by Grace Mound, daughter of the manager of the Ontario Government's bird farm at Normandale, is from the first lot of wild Hungarian partridges captured in the Ottawa district. Navy Skeptical Of Hydro Plan

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(CP). — The navy was a trifle skeptical today about a suggestion by Robert Saunders, Ontario Hydro commissioner, that Canadian warships might be anchored off power-short ports and used to augment the province's power supply.

"Ships," Mr. Saunders was quoted as saying in an interview at Terrace Bay, Ont., Tuesday, "have plenty of power and you can imagine what a tremendous help an aircraft carrier would be. We already have looked into the possibility of making use of the freighters tied up idle in Toronto all winter but have found it impractical."

The navy thought the idea impractical too.

"Quite apart from the idea of aircraft carriers," one official said, "the largest RCN ship we could get through the canals into the Great Lakes would be one of our Algerine minesweepers. Algerine minesweepers are the smallest ships we've got, and they have so little power margin they wouldn't be of much use to anybody."

J. G. NOTMAN, O.B.E. of Montreal, who was elected president of The Canadian Industrial Preparedness Association at a meeting held in Montreal. During World War II he was Assistant Co-ordinator of Production at the Department of Munition and Supply, working in a voluntary capacity.

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP). — All of the Ontario government's organizations serving veterans are to be brought together in one building—the Ontario veterans centre on downtown Jarvis street here, it was learned Tuesday.

11,000 More Buying Bonds

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(CP).—Series Three of Canada Saving Bonds—the peacetime successor to Victory Bonds—show purchases through the payroll savings plan amounting to $15,380,100, compared with $12,906,800 at the same date last year, the Bank of Canada announnced Tuesday.

Payroll savings indicate purchases from 78,007 individuals, an increase of more than 11,000 over the number of employee purchases at the same date last year. Average purchase is $197.16 compared with $193.32.

Highlights of early returns include sales to railway employees totalling $1,992,200— an increase of nearly $1,000,000 over sales at the same time in the Series Two offering.

A total of $1,066,850 have been contracted for by civil service employees, an increase of more than $500,000. In the sales by provinces, Ontario leads with an increase of more than $1,000,000 in sales through the payroll savings plan.

BIG EXPORT ITEM

More than $3,500,000 worth of telecommunications equipment is exported from Britain each month it is estimated.

Want Golf Courses Made Easier

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 — (CP) — D. Leo Dolan, director of the government's travel bureau, suggested Tuesday that golf courses in national parks be altered so that "duffers like myself" could get around without too much trouble.

The suggestion was made during Tuesday's sessions of the Dominion-Provincial Tourist Conference.

R. A. Gibson, director of national parks in the resources department, admitted some courses, like one in the Cape Breton highlands, required "too much walking" but added that on the whole courses had to be made "tough" to attract national tournaments.

U.S. Decides To Keep Outpost In Martinique

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP). —The United States is going to keep its diplomatic outpost in strategic Martinique after all.

A State Department announcement Tuesday said that an earlier decision to close the Consulate on the French Island has been reversed because of "representation" made to the Department.

Officials said defence authorities intervened so the United States could keep an eye on Communist activities in that section of the West Indies.

Free Michael Walsh

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP). — An assize court jury Tuesday freed Michael Walsh, 40, of a manslaughter charge. He had been arrested after Edwin McIntosh, 67, died in a brawl in Walsh's rooming house last April.

Work On Reservoir To Control Floods

SALTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 20 (AP) —The banging of hammers and the crunch of giant shovels signal the building of a $33,000,000 reservoir as a vital link in the nation's flood control program. The reservoir is the Conemaugh, nestling in the picturesque foothills of the Alleghenies a mile north of this western Pennsylvania town.

Conemaugh is the seventh in a chain of thirteen reservoirs and dams designed to reduce flood dangers and damage at Pittsburgh, thirty miles to the west.

The whole system is part of the $1,951,300,000 Ohio river basin flood control program which extends into twelve states—Pennsylvania, New York, West Virginia, North Carolina, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois.

Navy Plans Inquiries Into Pilots' Deaths

DARTMOUTH, N.S., Oct. 19—(CP)—The Navy announced here Tuesday that it will conduct inquiries into the deaths of two naval pilots who were killed on consecutive days last week.

An inquiry into the Seafire aircraft crash that killed Lt. T. J. Murphy of Sarnia, near Cadillac, Mich., will begin here Tuesday.

A similar inquiry will be conducted in connection with the crash Oct. 14 of a Sea Fury aircraft two miles from here in which Lieut. J. S. Berge of Vancouver was killed.

ASK TAMBLYN'S BY Kate Aitken

SOFT SPOT: "I have a five-month-old baby. I put bath oil on his hair and it caked. I have been able to remove it all except what is on his soft spot. How can I cope with that area? He's a fair baby and the dark hair looks horrible."

Says our baby expert, oil the area and then gently loosen the oil with a comb. The famous Benjamin Spock, M.D., says: "The soft spot on the top of a baby's head is where the four pieces of bone that make up the top of the skull have not grown together yet. Mothers sometimes worry unnecessarily about the danger of touching the soft spot. Actually it is covered by a membrane almost as tough as canvas, and there is very little risk of hurting a baby there.

DIETS: "Can you tell me how to reduce? In spite of the fact that I eat scarcely anything I continue to put on weight. It is depressing to say the least to see myself in a full length mirror."

Says our doctor friend: "Fat comes from a glandular defect or too much food." Why not see a good doctor right away and find out if your trouble is glandular. If not, then perhaps you're eating more than you think. Nibbling is worse than three straight meals a day. And if you want a diet we have a honey—it takes off a pound a day for 10 days.

PENSION: "If a widow receiving a Canadian pension since the first world war wished to take up residence in the U.S.A. would she still receive pension?"

We have been told as far as the Canadian Pensions commission is concerned you are entitled to receive the pension wherever you reside outside of Canada. However, with currency problems at the present time, you must first apply to your local branch of the Foreign Exchange Control board before the cheques can be sent out of the country.

Republicans Push Campaign In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20 (AP).—Hollywood, which takes politics pretty seriously, has pitched into the 1948 United States campaign, although not with the fervor of former Presidential races.

Most active of the campaigners are the Republicans. Headed by President George Murphy and Vice-President Robert Montgomery, the Hollywood Republican Committee has mobilized a large number of stars to speak for the Dewey cause.

Aside from speaking dates, the stars have made radio talks and spot announcements. About 20 of them will take to the air on a special broadcast on election eve. By-line articles, ghosted by Republican film writers, have been issued to the Press.

Hampered by scanty campaign coffers, the Democrats have not been as active. Hollywood's part in the race has been handled by the Labor League of Hollywood Voters, headed by many local AFL chiefs.

Non-Partisan

The league, headed by Actors' President Ronald Reagan, is described as non-partisan, pro-Labor and anti-Communist. It supports the Truman-Barkley ticket.

Humphrey Bogart, Melvyn Douglas, Helen Cahagan Douglas and Reagan have been placed by the league on air shows sponsored by the Ladies Garment Workers Union. The league also plans to spot its stars at a big meeting of studio workers and on other radio programs, and will work on getting out the union vote in Hollywood.

Third party enthusiasts also have been busy, in a more limited scope. The Hollywood campaign has been directed by a group called the Hollywood Arts, Sciences and Professions Council.

The Council helped sponsor a dinner at Ciro's during Henry Wallace's latest visit here. At $12.50 a plate, the event netted $20,000.

109 YEARS OLD—One of the oldest women in Canada, Mrs. Isabella Sharow of North Bay marked her 109th birthday Oct. 16. A hospital patient since she fell and broke her hip more than a year ago, Mrs. Sharow is still good-natured and witty. She was born in Renfrew a century before the start of the Second World War.

Rocket Bombs Need Support Of Air Force

By STUART UNDERHILL

LONDON, Oct. 20 (CP). — Rocket bombs can be used for prolonged offensive only if supported by strong air forces to protect installations and supply lines from enemy attack.

This is the deduction drawn from the official report of Air Chief Marshal Sir Roderic Hill, who organized Britain's defences against the flying bomb and rocket in the final stages of the war. The report was published today.

Massed anti-aircraft batteries and speedy fighter aircraft were used against the flying bomb until from one-half to three-quarters of all those approaching Britain were shot down. Operations again rockets were limited largely to trying to locate firing points and then attacking them fiercely.

Sir Roderick says the German rocket offensive "must be regarded merely as a harassing attack," although in seven months 2,511 persons were killed and 5,869 injured by it in London alone.

In the report published today, he adds:

"Yet the A-4 rocket cannot be dismissed as a mere freak. Practically, it was a new weapon which brought new hazards to the lives of millions and set new problems of defence.

Because of her air superiority, Britain always had means of keeping the rocket offensive under control, Sir Roderic maintains.

Operations against rocket sites were largely carried out by Spitfire squadrons under Sir Roderic's command. The tactical air force was reserved for use against wider objectives in connection with the Allied invasion of Western Europe.

Sir Roderic says the Germans who developed the flying bomb "may be pardoned for a certain lack of judgment if they fancied themselves on the brink of changes comparable to those which followed the rifled barrel and the machine-gun . . .

"If . . . the flying bomb and the A-4 rocket were to be regarded as a substitute for a strategic bomber force, the cardinal mistake was to suppose these novel weapons could be used effectively in the absence of air superiority, which alone could have provided reasonable immunity from air attack."

Home and School Hears Talk By Reeve Grant

LAKEFIELD, Oct. 20 (ENS).—"Citizenship" was the topic of discussion on Monday evening when the Lakefield Home and School Association met for their October meeting in the school. The president, Mrs. Harold Deeth, was in the chair and the program was under the convenership of Mr. Roy Brown.

Following a sing-song led by Mrs. T. W. Chaplin, a short business period was held.

Prize for the best attendance of parents was won by Miss Beavis' room. The president announced a Regional Conference to be held on Friday, October 22, in St. James Church, Peterborough, and invited all interested members to attend.

First guest speaker of the evening, Reeve W. C. Grant, was introduced by Mr. Brown and gave a most comprehensive talk on municipal government.

Mr. Grant explained that the present form of municipal government came into being through dissatisfaction with the form provided by the Imperial government, and as a result representative government was born.

The procedure followed by the municipal council is the same as that followed by the House of Commons—ordinary decisions are made in resolution form, more important decisions are made in by-laws, which require three readings before becoming a law.

"The municipal council is the legal medium through which your desires are carried out. We will do a better job if you, individually, or through organizations, express what your desires are," said Mr. Grant in conclusion.

The second speaker, Dr. J. J. Craig of Peterborough, was introduced by Dr. R. H. Campbell, and gave a splendid talk on Dental Health, illustrating his lecture with slides and movies.

"Proper citizenship depends on good health. The health of your people is the first responsibility of a community, it supercedes all others," said Dr. Craig. "The general health we enjoy is either found or lost in the mouth. That is why we hope, through education on oral hygiene and proper diet to control tooth decay."

The appreciation of the association was extended to both speakers by Mrs. Wallace Hendren.

The mothers of Room 4 then served dainty refreshments.

Branch Library Site Suggested In South End

Promoters of a branch library for the south end of the city have quarters in sight, they have the goodwill of the present council, but the cost of fixing up the place suitably is estimated at $6,000. Possibly the 1949 council would agree to this little investment in community resources.

That was the hope of Rev. E. C. Moore, K. S. Wightman and Wm. Graff after telling the story in outline to the council Monday night.

The location is down Park St. Mayor Ovens understood it is to be Frank Jobbitt's new store.

Mr. Wightman, superintendent of schools, said some citizens might be asking the question, why the new south end, rather than the east or west sections of the city. Draw a circle of the city with its radius the length of George St. from Lansdowne St. to the Public Library. It would enclose almost all the rest of the city, but not the entire new town south of Lansdowne St.

Would Cost $6,000

"The second floor of this new store has not been completed," Mr. Wightman reported. "The owner is willing to hold it until the first of the year if there is any likelihood of the city using it for a neighborhood library."

The approximate cost is $6,000. Shelving and some furnishings, including tables would cost not less than $1,000; rent, light, books and salary of a librarian would make up the rest of the estimated cost.

"In 1950 and the following years we would get the government grant, and the cost should be down to $4,000 or around that sum," Mr. Wightman said. The deputation understood that one council could not bind another, but the members wanted some expression of recommendation to the new council as the first hope of assurance that this opportunity could be accepted.

"The place will be held to the end of the year without cost," Mr. Wightman said.

(Nothing was said in the conversation about the new council waiting until late in February to determine its expenditures for the year.)

"We get a few of the children at the library from that part of the city, but it is too far, for young and old. We will be giving a service which they haven't got, not stripping readers from up there."

Suggestions that a library be included in a new fire station have been heard more frequently in the last year or more, but Mr. Wightman emphasized that the store accommodation would be satisfactory for the present until the city had decided to build a secondary station.

Mr. Graff said that library class room visits from the proposed quarters would serve six of the fourteen schools. Rev. E. C. Moore of St. George's Anglican Church did not say anything, and quite effectively, for the reason that he had previously urged upon the council the claims of the new and large section of the city that has quickly developed south of Lansdowne St., and particularly the community benefits of a library.

For whatever it was worth, and that wasn't much, and every member of the council knew it, Ald. H. Dodds moved that the proposal be recommended to the council of 1949. Ald. Swanston seconded it.

14 DP Women Arriving Today

Fourteen DP women will arrive in Peterborough tonight to fill domestic vacancies in the city. It is the largest women's group to come at one time and one month from today will mark the anniversary of the first group to have put in a year of service.

The new group will be met at the station by representatives of the National Employment Service and taken to the YWCA where they will have a supper and meet the prospective employers. Each girl is to remain one year in service, although NES try to encourage them to stay a second term as well. A survey shows that those already in homes and institutions are well satisfied and aside from two that are planning on marriage when their term is up, it is likely that the remainder will stay on. One girl of tonight's arrivals will go to the House of Providence and the rest to private homes.

Ask Commission To Handle Rinks

The main topic under discussion as the Peterborough Recreation Commission met Tuesday evening in the city building, was alterations in Dixon House and Ashburnham town hall. Handicraft classes will be held in Dixon House when the building is fixed These include: pottery, leather work, art metal work, and weaving.

A letter was received from the Parks committee asking the Recreation Commission to take full charge of all outdoor rinks this winter, they giving some assistance. A committee was formed which will discuss the matter with the Parks committee.

Mr. Wales, secretary of the Recreation Commission and manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, handed in his resignation, which was accepted by the group. Mr Wales will leave in the near future to take up his new duties in the bank at Toronto.

Death Cheats Hum Hoy Of Chance To See Family

Twice within six months, just as Hum Hoy had almost reached his goal of leaving for China and being reunited with his wife and children, fate intervened. There will be no third time, for Hum Hoy died shortly after noon Tuesday.

His last illness was sudden and unexpected, except to his medical advisers. Monday morning he went about his light exercises cheerfully, planning his first excursion up a flight of stairs since he entered St. Joseph's Hospital in April. He was dressed and ready for the day, when he collapsed. He never regained consciousness before he died 24 hours later.

Some strange nemesis seemed to pursue him. In April he had his trunks packed, and his steamship tickets bought. He was within two weeks of leaving Peterborough when he suffered a stroke. He was taken to the hospital where he had been a patient ever since.

During the summer months, he had worked hard at the business of getting better and was coming along exceedingly well. Some weeks ago his step-brother, Henry Hum and cousin, Jim Hum, of Peterborough, made preparations for his trip back to China. They had hoped to have sailing tickets for the end of October and were still waiting to hear from New York, because of the shipping strike in the United States. Had he been able to fly two or three weeks ago, he might have been reunited with his family before he died. His trip home has been foremost in his thoughts for several months.

Mr. Hum had been a familiar main-streeter for 32 years at the Paris Cafe.

It was the joy of his life during the long months in the hospital, to think back proudly of "his place" in Peterborough hearts. He was proud of the honest and courteous way he had built up his business in that long span of years. He believed in the Chinese saying "To get on with one's neighbors is to hold a treasure." He never forgot a kindness and the young people of this city were the joy of his heart. He lavished on them the affection and care he would have given his own.

Cheered By Visit

The brightest spot of his illness, excepting his expectations of going home, was the visit of his daughter, Mrs. Bing-quan Yee in September, shortly after she arrived from China. But the rest of his family will have as their parting from him, only the gifts which he had lovingly selected for his return.

Surviving in the village of Mouse Mountain, Kwangtung Province, are his widow, the former Seto Shee, and three daughters. A fourth daughter, Mrs. Yee is living in Boston. He has one son, Tommy, attending college in Canton City, following his return a year ago from Peterborough. A brother, Henry Hum, lives in Peterborough.

As a young man in his early 20's, he sold his grocery store in China and came to Canada. When he first arrived here in 1909, he worked for a time at the Dominion Cafe and then went to Ottawa In 1916 he returned to this city and went into business for himself at the spot where he remained until his retirement early this year.

Peterborough will miss Hum Hoy. Representing the best of old and new China, he was a man whose obvious culture and integrity made him stand out anywhere. In the time he was a patient in the hospital, doctors and nurses who made his acquaintance came to admire him greatly All of them were hoping that this time, he would get home.

The finest tribute one could pay, and the one which would have pleased him most would be to say: 'Hum Hoy was a good and kind man; a man who could always be trusted and a worthy friend."

Funeral arrangements are to be announced later on the arrival of Mrs. Yee of Boston.

SUPPORT CERTIFICATION

It was announced at the Allied Labor Council meeting on Tuesday night that the UE-CIO now has a majority of the workers at the Outboard Marine Co. pledged to support the UE as bargaining agent. By a unanimous vote the Council instructed the president to write a letter pledging its full support to the Outboard workers who wanted the UE as the certified bargaining agent.

Refrigerators And Ranges In Short Supply

Steel, according to a survey of shortage of electric appliance dealers in Peterborough, is affecting supplies of ranges and refrigerators as much as 25 per cent. The only line that is fairly well stocked seems to be rangettes; they require less steel fabrication and have been on the market for so many months the demand has been taken up and these show lower sales on that account.

Ken McCannan says that the shortage of steel imports from the United States is the chief cause, and manufacturers there make no bones about the fact that steel is going into an armament program and that the situation in both Canada and the United States as far as appliance manufacture and distribution is concerned, may become more acute. Hubert Eastwood of Eastwood Construction confirms this opinion as far as structural steel supplies are concerned and that it is a continual battle, as in all other lines, to keep construction jobs going.

Appliance manufacturing, according to J. E. Girven, assistant works manager, Canadian General Electric, is not suffering at the present time but the sizeable cutback of American steel supplies to Canada last week, may affect production within the next few months.

The firm of Gibbons and Knox report they have no further supply of refrigerators since Exhibition time but that their washing machines are in fair supply. Their stock of electric stoves is down and they say that some electrical appliance shortages can be blamed on strikes in subsidiary companies where parts for refrigerators are made for the parent manufacturer.

Arena To Benefit Children Plans Indicate

Chief beneficiary of the new Civic Arena will be the school children, Dick Ouimet, general chairman, said today. A tight schedule is being drawn up to allow every child in every school his fair share of ice time.

No longer will the youngsters have to travel to an outside centre in order to play in a covered arena, as their league requires. Last year, civic arena committee members point out, by the time the third school team finished playing its game in Lakefield and arrived home it was often 2.30 a.m.

When the Peterborough rink is opened, most of the hockey will be played on Saturday mornings. Just how the hours will be allocated to the various schools has not yet been decided upon, but the full schedule is expected to be drawn up soon.

On both Monday and Thursdays an hour will be set aside for Bantams (up to 14 years), 7-8 p.m.; Midgets (14-16 years), 8-9 p.m.; Juveniles (16-18 years), 9-10 p.m.

By arranging the times in this way, the younger players will be finished first for the night. Bantams, as the age group indicates, are chiefly made up of public school pupils; the midgets, chiefly secondary school students, and the Juveniles secondary school students and those who are working

But ample provision is made for those primary school children who wish to pleasure skate. From Monday to Friday, from the hours of 4-6 p.m. the rink will be thrown open to the pleasure skaters. Because of the large number of youthful skaters expected, the schools will have to be staggered so that the ice will not be overcrowded.

The arena is now completely covered and has had windows, doors and ventilators installed The wooden stands, which will seat 1,600 people, are almost finished. When work on the seating is done the only major job left will be the levelling of the rink surface and the laying of a cinder base.

Overall dimensions of the building are 224 ft. by 90 ft., and the playing surface 173½ ft. by 72½ ft. There will be standing room for about 700 in addition to the seating capacity of 1,600.

Lawyer Protests Adjourning Gasoline Cases

Final disposition of charges against certain service station operators for violating the city's by-law regulating their hours of operation is still more than six weeks away. Further charges against five of accused were read in court today and adjourned to Dec. 14, following the decision of similar earlier charges which have been appealed. The appeal will be heard at the General Sessions of the Peace here on Dec. 6.

Objection to having the new cases adjourned was made by Special Prosecutor Alex Elliott. He contended that "unless this court feels that the objections of the appeal will be upheld (as to the validity of the bylaw, based on argument that the petition of the gasoline operators of the city was defective)...there should be no adjournments."

Aid To Accused

"These delays are in favor of the accused, who are continuing to profit at the expense of other city operators who are closing at hours set by the bylaw."

"There seems to be an idea prevalent," continued Mr. Elliott "that Peterborough is somewhat of a pioneer in passing this legislation...that is not so." He read a list of Ontario cities and towns which had passed similar bylaws and added that only one had been thrown out on appeal—that one, of the city of Hamilton, because the petition requesting the bylaw, had been shown technically defective.

"The grounds for this appeal are frivolous, we feel, and this stalling should not be permited to continue," said the Prosecutor.

Magistrate W. R. Philp, KC, in adjourning the cases, said that "we cannot assume that, because there is an appeal, the bylaw is valid if these cases were dealt with now, we would be in the same position as before. The defence would simply appeal the decisions. I can see no good purpose which will be served in dealing with them at the present time."

Selling to Those in Need

W. J. A. Fair, counsel for all the accused operators, argued that "nobody is suffering because of this." He contended that the stations staying open "are selling only to those who are absolutely in need of gas."

A suggestion from the magistrate that "it is perhaps unfortunate" that no agreement was reached between the parties concerning keeping closed until the cases were disposed of, Mr. Fair said that his clients would not be prepared to enter into such an agreement.

The new charges read in court today covered alleged offences against the bylaw on evenings ranging from Sept. 30 to Oct. 8. There are three charges each against John Russelle and John and George Thompson, two charges each against Albert Bianco and Vincent Crebar and one charge against Leo Burke

Morrow Park Road Debate Switches Council To City Solicitor's Duties

Proposed expropriation of a strip of land through Morrow Park for the extension of George St., south from Lansdowne St., has not proceeded beyond the by-law authorizing action, city council was informed Monday night. Ald. Max Swanston said he had received several enquiries about progress from interested citizens. Months ago the council had been requested in a largely signed petition from residents of the area south of Lansdowne St. to endeavor to project George St. through the Exhibition Park to McGill St. Eventually a bylaw was passed directing that application be made for a judicial decision on the subject of the petition.

"The by-law was passed and that is as far as it has gone," City Solicitor Huycke said Monday night.

"I feel that expensive expropriations are not part of my job, and I don't think I should be expected to take them. What has to be done is to get an appointment from the county Judge, and arrange for a hearing of the application for expropriation as was done in the matter of expropriating the Scott and O'Connell properties. The city paid $8,000 into court for the Scott property and $20,000 for the O'Connell property. These matters are in the court, and Mr. T. J. Carley, KC, is looking after them in accordance with a resolution of the council."

Alderman Surprised

"This is a surprise to me," said Ald. Douglas Miller. "I asked about this matter a month or so ago, and I was told it was in the hands of a Judge of the Supreme Court or something like that."

"It should be placed in the hands of a firm of lawyers," said Ald. Dick Raine, "and have them take care of it. We should get busy and have some one do it for us. Like Ald. Miller, I thought it was under way."

Ald. Grant Miller suggested that we put some force draft into this thing

Ald. Herbert Young remarked that Mr. Carley could not be asked to assume it because he was a member of the Morrow Trust Board.

Mr. Huycke said he did not wish to appear crabbed over these things. "I find that my time is greatly taken up by the city's work. After all I am engaged only for part time on this job. Just as an example of how the city's business has grown since 1939. In that year I had only one case in court under the Children's Protection Act. This year so far I have had fifty cases."

Mr. Huycke said the proposed expropriation of road strip through Morrow Park would probably involve a large claim for severance, because the road would separate one part of the park from the other.

Ald. Raine's motion that this question of expropriation proceedings be referred to the legal committee was adopted.

Ald. Adam Sands, chairman of the legal committee, said there was more "to this question than going through the Exhibition Park."

Tribute From Sands

"I have had the honor of being chairman of the legal committee for the last five years. It has brought me close to Mr. Huycke, and I know that for the last four or five years his work for the city has not only trebled, but it is ten times as onerous as it was six or seven years ago. On the other hand his remuneration has been increased by 25 or 30 per cent. There is more than the matter of the expropriation of a road allowance. There is the matter of the council in committee of the whole discussing what are the duties of the City Solicitor in the increased demand we are making on his time as a part time employee. He has done more than most of the members realize. Mr. Huycke has gone more than the second mile with us. There is no doubt in my mind about that.

"I think the members should give this matter some thought, and let us clarify what the duties of the City Solicitor should be and also his retainer."

The discussion ended with the adoption of Ald. Raine's motion.

Mr. Huycke's reference to the payments into court for the expropriation of the O'Connell and Scott properties related to the acquiring by the city of an area west of Park St. to Monaghan Road for the government houses that are now being built by Reynolds Construction Co. by their contract with Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. It was reported several months ago that negotiations with the owners had failed to effect agreement on land values and the council decided to expropriate.

APPEALED TO PUBLIC

Bus conversation this morning was in a spirit of approval of the independence of C.D.S. in closing their big store this morning without concern of what any one else was doing, or going into a parley huddle. People were saying they liked to see some one big enough to step out of the crowd and be different—just one. It was an eloquent assertion of wish to help the community in saving electric power.

Power Plant Opened At Terrace Bay

TERRACE BAY, Ont., Oct. 20—(CP)—Hydro Power throbbed out through northwestern Ontario's Thunder Bay district today from the big new $12,500,000 Aguasabon generating plant.

The project, with a daily capacity of 53,000 horsepower or 960,000 kilowatts, was officially opened Tuesday with bush workers and river drivers rubbing shoulders with engineers at the ceremony.

More than one-third of the plant's output will be used in this new town on Lake Superior's north shore by the Long Lac Pulp and Paper Company. The rest will flow into the far-flung lines of the Thunder Bay system. For the present, none is destined for Southern Ontario.

Step In Pan

But Hydro chairman Robert Saunders said in an address at the opening that the Aguasabon development is a step in Hydro's plan to link all units across the province.

"When these link-ups are made, we can save northern water during week-ends, or when there is a surplus, for use in southern Ontario," he said.

"Other developments, such as Boundary Falls and Pine Portage, will guarantee power for future industry in northwestern Ontario. Several industries already have located here for just that reason. our ability to guarantee power in this area.

"Northern Ontario, with its magnificent water sources, is in a highly favorable position insofar as industrial expansion in lumbering and mining industries is concerned."

When Hydro engineers started work on Aguasabon in the Spring fo 1946, they had to cope with special problems arising from the ruggedness of the rock-and-bush country.

The Aguasabon river was a slow moving stream until the Long Lake diversion was completed in 1939. Until that time, Long Lake water flowed into James Bay by way of the Kenogami river. Now they flow southward into Lake Superior. And Long Lake represents a 35,000-acre main storage reservoir for the Aguasabon power plant.

Alberta Man Shot Employer To Be Hanged

EDMONTON, Oct. 20.—(CP).—Poker-faced Mike Zacharuik, who told police he shot his empolyer because "I thought this fellow is trying to poison me" has been sentenced to the gallows for the slaying.

Convicted by a six-man Alberta supreme court Tuesday the 20-year-old farm employee from Hairy Hill, Alta., was sentenced by Mr. Justice C. J. Ford to be hanged Jan. 12 for the murder of William Pacholek, last May on Pacholek's Spedden, Alta., farm.

Actual date of the slaying has not been established.

Zacharuik sat stolidly through the week-long trial. He was not called on to testify and had nothing to say before sentence was pronounced.

Admits Evidence

A statement telling of the shooting of Pacholek, given by the accused to an RCMP officer June 3, was the turning point of the trial. The statement was admitted as evidence by Mr. Justice Ford after hours of argument between counsel.

Defense counsel Frank Dunne criticized the method used to get the statement and claimed it was inadmissable as it had been given in the presence of only one man.

Sgt. M, J. Murphy said the accused had volunteered the statement, in which he admitted killing Pacholek on his farm, loading the body in the dead man's car and disposing of it in a lonely spot in the Hamlin area, 20 miles west of the farm, and 60 miles northwest of Edmonton.

Police later found a badly-decomposed body at the spot which was identified as that of Pacholek.

In his address to the jury, Mr. Justice Ford recalled that several witnesses had told of Sacharuix cashing a grain cheque belonging to Pacholek, and selling several carloads of his farm equipment and produce after Pacholek disappeared.

Everyone Is Contributing Arena Canvassers Report

"Everybody gave something." That was the spirit encountered by one hundred Civic Arena canvassers Tuesday night as they sloshed their way through wet streets calling on dozens and dozens of public-spirited citizens.

"Not one person refused to give at least a dollar," commented one captain of a team of 6 men. "People were so eager to talk about the Civic Arena we were hard to put to get in more than a dozen calls," stated another supporter, when turning in his night's receipts at headquarters late in the evening.

Although too early to make any predictions, Tuesday night's results was a fair indication of how the campaign will progress the balance of this week. All canvassers voiced enthusiasm after their first venture into the canvassing field and all stated that they would be back on the job again early tonight.

With returns from a dozen canvassers still to come in over $600 was collected in a house-to-house canvass. This does not include any returns from the "Special Names" Committee who will be reporting to headquarters late this afternoon.

THE "WINSTON CHURCHILL," brand new eight-ton passenger locomotive built for the Romney, Hythe, Dynchurch Railway iin England, is shown as it was unloaded from the Canadian Pacific cargo liner Beaverlake in Montreal, on its way to be exhibited in Toronto before moving on to Halifax, N.S. The 18-inch guage railway, which operates 14 miles between Hythe and Gris Nez on the Kent coast through Romney Marsh, is known as the smallest in the world. The Romney, Hythe and Dynchurch Light Railway is a properly constituted railway by act of parliament, in spite of its miniature stock and total length of 14 miles. Many famous engineers and motor-racing stars have been enthusiastic engine-drivers on the line.

Luxton Named The Sixth Bishop Of Huron

LONDON, Ont., Oct. 20.—(CP).—The Anglican diocese of Huron has a new Bishop today. He is Very Rev. George N. Luxton, Dean of the diocese and Rector of London's St. Paul's Cathedral.

He was elected on the second ballot Tuesday at a special meeting of the Synod of Huron, called to choose a successor to the late Archbishop Charles A. Seager who died Sept. 9.

Visibly moved by his election as head of the diocese, comprising most of western Ontario, Bishop Luxton said briefly: "I'll do my best to live up to my high trust. The time will come later when I can thank you more effectively."

Later he arose before the Synod and asked for unity within the diocese.

"I shall not be bishop of part of the church, but bishop of all the church—a united church," he said.

Archdeacon W. A. Townshend of London, registrar and secretary-treasurer of the diocese, was runner-up for the office.

Widely Known

Bishop Luxton came to London in 1944. In the early 1930's he became widely known for his radio sermons while rector of Christ's church, Calgary. He has also held charges in Guelph, Hamilton, St. Catharines and Toronto.

Archdeacon Townshend moved that the election be made unanimous. He said he could "assure the bishop- elect I will do all in my power to co-operate to make this church of our strong, active and virile in this old diocese of Huron."

Dean Luxton received 76 of the 151 clerical votes on the second ballot and 170 out of 305 in the poll of lay delegates. Archdeacon Townshend received 49 clerical and 90 lay votes.

Rev. W. L. Wright, bishop of Algoma, was third in the balloting with seven clerical and 26 lay votes.

IN THE U.S. AND CANADIAN PRAIRIE LANDS, a wheat field of 640 acres is considered average size. In Ontario a 10-acre field is the most common division of property. In the west, gangs of men and specialized equipment sow, or harvest hundreds of acres of grain in a single day, then move on the next field. A prairie-trained farmer now living in a small Ontario farm thinks he can adapt western farm methods to Ontario and has rented 1,800 acres, spent $25,000 in equipment and hopes to earn $100,000 in a single year. It is the first time that a genuine attempt has been made to do farming in Eastern Canada on the same scale as in the west and there is a possibility that if the experiment succeeds, it will alter the entire farming habits of Ontario's rural dwellers. Prairie farmer Norman Taylor, right, is shown as he gives his orders for the day to the four farmers working the 1,800-acre plot. Taylor himself spends most of his time as business manager for a small-town college.

Committed For Trial For Keeping Baby

PLYMOUTH, England, Oct. 20—(Reuters)—Stella Costello, 24-year-old trawler fisherman's wife was committed for trial here today charged with unlawfully detaining a baby boy in 1945 with intent to deprive his mother of possession.

Behind the formal wording of the charge is the strange story of Barry Buller, now five years old, recently identified as Timothy, the legally adopted son of a Midlands salesman.

Mrs. Ruth Buller said Mrs. Costello came to her Plymouth home in January, 1945, and stayed a fortnight, during which time she sometimes took Barry out. After two weeks she left, but continued to make visits and take the child out.

March she came to the house and asked to take Barry out for the day. Mrs. Buller did not see the child again until September this year.

France Swings Sharply To The Right

PARIS, Oct. 20 — (AP). — The new Council of the Republic, France's Upper House, is going to take a sharp swing to the right.

Figures compiled to-day from Sunday's election indicated that Leftists and Near Leftists will have about 130 members of the 320 in the Assembly, compared with 219 in the old one still in existence. Rightist Parties and Rightist Independents will have the balance of about 190, compared with about 83 last time. In the current Assembly are a few who defy clasification.

These figures are based on what the electors who were chosen Sunday may be expected to do when, November 7, they set about choosing the members of the Council of the Republic.

The greatest gainers in the election will be De Gaullists and the so-called Radical Socialists, who are not Socialists but are, in fact, Conservatives. Gen. Charles De Gaulle's Party, Rossemble du Peuple Francais, was not in existence at the time of the last election. In the new Assembly, observers estimated, he will have perhaps 85 or more sympathizers, even though a smaller number is definitely identified as RFP members.

A rough classification of the present Council, which contains only 315 seats, gives the Leftist vote as follows:

Communists and adherents 85, Socialists 62, Catholic Popular Reupblicans 72, a total of 219 for the Left. Even this must be qualified somewhat, since the Popular Republicans include many who might be considered Rightists.

In the new Assembly, this same Leftist group will probably be about: Communist 35, Socialist 60, and Popular Republicans 25. That is based on the percentage of vote they got Sunday.

As to the Rightist groups, the Radical Socialists had 42 in the old Assembly, while Independents and De Gaullist adherents had another 41. The balance is either dead or unclassifiable. In the new Council to be elected next month, the Radical Socialists and adherents can expect about 85, the De Gaullists and adherents about 85, and 50 will be rightists of an unclassifiable group.

Expect Agreement

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—(AP).—The State Department said Tuesday it "still expects" the Big Four countries to agree on an Austrian peace treaty despite their long disagreement. For Bad Cough, Mix This Splendid Recipe, at Home

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this easily prepared mixture and try it for a distressing cough. It is no trouble to mix, and costs but a trifle, yet it can be depended upon to give quick relief.

Make a syrup by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water for a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. (Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey instead of sugar syrup.) Get a 2½ ounce bottle of Pinex from any druggist, put it into a 16 ounce bottle and fill it up with your syrup. The 16 ounces thus made gives you four times as much cough medicine for your money, and is a very effective relief for coughs. Keeps perfectly and tastes fine.

This splendid mixture soothes the irritated membranes, loosens the phlegm and helps to clear the air passages. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep.

Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known as a soothing agent for winter coughs. Money refunded if not pleased in every way.

Powerful Tide Problem For 3 Ports

By JOE MacSWEEN

WINDSOR, N.S., Oct. 20 (CP). —Three Avon River ports, which have water only about half the time, are having a busy year as export points for gypsum and fertilizer with an occasional load of lumber thrown in.

The three ports, largest of which is Windsor, are drained twice daily by a powerful 25-foot ebbing tide.

Ten thousand-ton freighters and other vessels are left high and dry in the river which flows into Minax Basin.

Ships in Windsor's sister ports of Hantsport and Walton face a similar predicament. Despite this, the three small towns have cleared some 300 ocean vessels so far this year, mostly carrying gypsum, fertilizer and lumber Together, they place third among Nova Scotia's harbors.

If you stroll along the Windsor quays at high tide you will find water lapping against the piles about 28 feet above the river bottom. But six hours later the water will have withdrawn surreptitiously to the sea, leaving the ship resting on a hardwood grid, her lines holding her careened against the wharf.

The abrupt change in the landscape gives the impression that a glacier must suddenly have carved its way past the town.

Ships are guided "in and out" at high tide by crafty tug skippers who know every trick this river can devise. At Walton and Hantsport, where there is slightly more water, the vessels come and leave on the same time.

DANCING MAYOR — Low temperatures failed to halt international good will celebrations atop the Ambassador Bridge linking Windsor and Detroit when officials of both cities met to open United Nations Week. While waiting for the ceremonies to start, Mayor Eugene Van Antwerp of Detroit and Mrs. Lula Bachman, general chairman of the joint committee on United Nations Week, danced a few steps on the international boundary.

Current Shoe Prices Spell 'Security'

OTTAWA, Oct. 20 — (CP) — Lawrence Savage of a Galt shoe company, Tuesday told members of the Canadian Shoe Retailers' Association that current shoe prices "spell security, and that is what we want."

He said the prices may be high, but the fact should be taken into consideration that Canada's shoe industry has had "terrific casualties" over the years.

A witness at the prices commission's investigation of shoe prices, Mr. Savage considered that statements on company profits released by the commission gave "an unfair picture of the situation." He did not amplify this statement.

He praised the members of the commission for their attitude towards those submitting testimony but felt their "public relations" could be improved.

Uses Many 'Magic' Tricks To Teach Children Safety

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 30 (AP).—A policeman who pulls safety slogans and rabbits out of the hat is applying magic to saving lives in Kentucky streets and highways.

State Police Lieut. Lee Allen Estes, a master magician and ventriloquist, tours the school circuit with a truck load of tricks that carry home his safety warnings.

He operates on the theory that a lesson must be heard to be learned. As a county patrolman 12 years ago, he watched children yawn through a safety lecture. He convinced his chief he could make the words stick by demonstrating them with a trick.

Lieut. Estes is more than a suitcase magician. He carries his show in a two-ton truck.

The lecture comes first in his school program. He times it to last only as long as little ears will listen to admonitions that children should not double up on a bicycle, snitch rides on trucks or autos, or put their arms or heads out the window of vehicles while riding.

Just before the Houdini of the Highways "loses" his adience, he digs into his tricks. His favorite trick involves a chalk-drawn pig a small slate. He draws the pig and then make it turn its head from side to side, the idea being that children should always look both ways before crossing a street.

Many Tricks

During his talk, he tears to bits a paper cone. When the operation is completed, he drops the remains, and a banner with a safety slogan is formed.

After emptying eight trunks loaded with similar stunts, Lieut. Estes bring on a pop-eyed, bigmouthed dummy wearing a State Police uniform to finish the snow. The dummy is Willie Talk, who sasses like Charley McCarthy but jabbers safety talk that the kids listen to with glee.

Lieut. Estes estimates he has carried his magic show to more than a million kids and adults in travelling 120,000 miles.

Kentucky's record for accidental death of children on highways is at the bottom of the list for all States and he likes to feel he has played some part in that, the police lieutenant-magician says.

Beat 2 eggs only until whites and yolks are well blended. Gradually beat in ⅔ cup white sugar, and add 1 teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon ginger; ½ teaspoon nutmeg; ½ teaspoon salt. Stir in 1½ cups of pumpkin and ½ cup hot milk. Pour into pie plate lined with pastry and bake in hot oven (450°F.) for first ten minutes, then reduce temperature to moderate (350°F.) and bake for 30-35 minutes, or until filling is firm. Y Girls Planning Fellowship Week

Highlights of the meeting of the YWCA Board of Directors Monday were a panel report by Mrs H. Rehill and Miss L. Brownscombe of the recent annual meeting of the National YWCA and an account by Miss Kay Hales, delegate to the YWCA National Assembly at Camp Brereton, Manitoba.

Main impressions of the meeting were the wide scope of interest, program work of the YWCA, as a world movement, and also the young and enthusiastic leadership sessions on membership, and purpose of the Association brought interesting discussions in preparation for next convention. Department reports provided helpful material for local associations in planning their programs. The budget provides assistance to the Greek YWCA, plans for a Canadian staff to work with displaced persons in Europe who are about to emigrate to Canada, and for assistance to Baghdad, British Guinea and a scholarship for a Japanese YWCA secretary. Assistance to the Association in Burma is also a real need.

Miss Winnifred Wygal of the American YWCA, who took the closing service of worship, will conduct a study course for Peterborough YWCA early in the new year, on "Purpose and religious emphasis of the YWCA."

Miss Kay Halese stressed the meaning of membership in the YWCA, bringing out the highlights of addresses by Miss Lillian Thompson at National Assembly She also pointed out that Peterborough is fortunate in having a good building and many facilities in its Y that are lacking in other associations.

Extracts from local committee reports reviewed the September program: junior gym rally, open house, local assembly, basketball league, organization gymnasium and swimming classes and clubs, all opened early in the month Fun night is a new feature this season, also a dramatic group and leaders course. Plans are under way by the Girls' Council for World Fellowship Week and raising balance of the reconstruction fund. A number of cards are still out from the spring campaign, which should bring the total almost to the allocation sum.

Coll expressed the appreciation of parents to the teachers for their interest in the pupils.

Bill Duignan President of St. Peter's Key Club presented the Immaculate Conception Spelling team with a cup. Murray Byrne accepted the cup and thanked the Key Club.

The graduates sang a group of songs. They were accompanied by Rosemary De Noble. Mrs. Ray Bacon assisted by her committee served refreshments.

Home and School News Association

IMMACULATE CONCEPTION

Rev. J. Houlihan, BA, of the staff of St. Peter's High School, was guest speaker at a well-attended meeting of the Immaculate Conception Home and School Association Thursday night. The speaker was introduced by the president, Miss Hazel Guerin. Members of the graduating class and their parents were guests at the meeting.

The speaker congratulated the students on having successfully completed their elementary school education. "Those eight years are very important years," he remarked, "for in them you have laid foundations for life. Your success proves you have the required ability for a high school education.

In Grade 9 you reach the crisis of your educational life. On this year depends your success or failure as a high school student. In elementary school you had one teacher who was able to take a personal interest in you. Work was assigned and completed—or the teacher knew why. This is impossible in high school where the teacher meets about 250 pupils each day. Work is assigned but its fulfilment is to a large extent in your hands.

The three faculties of the mind, namely, the will, the memory and reason must be developed. You are presumed to be grown-ups so we treat you as such. You are expected to do the right thing, not beacuse the teacher is watching, but because it is the right thing. Such action is useful exercise for the will. In this manner a strong character will be formed.

Do not depend too much on your memory. It is important but you must also make constant use of your reason. In geometry you may memorize theorems and be successful on first examinations but as the number and difficulty of theorems increases you will be confused. Why? Your memory fails you. Understanding without memory is useless. Your supply of knowledge is of no use if you are forced to write, "I know the answer but I just can't remember it." There are no such things as good and bad memories. If you wish to develop this faculty give it work to do.

Parents must cooperate with the teacher. I am thoroughly convinced that every teacher with whom I have worked, has had only one aim—the complete success of every pupil. Parents must see that the pupil studies at home. It is impossble for students to succeed if they are out every night.

Parents must make great sacrifices to give their children the highest possible education. It is only in later life the children will fully appreciate the sacrifices you have made.

I hope to be present at a graduation five years from now when these same students will receive diplomas from high school. I hope to, some of them will go on to university. Never did the world stand in such need of educated Catholics, as it does today.

The speaker was thanked by Mr. D. Hull.

Diplomas were presented by Rt Rev. F. J. O'Sullivan. Mrs. Leo Sullivan, vice president, presented each student with a gift from the Home and School. Valedictory address was given by Rosemary McMurray. Mr. Leo Mc-

Good reading for how many people?

EVERYWHERE today you see signs of a new trend in Canadian reading habits.

Now as never before people are discovering that the printed word, with its worlds of information and entertainment, is a priceless aid to fuller, happier living. So they are reading more newspapers, magazines and books every year!

To help meet this increasing demand for reading material, Canada's vast pulp and paper industry is expanding—thanks, in part, to your life insurance.

How can this be?

Because part of the money that you and millions of other policyholders pay in to life insurance companies is invested for you in sound Canadian industries—such as the pulp and paper industry.

Other life insurance dollars are put to work, through investments in bonds, to help provide highways, schools, harbours, or other public works.

Thus every life insurance owner protects his family and helps to build a better, more prosperous Canada!

Of Interest to Women

DOROTHY DIX

Saddled With In-laws Husband Should Oust Them

DEAR MISS DIX: Is there any way for a man to part from his wife's family and still stay married to his wife? My mother-in-law has lived with us for six of our eight years of marriage. One of my wife's brothers is married and he and his wife never miss stopping in at least once a week, regardless of the whether we have company, or if we want to step out ourselves. My other brother-in-law spends every week end with us and drinks up all the liquor on the place. I do not even dare to ask my mother for dinner for fear of his condition.

Dorothy Dix

I have about made up my mind to leave my house to my in-laws and go west. Am I doing the right thing?

LICKED

✧ ✧ ✧

ANSWER: You will be doing not only a foolish thing but a cowardly thing if you let your in-laws run you out of your house. What you need to do is to evict the whole bunch of them, even if you have to call on the police for assistance. Lock the door on them and tell them that the party is over for them, and that they will have to get somebody else to sponge on.

Takes on Family

When a man marries a girl, he doesn't legally marry the whole family and undertake to support them, but in practice he very often does. Mama comes and settles down on him. Papa borrows money from him. And his sisters-in-law and the boys think they own his car. Even his cloths become the common property of his brothers-in-law and he never knows whether he has a clean shirt to his name, or whether John has it on with his best necktie.

Any man who stands for his wife's deadbeat relatives making a good thing of him is a weakling and also lacking in common sense, for grafters never have any gratitude or appreciation. They have a contempt for a man who hasn't enough backbone to defend himself.

As to whether your wife will go with her relatives if you turn them out of the house, it is a matter of chance. But if she does go with them, it will be because she doesn't love you and is only using you as a come-on for her greedy family. Brace up and be a man instead of a mouse.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR MISS DIX: We live in a comfortable, three-room flat and my wife and I both work during the day. But before going to work in the morning it takes her about ten minutes to mark things in order for her to know if anything has been touched during our absence. She marks the depth of the milk in the bottle, and the size of the butter on the plate, and all of the belongings in the bathroom, such as soap, toilet tissue and perfume. Is this a disease?

WORRIED HUSBAND

ANSWER: In a way I suppose it is a disease, for it is an abnormal outgrowing of thrift. Your wife has developed a mania for saving that will end in a mental upset if she doesn't conquer it.

We hear of plenty of such cases, of women who die of starvation in garrets on mattresses stuffed with money, and we all know lots of people in the early stages of miserliness who deny themselves every pleasure and every luxury and even the common comforts of life because they will not part with a dollar.

You had better try to break your wife of her tight-fistedness before it gets any worse and wrecks your whole life.

THE STARS SAY . . . .

By GENEVIEVE KEMBLE

For Thursday, October 21

A day of intrigue and subtlety could anchor the affairs in exceptionally lucrative and pleasant fields of operation. Matters of major importance, of long-range and expansive view, come up for quick decision and may prove uprooting as to environs as well as to definite change in tactics or execution. Ambitions are heightened, the spirits generous and optimistic, with judgment and facilities dependable and creative. However, rash, too hasty or aggressive action could undermine sound work. Clever strategies or finesse could assist greatly in reaching advanced goals.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is, are assured a year of golden opportunity in which well-organized forces, faculties and regulated ambitions and desires, could promote excellent scope for cherished ambitions with rich returns for worthy efforts. Favorable change, or journeys, new contracts and associations could bring much gratification with personal satisfactions in dealing with strangers as well as influential persons on friendly grounds. Undercover agreements or subtle manipulation could work out better than strenuous or forced issues. Tact and finesse, with the personal element, could flourish.

A child born on this day while ambitious and capable, may work its way to popularity and prestige by subtlety and cleverness rather than aggressive and forceful measures.

GLOVE AND GLASSES ALLIES—Eye glasses are getting beauty treatments in various new manners, all of a sudden and none too soon, say we ourselves who couldn't read a headline without cheaters. Here we show you a new frame substance which can be dyed to match any of several useful costume colors. In the photograph the frames match the doeskin gloves, one of which is fitted with a non-tarnishable gilt kid bracelet holding a butterfly bow of the glove material. The idea, as you can see, is a safe perch for the glasses, easily got at, using the kid strap as a hold for the bridge of the spectacles. Other gloves have strap as well as bow in self-fabric. The trick will help those who need constant resort to eye glasses.

What kind of tomato soup have you been buying?

Make this TASTE TEST
at home!... and your family will discover the wonderful difference!

If you have been relying on any other brand of soup for the utmost in flavour and nourishment you are likely to be surprised and delighted when you have made a comparison with Heinz.

Dietitians, who are supposed to know most about the good qualities of soup, lately registered a higher preference for Heinz than a group of housewives. A taste-test in your own home may result in the same verdict. Simply heat a tin of Heinz Cream of Tomato Soup and a tin of any other brand. Serve half-helpings of each. Then take a vote when your family has tasted the wonderful difference. It will be two to one for Heinz, probably.

65% of a group of housewives voted HEINZ their top favourite

Some women who much prefer certain Heinz varieties have not yet made a fair comparison of Heinz Condensed Soups with other leading brands. When a group of housewives lately sat down to a taste-test (without knowing what soups they were being served), more than 65% preferred Heinz, while a group of dietitians in a similar test gave Heinz first place by a margin of almost four out of five.

If you have not yet tried all the delicious soups listed below, there is a treat in store for you.

17 delicious varieties

Cream of Mushroom	Vegetable
Cream of Asparagus	Vegetable Without Meat
Cream of Celery	Scotch Broth

Obituaries

JOSEPH BERNARD STANLEY PREVOST

Joseph Bernard Stanley Prevost, aged six months, of 723 Walkerfield Ave., died on Tuesday in hospital following a week's illness. He was born in the city, son of Leonard Joseph Prevost and Iris Davies. Besides his parents and four grandparents, he leaves one brother Bobby. His parents are members of St. Peter's Cathedral.

Funeral service will be held on Friday at 10.45 a.m. at St. Peter's Cathedral and burial will be at St. Peter's Cemetery.

WILLIAM GEORGE LANG

William George Lang 70, of Lot 3, Concession 5, Emily, Township, died at his residence on Tuesday. He was born in the district, son of the late W. R. Lang and Elizabeth Graham, who came from Ops Township to Omemee in 1901. His wife, the former Mabel Pogue, and a sister, Mrs. A. Pogue (Lyda) predeceased him.

He leaves a daughter, Miss Mamie Lang, and a son Oscar at home, and another son Fred of Peterborough. There are three sisters, Mrs. T. Huggins (Emma), Mrs. S. McIlwain (Annie), and Mrs. H. McIlwain, all of Emily Township. A brother Fred lives in Belleville and there are two grandsons, William and John Lang.

Mr. Lang was a member of Christ's Church (Anglican), of Omemee, and of the Lorne Lodge 375, AF and AM.

Funeral service will be held at the residence on Thursday at 2 p.m. under Masonic auspices. The Rev. F. W. Pooley will officiate, and burial will be in Riverside Cemetery, Lindsay.

HAVE SKATING VISIONS

"My wife and I haven't skated in 55 years, but we are thinking of going down to the new arena to learn all over again," said Mr. Hutchison, 426½ George St. in making their contribution to the Peterborough Civic Arena. Their gift, so it was said, was in double figures, and was a stimulant to the canvassers.

LATER BLOOMING

Flowers were still blooming this morning, Oct. 20,—petunias, marigolds, an occasional snapdragon, asters, salvias, and various other plants. Dutchmen's pipe that shaded verandahs during the summer are also living long this season. It is all evidence of the absence of severe frosts this month.

Testifies Man Told Plans Of Bride's Death

LA MALBAIE, Que., Oct. 20.—(CP).—Mariette Tremblay, 21-year-old country girl who testified that Lionel Huard wooed her while still married, returns to the witness box today in the continuing trial of the murder charge against the Canadian army veteran.

Huard, charged with drowning his wife, the former Florence Green of Yorkshire, listened with apparent bitterness Tuesday while the girl told of her friendship with him. She said the friendship lasted from New Year's Day until May 9 when the drowning occurred.

At the first sitting Tuesday, defence counsel Frederic Dorion questioned the authenticity of a series of letters—"two a week," the girl testified — which were passed between the girl and Huard.

The girl, whose parents were Huard's neighbors, said that Huard visited "her parents" and left messages in that hat-band of his hat. She said she replaced these with some letters of her own.

The Tremblay girl testifned earlier under questioning of Crown Prosecutor Albert Dumontier that Huard had told her of his plans to "make his British bride disappear on a beautiful Sunday."

The girl said Huard had made advances to her but that although "he touched me" she had never "submitted to him."

A first inquest had ruled the death of the young wife accidental, but an investigation launched shortly afterwards and an autopsy led to Huard's arrest on a charge of murder.

Denies War Guilt Doctor Wants To Stay Here

TORONTO, Oct. 20 — (CP) — A Toronto paper in a telephone interview with Dr. Andre Emmanuel Bossat, one of the central figures in Canada's "immigrant collaborators' case, quoted the 45-year-old French surgeon as saying he wished to remain in the Dominion, become a citizen and work hard.

One of four French immigrants, accused of being collaborators with the Nazis but permitted to remain in Canada, Dr. Boussat said in the interview that the "legitimate" French government had no interest in extradition of the quartette. The accusations against them "probably came from Maurice Thorez, French communist leader."

"Were you a collaborator?" Dr. Boussat was asked.

"Absolutely not," he replied.

"How did these accusations originate?"

"The communists considered all anti-communists to be collaborators," Dr. Boussat said.

Asked in the telephone interview if he would follow the advice of Francisque Gay, French ambassador in Ottawa, that the four men return to France to defend their honor, Dr. Boussat replied: "All I want to do is remain here, become a Canadian citizen and work hard; I don't want to take any part in politics."

Dr. Boussat, now working for a drug firm, said he was content with his job and wished to stay in Montreal.

Makes $50,000 On Nail Deals Gets 360 Years In Penitentiary

ST. HYACINTHE, Que., Oct. 20. —(CP).—Leo Lacroix, 45, pseudo nail salesman who gleaned $50,000 from his Vancouver-to-Halifax masquerade, was sentenced here today to a total of 360 years in penitentiary to be served concurrently in seven years. He was arrested here last week while attempting to cash a false cheque.

Arraigned before Magistrate Victor Chabot yesterday, he faced 99 charges ranging from small thefts to false pretenses and issuing false cheques. He was wanted in Ottawa, Toronto, Fort William, Edmonton, Calgary and several British Columbia centres.

Police said he started in Vancouver, impersonating a nail salesman and found buyers as far east as Gaspe, Que. In February, 1947, he is alleged to have netted more than $15,000 by "selling" nails that never arrived to merchants in Abitibi, Que., and Toronto, where one firm gave him $7,373 for 1,600 kegs of non-existent nails.

As a false cheque specialist, he is reported to have stolen $6,400 from a bank in Gaspe while posing as a business man opening a branch firm in that area. His arrest here culminated months of extensive investigation. A bank accountant became suspicious when Lacroix became overly cautious in his transactions.

EASY TO REMEMBER

THE NEW LAWS cover all calls out of rotation in such a simple way that they are easy to remember. The first provision regarding them is that any such call is void and the auction reverts to the player whose turn it is to call. The moderate simple penalties, to prevent damage to the non-offending side, are clear-cut.

If the call was a pass before anyone had bid, or when it was the turn of the opponent to his right, the offender must pass on his next turn to call. For any other out of rotation call, the offender's partner must pass whenever thereafter it is his turn to call. A call is not out of rotation if without waiting for the right-hand opponent to pass when that opponent is required to pass because of a Law infringement. If a player whose turn it was should call before attention is drawn to a call out of rotation by his left-hand opponent, the auction continues as if the out of rotation call had not been made.

Any call made simultaneously with any other player's proper call is deemed to be a subsequent call.

Whenever a player doubles or redoubles, naming an incorrect denomination or number of tricks, he is deemed to have doubled or redoubled the one actually made. If a player doubles or redoubles a bid already doubled or redoubled by his side, he must substitute any proper call and his partner must thereafter pass whenever it is his turn to call; if he decides to pass, either opponent may cancel previous doubles and redoubles.

If a player should double his partner's bid, redouble an undoubled bid, or double or redouble when there has been no bid, he must substitute any proper call and his partner must thereafter pass whenever it is his turn to call. If a player should bid more than seven, or should double or redouble when required by Law to pass, he is deemed to have passed and both he and his partner must thereafter pass whenever it is their side's turn, and furthermore if the offender becomes a defender the declarer may require or forbid the opening lead of a specified suit.

A call subject to penalty under more than one section may be penalized under any one such section, but not under more than one.

If a player calls after the auction is closed, it is cancelled, and if it is a pass by a defender or any call by the declarer's side there is no penalty. But if it is a bid, double or redouble by a defender, the declarer may require or forbid the lead of a specified suit when first it is the other defender's turn to lead.

A player who did not hear a call distinctly may require it to be repeated, but there is no redress for a call based on a misunderstanding or misinformation. A player has the right to have previous calls restated whenever it is his turn, or after the auction but before the opening lead. Only an opponent should answer his question. The dummy, or any player required by Law to pass, should not ask restatement of calls, but may review the auction at an opponent's request and should correct any errors in someone else's restatement. Following the opening lead, the declarer or a defender may be informed what the contract is and whether but not by whom it was doubled or redoubled.

Woman Wins Damage Action Awarded $3,064

Miss Jean Mackrell, 205 Brock St. was Tuesday awarded $3,064.48 and costs in a damage action resulting from an accident on Oct. 13, 1947, when she was struck by a car driven by Dr. Archibald Moir, 196 Brock St. The case was heard before Mr. Justice Wilson in the non-jury sittings of the Supreme Court.

Miss Mackrell was walking along Brock St. when Dr. Moir's car mounted the right curb as he swerved to avoid a bicyclist who cut in front of him. She was struck in the side by the left front fender of the car and was knocked to the ground. She suffered a fractured right arm, a sore leg, bruised right eye and head and abdominal injuries.

As a result of this accident she claimed that she cannot use her right hand and fingers as before and that they easily become tired. The plaintiff also claimed that she still suffers from nervous shock and exhaustion as well as occasional headaches and abdominal pains.

In addition Miss Mackrell said she had lost a considerable sum of money by her enforced absence from her millinery business on George St. At the present time, she stated, she is unable to work as effectively in her shop as formerly, as she gets fatigued easily.

The Hon. Mr. Justice Wilson said he was satisfied that Miss Mackrell's condition was "almost wholly attributable to the accident." The impairment to her health was the most serious of the claims for damages, said Justice Wilson. And he specifically mentioned the injury to Miss Mackrell's wrist, the disability in her right arm, and her re-current head and abdominal pains.

He accepted the testimony of Dr. H. M. Yelland that previous to the accident he had treated the plaintiff and found her a highly nervous person, but he said he believed that her present condition was caused by being struck by Dr. Moir's car.

The defendant admitted liability.

Alex L. Elliott, KC, appeared for Miss Mackrell and T. J. Carley, KC, for Dr. Moir.

Given 7 Days After Car Crash

John Smith, RR 2, Ennismore, was sentenced to seven days in jail by Magistrate Philp today when he pleaded guilty to a charge of drunk driving. Evidence of the accident on Oct. 11 was given by Provincial Constable Gordon Langton.

Two cars were involved in the collision which led to the charge being laid. Three persons were injured, Harry Botnick, 190 Lansdowne St., who received minor bruises; Dr. Ralph Green, a passenger with Botnick, who had a head cut; and the accused, who required stitches to close a head wound. Smith's car was a complete wreck after the head-on collision on No. 7 Highway a mile east of Fowler's Corners, the officer said.
